'Fearless' Predictions

Everything was comin' up roses as far as predictions went last week (17-4-1). We guess the odds finally swung our way. League play is in full swing now and that means that anything can happen and probably will. With a more refreshing 53-29-4 mark, here we go again:

University - Reynoldsburg —No business like league business. Reynoldsburg.
Walnut Ridge-South — The South finally rises. South.

'Brothers Grimm' Seen As Family Fare Entertainment

Big plug for "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm"—if that house-packer needs a plug at all—came across the desk in the Interfaith Committee for Better Entertainment Newsletter. The four-page mimeographed dissertation reads: "It is truly superior entertainment and the epitome of what we consider family fare." It's currently running downtown at the RKO Grand.

WRFD and WRFD-FM announced this week that it'll once again carry play-by-play action of all Ohio State football games . . . The station has aired all games for the past 11 years, and also broadcasts the Cleveland Browns' games on Sundays . . . From Delaware, Ohio, this note: "An Evening with Poetry" by Robert Frost and the play "Medea '62" by actress Judith Anderson and Co. will highlight this year's Lecture-Movie series at Ohio Wesleyan University . . . Frost will appear Apr. 21 to conclude the program and Dame Judith appears Nov. 7 . . . The series opens Oct. 12 with a lecture "English and the Americans" by Malcolm Muggeridge.

With the first season of "Ben Casey" under his belt, ABC-TV's Vince Edwards (aired locally on WTVN-TV) wrote to give us a little self-diagnosis . . . "Heaven knows you columnists and magazine writers have had a field day dissecting my acting, my image and my private life since the series premiered last fall," Edwards writes . . . . "To which I say: bless you." He added: "I was so naive when the show left the launching pad, I believed that I, Vince Edwards, could remain a man of mystery" . . . Locally, season book tickets for the Mershon Auditorium Celebrity Series will be sold just until 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 10, at box office 15th and High-sts.

Judy In Cartoons Now . . .

Word from Warner Bros. studios announces that Judy Garland — the pert and pretty with the magic vocal chords is doing singing and speaking for the cartoon character "Mewsette," a Paris cat in Warners' feature length animated musical "Gay Purr-ee" produced by UPA and having an original score . . . This is Judy's first screen musical role since "A Star Is Born." The UPA release telling about the show states. "The stigma of villainy, long edured by the pussy cats of the world, is about to be erased forever, and cat-lovers and their pets may raise their heads in pride, for at last they've got a heroine" . . . To which we can only add: "Wow!"

Judy

Speaking of Hollywood, watch for Jack Lemmon's drunk portrayal in "Days of Wine and Roses" to be compared to Ray Milland's in "The Lost Weekend" . . . And, the Warner people had to build a temple of love for "Not On Your Life" in the fabled isles of Greece where love was supposed to have been invented . . . Notice new PR man around WLW-C, TV 4. He's Rod Warner and, according to that station's promotion manager, John Burpee, Rod'll be handling all publicity releases in the future.

"Columbus Town Meeting" will once again come to the homes of Central Ohio via WBNS-TV to encourage free discussion and promote informed public opinion on the important local, national and international topics, Oct. 7 at 5-5 p.m. . . . Notice where the "Debutantes" all-girl band has returned to the Everglades on W. Broad-st . . . Get ready for Holiday On Ice of 1963 opening at the Fairgrounds Coliseum beginning Tuesday, Oct. 23, and running until Wednesday, Oct. 31.

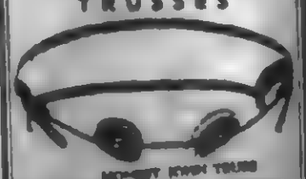
'La Traviata' Is First In Hast-Amend Series

MARY BETH PEIL
. . . As Violetta

Verdi's masterpiece, "La Traviata," will open the Hast-Amend Civic Concert Series in Veterans Memorial Auditorium on Oct. 18. It will be performed by the Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater — a company of 50 including orchestra, soloists, new scenery and costumes.

Mary Beth Peil, a widely-known and very talented soprano, will sing the lead part "Violetta." This story of the Lady of the Camelias has become a classic and its popularity has almost turned it into a legend to be seen and enjoyed in many medi-

"La Traviata" had its American premier in 1856 three years after its world premier in Venice) at the Academy of Music in New York. The Metropolitan first presented this work in 1883 when the fabulous 25-year old Marcella Sembrich recreated the role.



Tickets are on sale at Summers Music Store, 114 E. Broad-st.

Ice Show Should Be Real Treat Here FOR FUN

Hartley Amusement Guide

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

A preview look at this year's "Holiday On Ice of 1963" proves to be the greatest thing that ever happened to the cold stuff since the frozen food industry heard about it.

A 20-member contingent from Columbus journeyed to Troy on Friday for a sneak look at the show before it opens in Columbus at the Fairgrounds Coliseum for nine days beginning Tuesday, Oct. 23.

With more colorful surprises than a kindergarten birthday party, the show opened big and got progressively bigger. The opening number, "I'm Shooting High" set the stage for this year's production that seemingly sees the sky as the limit for gaiety.

The cast this year (the show's celebrating its 18th birthday) is a relatively new one. The average age of the skaters is 18 but the youth and vitality do everything but slow down the pace.

Designed particularly this year for the youngsters, a "Sleeping Beauty" sequence is, perhaps, the highlight of the performance. The team of Rosemarie and Robert Unger are standouts in this one and the costumes are enough to make the viewer wear sun-glasses.

With every act as spectacular as a finale number you never really know when the show ends unless you've bought a program.

Funnymen, The Maxwells, were real crowd-pleasers in the Hobart Arena in Troy. They do a "Tower of Fun" routine that's almost unbelievable.

Ted Deeley is back this year, too, funnier than ever.

Glamour — that's the key word in this performance. Female skaters from all over the world lend an international flavor to the production, too.

I mentioned to Hazel Eyes during the performance that I wish I could skate like those folks.

"I can do a figure eight the hard way," she replied.

"How's that?" I asked.

"Two fours," she said.

Tickets for the Columbus opening are on sale at Central Ticket Office, 37 N. High-st. Mail orders must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Joy in HARVEST

The wheat fields have yielded an abundant crop, because some planted and labored. At harvest time, there is joy, happiness, and satisfaction in a job well done.

Our Lord compared those around us, who are in need of the Gospel, to a field ready for harvest. "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest."

Invite someone to attend church with you this Sunday and share in the joy of the Harvest.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

day and Friday.

Reynolds pointed out that the biggest "weakness" in the Sunday campaign was from residents living in the area bordered by Parsons-av on the east and Central-av on the west.

Dr. Leuchter said that the north end of Columbus took most advantage of the Sabin and that he "has reason to believe that some northern sites participated close to 100 per cent."

Sabin vaccine make-up clinics have been scheduled in other parts of the state, too, in case you'll be out of town this week.

Two clinics are scheduled in Madison County according to that county's chairman Dr. Sol Maggied. The Madison County Hospital station will be open Sunday, Oct. 7, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Also, a clinic will be set up at the Jonathan Alder High School near Plain City on Monday, Oct. 8, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

According to Maggied, some 16,000 Madison Countians were immunized last Sunday out of the 25,000 residents there.

After this week of clinics is over, what can folks do to get the vaccine? "We just don't know," said Dr. Leuchter.

Hilltop 'Y' Campaign Winds Up

The 1962 Hilltop YMCA Membership Roundup officially closed Monday evening, Oct. 1. The goal for this year's effort was set at 2,075 members and $12,000. Early returns show a total of 1,250 members with $6,800 in cash towards this goal. Reports from all workers are incomplete at this time.

Roy Agin, chairman of the Hilltop YMCA Membership Committee, announced that a cleanup campaign will be conducted beginning Oct. 29. At this time all persons who may not have been contacted during the recent drive will be visited.

Leading membership producer to date is Big Boss M. E. "Jack" Sensenbrenner who has turned in $160.00 in "Partner With Youth" memberships. Due to incomplete reports, "Quota Busters" who turn in $60.00 or more are not available at this time. Special plaques will be presented to those reaching or exceeding this goal.

Pair Gets $60 In Owl Market Holdup Friday

The Owl Market, 2338 W. Broad-st, was robbed of approximately $60 cash Friday night, according to store owner, Frank Wallace, also of 2338 W. Broad-st.

Police said that two bandits, one armed with a pistol, held up clerk Pauline Rogers, 3523 South-blvd, took the money from a cash register and fled in a car.

Mr. Businessman —

Very soon a Kiwanian will be calling on you to sell advertising in the annual Kiwanis Christmas Newspaper Sale.

He has a real advertising story to tell you and a real bargain to offer, plus the fact that you will be aiding many worthwhile community welfare projects.

Your ad in the Kiwanis newspaper will help continue such a project as these:

Sponsorship of a cottage at Franklin Village. Assistance to Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Little League Baseball and Football Teams, Easter Egg Hunt, Shrine Circus, Boy Scout Cabin. Sponsorship of annual college and special music and ministerial scholarships. Aid to crippled children, underprivileged children, built shelter house for State Hospital patients, Aid in numerous local church projects. Select Hilltop Mother of Year. Sponsor Annual Kids Day at Lockbourne Air Base.

This year the club has agreed to make a sizable contribution from net proceeds of the newspaper sale to the Hilltop YMCA Swimming Pool Fund. This is a major worthwhile project much needed by youth of the community.

Sesqui Flower Show Set Saturday, Oct. 6

The Division of Parks and Forestry, in conjunction with Allied Florists and the Columbus Landscape Assn., will sponsor a flower show starting at noon Saturday, Oct. 6, in City Hall. It will continue through Sunday, Oct. 14, and will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The show will have a sesquicentennial theme. At the south entrance, the florists will have a display depicting the present space age. Progressively, the displays will lead visitors back to the beginning of the city in the wilderness.

Landscapers in their exhibits on the Broad and Front terraces will carry out the same theme in their garden areas, using props such as dinner bells and iron kettles.

J. Richard Lawwill, superintendent of the Division of Parks and Forestry, is working with Dave Stember, newly-elected president of Allied Florists, and Jim Lines, president of the Landscape Association.

Sue Zollinger, sesquicentennial queen, Diane Courtright, maiden of roses, and Mayor Ralston Westlake will open the show in ceremonies at noon, Oct. 6.

In the official party will be Livingston Taylor, chairman of the Sesquicentennial committee, and William Coons, chairman of the Park Commission.

Keep guns away from children. Never leave a weapon unattended without unloading it. Store guns and ammunition beyond the reach of youngsters, preferably under lock and key.

Open House Set For Sunday By Association For Blind

The Columbus Association for the Blind, a United Appeal Agency, located at 1393 N. High-st, will hold open house for the public Sunday, Oct. 7, between 2 and 6 p.m. Dedication services will be at 3 p.m. in the social hall which will be dedicated as Monett Hall. Howard Monett presented the agency with its first home at Fifth and Mound in 1940.

There the blind gathered for social activities and later there was established the first workshop for the blind. In 1954 the workshop was moved across the street.

The Market-Mohawk Redevelopment Program forced the agency to relocate at 1393 N. High-st, where it is working with the State Division of Services for the Blind in providing a rehabilitation program for the blind. Counselling for the blind and their families is being requested by an increasing number of the citizens of Franklin County. The Social Activities, which have long been an important phase of the program, are being continued.

It May Be Later Than We Think

It was a privilege to be present at the Otterbein College convocation known as "Crisis In Freedom" this past Saturday evening. In an address that should have been heard by a far greater segment of Central Ohioans, Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota had much to say on the subject of how near we are to losing our remaining fragments of freedom. Excerpts follow:

It formerly was an axiom around congress that economic conditions determined political decisions. Now the axiom has been changed to: Political decisions determine economic conditions.

Freedom is something we have to exercise. It requires self discipline on the part of each individual.

The most severe critics of our system are those countries that have received over 100 billions in grants.

Let's remember that not everyone in our presence wants freedom for everyone.

The biggest political party in this country is CORE. They collect and spend more money on politics than both major parties combined. It is one of our greatest challenges to freedom. It makes both parties look green with envy.

Another of our great perils is the group known as Americans for Democratic Action. It is made up of dreamers and schemers who call themselves liberals.

A conservative today is defined by many as the man who says, "Keep your hand out of my pocket."

We need to beware of the politician who says, "Let me have more of the money you earn so I can buy the things you need but are too dumb to buy for yourself.

A political monopoly is more dangerous than an economic monopoly.

I'm against the concept that only politicians can be right.

The decisive battle for freedom will be won or lost in our generation at the polling places.

We need to remind our public office holders that the constitution lays emphasis on "promote rather than provide."

Woman of the Month

Friends of Mary Miller were pleased at her selection by the United Church Women of Columbus and Franklin County as the "Woman of the Month." An article in their magazine, The Courier, points out "Mary Miller is one of the busiest women in Columbus." And it is a fact that she gives unstintingly of her time and talents to many community organizations. Among other positions she is staff program director of the Hilltop YWCA. We join by a word of praise to Mary Miller.

Catholic Schools Invite Public To Visit Sunday

If you have ever been curious about what goes on inside a Catholic school, you'll have a chance to find some answers this Sunday, Oct. 14.

Six West area Catholic schools: St. Aloysius, St. Agnes, St. Cecilia, Holy Family, St. Mary Magdalene, and Bishop Ready, invite the public to Open House from 3 to 5 p.m.

This event is part of the observance of October as Catholic Education Month in the diocese of Columbus. The Most Rev. Clarence Issenmann, bishop of Columbus, has invited Catholics and non-Catholics alike to take advantage of this opportunity to see for themselves what facilities parish schools and high schools provide. Neighbors, friends, and public school teachers will be especially welcome from 3 to 5 p.m. This is the first time that diocesan schools have been opened for public inspection.

St. Aloysius School, founded in 1960, is located at Clarendon-av and Broad-st. Staffed by five Sisters of Notre Dame and three lay teachers, the school enrolls 360 pupils and 20 pupils in Christian Doctrine classes. Visitors will tour a modern, 10-room building just erected last year. It includes a central library, multi-purpose room, clinic, and meeting room. Sister M. Immaculata, SND, is principal.

The neat new (1955) St. Agnes school at 2350 W. Mound-st, with its modern architecture and landscaping, houses 434 pupils and 35 Christian Doctrine pupils. It is conducted by five Sisters of Notre Dame and four lay teachers, with Sister M. Raphael as principal. Planning the open house are Thomas Siler, chairman; Mrs. Robert Luken, Mrs. John Kirwin, Mrs. Gus Flichia, Harold Anderson, Thomas Sistito and Mrs. Tony Varunicelli.

St. Cecilia, now in its third year, is set in a picturesque countryside along Norton-rd near New Rome. With the last of its bright airy classrooms finished last year, the schol accommodates 262 pupils from the first to the sixth grades. Four Sisters of St. Francis of Mary Immaculate and two lay women are the teachers. The principal is Sister M. Andrea, OSF.

Holy Family School, S. Grubb-st near W. Broad-st, is a historic center of Catholic education dating back to 1871. The site was purchased from the pioneer Sullivant family.

Six Sisters of Mercy and two lay teachers hold classes for 326 children in grades one through eight. Eighty of these are transported from Rockbourne All-Force Base and 40 are Christian Doctrine pupils. Thirty others are seventh and eighth graders from New Rome and Grove City. Sister Mary Maureen is principal and Msgr. George F. Gressel is pastor.

Holy Family school, the first Catholic school in the West Side was opened in 1877. From 1923 to 1960 it included a high school, which is now being phased out through graduations at new Bishop Ready School.

Largest of the local grade schools, St. Mary Magdalene, at Roys-av and Binns-blvd, has an enrollment of 812 pupils housed in three buildings: the original school, St. Raymond Annex, and two rooms in Bishop Ready High School. In addition, 117 public school children are instructed in Christian Doctrine. Nine Sisters of St. Francis of Mary Immaculate and 10 lay teachers, under the principalship of Sister M. Terence, OSF, constitute the faculty. St. Mary Magdalene won the Health Trophy awarded by the Columbus Health Department for 1962.

Rising in the midst of the well-kept homes bordering West Mound, Salisbury, Erkin, and Brinker is the newest West area school, Bishop Ready High, now in its second year. From the expansive football and athletic field fronting the building to the last detail of modern lab equipment, Ready represents the newest and best in school layout and facilities. Under the direction of the Rev. Richard Endres, principal, 464 freshmen and sophomores follow a complete academic and athletic program. The faculty consists of 11 Sisters of St. Francis of Mary Immaculate and seven lay teachers.

MATOSKA

TRIBAL LORE FOR PALEFACES

Sioux Indian Teaches At Sullivant Center

On the Sullivant Gardens Recreation Center staff this fall is a Sioux Indian who teaches Indian crafts and lore. Matoska, better known as Bob Gillespie, 914 Harwood-dr, has resided in Columbus off and on since 1946. He is a member of the Sioux Cheyenne tribe of Indians.

Gillespie was reared on the Pine Ridge Sioux Reservation in South Dakota where he was taught a wide variety of skills by the older Indians. He was one of the few to be so honored.

Among the many arts taught by Gillespie are: Sioux and Cheyenne dances; creating Indian costumes, such as war bonnets, head dresses, trails and moccasins; Indian crafts, games, ceremonies and camp fire rituals; tracking, sneaking and pageantry.

Gillespie prides himself on being the first Indian of his tribe to be graduated from a leading university—Ohio State University.

True to the traditional bravery and teachings of the once feared and intrepid warriors, Gillespie enlisted in the Navy during World War II, serving for four years, [illegible] in the Atlantic and Pacific theaters.

Every year Gillespie returns to his native land in South Dakota where he attends the Sioux Conferences and acts as counselor to his tribe. This is a time set aside each year where the tribe unites to discuss problems and future plans.

Gillespie is active in many youth groups. He has worked with Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA groups, Camp Fire Girls, Boys Clubs of America, summer camps, private and civic organizations and was employed for several years by the Hull House Association in Chicago.

He just recently completed three pamphlets on crafts, games and lore of the Sioux and Cheyenne Indians.

West Side Citizens Will Quiz State Liquor Control Director

An open meeting of the West Side Community Council concerning the growing number of liquor establishments in the near West Side will be held at 7:45 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 11, in Gladden Community House. All interested parties are welcome.

The West Side Council will be addressed by George R. Dick, director of the Department of Liquor Control of the State of Ohio.

In a letter to Stanley Doran, chairman of the welfare committee of the West Side Council, Dick confirmed that he and Ivan Smith, deputy director, would be present to explain the state policies on issuing permits, as well as answer questions.

The public hearing is an outgrowth of the Sept. 13 meeting of the West Side Council at which time a comprehensive report was received by the executive committee concerning a constant increase of bars, taverns, carry-outs and night clubs in the area.

At that time, council approved a two-point motion. First, that the West Side Neighborhood Council go on record as opposing any further granting of licenses by the Liquor Control Board for additional night clubs, carry-outs, taverns or bars in the West Side area.

Second, that all West Side organizations and groups be invited to send membership delegations to the October open meeting of the council to discuss the matter. Further, that a representative of the State Liquor Control Board be invited to the meeting to explain the Ohio laws and provide other information.

Walt Cunningham, president of the council, urges all interested organizations to send representatives to the meeting.

A short business meeting, with chairman of all of the council's six committees reporting, will be held prior to Dick's address.

Mrs. Barbara Smoot

Barbara Coe

Barbara Coe Leaves Gladden; Mrs. Smoot To Assume Post

The resignation of Barbara Coe as program supervisor of Gladden Community House was announced today by A. M. Wilder, executive director.

She has served on the West Side settlement staff since June, 1960, following her graduation from the School of Social Work at Ohio State University with a master of social work degree. She also served on the Gladden staff during the 1959-60 school year, as a student in training.

Miss Coe will become director of Godman Guild, the near North Side settlement, beginning Nov. 1. In announcing Miss Coe's resignation, Wilder cited Miss Coe for "not only the outstanding contribution she has made to the supervision of program and services at Gladden House, but also the deep human interest that she reflected in people as she went about her job."

Mrs. Barbara A. Smoot, 836 Kenwick-rd, has been appointed to fill the program supervisor's vacancy.

$50 CASH PRIZE:

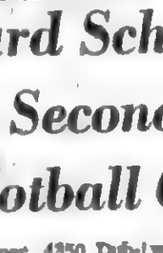
Hilliard Schoolboy Wins Second Round In Football Contest

Larry Gerstner, 4350 Dublin-rd, a 15-year-old sophomore at Hilliard High School, topped 285 contestants in last week's Hartley Football Contest.

Gerstner picked 22 of 24 winners correctly to walk off with a check of $50. Under the rules of the contest winners who are paid subscribers to any of the seven Hartley newspapers double their money. Gerstner's $25 prize money was doubled because his father, Daniel A. Gerstner, is a paid subscriber.

The youth failed to pick only two winners. He missed on the Columbus Capitals-Louisville, and Army-Michigan games.

Other entrants who finished as runner-up to Gerstner were, James Rubadue, 344 Lennox-av; Mrs. George Cooper, 1017 S. Remington-rd; Marilyn Kerscher, 573 Frebis-av; Richard L. Martin and Lee Martin, 215 Dana-av; Ron Ayres, 1695 Dundee-pl; Wade Bollinger, 1440 Frebis-av; George A. Rudman, 152 Williams-rd, and G. F. Derrer, Jr., 1104 S. Kellner-rd. Not one of nearly 300 entrants predicted the UCLA-OSU upset in the tie-breaker portion of the contest.



Since no one picked all 24 winners entitling them to the snowballing jackpot, $75 will be up for grabs this weekend. The $25 bonus will be added to the jackpot each week if no one qualifies for it. This means that several hundred dollars may be riding on the 10th round of the contest.

Complete rules can be found elsewhere in this paper along with 24 more top college, professional, and local high school games. These games will be played on the weekend of Oct. 20.

Fill in your choices and send the entry blank to Football Contest Editor, Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st, Columbus 4, O.

Nationwide Introduces Big Bear

Opening of the new Big Bear super market at the corner of W. Broad and N. Murray Hill-rd marks the latest step forward in the fast-moving development of the Lincoln Village area.

Wagner

Edward F. Wagner, vice president-general manager of the Nationwide Development Company, developers of the west-side community, today cited events which have taken place in 1962 and outlined plans for future growth: Wagner said, "Lincoln Village now has approximately 6,000 residents and completion of additional residential areas should increase this by almost 50 per cent in the near future.

"Along with the continuing population "explosion" there has been a corresponding influx of new businesses and facilities to serve this area.

"The first suburban store to be opened by the Lazarus department store organization is in operation on a 15-acre site immediately west of Nationwide Inn. Park Federal Savings and Loan Association will occupy a new branch office

A dinner will be served prior to the business meeting. Wives of members are invited.

Parade Thursday To Climax Columbus Sesquicentennial

Climax of the Columbus sesquicentennial celebration will be marked by an hour-long parade starting at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Robert J. Gruesser, vice-president of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., and parade chairman, said plans have been completed for the demonstration.

Parade marshal James F. Worster, assistant safety director, and his assistants, Russ Pennell and Ray A. Jacobs, have arranged an eight-section parade.

The 120-piece Ohio State University marching band will march in the opening section.

Mayor W. Ralston Westlake, city council members, and sesquicentennial queen Sue Zollinger will also be among the leading elements in the parade, which will start at Washington-st, and move westward on Broad-st past the reviewing stand at city hall to Marconi-blvd.

The Columbus Day, fire fighter and rose queens will also be featured. Woody Hayes and Jack Nicklaus have been invited to ride in open convertibles in the parade.

Floats are being prepared to tell the story of "150 Years of Progress," which is the theme of the parade.

Five high school bands and numerous marching units will participate. Bands and their directors are: West High, James Hill; Eastmoor High, Jerry Kaye; Linden-McKinley High, Daniel Baker; South High, Howard Cozart; and Whetstone High, Leslie Susi.

Military units will add to the proceedings. In one section, the 37th Division Band and Color Guard will precede units of the 83rd Division. Lockbourne Air Force Base will be represented by a marching unit.

The Old Guard Fife and Drum Corps of the 1st Battle Group, 3rd Infantry, will be on hand as will the Marching Cadets from St. Aloysius High in New Lexington.

Other elements in the parade will include: Knights of Columbus, Shriners, Fire and Police Department units, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, North American Clowns, Hurricane Majorettes, Recreation Department, Zoo Train, Franklin County Sheriff's Posse, Franklin Post Band and a calliope.

The parade will turn north on Marconi-blvd and disband in the parking lot north of the post office, according to Will Hellerman, vice chairman of the parade.

Methodist Meet On Family Life Set In Chicago

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cunningham, 182 Sturbridge-rd, will attend the fourth quadrennial National Methodist Conference on Family Life, Oct. 19 to 21 at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago, representing Columbia Heights Methodist Church.

At least 3,000 delegates are expected, most of them parents and church workers.

Ferre, professor at Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Center, Mass., Rev. Robert E. Richards, two-time Olympic pole vault champion and now director of the Wheaties Sports Foundation and Methodist Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy, Los Angeles.

Ralph Edwards of Hollywood will be narrator for one of the dramatic productions.

The "Methodist Family of the Year," to be chosen by "Together," Methodist family magazine, will be honored at a reception.

Mother Of Six Sons First Nominee For Suburban Homemaker Honors

By JERRY WOLFROM

"Well . . . ge whiz . . . what can I say? It's really very thrilling and flattering."

This was Mrs. L. T. McKinley's reaction when informed that she had been the Columbus area's first nominee in Hartley Newspapers' search for a "Suburban Homemaker of The Year."

Hartley Newspapers are conducting the local search, in cooperation with the Suburban Press Foundation, a national organization. The nationwide search will end in Chicago next month when a $5000 cash prize will be awarded to the national winner.

Any homemaker in the Hartley circulation area is eligible for nomination. Letters nominating homemakers can be written by friends, husbands, children, or organizations. Mrs. McKinley, or Midge, as she is known in her neighborhood, was nominated in a letter written by Mrs. Paul J. McDonald, 872 S. Kellner-rd

Midge lives with her husband, Mac, and their six sons at 835 S. Enfield-rd. Mac is an associate with a local building contractor.

She is an active member of the Bishop Hartley PTA, Diocese of Columbus Catholic Women, Eastmoor South Pool Association, Marion Ladies, Catholic Nurses Association, and Eastmoor South Civic Association.

Despite her many interests, Midge's devotion to her husband, her children, and to her home have never suffered. In fact, all her outside interests in some way concern her family.

She is a registered nurse but her nursing assignments are now confined to neighborhood calls—a duty she performs free-gratis.

"I don't see how Midge finds time to trot all over the neighborhood sitting up with sick persons and bandaging cut fingers," a close friend commented.

The six McKinley boys, aged three, five, seven, 12, 13 and 14 have a number of hobbies which Midge helps supervise. "Unfortunately for me," she laughed, "We're over-run with animals right now."

The McKinley household harbors a cat, two rabbits, a bowl of tropical fish, two turtles, and a chameleon.

The three oldest sons are altar boys, and play baseball, football, and are members of local swim teams. Needless to say, Midge is their staunchest rooter.

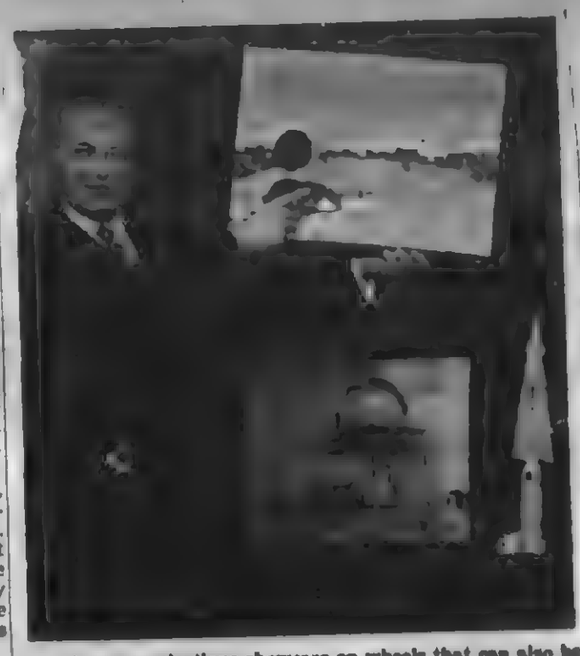
Mrs. McDonald, who belongs to several organizations with Midge, admits that "Let Midge Do It" is the favorite slogan in most clubs. "Midge works hard on the Heart Fund and Cancer drives. She currently is active in the Sabin op Sunday campaign, Mrs. McDonald said.

Despite six energetic boys, the McKinley home is managed with precision and order. Each boys takes his turn at the kitchen sink doing the dishes, and each regularly pitches in to keep the tile floors spotless and their rooms tidy

"In fact," smiled Midge, "One of the boys has learned to iron his own clothes."

Living in a bustling atmosphere is traditional for the McKinleys. Soon after the couple was married, they purchased a house near Ohio State University, where Mac was enrolled. Part of the family income came from the upstairs rooms which were rented to 10 college men.

"Things for Midge and Mac were pretty tough in those days," confided a neighbor, "But Midge's cookie jar always had a little extra change in it for the college boys when they ran short. And even though she held a steady job and was raising three children, she did part of the laundry for those 10 men."



Midge McKinley is not really an unusual housewife. There are countless homemakers in the Columbus area who deserve recognition for the national "Suburban Homemaker of the Year."

If you know of such a homemaker, and really everyone does, sit down and write a letter of 500 words or less telling about her. Use the official judging standards provided elsewhere in this paper as a yardstick in composing your letter.

Present plans call for several local finanists to be sent to Chicago as guests of Hartley Newspapers to participate in the national awards program. While in Chicago the women will make several radio and television appearances and participate in a National Homemaker panel discussion.

FIRST NOMINEE in Hartley Newspapers' search for "Suburban Homemaker of The Year" is Mrs. L. T. McKinley, 835 S. Enfield-rd. Despite caring for six ambitious sons, a husband, and a wide assortment of species from the animal kingdom, Mrs. McKinley finds time to devote to one of her favorite hobbies, flower arranging.

A communications showcase on wheels that can also be used as an emergency telephone center, and which also houses communication satellite displays, will be on free display at the Central Point Shopping Center Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, as a part of the center's Space Age event—"Satellite Days."

Central Point Will Feature Space Exhibits This Weekend

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week the merchants of the Central Point Shopping Center, W. Mound-st, at Central-av, are staging a unique event call "Satellite Days."

This event differs from the usual shopping center offerings in that the emphasis is on education rather than sheer entertainment. Everyone from students to oldsters will find stimulating and educational exhibits and demonstrations in an atmosphere of the "Space Age."

Organization and government services capable of providing such display have given fine cooperation to the end that Central Point will really be the place to visit this weekend.

The Ohio Bell Telephone will show its "Telemobile," the 35-foot showcase has a dual purpose. In the event of disaster disrupting regular telephone service, it functions as a communications headquarters until normal service is resumed. It also houses many new developments in the communications world, including a model of Echo I, the first space communications satellite.

The U. S. Navy is sending a 36-foot trailer filled with space-age exhibits.

Another interesting feature will be a Planetarium to be housed next to Canton Jewelers. Scientist Richard Lamson, who has lectured all summer at the Seattle World's Fair, will give free lectures in the Planetarium. He will also have outdoor telescopes and will supervise the showing of space-science movies day and night.

The "Community Room" at the Main-Federal Savings and Loan will be converted into an exhibition hall. There will be science exhibits by the Air Force, Marine Corps and by youths from various high schools sponsored by the Ohio Academy of Science.

The Ohio Department of Health will have window exhibits on Disaster and Rescue. Survival and disaster displays will be offered by the Department of Civil Defense.

All of the Central Point stores are saying "The Sky's the Limit" in their effort to provide "out of this world" values for this thrill-packed event.

Ladies' Club To Sponsor Fund Drive

The Lincoln Village Women's Club, member of OFWC and GFWC, will have a door to door canvass of residents of Prairie-Lincoln Elementary School area beginning Sunday, Oct. 14 to raise $12,500 to provide recreational facilities which will be open to all residents. Previous club projects have netted nearly 10 per cent of the money needed.

The total project, as planned by Dr. Wilbur Batchelor, a consultant on community recreation and youth services, proposes a combination of four joined tennis courts with curbing and drains so the area can be flooded and used as an ice skating rink. It could be used for teenage dances in the [illegible].

The money donated will be tax deductable, as the courts will belong and will be operated by the Prairie-Lincoln Elementary School.

Flood Control Projects Get House OK

The House Public Works Committee, Washington, approved legislation last week authorizing Federal funds for six Central Ohio flood control projects in the Scioto River valley.

The projects will cost more than $55 million in Federal funds.

The House bill recommendations included chanel improvements at Columbus and reservoir dams on Alum, Mill, Salt and Deer Creeks.

The recently formed Scioto Conservancy District has a similar program for the development of the Scioto River Valley.

Presumably, if Congress passes the authorization bills on this plan and later passes accompanying money bills, the Conservancy District and the US Corps of Engineers could work out a co-operative program for the project.

Completes Jet Course

Airman Third Class Fred T. Hines, 18, son of Fred M. Hines, of 70 N. Hawie-av, has been assigned to the Shaw, AFB, S.C., following his graduation from the air force technical training course for jet aircraft mechanics at Amarillo AFB, Tex. He is a graduate of the Franklin Heights High School.

Conference For Parents Of Blind Set

Dr. Douglas C. McFarland, director of the Virginia Commission for the Visually Handicapped, will be the principal speaker at the two-day conference, to be held at the Nationwide Inn, for the parents of blind children, Oct. 13 and 14.

The institute is sponsored by the Ohio Division of Services for the Blind.

Dr. McFarland will speak at 7 p.m. Saturday evening, Oct. 13 at the banquet, followed by John Henle, Chief, Division of Services for the Blind, Columbus.

Is Sunday Necessities Amendment Necessary?

FOR THE AMENDMENT

The Sunday Necessities Amendment is a proposal to make Sundays honest in a state where Sundays have been dishonest for decades.

No law of the land is more flagrantly ignored than Ohio's 131-year-old blue law. It has been found completely unenforceable in 99 per cent of Ohio's communities. Even in the scattered areas where an attempt is made to enforce it, the enforcement effort ends in a snarl of legal findings and counter-findings that are choking our courts.

It is estimated that the cases already in our courts will take three years to litigate, and more are being filed all the time.

Yet Ohio continues to keep on its books an unenforceable, confusing law that was passed in 1831—the same year in which six Ohioans in the Cincinnati area were tried for witchcraft.

The basic problem created by the law is its "necessity" clause. It says necessities may be available to the public on Sunday, but it makes no attempt to define what necessities are. Most people would agree that such utilities as electricity, natural gas and telephone service are necessities today. But they were not when the law was passed, because they were still unknown, and the "intent" of those who write the law must always be taken into account by the courts.

Surveys made this year show that a majority of Ohioans today consider milk and food necessities that should be available on Sundays, but some courts disagree. Our judges, in fact, disagree with each other. Some say that foresight is a factor — everything that could be bought ahead and stored up should be illegal on Sundays under the law. Others say you can't legislate foresight—people will run out of gasoline and milk and bread and household fuels simply because they are human beings, who can forget things on busy Saturdays.

As a result of the confusion surrounding the ancient law, enforcement efforts have been given up as hopeless in most areas, and the law has become a travesty. Businesses of all kinds are open now, and more are opening constantly without interference.

The Sunday Necessities Amendment, by simply spelling out necessities that can be agreed on by a majority of people as essential seven days a week, will eliminate this confusion and permit orderly enforcement of the law against non-essential business.

The amendment makes legal these items—and these items only: gas, electricity, telephone, telegraph, public transportation, other public utilities, newspapers, other news publications, radio, TV, other communications, household fuels, gasoline and oil, prescriptions and proprietary drugs, household medical supplies, personal hygiene products, milk, milk products and food.

Opponents of the amendment have issued statements claiming that all of these items have already been made legal by "court decisions," excepting only milk and food. They say that the Lawson Milk Company, which is sponsoring the amendment, is simply trying to add the products it sells to those that have already been legalized.

Many ministers and even some newspaper editors have accepted this statement as true, and if true, it would be a telling argument. There is, however, no truth to it. When asked to cite the specific court decisions that make these items legal, the opposition stammers and has nothing to put forward.

A search of Ohio's court decisions, all the way back to the 1830's, shows that all of the items in the amendment are under a cloud of doubt. In the words of the highly respected firm of attorneys who conducted the search, "None of the items in the amendment can be said to be clearly exempted (from Sunday closing) either by the present law or by decisions of the courts." A copy of the complete report, citing decisions that go back for more than a hundred years, is available to interested citizens.

The amendment, then, will eliminate the confusion, guarantee people the right to buy the necessities they need, and permit orderly enforcement of Sunday closing regulations against businessmen who are now selling non-essentials illegally.

As surveys prove beyond question, the public does want the items listed in the amendment, including milk and food, to be available on Sundays. Fresh milk, in fact, is the fourth most popular item in the group, ranking just behind prescription drugs, bus service, and gasoline, and ahead of such basic services as radio-TV broadcasting and telephone service.

If people understand what they are voting on, the amendment will pass with a landslide YES vote.

The merchants opposing it, however, have been able to convince some churchmen that the amendment poses a threat to the holiness of Sunday. Actually, it does not (and in a government based on the separation of church and state, that shouldn't be an issue anyway). Still, many ministers are campaigning against the amendment and further confusing the issue.

The Ohio legislature should rightfully have done this modernization job 50 years ago. Since 1915, 34 different bills have been introduced in the legislature to bring the law up to date, and our legislators, who are concerned about the religious controversy surrounding the issue, have backed away from every one of them. One state senator has said, "It would be political suicide for a legislator to identify himself with either side of such an issue."

It was not until 1959, when the Attorney General threatened to close down the state fair unless something was done to legalize it, that the so-called "recreation and amusement" exemptions were added. But nothing has ever been done to clarify the "necessity" clause of the law, which is what creates all the confusion. Since the legislature has done nothing for 131 years, this has become a job for the people.

The Lawson Milk Company has been accused of pure self-interest in sponsoring the legislation. But it must be remembered that about half a million Ohioans in 87 of the state's 88 counties signed the petitions to put this issue on the ballot. And Lawson's will not gain 10 cents more in additional business whether the amendment passes or fails. All Lawson stores in Ohio are open on Sundays, now, and have been open for 23 years under the present law.

Lawson's does of course have self-interest involved in the amendment. Today, all Sunday transactions, including Lawson's, are under a cloud of doubt. The company wants that cloud cleared away, and the law clearly defined. It is fortunate that an organization like Lawsons, with an unassailable record of public service extending back over two decades, has sponsored the campaign. If Lawson's didn't do it, who would?

The time is long past when ordinary citizens could rise up and undertake an initiative or referendum action if their legislature failed to act. Someone with courage, money, organization and widespread public support must sponsor and finance an effort of this kind in the public interest. The man in the street may want it, but he can't do anything about it by himself.

A NO vote to defeat the amendment will simply result in more of what we have now—hypocrisy, sham, dishonesty and widespread Sunday commercialism without restrictions of any kind in most communities.

A YES vote to pass the amendment will result in a clarification of our 131-year-old law, a guarantee that essentials will be available seven days a week, and orderly enforcement of Sunday closing regulations on an impartial basis throughout the state.

What should we do about Sunday sales?

Voters at the Nov. 6 election will be confronted with a proposal to amend the Constitution of Ohio relative to the sale, processing or rendition of certain commodities, products and services on Sunday. The proposal follows:

> "No statute, ordinance or regulation shall be passed or enforced whereby the sale, processing or rendition of the following commodities, products or services shall be prohibited on Sunday or any other day of the week, to-wit: gas, electricity, telephone, telegraph, public means of transportation or any other public utility service or product; newspapers, other news publications, radio, television, or other public communications service; household fuels; motor fuels and lubricants for automotive vehicles; prescriptions and proprietary drugs, and household medical supplies; products used for personal hygiene and sanitation; milk, milk products, any food items or food product for human or animal consumption."

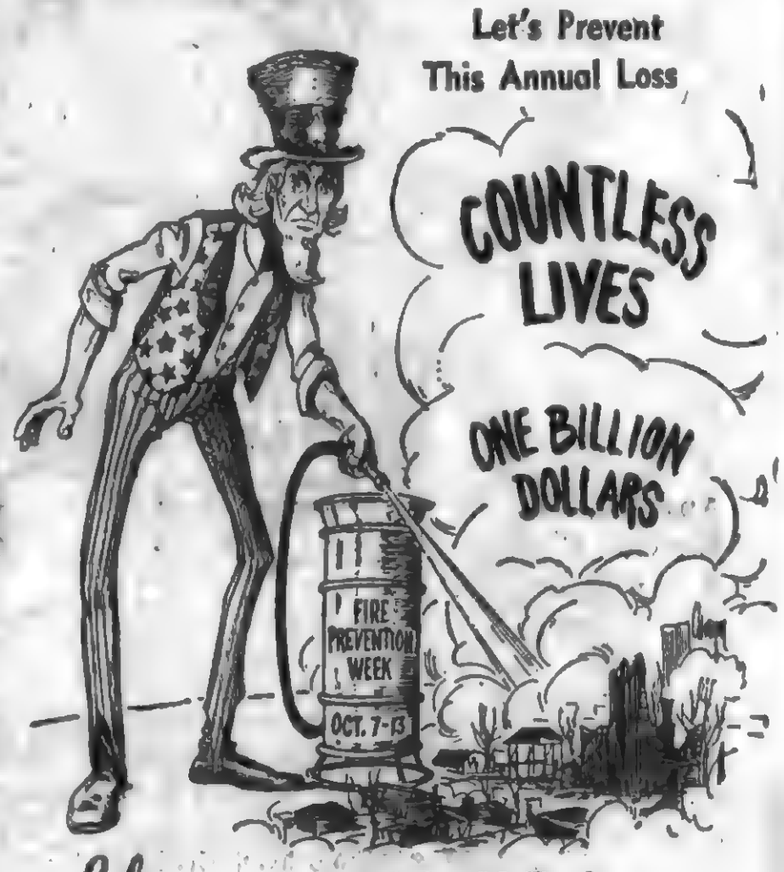
Hartley Newspapers this week is giving unlimited space to both the proponents and one of the best known local opponents of the ammendment so that they may state their positions. The Lawson Milk originated and is vigorously supporting the proposal. The Greater Columbus Sunday Association, which has carried out an effective campaign for enforcement of existing Sunday closing laws, opposes the Sunday necessities amendment. The effort has been intensified since by another group, the Voters Action Association.

Hartley Newspapers will publish an editorial opinion on the issue later this month.

AGAINST THE AMENDMENT

Read this amendment carefully—it is a clever attempt to benefit Lawson Milk Company, a corporation owned by Consolidated Foods of Chicago. Notice the tail-end of the amendment. Lawson has included its products, which cannot legally be sold on Sunday, with the other items which can legally be sold on Sunday. Lawson simply wants you to vote more business for Lawson. Is it any wonder why they doggedly push this amendment?



You will lose if you allow this amendment to pass. Open the door a crack and soon other clever men will force it wide open. Next year the clothing stores may try to push a similar amendment in your face. This time, retail groceries; next time, clothing. What next?

This amendment will begin the collapse of something special—Sunday. Sunday will be just another working day. On Sunday you should be able to attend church with your family, picnic, or go fishing. You are free—you should not have to work on Sunday. Your state law now guarantees you this right: Sunday is a day when the entire family, together with the entire community, can rest and worship and play. This is important to us; to some men the dollar is more important. Pass this amendment and you will be kept on the job some Sunday by an employer who has no choice but to meet the competition.

Lawson simply wants more business. The religious beliefs and social customs of the many thousand people in the retail food business make no difference to Lawson. Businessmen throughout Ohio, however, have stood by their convictions and refused to support this amendment. In fact, the only organized support we know for this proposed change comes from Lawson.

We believe our Sunday Closing Law is a good law and should be observed. Our present law prohibits only one thing, and that, unnecessary business. It does, in effect, preserve Sunday for the enjoyment of life. There is no question in our minds that the passage of Issue Number I will open the door to widespread commercialism and eventually complete employment on Sunday. The elimination of Sunday as Sunday threatens the very fabric of our lives here in America, and the image we project to the world.

We sincerely hope that the above thoughts will be of some benefit to you as you review the issue and decide how you shall vote. May we urge you, however, to join hands with such groups as the Columbus Area Council of Churches, Columbus-Franklin County AFL-CIO, the Retail Merchants Association, the Catholic Diocese of Columbus, and the many other concerned community organizations who are calling upon citizens to vote "No" on the proposed "Sunday Opening Amendment" at the November election.

Leftovers . . . by John McPeek

'Tiger' Charms Cat Hater

Many centuries before Christ, a wily ferret-faced Phoenician huckster tossed a passel of tame cats onto his floating push-cart and scudded down the Mediterranean to Italy where he was greeted at the shore by a bunch of open-mouthed Etrurians (early pre-spaghetti paisanos).

McPeek

Having never seen portable mouse traps before, the childish Etrurians happily loaded the shrewd Phoenician trader's boat to the gunnels with 90-proof grape-ade in exchange for the furry cargo of leg-rubbing creatures.

To trace the progeny of the alley cat and its subsequent penetration into the northern reaches of Europe would require taking even more liberty with history, for apparently the Italians and their neighbors soon took the rapidly proliferating little beasts for granted.

This must be so because history makes slight mention of them until two millenniums later, when in 936 A. D. Hywel Dda, the Prince of Wales, enacted a law for their protection. This was the earliest written record of the introduction of domesticated cats into Great Britain.

The historic significance of the Prince's law is that even at that early stage of civilized society it was apparent man had divided into two camps — cat-lovers and non-cat-lovers, a situation that prevails today.

As readers of this column know, until about a year ago I was more or less an indifferent member of the non-cat-loving faction. But then with the acquisition of "Tiger," a 32 calico runt dragged home from the animal shelter by my son, Dana, I gradually swung to the cat-loving side of the fence.

This, as I explained earlier, was because I was taken in by the antics of Tiger, who, apparently sensing my latent antagonism, shrewdly assumed the characteristics of a mutt. Instead of slinking, she bounded. Rather than be chased by the children, she did the chasing. Instead of drawing away from tossed objects, she returned them to the throwers feet.

So charmed was I by the odd behavior of this uncat-like cat, that several months later when Tiger, after a couple of all-night outings, started moping about the house with a serenely simple look on her whiskered face, I warmly blabbed in this column that a blessed event was soon to occur in the McPeek household.

As things turned out, or rather failed to turn out, I succeeded only in making a complete fool of myself. And because of the interest the column stirred in cat-loving readers, I soon had to write a second column confessing my rash gullibility.

The mortification was such that I vowed never to write about cats again.

And so some weeks ago when Tiger again donned a simple look of expectancy, I ignored her. Such tomfoolery would not work on me twice. Once was enough.

But now my son has put the pressure on me.

"You write a lot of silly stuff. Here's your chance to write something important," beseeched Dana tearfully.

So what can a father do?

Saturday Tiger gave birth to two kittens. Mother and children are doing fine . . . and father, whoever and wherever he is, assumedly is doing same.

AROUND EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

To Overhaul Program

The State Board of Education is expected to take formal action at its Oct. 8 meeting on a proposal to overhaul the State Foundation Program, which allocates money to school districts, to the tune of $50 million a year.

In general, the proposal calls for increasing the amount of money allocated for teacher salary allowances, allowances for other operating costs, special state support for school guidance programs, and reduction from 30 to 27 the number of pupils required to qualify for a classroom unit allocation in grades 9-12.

Favors Prayer . . .

The Columbus Board of Education has passed a resolution encouraging the Columbus teaching staff to continue use of prayers in school. The board acted after being advised that the recent Supreme Court decision only ruled out established prayers.

Almost Gone . . .

The "little red schoolhouse" which is usually painted white, has all but disappeared from the American scene. A recent National Education Association report shows that only 15,018 of these one-teacher schools are left. In 1930 there were 148,711.

Bible Specifies Baptism Rite For Salvation

A scripture that is misunderstood more than any other, and is very essential to Salvation is: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost" (Math. 28:19). The Apostles knew what the name was, therefore, they baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, which is the name of the Father (St. John 5:43), name of the Son (Math. 1:21), name of the Holy Ghost (St. John 14:26). So Peter, on the Day of Pentecost, wasn't wrong when he said, "Repent and be baptized everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost" (Acts 2:38).

Rev. Whalen

In the tenth chapter of Acts after the Holy Ghost fell upon Cornelius and his household, Peter commanded them to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, Philip went down to Samaria in the eighth chapter of Acts, and baptized the whole town in the name of Jesus. Paul, in the nineteenth chapter of Acts, met up with certain desciples and said unto them, "Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?" And they said unto him, "We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost." And he said unto them, "Unto what then were ye baptised?" And they said, "Unto John's baptism." Then said Paul, "John was baptised with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus." When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of Lord Jesus.

And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

Yes, the Apostles baptized all their converts in the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost; Jesus is the name. Peter tells us, "This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner. Neither is there salvation in any other, for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4:11, 12).

The Holy Ghost speaking in tongues always accompanies baptism in Jesus name, because Jesus tells us "Verily, verily I say unto you except a man be born of water (baptism in Jesus Name) and of the spirit (The Holy Ghost speaking in tongues), he cannot enter into the kingdom of God" (St. John 3:5). My friends, if Matthew 28:19 was to be used as most religious people use it, it wouldn't pass God's Word in 11 Cor. 13:1, by the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established. There isn't another place in the Bible where it mentions Father, Son and Holy Ghost. May God bless you and stir your hearts to search His word.

Tip-Top Set To Market New Bread

Monk's Bread, a loaf created by the Trappist Monks of the Abbey of the Genesee, is to be sold in local food stores. The Trappist Monks have been famous for their homemade bread for many years. The loaf, baked by the Tip-Top Bakers, under the license of the Trappist Monks, is tall and slender in shape and has a firm texture.

In the Abbey the bread is the mainstay of the monks' simple diet, for they eat no meat, poultry, fish or eggs. It has to be rich enough in nutritive qualities to be practically a meal in itself. Unbleached flour is used in the white loaf, stone-ground flour is used in the whole wheat.

Known as "the bread that was never meant to be sold." Monk's Bread has gained its wide distribution through its flavor and quality. Originally it was baked only for the Monks. Visitors to the abbey were so impressed that they began to take home loaves to their friends and relatives. Then regular bakery facilities had to be set up in the abbey to meet the growing demand. Distribution was broadened, but when even this could not keep up with the demand, bakers in various sections of the country were selected to painstakingly reproduce this bread under license of the monks.

No-Parking Charge Appealed

Norman Clary, 1407 N. Fourth-st. and Mrs. Eizeta Fowlkes, 299 Taylor-av, both members of the Congress on Racial Equality, have appealed to Common Pleas Court on a conviction in the Valleyview mayor's court on a no-parking violation.

The two were charged with parking in a no-parking zone. However, they contended the motors of their cars were running and they merely stopped to discharge pickets at the Hilltop Swimming Pool.

Parking Bans Are Lifted On W. Mound Street

A petition for removal of "No Parking Any Time" signs on W. Mound-st from Brinker-av to Binns-blvd received favorable action from the Columbus Traffic and Transportation Commission at a special meeting Wednesday, Sept. 26, in City Hall Annex.

"We received what we really wanted the most," said Howard O. Kincade, 3178 W. Mound-st, who presented the petition signed by area residents.

The commission unanimously approved the recommendations of Traffic Engineer John L. Gallagher that the NPAT signs be removed on the north side of Mound-st from Westgate-av to Brinker-av and that the 24-hour parking ban on the north side of Mound-st be relaxed to permit over-night parking from 6 p.m. to 7 a.m.

The NPAT signs will be retained on both sides of Mound-st from Binns-blvd to Salisbury-rd because of the bus route and on the south side of Mound-st between Salisbury-rd and Brinker-av, because the latter area fronts on Ready High School property.

Not so fortunate were 50 petitioners who asked that parking be allowed on one side of S. Ryan-av, between Mound-st and Sullivant-av. The commission denied the request unless residents consent to making Ryan-av one-way north instead of being a two-way street as it now is.

Acceding to a request by Zieg Realty Co., parking at any time was banned on the north side of W. Rich-st, from Central-av to the first alley west.

Also banned was parking at any time on the west side of Gift-st, from W. Rich-st to Walnut-st, to facilitate access to the maintenance garage of the Columbus-Celina Coach Co.

adjacent to Big Bear. This facility is now under construction.

"Work is moving forward on the modern, three-story Doctors Hospital Lincoln Village," Wagner related. It occupies an 11-acre tract at the corner of Sturbridge-rd and W. Broad-st west of Lincoln Lodge. A medical office building will be built north of the hospital site.

"Huntington National Bank's Westview office is well under way on a two-acre site, fronting on Georgesville-rd, south of Nationwide Inn.

"On the north side of Broad-st, across from Nationwide Inn, the spacious new Lincoln Village Lanes bowling-sports center is in operation.

"In the commercial area on the south side of Broad, across from the Big Bear store, the Burger Boy Foodorama drive-in restaurant opened early this year.

"The attractive Gettysburg Court Apartments were completed in '62 and 200 additional apartments will soon be under construction.

"The area is "booming" and to adequately serve the needs of the many new families moving in, as well as to offer more convenient facilities for the present residents, Nationwide Development plans to build a commercial complex adjacent to Big Bear and Park Federal.

Certainly a location here at the intersection of W. Broad-st and the soon-to-be-constructed Columbus outerbelt will offer merchants an opportunity to serve an even wider market than that represented by the more than 20,000 persons residing within a 2½ mile radius of this site," Wagner concluded.

The boys ate hot dogs, marshmallows, potato chips and had soft drinks. After eating, they played a game of touch football.

The Buckeyes Club had planned a variety of activities for the season. The activities planned are a trip to the Columbus Zoo, a mixed Halloween party, bowling, swimming at the Jewish center, Christmas caroling, a mixed Christmas party, nature hikes and physical activities such as tumbling, physical fitness, touch football games and other group games.

The 12 by 12 diamond of 125 purple, yellow and white chrysanthemums was placed on the site in time for the Sesquicentennial Flower Show Oct. 7. It was designed by Lee McColm. Inspectors Will Repeat 'Silent Killer' Search

City officials are off to a head start in trying to head off carbon monoxide deaths this year.

Commencing Oct. 29, about 30 inspectors will check space heating equipment in a number of local homes. An intensive week-long campaign against the "silent killer" will be conducted by three teams from the Divisions of Housing Inspection and Building Regulations and the Fire Prevention Bureau.

Last year the campaign was held Jan 22-26.

There were nine monoxide deaths last year. In addition 73 persons were hospitalized. Safety Director Albert G. Giles said safety violations were found in 60 percent of the homes visited. A follow-up check revealed 100 percent compliance with the necessary corrections.

Since 1958 most of the monoxide deaths have occurred in the near South Side. Twenty-eight persons lost their lives in the area generally between Livingston-av and Broad-st. There were 12 deaths north of Broad-st.

Although many improperly installed and ventilated heaters were found in the West Side, no deaths have occurred since 1958.

Director Giles said exact location of the inspections will not be revealed in advance, in order to make the drive more effective. He implied, however, that inspectors will travel farther west this time, again into the South Side and to the University District.

Small Business Solicitation In UA Campaign Begins Oct. 15

The United Appeal Campaign organization will begin its small business solicitation in this area Monday, Oct. 15. The women's residential campaign starts a week later.

The county-wide campaign is a total community effort on behalf of the entire community. Residents of this and other areas not only support and participate in the drive, but also take part in year-round planning and programs of UA, and the 64 UA financed agencies.

The wide range of services provided touch many homes in different ways. Youth-serving agencies, like Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Boys' Clubs, Settlement Houses and Y's reach many thousands of families with every day character-building and fun activities.

Specialized help to families and individuals under too much stress comes from agencies such as Family and Children's Bureau, Children's Mental Health Center, Catholic Welfare Bureau, Jewish Family Service, Legal Aid, Traveler's Aid, Day Care Centers and others.

Services to maintain health, rehabilitate handicapped and to handle emergencies, such as Red Cross, Cancer Clinic, Goodwill, Poison Control Center, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Council on Alcoholism, and Public Health Nurses, receive substantial financial support from UA.

The 20-member volunteer Citizen Screening Committee establishes the UA goal, which this year is $3,785,510. This representative group from business and industry, labor and the professions, studies the budget and services of 71 member agencies and the needs of our people.

The Screening Committee noted that the $165,000 goal increase over last year, reflects the growing needs in the community.

Clarence A. Pearce, 1962 Campaign Chairman, is confident that "the people of Franklin County recognize the importance of UA services, and will respond to the call to Help UA Help."

Supreme Knight Of K Of C To Give Radio Address

Hart, who has been a member of the Supreme Board of Directors of the organization since 1918 and has held the office of Supreme Knight since 1953, initiated many of the society's major projects.

Luke E. Hart

He was the prime mover, too, in the project which has resulted in the microfilming of 11 million pages of Vatican Library manuscripts. The film library is now located at St. Louis University and is available to all scholars.

It was also under his leadership that the Knights of Columbus erected the Campanile, known as the Knights' Tower, at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C.

The theme of Hart's Columbus Day address is "Christopher Columbus and Our American Ideals." It will be heard over radio stations in all the countries where the knights have councils, the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico and the Philippines.

Huntington, Peoples Banks Plan Merger; Additional Services Seen

The Board of Directors of The Peoples Bank, Canal Winchester, have agreed to merge The Peoples Bank into The Huntington National Bank of Columbus, subject to the approval of the shareholders of each bank, and the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D. C.

The Peoples Bank, founded in 1904, and its branch office in Groveport, opened in 1954, serve Canal Winchester, Groveport, and surrounding area. It has resources in excess of $8,000,000.00.

The Huntington, founded in 1866, operates branch offices at Main and Fourth-sts, 3003 East Main-st and 3424 Cleveland-av, in Columbus; 22 East Park-st, Grove City; 1531 West Lane-av, Upper Arlington and another branch will be opened early in 1963 at 121 Georgesville-rd. Total resources of The Huntington exceed $236,000,000.00.

The Main Office of The Peoples Bank and its branch office in Groveport, will continue to be operated under the same management and with the same personnel, as branch offices of The Huntington. Dwight W. North, presently a director of The Peoples Bank, will be named as a director of The Huntington.

If the merger is approved, capital funds of the resulting bank will exceed $22,500,000.00 and total resources will exceed $244,000,000.00.

Banking hours and services will continue uninterrupted. It is the belief of the directors and officers of The Peoples Bank that the area they now serve will benefit as a result of the proposed merger.

It will bring to the area additional bank services — including trust powers, use of greater automation through electronic equipment, and additional resources to serve the area needs.

Directors of the resulting bank will be:

John E. Stevenson, Clair E. Fultz, William Prescott Baker, Everett D. Bivens, Hugh M. Bone, Joseph M. Briggs, W. Rex Davis, O. A. Donnenwirth, Gerald B. Fenton, Walter H. Holmwood, Francis R. Huntington.

P. Webster Huntington, Charles J. Kurtz, Jr., Charles Y. Lazarus, Harry M. Miller, Dwight W. North, Anton C. Patzer, Robert M. Rex, Richard M. Ross and Francis J. Wright.

One must make the choice between loving women and knowing them; there is no middle course.—Chamfort

Life is a disease of which sleep relieves us; it is but a palliative: death is the remedy.—Chamfort.

Removing the THORN

Almost everyone that has ever removed a shoe and run barefoot through the fields, knows of the wonderful feeling of freedom that this gives. Most, also have known what it is to remove a sticker or a thorn. The first attempts to pull it out are usually handled so gingerly and slowly, and then, screwing up your courage you yank it out, and find that this was the easiest way after all.

There are many thorns in life, and these evils should be removed swiftly, and put out of our lives. Attend Church, receive help and encouragement in removing the thorns from your life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

It Happens On TV 4

'Perfect Setup' Opens Tonight At Hartman; 'Mary, Mary' Next

Martin Melcher's stage production of "The Perfect Setup" opens tonight (Thursday, Oct. 11) at the Hartman Theatre for a three-day stand, followed by "Mary, Mary," which begins a one-week run on Monday, Oct. 15.

Starring in "The Perfect Setup" are Gene Barry, Angie Dickinson and Jan Sterling. The play is author Jack Sher's first for the stage, although he is well known as a novelist and top-rated motion picture writer.

Gene Barry, for many years a TV favorite as Bat Masterson, just completed playing the leading role in the musical "Brigadoon," in San Diego, Calif.

Angie Dickinson has scored in a number of motion pictures — the latest being "Jessica" with Maurice Chevalier. Jan Sterling is a star in stage, screen and TV and some of her movies include "The High and Mighty," "Johnny Belinda," "Rhubarb" and "Pony Express."

There will be a matinee Saturday, Oct. 13. After playing here, the company goes to Cleveland for a week and then to Broadway where it will open at the Cort Theatre on Oct. 24.

'MARY, MARY'

"A comedy about the unending battle of the sexes, spiced with jokes, needling remarks, assorted retorts and bright, impertinent lines" just about sums up what local audiences can expect when "Mary, Mary" opens Monday.

This is Jean Kerr's hilarious comedy which has been hailed as Broadway's brightest, wittiest play. It will star Lee Bowman (TV's Ellery Queen and star of the TV series "Miami Undercover"), Patricia Smith, John Lasell with Clinton Sundberg and Ellen Weston in featured roles.

Jean Kerr, you may remember, is the author of the best seller "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." In "Mary, Mary," this talented writer sharply and amusingly points up the small frailties of people.

During the weeks run, there will be matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. This will be the first play of the Theatre Guild subscription series. Members will receive their tickets for the first three evening shows and the Wednesday matinee.

Patrons are urged to get mail orders in early to Room 409, Hartman Theater Bldg. All orders should be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cap Opens Season On October 19

Oscar Wilde's top satirical comedy, "The Importance of Being Ernest," will be presented in Mees Hall on the Capital University campus Friday, Oct. 19, by the Cleveland Play House touring company.

The production is part of four offerings dated this season, including Mexican soprano Teresa Orantes on Nov. 13, ballad singer Earle Spicer on Feb. 12 and pianist Jean Casadesus on Mar. 26.

The French National Orchestra, on tour in America for the second time, will be under the leadership of Charles Munch, who last August retired after 13 years as conductor of the Boston Symphony.

The four sections of the work are entitled: "Boy With a Flute," "Actors," "Bamboos and Moon," and "Gods and Thunder." Choreography has been planned for the music after its premiere in Columbus.

The program will include the Overture to the "Flying Dutchman" by Wagner, "The Moldau" by Smetana, and the Beethoven "Eroica" Symphony. Tickets for the programs, or for the series, can be obtained at the Columbus Symphony Office, 55 E. State-st.

Pirates Top North, Irish Shutout West

By KENNY ASH and BOB LYNCH

A fourth period touchdown pass from Tom Fullove to Willie Eleby, broke a 14-14 tie and gave the Central Pirates a 22-14 victory over the North Polar Bears Friday.

The Pirates kicked off to the Polar Bears and within a few series of plays North struggled down to the Pirates' 11 yard line. A stout defense held the Polar Bears and the Pirates took over. The offense took the ball and marched steadily down the field 77 yards where Cliff Moxley, Central halfback, shot over the line for two yards and the first score of the game.

In the second quarter, North snapped back into the game. Doug Shepard, North halfback, intercepted a pass on the North 11. On the first play Shepard rolled out around right end and raced 89 yards along the sidelines for the touchdown.

CENTRAL TOOK the ensuing kickoff and marched the ball down the field into North territory. Fullove charged between center and right guard and ran 34 yards for the score.

North then took possession of the ball, and John Todhunter, Polar Bear halfback, bolted 59 yards for a North touchdown. Central's defense stopped the extra point attempt by the Polar Bears and the first half ended in a 14-14 deadlock.

Midway through the fourth quarter Julius Stone, Central guard, took advantage of a faulty handoff and recovered a North fumble. Fullove threw a pass to George Broadnax for a 15 yard gain and a penalty against North advanced the ball to the 14 yard line. Fullback Paul Frasure drove to the 10 yard line and then Fullove fired the pass to Eleby in the end zone for the winning points.

THE WEST Cowboys proved to be a rather easy opponent for City League crown contender Aquinas Friday night, as the Cowboys went down to their second City League defeat, 20-0, at Magly Field.

The visiting Terriers scored twice in the second quarter and once in the third while fashioning the shutout. The scoring opened as Terrier fullback, Jim Fortkamp carried over from the one-yard line, capping a 34-yard drive with 8:36 left in the half.

Then with 23 seconds left, quarterback Paul Reiner tossed a 15-yard scoring pass to end Gary Mangini just inside the end zone, and the half came to a close with Aquinas ahead, 14-0.

IN THE third period, the Terriers took over possession of the ball on their own 27. Hampered by two penalties, they nevertheless managed to hammer the remaining 73 yards to the Cowboys' goal in 15 plays, with quarterback Reiner scoring from the one.

The score was not the only thing which indicated an Aquinas domination of the game as the Cowboys were held to two first downs, while the Terriers ground out 14. West's total offensive yardage was minus eight yards while the Terriers totaled 248 yards.

BISHOP READY upped its seasonal mark to 5-2 Monday by blanking Dublin's Reserves, 44-0. Quarterback Tom Weisenbach paced the Silver Knight attack, scoring one TD and passing for another.

Jay Kubin and Pat Casey also scored the winners on short runs along with Ready's Jack Compton, John O'Neill and Dave Grunden.

Friday night's play finds West (1-4) at North (3-2) and Linden (3-1-1) at Central (2-1-1). Bishop Ready (5-2) plays Hartley's Reserves tomorrow at Hartley.

Kick, Punt, Pass Contest Open To Area Youngsters

Hilltop and West Side area grade school boys from seven through 11 can pit their football skills against thousands of other boys throughout the nation in the second annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition.

The competition will culminate with a White House reception and an appearance at the National Football League Championship game for the ten top winners.

SPONSORED nationally by the Ford Division of the Ford Motor Company and the National Football League, the Punt, Pass and Kick program will be staged on the Hilltop and West Side by Beasley Ford Co., 759 W. Broad-st where entrants may register until Oct. 31.

Competing youths will be tested for their ability to pass, punt and kick (using a kicking tee) footballs on the same day as thousands of other boys all over the country. Warm-up jackets, football helmets and autographed footballs will be given as first, second and third prizes for each age group, or five top local winners in all.

Scores throughout the state will then be compared to determine the most skillful seven, eight, nine, ten and eleven year old fledgling football stars in each of the areas covered by the telecasts of the 14 National Football League teams.

AREA WINNERS and their fathers will receive all-expense paid trips to a National League game in their area, and will compete during halftime to determine the top five Eastern Division winners and the five top Western Division winners.

These ten boys will visit Washington and the White House, accompanied by their parents, and then will go to the site of the NFL championship game, for halftime competition to determine the five National winners.

Pete Block, publicity director of Beasley Ford, pointed out that there is no body contact necessary in the competition, no charge for entering and no special equipment needed. "Registration is open throughout October," he said, "with Beasley Ford as the registration headquarters."

ENTRANTS WILL be judged on the distance and accuracy of their punting, passing and kicking with points awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly and subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line.

Competition will be held on Saturday, Nov. 3 and Saturday, Nov. 10. Contest entrants will be advised by mail as to the exact time and place.

Any ties in the local competition will be played off Nov. 17 and ties for top spot in the state area standings will be played off at special [illegible].

State winners will receive trophies, and area winners will receive complete junior-type football uniforms of the NFL team in the [illegible] region, and the uniforms [illegible] on when the winners compete during NFL halftime ceremonies to determine the divisional champions.

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

The Hilltop YMCA Indian Guide Longhouse held its annual Fall Campout at Southside "Y" Park Oct. 6 and 7. Highlight was an induction and rededication of all new and old Big and Little Braves. The Flintstone Tribe, under the direction of Frank Bowles, handled this responsibility and were assisted by Big Chief Al Stephens and Sub-Chief Mel Senerius of the local Longhouse.

The following Indian Guide Dance Team members were recognized for completing their first year as a member of this group: Tom and Bob Truelove; Bob and Dave Drizigacker; Bob and Tom Ehlers; Tom Mitchell; Bill Hedrick; Dan Pendell Rod Crawford; Tim Brigner; and Bob Gregory. All Little Braves interested in participating in this year's Dance Team are interested to attend the practice sessions which are held each Saturday morning at 9 with the exception of the first Saturday of the month. Russ Crawford will once more be serving as Tom-Tom Beater for the dance team. In addition to this, all members of the dance team received feathers for their accomplishments during the past year.

Next teen-age dance at the Hilltop "Y" will be held Friday, Oct. 12, at 7:30. A new policy will be attempted in that all boys and girls of junior and senior high school age will be invited to attend providing that they hold either a membership in the Hilltop YMCA of YWCA. A fee of 25 cents is charged YMCA members while those girls holding YWCA memberships pay 50 cents. The dance will end at 10:30 and will be supervised by members of both staffs.

The Youth Center is open each day from 3:30 to 4:45 for all boys and girls of elementary age who have Hilltop "Y" memberships. Evenings are set aside for boys and girls of junior and senior high school age. A new policy has been established whereby, in order to check out any equipment and participate in Youth Center activities, membership cards must be shown. Members of the Hilltop YMCA Junior Leaders' Club will serve as supervisors each evening of the week.

The next Saturday morning scheduled activity will be a feature length movie to be shown at 10.

The Hilltop YMCA Coin clubs will hold their second sessions Tuesday, Oct. 16. The Youth Club will meet at 7 with the Adult meeting following at 8. Officers for this year's Youth Coin Club are: Geoff Case, president; Bill Shaw, vice-president; and Sherry Jones, secretary. Both these groups are open to anyone interested in coin collecting.

The Hilltop "Y" Stamp Club will hold its first meeting of the fall season on Oct. 16 at 7:30. Gene McGurer will again serve as advisor to this group.

"God is the one who pulled me through," the earnest sergeant said.

"I give Him all the credit. Him and our State Department."

Ballenger told of spending five months locked in an old outhouse four by seven feet. He was allowed out only twice a day for meals which consisted mostly of rice and salt.

He also said he was put in wooden stocks as much as 12 to 14 hours a day.

CORE Picket Wins Case

Morris Hinton, 18, of 2739 Sutton-pl, was sentenced to 30 days in the Workhouse and fined $100 by Judge Fred Shoemaker of the Municipal Court on an assault and battery charge.

The judge suspended 25 days and $75. Benjamin Sheerer, 1803 King-av, charged that Hinton kicked and knocked him down while Sheerer and other Congress of Racial Equality Pickets were demonstrating at Hilltop Swimming Pool, 2737 Valleyview-dr, July 22.

Hinton had pleaded innocent.

Volunteers are needed by Franklin County Red Cross.

According to Mrs. Jack Neel Taylor, volunteer chairman, there is room available in all services for anyone who is interested and could spare a few hours a week.

Volunteers outnumber paid staff 50-1, and make possible many vital services such as blood program, disaster preparedness, assistance to members of the armed forces, veterans and their dependents, and the service to patients in our hospitals.

HALLOWEEN is just around the corner for T. C. Ogden and family, 319 S. Algonquin-av. Peeking forward to the night of ghosts and goblins are (from top): Michele, 12; Mark, eight; Billy, six; Jimmy, three, and Ted, Terry, who not only seems to be carrying four of the seven children on his back but also will be carrying the load as general chairman of the annual Hilltop Halloween party, Oct. 31, at West High.

Hilltop's Busy Library Is Backdoor Operation ....For A While

The wag who refers to a library as a "bookie joint" got additional substantiation for the wisecrack Wednesday when the Hilltop Branch Librarian, Mary Elizabeth Keyes, earnestly requested all "Use the back door, please!"

She hastened to explain that the front door will be out of service until the floors and other renovations are completed in the older portion of the branch building at 2955 W. Broad-st.

The branch will probably be operating "through the front door" again by Nov. 15, target date for completion of all interior work. The exterior of the addition directly to the rear of the older building has been completed now for several weeks.

Contracts for construction of the addition, new year-round air conditioning, and other improvements to the building totalled some $60,000, library officials said.

A separate contract will be awarded soon for surfacing of the new parking area just west of the branch, but blacktopping will not be attempted before next spring. It is hoped, however, that the gravel foundation will be in shape to accommodate the autos of patrons by the end of November.

The new lot will permit parking of nine autos of patrons in addition to the current six parking spaces behind the library.

Trees and greenery at the corner of W. Broad-st and Binns-blvd will not be disturbed, a library spokesman said.

SECOND FAMILY NIGHT PLANNED AT GLADDEN

The second Family Night in October will be held Friday, Oct. 19, at 7:30 p.m. at Gladden Community House. Neighborhood response to the first Family Night brought about the repeat of the event.

The entire building of Gladden Community House will open for cards, TV, table games, ping pong and dancing. The auditorium can be used for basketball and volleyball. A feature length film, "Davy Crocket," will be shown for children and parents, said Barbara Coe, program supervisor.

Refreshments will be sold from the kitchen. Baby sitting for toddlers will be provided. Children must come with an adult.

Hoge Memorial Church Honors Two Girl Scouts

The first two Girl Scouts to receive God and Community awards at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church are Corinne Morris and Lynne Shurtz. The award takes a year of study and work in the church.

Both girls are 14 years old, ninth grade students at Westmoor Junior High, and Senior Scouts.

Corinne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Morris, 171 S. Roys-av. She has been in Scouting for five years and has been active in Hoge Memorial fellowship and choir. She is in Troop 669. Leader of the troop is Mrs. Sines.

Lynne is the daughter of Mrs. I. L. Shurtz, 2948 Crescent-dr. She is in Troop 517 whose senior advisor is Mrs.

Halloween Fun Plans Shaping Up

"Ask a busy man, if you want the job done."

That, apparently, was the theory of Hilltop Community Council President J. Robert Frakes, when he announced selection of T. C. Ogden as general chairman for the Hilltop's annual Halloween party. Ogden is the father of seven children and an industrial engineer at the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

If history repeats, hundreds of youngsters will attend the big party to be held from 6:30 until 10 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 31, in West High School. A costume parade and pumpkin carving contest will be held at 7, and a teen hop from 8:30 to 10.

Key committee chairmen under Ogden are: Bert Korte, who will supervise all gym ac-

She'll Direct Godman Services

A typographical omission in last week's edition (page 1) erroneously read that Miss Barbara Coe of Gladden Community House will become director of Godman Guild on Nov. 1. The story should have stated that Miss Coe will be director of services at Godman, serving under Executive Director Tony Salvatore. We regret the error.

Council Told State Can't Curb Number Of Bars In West Side

Closer Cooperation With Police, Or Local Option Recommended

By MARCUS ORR

Issuance of liquor permits in the West Side cannot be halted completely.

That was the word from Fred Rose — the man who writes them — as he spoke to the West Side Neighborhood Council last Thursday. Rose was subbing for his boss, George R. Dick, director of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, who was called from the city several hours before he was to appear before the council.

A number of West Siders, four of them ministers, got on their feet to protest the opening or transfer of any and all new bars or carryouts in the area. They declared that the West Side is "seriously saturated" with the drinking spots (there are 37) and that this is causing a "hotbed of delinquency" here.

Rose, although lending a sympathetic ear, replied that his department is not an enforcement agency. He denied that figures from any given area can prove "saturation." "We are not permitted to issue more than two licenses per 2,000 population in cities over 65,000," he said, "but the whole municipality must be considered, not just one of its neighborhoods."

Rose acknowledged, however, that his office does have some say over placement of new permits if residents are able to show conclusively that the new business would seriously affect the "decency, sobriety and good order" of the neighborhood.

"On this count, we rely heavily on police advice," the division chief stated, "and in the last three West Side instances there have been no objections from the police."

"Liquor license fees are returned to the city — they don't go to the state," Rose continued. "And about 10 per cent of that usually goes to the police budget."

"Enforcement of decent conduct at drinking spots is a local problem," the director said emphatically. "Some towns like to have their bars all together. Chillicothe police, for example, said it's easier to keep an eye on them that way. Of course, I'm sure Chief Scholer wouldn't agree to that — he repeatedly objects when new spots spring up."

That comment stirred a murmur in the group of 35 who, despite a downtown sesqui parade, turned out to the meeting. They quickly asked for and got assurances from Rose that council will be notified immediately after all West Side applications are made. They also decided to invite Police Chief George Scholer to a future meeting to discuss a better exchange of information with his department.

Director Rose said his office will consider all appeals pertaining to the placement of permits. West Side Mothers Are Nominated In Suburban Homemakers Contest

QUITE SURPRISED is the third nomination, Mrs. Eleanor Roby, 8184 Hayden Run-rd. A mother of four children, Mrs. Roby loves the rural atmosphere. She and her husband, Frank, are proud of their three daughters who study piano.

By JERRY WOLFROM

Leading sociologists who are alarmed because "American family life is disintegrating," obviously haven't paid a social visit to the Oliver Tallman or Frank Roby households.

Both Mrs. June Tallman, 8306 Stephen-dr S., and Mrs. Eleanor Roby, 8184 Hayden Run-rd, have been nominated in Hartley Newspapers' search for Suburban Homemaker of the Year.

It does not stretch one's imagination to understand why each was nominated for the contest, which offers a final prize of $5,000 to the winner.

Mrs. Tallman has been married for 14 years, and is the mother of three daughters, eight, nine and 11. The girls attend Binns Elementary School where Mrs. Tallman serves as a PTA board member and works on the study group committee.

She is the leader of a Girl Scout troop. "I haven't had much experience roughing it outdoors," she said, "But I'm learning to really like it." She recently took her troop to a three-day campout where they slept out in 42 degree temperatures.

A great deal of pleasure is taken by Mrs. Tallman in planning recreational projects for the entire family. They enjoy candle making, and the three daughters are placed in charge of adding the final decorative touches.

Female members of the family also combine their culinary talents in several gigantic cookie baking projects each year. Both the candles and cookies are given away as gifts.

A Sunday School teacher for the past seven years, Mrs. Tallman is often called upon to double as home veterinarian. Several weeks ago she nursed one of the family's four parakeets back to health. "Our youngest daughter was so upset when the bird got sick, I had to do something," she smiled.

Mrs. Eleanor Roby believes a rural atmosphere is best for raising a family. Her husband of 14 years, Frank, is an auctioneer, farmer and seed corn representative.

The Robys have three daughters, 10, 9 and 7, and a baby boy of six months. Mrs. Roby is a Sunday School teacher at the Big Darby Baptist Church were she also belongs to the Missionary Society. In addition, she serves as chairman of the Girls' Guild and Children's Work programs.

The Roby girls attend Canaan Elementary School, and their mother is a member of the Mothers' Club there.

Hilltop's Busy Library Is Backdoor Operation ....For A While

The wag who refers to a library as a "bookie joint" got additional substantiation for the wisecrack Wednesday when the Hilltop Branch Librarian, Mary Elizabeth Keyes, earnestly requested all "Use the back door, please!"

She hastened to explain that the front door will be out of service until the floors and other renovations are completed in the older portion of the branch building at 2955 W. Broad-st.

The branch will probably be operating "through the front door" again by Nov. 15, target date for completion of all interior work. The exterior of the addition directly to the rear of the older building has been completed now for several weeks.

Contracts for construction of the addition, new year-round air conditioning, and other improvements to the building totalled some $60,000, library officials said.

A separate contract will be awarded soon for surfacing of the new parking area just west of the branch, but blacktopping will not be attempted before next spring. It is hoped, however, that the gravel foundation will be in shape to accommodate the autos of patrons by the end of November.

The new lot will permit parking of nine autos of patrons in addition to the current six parking spaces behind the library.

Trees and greenery at the corner of W. Broad-st and Binns-blvd will not be disturbed, a library spokesman said.

SECOND FAMILY NIGHT PLANNED AT GLADDEN

The second Family Night in October will be held Friday, Oct. 19, at 7:30 p.m. at Gladden Community House. Neighborhood response to the first Family Night brought about the repeat of the event.

The entire building of Gladden Community House will open for cards, TV, table games, ping pong and dancing. The auditorium can be used for basketball and volleyball. A feature length film, "Davy Crocket," will be shown for children and parents, said Barbara Coe, program supervisor.

Refreshments will be sold from the kitchen. Baby sitting for toddlers will be provided. Children must come with an adult.

Council Told State Can't Curb Number Of Bars In West Side

Closer Cooperation With Police, Or Local Option Recommended

By MARCUS ORR

Issuance of liquor permits in the West Side cannot be halted completely.

That was the word from Fred Rose — the man who writes them — as he spoke to the West Side Neighborhood Council last Thursday. Rose was subbing for his boss, George R. Dick, director of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, who was called from the city several hours before he was to appear before the council.

A number of West Siders, four of them ministers, got on their feet to protest the opening or transfer of any and all new bars or carryouts in the area. They declared that the West Side is "seriously saturated" with the drinking spots (there are 37) and that this is causing a "hotbed of delinquency" here.

Rose, although lending a sympathetic ear, replied that his department is not an enforcement agency. He denied that figures from any given area can prove "saturation." "We are not permitted to issue more than two licenses per 2,000 population in cities over 65,000," he said, "but the whole municipality must be considered, not just one of its neighborhoods."

Rose acknowledged, however, that his office does have some say over placement of new permits if residents are able to show conclusively that the new business would seriously affect the "decency, sobriety and good order" of the neighborhood.

"In this count, we rely heavily on police advice," the division chief stated, "and in the last three West Side instances there have been no objections from the police."

"Liquor license fees are returned to the city — they don't go to the state," Rose continued. "And about 10 per cent of that usually goes to the police budget."

"Enforcement of decent conduct at drinking spots is a local problem," the director said emphatically. "Some towns like to have their bars all together. Chillicothe police, for example, said it's easier to keep an eye on them that way. Of course, I'm sure Chief Scholer wouldn't agree to that — he repeatedly objects when new spots spring up."

That comment stirred a murmur in the group of 35 who, despite a downtown sesqui parade, turned out to the meeting. They quickly asked for and got assurances from Rose that council will be notified immediately after all West Side applications are made. They also decided to invite Police Chief George Scholer to a future meeting to discuss a better exchange of information with his department.

Director Rhodes said his office will consider all appeals pertaining to the placement of permits. "But, he added, "any rejection of license from my hands is subject to appeal by the applicant and moves on to the State Liquor Board . . . and it takes a brave man to vote and wipe out someone's $100,000 business." He said his decisions often are overruled by the board, who are residents from various cities in Ohio.

Mrs. Mary Ann Brackey, home economist with Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, graduate of Bob Jones University in South Carolina, attended Morehead State College, secretary of Electric Women's Round Table, member of Home Economists in Business.

little bit" and particularly enjoys playing religious hymns. Her three daughters presently are taking piano lessons.

Although sewing is one of her favorite hobbies, Mrs. Roby admits she can't find time to do as much as she would like to do. She also enjoys collecting and trying new recipies.

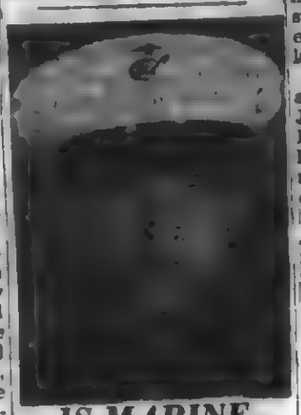
Recreation is a family activity in the Roby home. "We seldom have a chance to take a real vacation, so we spend as many weekends as we can touring Ohio," Mrs. Roby said. Picnic lunches are also a favorite pastime at the Robys.

Why were June Tallman and Eleanor Roby nominated in the Hartley Newspapers' search for a national Suburban Homemaker of the Year? Are these women really unusual?

The answer is no, neither are unusual homemakers. Their names were submitted because someone cared enough about them, and appreciated them enough to seek for them the recognition they honestly deserve.

Do you know of a homemaker who you would like to see enter the Hartley search? Why not send us a letter telling about them? In less than 500 words, let us know how she has revealed her spiritual and moral strength, how she maintains the spiritual and moral strength in her family, and how she cultivates the mental, physical and emotional fitness of her family. We are interested in her civic and community activities and how she creates an atmosphere of love and respect for her loved ones.

Your letter and the style of presentation of your nomination will not be judged.



Several Columbus area women may enter the national finals in Chicago next month. The national winner will be selected through a series of interviews. Homemaker candidates will not be called upon to demonstrate any physical household abilities.

Deadline for nominations is Oct. 20. Write your letter of nomination today. Additional information can be received by contacting the Suburban Homemaking Editor, Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st, Columbus, O. Telephone BR. 4-1155.

Study The Issues Now!

Be an educated voter.

Whether you are Democrat, Republican or Independent, you should know what you are voting for or against, and know it first-hand.

Many meetings and speeches are being held in the area to acquaint the voters with the issues at stake Nov. 6.

These meetings are for your benefit, to give you the chance to know what is wanted and to decide whether or not you think it is necessary.

Party platforms and second hand information mean nothing if you don't understand the issue in question and investigate it for yourself.

We urge you to attend some of these meetings and ask questions of the people in charge — then make up your mind. The Voters Information bulletin of the League of Women Voters also is a valuable reference. Read it.

Then when you vote Nov. 6, it will be with a clearer understanding and you will have the satisfaction of feeling that your vote was valuable.

Best Homemaker Search 'Accentuates' The Positives

Our community's current search for the "Suburban Homemaker of the Year" gives us all an opportunity to stop for a moment and think about our sense of values, about whether we have been setting too much store by material objects, objects which may have a built-in obsolescence.

We would like to repeat one vital point regarding the search for the 1962 Suburban Homemaker. It is not a contest nor is it seeking out beauty, wealth, social position. It is, on the contrary, planned as a recognition of and tribute to our community homemakers. We want to credit our homemakers for what they are and what they do. Material possessions are not the key to our quest. We are seeking stature not status.

"Suburbia" — whatever the term may mean — has come in for some pretty hard knocks in recent years. It has been portrayed as a tinseled fascade behind which neurotics frantically strive to keep up with one another in acquiring "status symbols." It has been painted as a frantic rat race of club meeting, private lessons for the children, swimming pools and car pools, as the epitome of conformity and community "togetherness."

The picture is overdrawn, but it has, of course, certain elements of truth in it. It is the hope of this newspaper and of the other Suburban Press Foundation newspapers throughout the country that through this search for the "Homemaker of the Year" our values can be re-assessed, our goals re-defined, and a truer picture of "Suburbia" shown. And Oct. 14-20, National Newspaper Week, is as suitable a time as any to reaffirm our faith in a fine future for Suburbia.

The stories of our community's homemakers, as they are coming into our office through nominations made by families and friends, are refuting the negative picture which has been painted. We are proud of the stature of our homemakers, as it is emerging through these stories and "between the lines" of these stories. We are proud to have this opportunity to bring these stories to our readers and to play a part in "accentuating the positives" of our community's way of life.

THE HILLS OF HOME

In 31 of our states, in Canada, and in Europe, this writer has seen a great variety of climate and terrain. But always his heart was back in Ohio.

The fertile plains and picturesque hills and valleys of southern Canada stretch from sea to sea between the Great Lakes and the frozen lakes and forests of the northland.

In Europe, the high Alps look down upon the broad Hungarian Plain, the lazy rivers of France, and the hill-bound Valley of the Rhine, similar to our Hudson and Ohio River Valleys.

In our own land, the great, granite, snow-capped Rockies divide the treelands and fields and deserts of the Pacific Slope from the Great Plains, the wheatlands that drop gently to the Mississippi. In the East, the Appalachian skyline supports a 2,000-mile foot trail from Main to Georgia. The foothills extend to Central Ohio, below the rich plains of our northern counties.

From home you can spend a day in October in the lovely and ancient Hocking Hills and find, in their colors, a peaceful therapy and rest for mind, body, and spirit. Or, in a leisurely afternoon, drive up Sunbury-rd along Big Walnut into Delaware County, cross over, and come down the Scioto or the Olentangy. You will be refreshed and reconciled, if need be, to armchair traveling to ends of the earth. Our own yard is not so bad, and it is home.

It says here . . . . . .
Travel is for the mind; home, for the heart.

Say U.N. Dangerous

To The Editor:

"United Nations Day" — reflections:

As Oct. 24 approaches let us remember our American heritage. Let us remember the constant encroachment upon our way of life which our membership in this organization has brought about.

Let us remember that a press under government pressure (demanded by the United Nations Organization's zealots) will be less than a "free press."

It is a matter of historic record, and demonstrable, that our enemy seeks to place his authority over this America without resorting to war. To this end (the end of freedom in America) our enemy has placed a communist in the key position in the Security Council.

Let us remember the names of our honored dead, who fought for victory over tyranny — who died because they believed in the integrity, the freedom and purpose of America. Under God, and the protection of the Constitution we are free to choose our way of life. Under the godless United Nations we cannot claim freedom, nor should we anticipate fair treatment as a nation — at the mercy of a gangster nation dedicated to aggression, and violence, as required.

America stands imperiled, and cries to reason and religion for succor.

The interference in our affairs by the United Nations Organization is hardly conducive to our national welfare. The twisted language and the empty covenants manufactured in the minds of Marxian robots should be rejected now . . . while a choice remains to be made.

We must work for the resurgence of Americanism, we must strive to regain our national sovereignty . . . we must pray for God's blessing upon us as a nation.

J. R. Hutchison
4547 Norton-ln

October 24 is U.N. Day and we are encouraged to fly the Stars and Stripes and the blue U.N. flag together.

We are told the U.N. has kept peace in the world. Russian peace it is, and quite different from American freedom. It is not to be relished whatsoever.

Through this U.N. which is said to be an instrument of peace rather than war, there have been thousands of people killed and much blood shed. Many peaceful people have been murdered and tortured, women have been ravished and hospitals bombed under this U.N. flag by U.N. troops of Communist countries. Why? In order to impose Communist rule over these people!

A few of the countries enslaved are Cuba, Laos, Katanga, Portugal, Hungary, Poland. Treatments to Katanga was shameful and more is to come. Consequently we are surrounded by communist countries, which we helped to enslave by contributing money and planes because we are a member nation.

Are there any freedom-loving Americans, who in the face of all this, think we should honor the U.N. flag? Are there any who think we should use our children and babies (Cub Scouts) to promote the flying of the U.N. flag over America? America, a one-time sovereign power! Ladies and gentlemen, think!

Duck Shooting Difficult, Sporty Here

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Warm weather and abundant food continue to hold waterfowl in the North. This was the word from the Canadian prairies, as duck hunters in this area prepared for the opening of the season Oct. 17. Most of the teal have moved south and pintails have been drifting southward. Mallards are concentrated on larger areas and geese are in good numbers at the usual concentration points.

This report is from Ducks Unlimited, located in Winnipeg, Manitoba. While some ducks will continue to remain in Canada as long as the Indian Summer weather lasts, the first severe cold front will send all but the mallards and scaup south. This could happen at any time.

This section of the state does not offer much opportunity for wildfowling in the traditional sense, that is if you consider large numbers of decoys, punt boats, blinds camouflaged with marsh grasses, and retrievers as being traditional to duck hunting. With few exceptions, duck hunting here is confined to jump shooting on streams or ponds, and pass shooting in grain fields.

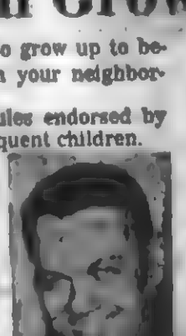
It would not be fair to advise a lot of hunters that duck shooting this fall is going to be good. With the duck population at a low ebb, flights through Ohio have diminished. Personally, I have not hunted ducks for a couple of years, although I continue to buy duck stamps to help build the system of federal waterfowl refuges.

The person who wants to work at it, however, can have some excellent sport. He will have to spend much time along stream banks and in corn fields. But he will find some ducks, and the shooting will be difficult and sporty.

You can jump-shoot ducks from a stream either from the bank or by floating downstream in a canoe. Floating is the relaxed way to jump-shoot, because walking the shores is often not easy. You will flush ducks usually in small nubers — from singles up to five or six. Many will go out too far ahead of you to shoot, but the experienced hunter can take a few each season by this method. Jump shooting is probably the most popular way to hunt ducks here.

In hunting grain fields you may either locate feeding waterfowl, and then attempt to stalk them until you are in gun range. This is plenty difficult. An easier way is to hide in some cover upwind from the flock, and wait patiently until they decide to leave. Not being alarmed, they will usually pass within range. Still another approach is to conceal yourself in a feeding area, and wait for the ducks and geese to come to you. Some decoys are helpful in drawing them in.

There is a reduced duck season of 25 consecutive days this year, with two ducks per day and a bonus scaup (bluebills) limit. The season opens at noon Wednesday, Oct. 17. Daily bag limit is two ducks which may contain two wood ducks or one black duck or mallard or one hooded merganser. Canvasbacks and redheads are completely protected this year. A bonus limit of two scaups daily or four in possession may be taken in addition to the regular limits, because this species has been underharvested.



A $3 federal duck stamp is needed in addition to an Ohio hunting license to hunt waterfowl.

You, Too, Can Grow A Delinquent

Would you like for your child to grow up to become the number one delinquent in your neighborhood?

If so, here are some helpful rules endorsed by local police officers for raising delinquent children.

McPeek

(1) Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.

(2) When he picks up bad words laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will also encourage him to pick up cuter phrases that will blow off the top of your head later.

(3) Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 and let him "decide for himself."

(4) Avoid the use of the word "wrong"; it may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe later when he is arrested for stealing a car, that society is against him and he is being persecuted.

(5) Pick up everything he leaves lying around—books, shoes, and clothes. Do everything for him so he will be experienced in throwing responsibility on others.

(6) Quarrel frequently in the presence of your child. In this way he will not be too shocked when the home is broken up.

(7) Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things as rough as you had them?

(8) Take his part against neighbors, teachers, policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child.

(9) When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying, "I never could do anything with him!"

Now if your child should grow up without making much of a mark as a juvenile delinquent, don't feel badly. Perhaps it's not your fault. It could be that you're kind of old-fashioned and raised your child to have pride, honesty and respect for himself and others.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

List Of Autumn Foods Continues To Grow

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, cider, Tokay grapes, frozen orange juice.

Vegetables — Cauliflower, salad greens, celery, cabbage, potatoes.

Protein Foods — Pork loins, Boston butts, beef roasts, steak 'specials" ground beef, cheese, medium grade A eggs.

Apples now make eye-catching displays at all of the roadside markets and food stores. Special prices are offered on many varieties for the week-end, winding up National Apple Week, Oct. 11-20. Choose McIntosh, Cortland, Jonathans and Grimes Golden for general purpose apples, Red and Golden Delicious are considered best for using raw although many good cooks are discovering that the Golden Delicious make excellent pie and sauce.

Mrs. Franks

Tokay grapes are especially good buys and the Red Emperors are beginning to arrive. You'll find western pears, cider, and fresh grape juice to add variety. New crop coconuts, dates, figs and mixed fruits are showing up; quality is good. Cranberry supplies increase weekly looking riper now.

Florida's new fresh citrus season is getting under way in earnest. There are more grapefruits each week and the first juice oranges (Hamlins) are in markets this week. Growers predict that this year's orange crop will be bigger than last season's heavy record-breaking production. And it looks now like the grapefruit crop will be a good one. The quality of both fruits is good for early season citrus, but will improve as the season progresses.

Outstanding vegetable buys at present are the leafy green ones. They like cool weather and are showing good color and substance. Salad greens—escarole, endive, Romaine—are at their very best. You can take your pick this week of field grown or hothouse when you purchase leaf or bibb lettuce.

Cauliflower, brussels sprouts and broccoli are important fall vegetables in good supply. Cooler weather also means high quality for these "cabbage cousins." Locally grown Chinese cabbage, snap beans, lima beans, beets, eggplant and green peppers will be around until that first freeze.

Potatoes—Ohio grown and eastern—are not expensive. While this year's potato crop is substantially smaller than last year's heavy production, it is still a fifth above a 10 year average.

Scripture Text, Isaiah 21: 11, 12
"The Night cometh and also the Morning."

Christian Faith And Hope Herald Dawn

That there is night in this world few will question. He must be a bold optimist who thinks everything as it is, is for the best possible in the best possible worlds.

Darkness still covers the earth. God's children, who have a glorious light within them, have dark night all round about them. Night is the symbol of gloom and suffering; and it is the season of sin. It is moral night, because men love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil. Every true-hearted, earnest Christian is a watchman; he watches for his own soul, and for the souls of others; and he longs for the advent of the world's new morning when the shadows shall flee away. Regarding the earnest Christian as the person accosted in the text, what are his thoughts and fears about the night? What are his hopes about the morning?

Rev. Rahrer

When the Christian looks out upon the world, he sees himself surrounded by the night of unbelief and irreligion, and yet he beholds streaks of sunny dawn.

There are many things at which if he looked exclusively he would despair — there is materialism taught by popular teachers, atheism the creed of not a few, abounding luxury, sensuality defiling and degrading all classes of the community. But looking beyond these, he sees evidence of Christian faith and hope such as the world never before witnessed—Sunday schools, Bible societies, home and foreign missions, various organizations generously supported and efficiently maintained; and, as he looks, he feels that the morning draweth nigh.

There is hope for our race because of what Christ is, the revealer of God, the Saviour of sinners, the Head of the Church, the Restorer of humanity. Let us live for Him, be spent for Him, then we shall be blessed of Him, and will be the means of helping and blessing others. Together through the Divine Revelation we will look for the bright rays of a blessed morning. Amen.

Two other seniors at West, Janet Kegg and George Wood, have been recognized for their efforts in the merit program, and will receive letters of commendation.

In announcing the awards, NMSQT president, John M. Stalnaker, stated, "About 28,700 students throughout the country are being awarded letters of commendation in recognition of their excellent performance on the qualifying test.

"Although they did not reach the status of semi-finalists, they are so capable that we wish to call attention in this way to their achievemen and academic promise."

Semi-finalists and commended students constitute only two per cent of the total enrollment of the high school seniors in this country.

Pirates May Go To St Louis

The Ohio Bearcat Football Association announced early this week that it has received an invitation to take the league's top team to St. Louis for a November contest with that area's top Little League team.

To date, the team in the Bearcat circuit most likely to win the league title and make the trip is Glenn Carr's undefeated Westside Pirates.

The agreement with the St. Louis group is not entirely new. Last year, the Missouri outfit sent its Bellville, Mo., team here to play Maryland AC the weekend after Thanksgiving at the fairgrounds.

Plans are also being formulated in the hope that St. Louis will send a representative team to Columbus to play another local club the same weekend that the Columbus entry travels to St. Louis.

The tentative date for the St. Louis game is Nov. 18.

They may be renewed from 30 days before a driver's birthday to six months after. It is illegal to drive after midnight on the birthday renewal date.

Mrs. Dorothy Hott is deputy registrar.

Treatment—

ings. It was during this period that he conceived art therapy.

A native of Madrid, Spain, he received his medical education in Spain, taking postgraduate work in New York and New Jersey. He has been in Columbus for three years, completing psychiatric training and studies.

rons has exhibited in Europe.

Himself an artist, Dr. Corrons New York and Columbus. During medical school, he gave art exhibitions and drew portraits to help finance his schooling.

"Art is truer than conversation," Dr. Corrons explained. "For example, a person might talk for months about the way he thinks he is, but he would paint the way he really is from the very first session.

"One of the goals of psychotherapy is to help the patient to be aware of his true feelings . . . to make the patient's idea of himself the same in his thoughts as in his feelings.

"If you confront a patient with his conversation over a period of time, it would be difficult for him to see that he is any different from what he says. But if you confront him with his paintings, he will see in his own work the way he actually is.

Working with this thesis, Dr. Corrons has entered the lives of many people who never before painted, much less undertaking painting as therapy.

The studio is located in the main building of Columbus State Hospital. It is a two-room, canvas-cluttered area complete with palettes, easels and paint. On the walls are selected paintings of former patients and a few by the doctor. The floor is covered with a protecting tarpaulin. Turpentine fills the air with a pungent and penetrating odor.

A patient is first given an interview by Dr. Corrons. This psychiatric probing reveals the patient's problem.

The first session of painting is devoted to familiarizing the patient with the tools he'll use. From that time on, twice-weekly, he will be given what seem to be random subjects to paint. Before each painting, Dr. Corrons talks to the patient about what he wants him to portray.

Patients work in groups. After all have finished, there is a group discussion of the paintings.

Gradually, assigned topics begin to center around the area of the individual's problems. The assignments are less at random and more specific. Dr. Corrons photographs each painting to keep a record. When a patient has compiled a series that shows progress, Dr. Corrons presents slides comparing the different works of the patient.

Out of these comparisons, the patient not only see what he has done but relives the feelings that motivated each painting. This reliving is termed regression.

When the patient abreacts to something in reality, such as his painting, he has transferred his problems outside of himself, according to Dr. Corrons.

This is Dr. Corrons' method of bringing a patient to reality.

Peggy Hastilow, Marc Brown Repeat Marriage Vows Saturday At Glenwood

The altar vases of Glenwood Methodist Church held white fugi mums and pom-pon chrysanthemums, and candelabra with white tapers were placed on willow altar for the wedding of Miss Peggy Ann Hastilow and Mr. Marc W. Brown, Saturday, Oct. 13.

Rev. Warren H. Bright read the marriage service at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Hastilow, 37 Letchworth-av, are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Brown of 412 N. Leap-rd, Amlin.

The bridal gown of delustered satin was designed with a square neckline outlined with hand-run alencon lace, long tapered sleeves and controlled belle skirt with appliques of the lace in front and a full panel back continuing into a chapel train.

A crown of lace and satin with seed beads held her bouffant veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade of white hybrid orchids surrounded by phalaenopsis white orchids and white molene leaves with seed pearls.

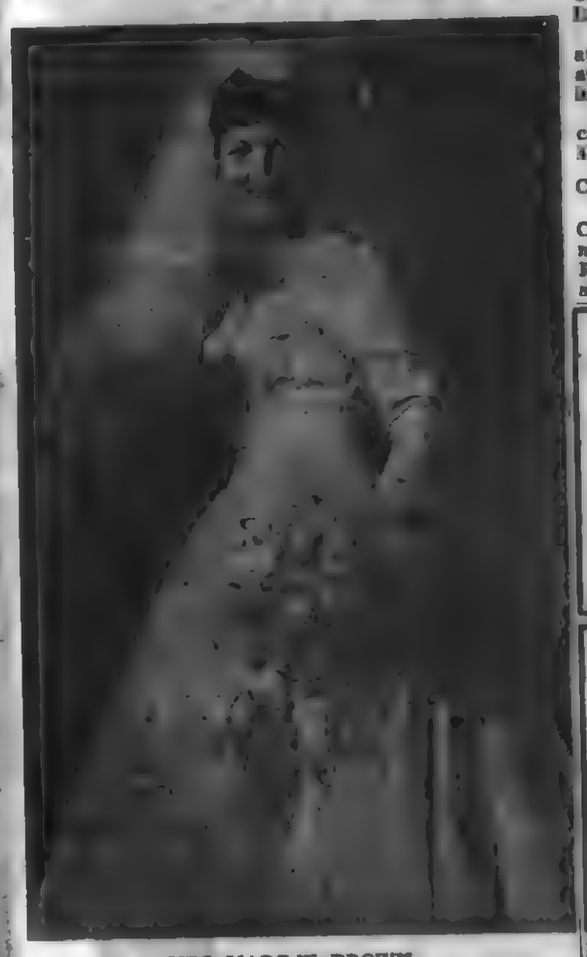
Miss Jane Higgins served as maid of honor, Miss Cheryl Olds, cousin of the bride, as junior bridesmaid; Mrs. Gordon McBride of Willoughby as bridesmatron, and Miss Carol Blum, bridesmaid.

They wore identical, floor-length gowns of flamingo satin with scooped necklines and elbow-length sleeves, set-in midriffs with bows in the back and belle skirts accented with back fullness.

Each wore a matching contessa crown of seed beads with circle veils, and a single strand of pearls and white satin gloves, gifts of the bride. They carried arm cascades of light green fugi mums and autumn leaves with flamingo bows.

Two-year-old Shelley Thompson of Plain City, cousin of the bridegroom, served as flower girl. She wore a white taffeta, floor-length gown with scooped neckline, puffed sleeves and a butterfly bow in back. She carried a miniature cascade of phalaenopsis orchids with Frenched white carnations and a flamingo bow.

Mr. Robert Winebar of Grove City served as best man, and guests were seated by Mr. Robert Hooper of Hilliard, Mr. Burt Williams, Mr. Joe Brown, Mr. Bill Biegler and Mr. Marc Brown.



Britt Winebar, two years old, of Grove City, served as ringbearer.

Hostesses for the reception, held following the ceremony in the Hall of Mirrors at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel, were Miss Nancy Hastilow, Miss Jane Hastilow and Miss Diane Eisman, all cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Joe Brown. Mrs. Lowell Hatch, also a cousin of the bride, attended the guest book.

The new Mrs. Brown was graduated from West High School and received her bachelor of science degree in radio and speech education from Ohio State University, where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She is now training director at the Fashion Store.

Mr. Brown was graduated from Hilliard High School, attended Ohio State University and served two years in the U. S. Army. He is now convention service manager of the Deshler Hilton Hotel.

Mrs. Clyde Moore, organist, played the wedding music, and the SOS Club, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Stevens Humphreys, sang. The new Mr. and Mrs. Brown are both members of the singing group.

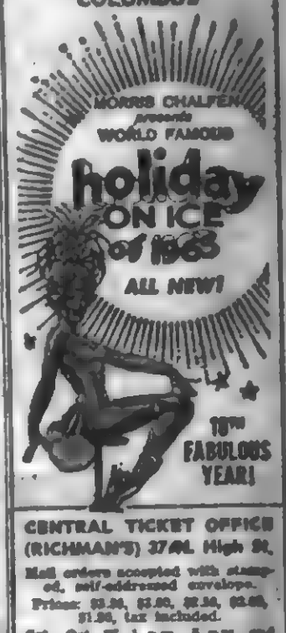
COMING UP AT VETS MEMORIAL . . .

The future looks bright at Vets Memorial with these fine acts dated for stands there. Pictured at left is Caroline Dixon who'll play the lead in the return (and farewell) engagement of "My Fair Lady" from Tuesday, Nov. 6, through Saturday, Nov. 10. The lavish musical was here in 1959. Center are Alex Hassilen, Don Gottlieb and Glenn Yarbrough — better known as the "Limelighters." They'll grace the Vet stage Saturday, Oct. 20, at 8:30 for one night only. Just before the "Limelighters," famed pianist Liberace (at right) will perform Friday, Oct. 19, at 8:15 p.m., in an all-new show. Tickets for all the presentations are available at Central Ticket Office (Richman's), 37 N. High-st. and the Turntable Record Shop. Include stamped, self-addressed envelope with mail orders.

Another AUBLEGRAPH

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Entertainment Editor

Spectacular Holiday On Ice Opens In Columbus Tuesday



The only trouble about trying to publicize a production as spectacular as "Holiday On Ice of 1963" is that you find yourself wondering what else you can say about it and, too, quickly tire of superlatives . . . The show's so spectacular that PR gal Joan Loomis is finding it hard to describe it in new ways . . . Perhaps, merely saying that it's nothing short of great will suffice. It opens Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the Fairgrounds Coliseum and runs until Wednesday, Oct. 31 . . . Oh yes, one thing more. Get ready to have a good time if you plan to attend.

• Maramor crowd pleasers Nelson Eddy and Gale Sherwood returned to the downtown nitery on Monday and will be stationed there until the end of the week . . . Doing two shows nightly, 8:30 and 11 . . . Lovely Gale has been Eddy's partner since he first heard her in a night club at Las Vegas . . . Glenn Karbrough, the major solo voice with the Limelighters, has been described as "singing with the voice of an angel and looking like a wrestler" . . . The fine group will make a one-night stand Saturday, Oct. 20, at Vets Memorial. Tickets on sale for the 8:30 show time at Central Ticket Office (Richman's), 37 N. High-st.

• Columbus residents will have a big chance to celebrate New Year's eve when the "Sound of Music" opens in beautiful Vets Memorial Auditorium Dec. 31.

The pleasures of thought are remedies for the wounds of the heart.—George Sand.

'Mary, Mary' Keeping Hartman Crowds In Stitches This Week

Perhaps the saddest thing about Jean Kerr's hilarious comedy "Mary, Mary" is that it closes Saturday at the Hartman Theater.

This play, which opened Monday and finishes with a 2:30 p.m. matinee Saturday, was hailed as Broadway's brightest, wittiest in many years (and Columbus' audiences verify it) and stars Lee Bowman, TV's Ellery Queen and star of the TV series "Miami Undercover," Patricia Smith and John Lasell.

Clinton Sundberg and Ellen Weston have featured roles. Roger L. Stevens, who presented this comedy on Broadway, is also presenting the vehicle here.

"Mary, Mary" is a comedy about the unending battle of the sexes, spiced with jokes, needling remarks, assorted retorts and bright impertinent lines.

Jean, the author (she wrote the best seller "Please Don't Eat the Daisies") sharply and amusingly points up the small frailties of people. She possesses an unerring skill at coining a lively phrase.

A spot check with folks this week indicate that they're taking home with them a private degree of personal identification with Bob and Mary in "Mary, Mary."

The play's three acts are staged in the New York apartment of a barely solvent publisher.

The play revolves around a young couple on the eve of their divorce, with a motion picture idol thrown in to liven up and complicate the proceedings.

A combination of the tax department and a snowstorm brings a turning point to this joyous, sparkling comedy which is now enjoying its second year on Broadway.

FILM VERSION

HOLLYWOOD (Special) —The tremendous personal triumph of Barbara Bel Geddes and Barry Nelson in "Mary, Mary" has resulted in their being signed for the Warner Bros. motion picture version, Jack L. Warner reported to Hartley Newspapers.

Filming of the long-running New York comedy hit by Jean Kerr is scheduled to occur soon after the first of the year.

Mervyn LeRoy will produce and direct "Mary, Mary."

MERCY, SUE!

Starting Saturday, Oct. 20, Loew's Ohio will show the dramatic suspense feature in CinemaScope and color, "I Thank a Fool," starring Susan Hayward as a doctor accused of mercy killing. Peter Finch and Diane Cilento are in the cast. Co-feature will be "13 West Street."

Jack Denton To Celebrate 1st Birthday

A special anniversary show at 9 a.m., Tuesday, Oct. 23, will mark the one-year birthday of the "Jack Denton Show" on TV 4.

To mark the event Denton will be on the receiving end of skits and jokes formed by the TV 4 talent staff of Hugh DeMoss, Stan Robinson, Jimmy Crum, Clay Eager, Clark Smith, Phil Samp and Dick Simpson.

Of course, the Jack Denton show regulars, Jeanne Cummins, the Al Waslon Big Band and Nancy Courtwright will be there to add their own brand of merriment.

It was a Monday, one year ago, Oct. 23, when Jack Denton, once the low man in a perch-pole act, greeted TV 4 audiences with his own brand of quick wit.

The low-man-on-the-pole start for Jack was back in 1941. He soon graduated from the bottom man role to the drummer spot with Bob Chester's band and toured in the Great Lakes area.

In 1945 he started writing gags for Milton Berle and then Red Skelton. In 1947, he formed his own act and began night club appearances across the country.

Gradually, Jack branched out into summer stock and then to radio and television. He performed on the same stage with Bob Hope, George Jessel, Gary Grant, Jerry Lewis, Liberace, Nat King Cole, Gene Barry, and Shelley Berman.

THE BIG TEN . . .

The top ten rock 'n roll songs, as compiled by the Good Guys on the fabulous 50 tunedex at WVKO Radio, include:

1. "He's a Rebel" (The Crystals); 2. "I Was Such a Fool" (Connie Francis); 3. "Only Love Can Break a Heart" (Gene Pitney); 4. "Next Door To An Angel" (Neil Sedaka); 5. "All Alone Am I" (Brenda Lee); 6. "You Beat Me To The Punch" (Mary Wells); 7. "That Stranger Used to Be My Girl" (Trade Martin); 8. "You Know How" (Bobby Darin); 9. "Untie Me" (The Tymes); and 10. "I Left My Heart In San Francisco" (Tony Bennett).

Go-Discovery tune this week is "She's A Trouble-maker" by the Majors. Go-Album is "Loco-Motion" by Little Eva.

By KENNY ASH and BOB LYNCH

The Central Pirates stayed in contention in the City League race by downing the Linden-McKinley Panthers, 20-10, Friday.

In the first period, the Pirates moved the ball to the 31-yard line where Tom Fullove, Central quarterback, ran around right and for the touchdown with 7:11 remaining.

GIBSON HAYES, Pirate end, recovered a Panther fumble and the smooth-working Central offense then set up for the next scoring attack. Fullove passed to Hayes in the end zone for 38 yards and the score and then connected on a jump pass to George Broadnax for the extra points.

In the second quarter, Linden's offense stalled again and the Pirates launched a 69-yard offensive drive, climaxed by a 19-yard pass from Fullove to end Melvin Williams for the TD. The first half ended with the Pirates on top, 20-0.

The second half started out like a new ball game with Linden snapping out of their offensive slump.

With 9:34 to go in the game the Panthers marched the ball 50 yards to Central's five where Tom Williams, Linden halfback, slammed over right tackle for the score.

Moments later, Pirate linebacker, Paul Frasure, intercepted a Linden pass on the Panther 16-yard line, but on the first play, Bill Solomon, Central fullback, was tackled in the end zone for a safety by Linden's John Cook and Ronald Howard.

Central kicked off to Linden with 2:27 left in the game, but the Panthers were unable to put together another offensive threat.

NORTH COMPLETELY dominated the visitors from West last Friday night, as they treated a homecoming crowd to a 26-0 shutout victory over the Cowboys.

The Polar Bears, led by senior halfback, John Todhunter, scored in every quarter while fashioning their victory. The fireworks started late in the initial quarter, as the Polar Bears started their scoring drive on their own 47, and marched for the score in seven plays, with Mike Rossiaky charging over right guard from the four-yard line with 3:17 remaining. Todhunter's 35-yard burst to the 15 set up the score.

Near the end of the half, the Polar Bears took over again, following a Cowboy punt. This second successful touchdown drive was started on the mid-field stripe, and in four plays, the Polar Bears had scored again as quarterback Doug Shepard tossed a 34-yard scoring pass to Sam Smith and North led, 12-0.

THE SECOND half was almost a replay of the first half, except that North did not wait so long to score. The first time they had the ball, they began a drive on their own 44. Todhunter swept wide around his left end for the touchdown, carrying over from the Cowboy seven.

West sophomore John Morlan, filling in for Rick Finke, did a commendable job running the club in his first varsity appearance. The Polar Bears completed their touchdown scoring in the final period as Shepard and Smith teamed up on a nine-yard scoring pass play.

BISHOP READY picked up its second straight and fifth win of the season Thursday with a resounding 46-0 win over Hartley's Reserves.

Five players scored touchdowns for the Silver Knights. Jay Kubin picked up two on an eight-yard run and a 70-yard pass play from quarterback Tom Weisenbach. Weisenbach also teamed up with Jack Compton on a 91-yard TD play.

Dave Grundel and Jim Muir added the other Ready touchdowns, the former on a 22-yard run, the latter on a 17-yard scamper.

Friday night's action finds Walnut Ridge (1-5) at Central (3-1-2) and West (1-5) at Linden (3-2-1). Ready (5-2) plays Watterson's Reserves tomorrow afternoon.

'Quo Vadis' Question On Bucks vs Bowl

Latin may well be a dead language but one of its most coined expressions, 'Quo Vadis' (where ya' goin'), is about the liveliest, most sensible question in regard to that age-old Ohio State vs the Rose Bowl situation.

As of last week, Ohio State's off-again, on-again agreement to accept a bowl invitation (if offered) is back on the affirmative side of the fence.

THE OSU Faculty Council approved the Athletic Council's unanimous recommendation that the faculty group not bar participation last week by a 36-20 count and the annual 'run for the roses' jumped once more into the spotlight.

At the same time, the council set down strict regulations involving sponsorship, gifts and other commercialization—something like giving junior a piece of candy and then forbidding him to put it into his mouth.

When you sit right down and analyze it, the New Year's Day classic is beginning to show more sides than a lop-sided octagon and contains more tragicomic elements than the heaviest soap opera.

THE WHOLE question has been popping up and down in front of the public sports eye since the academic vs athletic elements set up their respective camps when the whole bombshell burst wide open three years ago.

The whole matter is still a touchy subject in some quarters and poking fun at the whole matter might be as risky as joking with President Kennedy about the Cuban situation.

Last year, you remember, the council said 'no' and the biggest, unplanned parade in the city's history tramped down the streets of Columbus.

THIS YEAR, thanks to the council's decision, we're happy to report to the city's street engineering division that there will be no assault on the asphalt if the Bucks get the Big Ten bowl nod. No march on the state capital, no parade down High-st — maybe just a little quiet collegiate celebration.

It seems obvious that the change of view was brought about by more than the furor of the students when the invitation was turned down last year. It might just be that certain pressures were brought to bear to bring about such a reversal in policy—most likely something a bit more subtle than Woddy's resignation or an empty horseshoe on a Saturday afternoon.

The house is still divided and we wouldn't be at all surprised if when the question comes up again (not later than 1966), the position is once again reversed.

Anyway, the road to the Rose Bowl is open for the moment at least, and the general majority seems happy. Maybe this latest decision will hold for awhile.

To tell the truth, we'd like to see the real Faculty Council decision stand up, PLEASE.

The Lions remained atop the standings in the Hilltop Lions's Little League this week, recording their third straight win, 23-0, over the Cavaliers but the defending champion Panthers stayed right at their heels, dropping the Chargers, 42-7, for their second win without a loss.

The Lions remained unscored upon, thanks largely to standout performances by Mike McAndrews, Mike Shaner and Carl Altevogt.

Ineligibility Hits Irish CL Hopes

Aquinas received a mortal blow to its dreams of a City League championship this season Monday with the forfeit of five games due to an ineligible player on the Terrior squad.

The Ohio High School Athletic Association handed down the decision ruling that the player in question had attended more than the maximum of eight semesters permitted for eligibility in a four-year school.

The Terriers, only one point out of first place in the City circuit, dropped wins to South, Whetstone, West and St. Charles and a tie with Central, placing Aquinas in a last-place tie with a 0-4 mark in City Loop standings.

The ineligibility ruling was most advantageous to Central, who moved into a first-place tie with East and North with a new 4-0 mark and a league rating of eight points.

NOW HEAR THIS, BEARCAT, OBFF FANS

DAVE CLIPNER, of Clipper's Radio and TV, 535 Georgesville-rd, is aiding the Ohio Bearcat League and the Ohio Boys Football Foundation this season by providing a good bit of sound coverage to the league's football games. Clipner, who has been working with the area's youth for 18 years now, has donated the services of his sound truck to the little league clubs so that grid fans can enjoy a play-by-play account of football action each Sunday.

Pirates Roll In Bearcat Loop

An invitation to St. Louis, a gala homecoming celebration and continued success by the Westside Pirates told the story of doings in the Bearcat Football Association this past weekend.

An estimated crowd of better than 1,000 fans attended the Westside Pirates 20-12 homecoming win over Maryland AC Sunday at Starling Field. Proud parents received flowers and cigars during the halftime ceremonies.

The Bearcat League's top team (at the present time, the Westside Pirates) will travel to St. Louis in November to compete with that city's top little league football team, it was announced Monday.

In other action in the Bearcat loop Sunday, the UAW Tigers shutout the Westgate Bears, 24-0, and the Westside Eagles used Jim Fout's first period 14-yard TD run to top the Southside Blues, 8-0.

HITS $50 PRIZE

Robert Merz Is Third Round Victor

For the second time in three weeks the Hartley Newspaper Football Contest Editor had to rely on the tie-breaker to find the weekly winner.

After the smoke cleared away from an extremely close contest, Robert Merz, 60 E. Kelso-rd, was named to the top honor, and is being awarded $50 in prize money. He received double his money because he is a paid subscriber to one of the Hartley Newspapers.

Merz edged Richard Moore, Grove City, and Clayson Herren, West Jefferson, on the strength of his guess on the Ohio State-Illinois final score. All three contestants picked 21 of 24 winners, but Merz' tie-breaker estimate was 41-10. Herren guessed 27-13, and Moore guessed 35-6.

Closely following the three finalists with only four misses were: Russell Blythe, 354 S. Warren-av; Jack R. Ladyga, 62 N. Westgate-av; W. F. Thompson, 127 S. Hampton-rd; S. L. Pidcock, 3650 Seabrook, and E. C. Hester, 4640 Annhurst-rd.

In the final three rounds of the contest no one has been able to select all 24 winners qualifying him for the jackpot which goes up $25 each week.

The jackpot bonus for the contest of the weekend of Oct. 20 will contain $100 in addition to the regular prize of $25.

The rules of the contest can be found below along with 24 top games to be played on the weekend of Oct. 27. Be sure your choices are matched with the advertiser's name on the entry blank.

Capital U. Wins Third Straight

Capital University used the combination of a grinding ground attack and an alert defensive backfield to make Kenyon its third straight Ohio Conference victim, 20-14 Saturday.

Senior halfback Bob Skidmore notched a pair of touchdowns on runs of 15 yards to pace the Cap rushing attack that picked up a total of 247 yards during the game.

THE PURPLE and white trailed 8-7 at intermission but Skidmores running and five timely pass interceptions kept the Lords at bay although Kenyon threatened as late as the final 20 seconds when Cap's John Petterson broke up a Lord's aerial TD attempt on Capital's one-yard line.

The Purple and White take to the road this Saturday to a tough Wittenberg Tiger eleven (3-0).

The Lutherans are hurting this week, personnel-wise with regulars Al Miller (fullback) Denny Engler (quarterback), Matt Kerschbaum (guard) and Paul Scherzer (linebacker) nursing injuries.

Progress Report Given On Ohio Boy Scout Camping

C. A. Gimre, chairman of Central Ohio Camp development plans, announced that contracts have been let for the swimming pool and the first four of 11 buildings for the new Greenhills Boy Scout Reservation.

Twelve of 14 campsites have been cleared of brush, and plans are now underway for the water and sanitation systems. The parking lot in section "B" should be completed soon, as well as power into the pump house.

Tom Fitzpatrick is the working chairman of the Greenhills development. This camp will be in operation by the summer of 1963.

Gimre also stated that under the direction of William Mackenzie, chairman of weekend site development, two new adirondacks have been completed at Camp Madison on Madison Lake near London. There are now three shelters at this camp and it is ready for use by troops of Central Ohio Council. Reservations should be made through council headquarters.

Projects at Camp Lazarus, under the chairmanship of Frank Sayers, include renovating the picnic area on which two shelters are being erected, a modern parking lot and the erection of two new toilets. These projects should be completed within a week. Work has also started on the development of the first of several new troop sites.

This new development and the improvement of existing camping facilities is being done as the result of successful camp capital development campaign conducted throughout the nine-county area of Central Ohio Boy Scouts early this year.

WORD POWER!
One of our popular publications, encourages the learning of new words, and in each edition prints a few words that we can add to our vocabulary.
Words have swayed thousands, even changed the course of history. It is through the use of words that men are saved.
"For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe."... "Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men."
ATTEND CHURCH...HEAR GOD'S WORD PREACHED

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society on way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Charles D. Robson of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Division of Air Pollution, Washington, D.C., will present the award to Mayor W. Ralston Westlake during ceremonies launching the observance at 10 a.m. Monday, Oct. 21, in front of the Health Center at 181 S. Washington Blvd.

The award will go to the City Division of Smoke Regulation and Inspection which runs a test on an average of twice a month for the federal government to determine radioactivity and other pollution in the air over Columbus.

Fifteen tagged, helium-filled balloons will be released during the ceremonies in a demonstration of how air currents shift and thus affect atmospheric cleanliness. In previous demonstrations, tagged balloons have been returned to Columbus from more than 300 miles away.

Representatives of the Catholic Youth Organization, who will "take over" the city government on Tuesday, Oct. 30 will participate in the launching. They are George Lowery of 64 Frebis-Av, a student at St. Mary's High School, who will act as Safety Director, and Margaret Postlewaite of 106 S. Harding-rd, a student of St. Mary of the Springs Academy, who will be Chief Smoke Regulation Engineer.

School Executives Slated To Speak At Seminar

Five Columbus area school executives have been selected by the School Management Institute, Inc., 3752 N. High-st, to play leading parts in a seminar next month for midwestern school superintendents, according to Lewis E. Harris, SMI president.

The seminar, to be held at Nationwide Inn, Oct. 23-25, will be devoted to the school administrator's role in leadership planning.

Those making presentations include: Supt. Harold Eibling, Columbus schools, and his executive assistant, Joseph Davis; Egon Guba, director of the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research; Supt. Robert Crabbs, Whitehall, and Supt. Paul Hayes, South-Western City Schools.

SMI, a non-profit organization established by the Ohio School Boards Association and the Ohio Association of School Administrators for the advancement of school management, offers the seminar on leadership planning once each year.

INDUSTRIAL PALLETS made by the Columbus Association for the Blind have been delivered to Westinghouse for the second time. The blind are now showing their ability to use power equipment to meet industrial specifications. From left, Dick Ewing, driver for Jacobsen Power Mower; Ray Toms, Westinghouse; Don W. Reed, executive director for the Columbus Association for the Blind; and H. Edwards, fork lift operator.

Blind Workers Making Useful Items For Westinghouse Plant

People with a big problem — the blind — are getting a helping hand from big industry here.

Almost three months ago the Columbus Association for the Blind (a United Appeal-supported agency) began making pallets. Pallets are wooden platforms, used for storing and transporting goods in warehouses.

Officials of the Westinghouse Appliance plant on Phillippi-rd became interested in this newest product from the workshop for the blind and ordered some. Good pallets are in demand for Westinghouse's big shipping and warehouse operations. Last week the second order of 100 pallets was delivered. A power mower company, Jacobsen, donated the trucking [illegible].

Eight young blind men are fairly regularly employed in the making of these pallets obtained. Chair caning is one of these in the workshop which is located at 1393 N. High-st.

The workshop, formerly located at the corner of Fifth and Mound-sts, has provided light assembly work for the blind of Franklin County for many years, but it had never engaged in manufacturing.

In this operation, the blind assist in the cutting of the lumber with a power saw. They use jigs to properly fit the lumber in place and then nail them together with nails pounded into the lumber by compressed air. Other hammering is also done by the blind.

Arthur Cota, director of the shop program, found that industry has been afraid that blind people could not meet specifications.

Westinghouse is one of the first industries to allow the agency to prove that the visually handicapped are able to use power tools and are able to work.

The workshop continues to employ blind for light assembly jobs when they can be

IN A JAR . . .

A second grader approached Mrs. Marlene Cullag, teacher at [illegible] Elementary School here, and asked if he could bring his father's gallstones to school during "sharing time." "After all," said the boy, they're in a jar."

Ashville Champion Growers Prepare For Pumpkin Show

FRANK COON, Rt. 2, Ashville, displays penguin and duck, easily made from one of his gourds.

SURROUNDED by prize winning pumpkins and squash, Frank Coon holds an Australian variety, just one of many champion-sized products from his farm located near Ashville.

ROSEMARY PAYNE, Rt. 2, Ashville, assists Coon brothers in preparing prize variety for Pumpkin Show.

By BOB KIEBEL

When Ohio proudly tallies its champions at the end of the seasons — two receptive farmers, George and Frank Coon, Rt. 2, Ashville, internationally known champion pumpkin, squash and gourd growers are on the exclusive list, year after year.

"It all began back in 1933 and 34, when we started growing them while in the Future Farmers of America, during our high school days," Frank explained. "At first we only sold our pumpkins to the cannery that was located in Ashville."

There are over 80 varieties of pumpkin, squash and "millions" of gourds. The seeds originated from Japan, Australia, France, Hungary and all corners of the earth. "We search the world for seeds," George said. "When we hear of a big one, we write for the seeds. Then we compete for the champion." By the same token, the brothers receive letters from all sections of the globe.

There is a champion Mexican squash that is not eaten as such, but produces a seed about the size of a 50-cent piece. "These seeds are roasted and eaten like peanuts," Frank pointed out.

In preparation for the Circleville Pumpkin Show, Oct. 17-20, there are squash, pumpkins and gourds covering a large area of the ground near the house on Frank's farm. One large squash tips the scales at 201 pounds. "The one next to it is 198 pounds," Frank pointed to another monstrous squash at its side, "and all the others are in th 180's." Each group is separated by types and variety.

Frank also pointed to the large gourds in one group in the yard. The "Langaneria or 'White Blossom' is dried during the winter and painted for house decorations," he said.

"I occasionally give talks to garden clubs and other organizations," Frank added modestly and then displayed two popular gourds he had prepared for a garden club meeting the night before. One was the "Penguin" gourd, and it was easy to see where it derived its name. With only a white and black tuxedo and a painted face, the gourd was an exact duplicate of the quaint little bird from the South Pole. The other, a "Maranka" or Chinese variety of gourd, was painted white, and with only a minimum amount of imagination, clearly resembled a duck.

How They Do It

There seems to be a theory that champion squash growers inject milk intravenously into the plants. However, George quickly disquieted that theory. "We've tried milk, but there doesn't seem to be any great difference in the size of the product," he explained, when asked. "We never use milk for three reasons. First, it's too expensive, it takes too much time, and milk will sour, ruining the vines. Although it has been tried, we never use it."

When asked if they would resent divulging their secrets in raising such fine specimens, both brothers readily stated they held no secrets.

"We plant seeds 12 feet apart and leave one plant in each hill. Then we pluck all but one squash from each vine. To grow, we use about 50 pounds of fertilizer per acre then water well," George said.

"We always plant in the rich bottom ground around the creek, where you find sandy loam-soil," Frank added. "Then we irrigate early to beat the dry weather and before the creeks dry up. We have a portable pump that pumps 500 gallons per minute. We operate this for three hours, which is equivalent to two inches of rain."

With pride, George called attention to twin squash, 192 and 189 pounds from a single vine which had won high honors at the last Ohio State Fair. "It would probably have broken a record if it had been plucked," he added, indicating that it possibly had been grown by error. "I believe it would be possible for squash to reach 400 pounds if special care were given," George said, and gave a negative shake of his head when asked if his squash were pampered. "No, we just let them grow out in the fields."

Harry Kenton Jr. Serves Aboard The Kitty Hawk

Harry D. Kenton, Jr., seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Kenton, Sr., 1618 Humphray-av, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk, operating in the Western Pacific with the Seventh Fleet.

The ship, one of the newest in the Pacific Fleet, is expected to visit ports in Japan, the Philippines and Hong Kong. She will be in the Far East approximately seven months.

Some lies are so well disguised to resemble truth, that we should be poor judges of the truth not to believe them. Rochefoucauld

Doran, committee chairman.

Much of the council's argument Thursday night was presented by Fred Van Order. Van Order declared that the 37 "saloons" here are "just too many for a community of 19,000 which has eight schools and 15 churches." He said his research shows that Columbus now has 160 more drinking spots and carryouts than it is entitled to have.

Two other alternatives to the license problem were brought up. A West Park-av woman said enforcement of a nuisance law should help. Frank Schneider, Board of Elections employe, said some areas were resorting to local options in the Nov. 6 elections. Two precincts in the South Side and two in the East Side are trying for "dry" sections while Madison Township petitioners (excluding Groveport and Canal Winchester, are endeavoring to "go wet."

In other council business, Frank Schneider, chairman of the Traffic Committee, reported that final technical matters were being cleared up by the City Traffic Engineering office regarding Rich and Town-sts. Both will soon be changed to one-way traffic. Rich-st will flow east from Glenwood to Starling-st and Town-st will flow west from Starling to Glenwood. The Neighborhood Council is still holding out for a traffic light at Glenwood and Broad, as well as Yale and Broad. The City Commission wants to move the Yale light to Glenwood.

Says Flood Danger Remains

Some concern was voiced from the floor by Martin Hennick, 1068 Scott-st, about the danger of further flooding of Dry Run. Hennick made the point that, although the levee has been more than adequately repaired, he still has great concern about the small drainage hole under the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks. It needs cleaning, he said, and is not big enough to carry off the water during heavy flooding. This matter was referred by Walter Cunningham, council president, to the Health Committee for follow-up.

The group also heard:

• A Guilford-av woman complained about vandalism and obscenities from teenagers who play football in the median strip of her street. She asked if new trees could be planted where the elms had died.

• A report from Rev. Carl Wilson that speeding has become a problem on Avondale, especially at State-st, where there are no stop signs or signals.

• Al Wilder, who said the Recreation Committee is working to get more city play sites, especially between Sunshine Center and Dana School; is studying the West Side swimming pool issue, and is far along in its Halloween plans.

• Walt Cunningham, who announced plans to set up a sub-committee to again screen Christmas charity giving, gave information on new mail box pickup hours.

Area Airman In Maine

Airman Third Class Henry C. Jones has been reassigned to Dow AFB, Maine, following his graduation from the Air Force technical training course for jet aircraft mechanics at Amarillo AFB, Tex. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie L. Jones of 308 S. Oakley-av.

GOP Schedules Rally

Army Reorganization Affects Local Centers

Three local Army agencies have been combined into one command, designated the U.S. Army Mobility Support Center as part of the Army's reorganization plan.

The new organization integrates the Army Engineer Maintenance Center, 52 Starling-st, and two agencies of the Columbus Army Depot, the Quartermaster Equipment and Parts Center and Quartermaster Purchasing Agency. The Mobility Support Center will be a field element of the Army Mobility Command, with headquarters at Center Line, Mich.

Maj. Gen. Alden K. Sibley, chief of the Mobility Command in Michigan, named Col. Earle E. Butler, 2541 Schaaf-dr, present commander of the Engineer Maintenance Center, to head the new organization.

Col. Butler said that the Mobility Support Center will have a yearly payroll of about $23 million and will employ about 1,800 Civil Service, 800 contract and 30 military personnel.

Personnel now employed by the three elements that constitute the center will continue to work at their present locations. The missions of the center will represent an integration of the combined previous assignments.

The EMC duty is to provide repair parts and maintenance support for engineer equipment used by the Army and the Air Force.

The Quartermaster Equipment and Parts Commodity Center provides materials handling equipment, special purpose vehicles, aerial equipment and repair parts supporting this equipment. Maintenance engineering is provided for all quartermaster equipment and a worldwide technical assistance program is carried out.

The Quartermaster Purchasing Agency buys repair parts or materials handling equipment and special purpose equipment, and procures the supplies needed to keep the depot in operation.

Mobility Command was created to administer the U.S. Army program for research, development, production, procurement, supply management and maintenance support of mobility equipment and supplies.

The Mobility Command will be a $2.5 billion "corporation" the first year with more than 14,000 employes and eight subordinate installations from coast-to-coast.

"But, we are only part of the story," General Sibley cautioned. "Mobility Command is one unit — although the largest in terms of dollars and items manager — in the new U.S. Army Materiel Command.

Thrift Leads to Good Living

This week H. C. Gockenbach, Jr., reminded us that this is National Thrift Week and that the theme is "Thrift leads to good living."

It is good to know that someone is encouraging something that today has grown a little bit old-fashioned with many people.

In this day of get it and spend it too many families find that life can be difficult when they come face to face with trying circumstances at a later date, only because they have not saved something for some rainy days.

Thrift does lead to good living.

The Die Is Cast

This heading comes from back in the days of the Caesars but it is most applicable today.

Since the address of the President on Monday evening there can be little doubt as to where we stand. For the most part there is full accord with the stand that has been taken except for those who believe we are committ late in this decision.

It is a fact that we cannot live without peace and it is a further fact that Americans have no desire to live except in dignity.

If our way of life is worth preserving we can be sure that we will have the guidance from a power greater than that of all the accumulated nations to so preserve it . . . If we have the necessary FAITH in this power.

This is a time for old-fashioned patriotism. This is a time for a renewal of the faith of our fathers.

The die is cast!

Sertoma Is Organizing

Service clubs of this community are about to have an opportunity to welcome another fine community organization, The Sertoma Club.

Western Sertoma is now in the process of being organized on the Hilltop by the Tri-Village Sertoma Club and a tentative date of Nov. 17 has been set for charter.

Business and professional men of the area who are interested in being affiliated with a good group dedicated to service for this community may do well to investigate what Sertoma has to offer.

WEEK FROM TONIGHT

Community Parties Usher In Halloween

Five Community centers will swell with Halloween hilarity here next Wednesday night, Oct. 31.

Hilltop Community Council, the City Recreation Department, West Side Board of Trade and other community workers are teaming up to provide organized fun for hundreds of youngsters. Authorities are working to confine Halloween activities to two days this year. "Beggars' and UNICEF Night" will be held Tuesday night. Schools are arranging their own programs to promote "Fun Without Destruction."

West High Scene Of Hilltop Fun

West High School again will be the scene of the Hilltop celebration. Doors will open at 6:30 p.m. T. C. Ogden, chairman, said a stack of silver dollars has been set aside for winners of the costume parade (which starts at 7 p.m.) and for certain lucky younsters who get home early after the party. Ogden stressed that parents should accompany their children to the party, if possible.

Bill Coon will emcee the costume parade. Mrs. H. C. Booth chairman of the parade said one silver dollar will be awarded to the funniest, prettiest and most original costume wearer in each of the following age groups: 2 to 5 years; 6 to 9; 10 to 12; and 13 and over. Five silver dollars will be awarded to the grand winner.

A teen record hop will be held in the gym from 8:30 to 10 p.m. Admission will be 25 cents for each student. PTA members from West High, Hilltonia and Westmoor Junior High Schools will be chaperones, said Bert Rowe, chairman of the gym activities.

Other highlights will be a pumpkin carving contest, a variety of refreshments and entertainment booths, and

Four Centers Hosting Kids In West Side

Four youth serving agencies are cooperating again this year in providing Halloween parties Oct. 31 for all West Side children. They include the city recreation center of Sunshine Park and Sullivant Gardens, The West Side branch of Boys Clubs, and Gladden Community House. Much of the cost is being underwritten by the West Side Board of Trade.

SUNSHINE CENTER

Gene Fullen, disc jockey from WTVN radio and television, will appear at Sunshine Park next Wednesday to spin records and emcee the Halloween dance for West Side teenagers. The dance, to be held from 7:30 to 9:45 p.m., will be open to all boy's and girls 13 to 18 years of age. Assisting Fullen will be Miss Jeanette Baker and Dave Logan, popular local teenage favorites. Prizes will be awarded in various categories for costumes.

SULLIVANT GARDENS

Two parties at Sullivant Gardens, for residents of that area only, will be held. Children from 6 to 17 years of age will be be treated to games, spook houses, and refreshments. Teenagers will hold a record dance at the same time.

Engineers To Decide Sites For Freeway Interchanges

Western Franklin Countians who attended a public hearing on the proposed West Freeway (Interstate 70) got some of the answers, but not all of them last Friday.

The people were told which general corridor the $15 million highway north of Broad-st toward West Jefferson will take — but details were lacking as to how or where connections with existing county roads will be made. Planning is still too early for the complete picture, State Highway Department officials told a group of 100 in the State Office Building. Among the hearers were local landowners, businessmen and public officials.

No one spoke out against the alignment, which is roughly parallel to Rt. 40, about a mile north, but as one man said: "How can we possibly tell if we are for or against it until we learn exactly where it will go?" (For more detailed description see letter to the editor on Page 24.)

No more public hearings are scheduled. The plans are now being forwarded to other state forces and to their consulting engineers.

According to Richard Madachy, assistant design engineer of the department's Urban Project section, the freeway, as now envisioned, will take six lanes of traffic westerly from the Spring-Sandusky Interchange. To accomplish this, a part of the Scioto River channel may be moved about 300 feet south, between Dublin-rd and the waterworks dam.

The highway will become four lane with an 84-foot median strip after it crosses the Columbus Outerbelt, soon to be built just east of New Rome, Madachy said. The engineer said the preliminary report shows possible full interchanges (cloverleafs) at Fisher-rd and Hague-av and at the Outerbelt. "And we may end up with partial interchanges at Hague-av and at Wilson-rd," he added.

Madachy said it will be at least nine months until traffic and geological surveys will determine what's best at these points.

"Meanwhile, we will, of course, be interested in the suggestions from people who live in the area," Madachy said. He added it would be best if inquiries were directed to the State Highway Department's Division Nine Offices at Delaware.

Several years ago there was speculation that the freeway would enter the city by turning south as an extension of Grandview-av, cross the railroad and state institution grounds and curve again to connect with the Mound-Sandusky Interchange. But, this route, apparently would be too costly.

The present Spring-Sandusky Interchange has proved to be too small, almost from the day it was opened. The addition of hundreds of cross-country vehicles from Interstate 70, of course, will demand considerable alteration of the interchange. The bridge over the Scioto, just to the south, probably would have to be widened also, and two lanes added to Sandusky-st, Columbus Service Director Ernest Stork this week suggested a double deck design.

Burial Service Is Tomorrow For Mother M. Constantine

Mother M. Constantine, CSC, 69, provincial superior of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, Eastern Province, will be buried Thursday in Our Lady Of Peace Cemetery, South Bend, Ind.

The former administrator and controller of Mt. Carmel Hospital, she died of cancer Sunday at Mt. Carmel, after a long illness.

Pontifical requiem mass was offered Monday at St. Joseph Cathedral by Auxiliary Bishop Edward G. Hettinger for Mother Constantine.

A requiem mass was also celebrated Wednesday at St. Matthew's Cathedral, Washington, D. C., where she maintained her provincial headquarters, and a requiem mass will be offered in Our Lady of Loretto Chapel, St. Mary's Notre Dame, at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, before interment.

Mother Constantine came to Mt. Carmel in 1931 as controller, and five years later became hospital administrator.

She remained at that post until 1957 when she left Columbus after being elected provincial of her order, a position she had previously held from 1943 to 1951.

Mother M. Constantine

During her stay at Mt. Carmel she directed the razing of the original 1887 wing, the renovation of the 1908 wing, and construction of new hospital and nursing school facilities completed in the 1950s.

The Eastern Province includes an eight-state area and the District of Columbia. More than 400 sisters, one college, Mt. Carmel Hospital, 35 schools, three orphanages and two camps were under her jurisdiction.

Recently, her efforts had been turned toward the completion of the new 300-bed Holy Cross Hospital, to be opened in January, 1963, in Silver Springs, Md.

Born Catherine Cecilia Ryan in Danville, Ill., Mother Constantine entered the Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross in 1912.

She served in teaching posts in Salt Lake City and Alexandria, Va., before her assignment to Mt. Carmel.

Surviving are sisters, Sister Teresa Joseph of the Sisters of The Holy Cross and Miss Josephine Ryan, both of Danville, and a brother, Andrew, of Springfield, Ill.

Homemaker Judging In Full Swing

A late surge of entries at deadline has the three judges in Hartley Newspapers' search for Homemaker of the Year working overtime this week.

The judges, Mrs. Warren Smith, 350 W. South-st, Worthington; Mrs. Mary Ann Brackey, Buckeye Village, and Mrs. Gladys McAndrews, 1936 Fairmont, are working afternoons and evenings interviewing the nominees.

The Columbus area homemakers who are selected as finalists will be given all-expense paid trips to Chicago where the national finals will be held in mid-November.

National headquarters for the Suburban Press Foundation, sponsor of the event, has announced a gala agenda of activities for the finalists.

Festivities include trips to the theater, meetings with nationally known celebrities, and television appearances.

Watch Hartley Newspapers' special Homemaker Supplement Nov. 7-8 for announcement of the Columbus finalists and further details on the national recognition event, which offers a grand prize of $5000 to the winner of the National Suburban Homemaker of the Year honor.

SGT. BALLENGER HAS COME BACK TO HILLTOP HOME

If you have noticed an unusually large amount of smiles around the 371 N. Algonquin-av area on the Hilltop last Sunday, here's the reason:

Columbus Sgt. Orville R. Ballenger had come home.

Sgt. Ballenger had spent 16 months imprisoned in Laos and has been since presented the bronze star for bravery at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

He was also recognized by Councilman Robert T. Southwick at Monday night's council meeting. "And, maybe a parade would be fitting," Southwick told newsmen.

Sgt. Ballenger is home for 20 days. The sergeant and wife, Miyoko, arrived early Sunday morning.

Runaway JDC Youth Throws Scare Into Wheatland-Av Home

A 180-pound 13-year-old fugitive from the Juvenile Diagnostic Center sneaked into a home at 155 N. Wheatland-av Saturday, and has prompted the Ralph Lombard family to send complaints all the way to Governor DiSalle.

The youth, who reportedly has served time at Boys Industrial School for breaking and entering, slipped away from a hospital attendant about 9:30 a.m. He and two other inmates were being taken across the institution grounds to the hospital.

Minutes later the youth appeared in the Lombard home. He entered through a back door. He was bare to the waist and his hand was bleeding.

At the time Mrs. Lombard was upstairs taking a shower. Her husband was in the living room. A battalion fire chief, Lombard has every third Saturday off.

"I just wanted a place to hide," the youth told Lombard and his frightened wife. He gave no other reason for entering the house. He said he cut his hand when he scaled over the fence surrounding the institution. He said he didn't want to go back because another boy was threatening him. After about 10 minutes the boy started to return to JDC with Lombard. He changed his mind, however, after reaching the street and fled. He is still missing.

Lombard told the Record-News he immediately complained about the incident to JDC superintendent James W. Grant and John Ferguson, chief of the juvenile division, of the State Department of Mental Health and Hygiene. Both retorted that they can do little to build more safeguards at the institution because the state is not able to supply the funds.

Lombard then called Columbus police and was told that the department has no jurisdiction over JDC barricades.

No Answer from Governor

Finally Lombard called the governor's office. A secretary took his name and promised a reply early Monday morning. Lombard said he stayed home all morning but no call was forthcoming. In the meantime he said families in his neighborhood have been visited by a state employe who assured the people that the missing boy is not the dangerous type.

Hilltop Lions Club To Hold Second Pancake Fete Dec. 8

Mark your calendar for Saturday, Dec. 8. That's the day the Hilltop Lions Club will hold its second annual pancake festival from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. at the Hilltop YMCA, 2879 Valleyview-dr.

Lion vice president Robert Phillips has appointed the following committees: Robert Bethel, general chairman, assisted by Van Lucas and Don Rumley; publicity, Robert Foster, ticket sales; Harold Willett and Jack Weller, procurement; Bob Case, house committee.

Again the menu will be orange juice, Aunt Jemima pancakes with plenty of creamery butter and maple syrup, sausage and coffee. Chairman Bethel says you can eat your fill of pancakes.

Aunt Jemima will be there in person to welcome the guests. In addition there will be continuous entertainment.

Tickets will be available from any Hilltop Lions Club member. Prices will be $1 for adults, 50c for children.

Freeway Link To Be Completed By November

The Ft. Hayes Interchange will be completed by November to provide connection between the North Freeway and the north and west legs of the Innerbelt and Southwest Freeway, according to a report of the Development Committee for Greater Columbus.

Robert F. Mott, expressway coordinator, said the North Freeway from Strimple to Jefferson will be open to traffic about Nov. 1.

He also reported that the north leg of the Innerbelt from the New York Central Railroad tracks to Cleveland-av should also be ready at about the same time.

The date will also mark the Ft. Hayes interchange and east leg of the Innerbelt to Oak-st, he reported.

HER VINE RUNNETH OVER

"THE LORD'S been good to us," remarked Mrs. A. C. Skipper, 71, of 148 N. Terrace-av as she harvested her 54th tomato from the only plant in her garden last week. Some of them she plucks green for frying. Mr. Skipper is a retired plumbing contractor.

Utility Pole Turns To Roman Candle

"Looks just like a Roman Candle on the Fourth of July," said one person as he watched Columbus fireman put out a utility pole fire last Friday around 11 p.m..

All of the excitement happened in the alley north of Olive-st between Powell-av and Hague.

Firefighters said the blaze was started by a set of condensers that brushed against a ground wire leading down from the top of a pole. The condensers threw sparks into an old pole nearby setting it aflame.

People standing around were kept at a distance for fear the hot wires would snap and fail. —Tom Baird

2 Hilltoppers Aid In UA Allocations

Even as volunteers continue to solicit funds in the United Appeal drive, other volunteers who are members of the Budget and Admissions Committee of United Community Council are preparing to determine the allocations to the 58 local health, welfare and recreation agencies. The first meeting in the two-month process is Nov. 1.

The purpose of the budgeting is to channel UA funds to local services in accordance with the over-all needs of Columbus and Franklin County.

Rev. Jacob J. Ashburn, 300 S. Oakley, and Mrs. L. E. Saunders, 138 Powhatan-av, are members of the UCC Budget and Admissions Committee.

Charges Filed

Three Hilltop youths were arrested Oct. 24 when their stolen auto stalled, climaxing a 25-mile chase, sheriff's deputies reported.

Police have filed delinquency charges against the trio.

The boys were caught at Rt. 104 and White-rd after the chase during which times cars sped up to 100 miles per hour. One of the pursuing officers, a London, O. patrolman, fired 11 shots at the car.

WANT MORE BOYS IN PROGRAM

Clubs, Churches Help Area Scout Roundup

The Southwest District of Boy Scouts has taken steps to increase scouting in the area.

On Tuesday, Oct. 23, nine churches in the Southwest District area met with Hilltop Lions and Kiwanians at the Ternstedt plant on W. Broad-st. Churches represented were: Our Saviour Lutheran, Grove City Methodist, Harrisburg Methodist, Jackson Methodist, Hilltop Community Christian, St. John's Lutheran of Columbus and St. John's Lutheran of Grove City, St. Mary Magdalene and Lincoln Baptist.

Each church promised to organize Boy Scout, Cub Scouts and Explorer Scout groups, which would enable approximately 800 more boys to join in scouting.

Five other churches have expressed interest in forming units early in 1963.

Jerry Spears, Jr., presided at the meeting which featured talks by Arthur D. Bogan, Central Ohio Scout Council president, and a film on scouting activities recently completed by Bill McCormick, a member of the public relations committee of the Southwest District.

Spears thanked civic clubs, General Motors and the Hartley newspapers for supporting the event.

The second phase of the program is taking place among the 60 active units already organized.

Boys eight to 16 years of age are being invited to join existing Scout groups. Southwest District chairman, Jim Matheny, emphasized that scouting is available to more than 8,000 boys in the district and reported that only about 1,700 boys are now enrolled in units.

All 60 units are now taking part in a "Go Roundup" program designed to extend scouting to all interested boys.

Those interested in joining the Scouts may call the Boy Scout office at 253-5513, or visit the office at 1428 E. Broad-st for further information.

warm response from state officials Lombard said he is going to press the case until more safeguards are assured. "I've seen boys top that fence five time in the past two weeks," he declared. "It's only 10 or 12 feet high and can be taken easily."

"I think it's just a matter of time until one of these young men will be misjudged. He'll break into one of these houses and do serious crime. Some of them already have records of serious violence."

Lombard pointed to TSCO (Training Institution for Central Ohio just to the rear of JDC) and added: "If the state can spend a million dollars for a place like that which can't even be staffed, why not spend some of the money to beef up a place like JDC instead?"

Lombard said he has lived at the address 10 years. He has a 12-year-old daughter and a son, 13. He said the JDC inmates often shouted obscenities to the children as they walked along the street outside the fence.

"Right now I am chiefly concerned about the welfare of my family," he said.

JDC superintendent Grant was not available for comment Tuesday, but another staff administrator, Dr. Leabelle Ross said hospital attendants this week were ordered to give closer supervision to inmates. A similar order was given last summer after a handful of boys barricaded themselves from authorities in a room for several hours.

"If I lived near this place I certainly would keep my doors locked," Dr. Ross replied when asked if she thought such incidents could happen again.

Why Halloween All Year?

Halloween soon will be here and gone again—or will it?

The pranks and, even worse, the vandalism usually associated with Halloween have become a year round business. Costly business in terms of property destroyed.

There are those who say Halloween in the 1960's is a tame affair compared to the rugged vandalism of bygone years. Could be. But, now we seem to have this kind of destruction all the year through.

Witness some of the random things that have come to our attention in the last six months: the smashing of hundred of dollars worth of grave markers and mausoleum properties in cemeteries, especially Greenlawn; juveniles last June let loose most of the fire extinguishers in West High; the parsonage being built near the new Glenwood Methodist Church has suffered window and door breakage three times in as many weeks; a car, parked beside Hilltop Lutheran Church is stolen in broad daylight and two days later recovered behind a trailer park, stripped of its accessories.

Contractors, especially, bear the brunt of malicious mischief. They complain almost daily that youngsters put sand or water into the fuel tanks of the machinery, that unfinished buildings are broken into and tools are wrecked or stolen. Window smashing is perhaps the No. 1 pastime of punks who have no respect for property.

Last week's attack on Rosemore school resulted in a roundup of youngsters hardly in their teens who surrendered a whole arsenal of grisly handmade tools of violence.

It has been the policy of Hartley Newspapers to play down juvenile crime — we prefer to give due space to the 90 or 95 per cent of the fine youth who keep out of trouble. Nevertheless, there seems to be an almost cancer-like decay of our moral fiber which will ruin us if it is not checked.

Police juvenile workers declare they are doing the best they can with their limited resources. But, too often their good work is cut down by indulgent judges and indifferent parents.

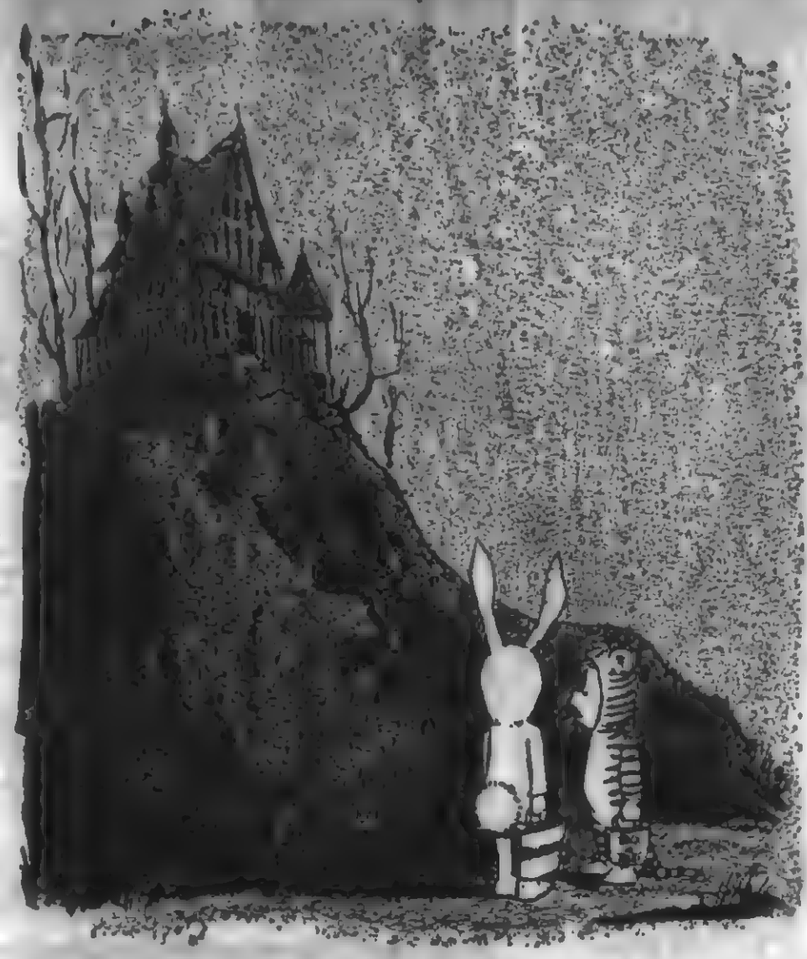
Indulgence and indifference — they can bring catastrophe. The whole country looked the other way when Castro incited his first rumble in Cuba. Now the situation has gotten out of hand.

Are we unwittingly creating monsters like this in miniature in our own communities? Let's rip off the mask of complacency! Visit the courtrooms, then choose judges with backbone the next time you vote. Work through your church, community council, or simply as an individual to help the police do their job.

But most of all it is imperative that we be responsible parents, setting an example of decency for our children.

Advice For Young Spooks:

Witches aren't the only thing stirring on Halloween, warn the Columbus Fire Prevention Bureau and the American Medical Association.



There are painful burns and even more tragic accidents waiting to pounce on masked youngsters carrying candle-lighted pumpkins or dressed in flimsy, flammable clothing.

Here are a few simple precautions you can take to help insure that the tot makes it home safe and sound.

- Don't let the child wear a mask. It may slide down over the eyes and block his vision. If the mask covers the entire head, there is danger of suffocation. Paint on a false face with eyebrow pencil, grease paint or burnt cork.
- Fit costumes snugly so they don't catch on hedges, bushes, fences. Don't make them long enough to trip the child.
- Lighted candles or torches are definitely ruled out. If a light is needed, make it a flashlight. Don't use lighted pumpkins indoors, either, where they can set fire to curtains or decorations.
- Make your costumes of bright colors, with stripe of reflective tape. Avoid dull black clothing which is hard to see.
- For extra safety, costumes may be flameproofed by dipping in a simple solution: three quarts of warm water, seven ounces of borax and three ounces of borac acid.
- Homeowners can help make Halloween safe by removing hazards such as lawn furniture, garden tools, trash cans. Leave porch lights burning, front and back, until the spooks retire.
- If you're out in your auto on Halloween, slow down and drive with extra caution and alertness.
- Keep pets inside, especially dogs. The strange costumes might frighten animals.

The safest Halloween of all is a party at your home or a neighbor's for the kids on the block. This will provide an evening of fun and will keep them off the street.

AROUND EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

Named To Board . . .

Harold Nelson, veteran teacher at Dominion Junior High School, has been named to the State Teachers Retirement Board. The 54-year-old Nelson succeeds Charles E. Crouch, retired Hamilton County superintendent, who resigned. The term expires Aug. 31, 1963.

A Personnel Problem . . .

The immense job of staffing Columbus schools was underscored when the personnel office revealed that 4,025 interviews had been held during the period from September, 1961, to September, 1962, in search of 617 teachers.

AEW Week Set . . .

American Education Week, when all citizens are invited to visit their schools for a full report on their activities, will be held this year from Nov.11-17. Educators estimate that 30 million Americans will visit the schools, during the annual week this year.

Friend Of Rt. 40 Cites Fate Of Rt. 42 Areas

To The Editor:

Last Sunday we drove to Mansfield, O., and went from Delaware to Mansfield over Route 42. Until two years ago it was a busy highway, with prosperous filling stations, restaurants, motels, etc. Now it is a deserted country road. Stations closed, restaurants boarded up, small town dead looking, and all because of the new I-71.

Now Columbus is faced with a new threat to all the same things with the talk of the new Route 70 to Springfield. People will not leave super highways to shop in small towns or to hunt motels or restaurants. They use the ones that border the road.

This should be of great concern to the businessmen along Route 40. Just a ride to Mansfield along 42 from Delaware will show what I mean.

Perhaps Route 40 could be saved with overpasses and no left turns. A lot could be done on less than the $36,000,000 the new road will cost.

UNICEF— Hoodwink Or Humanitarian?

To The Editor:

We are approaching Halloween with its traditional "Tricks or Treats" activities for children. Undoubtedly there will again be attempts by a few critics to sabotage collections for such bona fide drives as UNICEF and the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP).

It is exceedingly unfortunate that a few persons attempt to destroy such works of mercy that serve to feed children and suffering refugees, many of whom are the victims of communism and other forms of political oppression.

Of all the countries of Europe that have receievd UNICEF aid in the last eleven years, (Austria, Finland, Germany, Greece, Italy, Poland, Spain and Yugoslavia) only two have communist governments. These are Poland and Yugoslavia, which countries are also receiving other forms of government aid from the U. S. These governments are both giving difficulties to the Russian government by some display of independence of the Moscow directives. If the U. S. government aids these countries, why is it wrong if some UNICEF funds go there to feed hungry children and families? This might be a strong form of anti-communism.

In 1961, out of a total of more than $30 million dollars allocated by UNICEF, less than one percent went to families and children in these countries.

Since 1950, five such countries, including Cuba, have received aid and all five of them have contributed to UNICEF. There is no connection between "giving" and "receiving" countries for UNICEF is designed to aid children and families. This is done where the need exists and the government agrees to do its share to make the aid effective.

Aid is provided in the form of goods and commodities. It is not a matter of simply giving cash to a government to do with as it wants.

It is to be hoped that citizens will remember these facts when the smear campaign is unleashed against UNICEF and similar programs of community service.

G. Weir Hartman
Executive Director
Columbus Area Council of Churches

To The Editor:

The main burden of financing UNICEF is on the taxpayers of the United States who carry about 80 per cent of the burden. The main purpose of the Halloween campaign is to put churches on record as favorable to UNICEF. This helps to get more of the taxpayrs' money out of Congress.

UNICEF does not deal directly with the people of the receiving countries as many Americans have been misled into believing. It is strictly a supply agency, and merely sees the aid to the port of entry. From there, the World Health Organization, the Food and Agriculture Organization, and the country receiving the aid take over.

Communist governments have representatives on UNICEF's governing board. Communist dictatorships and governments which lean towards the communist propaganda line receive a large proportion of the UNICEF "aid."

It is also consistent with communists to ignore the real meaning of Christmas — the birth of Christ.

At least 33 per cent of the artists who drew the 1959 UNICEF cards are or have been connected in some way with Communist-front organizations. The greetings printed on the UNICEF cards also contain the greeting printed in the Russian language, but no cards are sold in atheistic Russia.

Do you intend to let your child collect Halloween UNICEF pennies for the communist anti-Christ dictator?

A Life That Is Real Is Centered In God

When we ask the question, "What is life?" the answer we receive depends upon the individual's viewpoint. One person's viewpoint of life would be a very drab extistence for another person.

Rev. Gossett

Life, as most people think of it, is an endless pursuit of things such as; wealth, position, popularity or a desire to become famous in the eyes of the world.

Others think of life as having a good home and family and an income that gives them a feeling of security for the three score and ten years they are allowed here on earth. There are other illustrations we could use but this will suffice for the present.

Now we come to the question, "As good as some of these things are, are they all that life holds for us?" God's inspired revelation to us, the Bible, says no. "And this is the record that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life." I John 5:11-12. Therefore life, both temporal and eternal, centers not in things but in the person of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

All over the world medical science is waging a losing battle against the ravages of human disease which begins at the cradle and ends at the grave. Why? Paul in his Epistle to the Romans gives the answer. Romans 7:24, "O wretched man that I am! Who shall deliver me out of this body of death."

Therefore this earthly life is not life but progressive death. Life that is real is centered in God, the Savior and giver of all life. In the earthly ministry of Jesus, he said, "Life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. The life is more than meat, and the body more than raiment." Luke 12:15, 23. In this chapter Jesus calls a rich man a fool, not because he was rich but because he had left God out of his life. Let us not be so foolish.

Four New Books Enrich Outdoor Scene

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Publishers are quick to follow the interests of people, and you can judge the popularity of a sport or hobby by the number of books and magazines on the subject. The outdoor scene has been enriched considerably in recent years by a great variety of fine books.

I have just been reading from four books, all by Doubleday incidentally, which would fall into this category. "A Sense of Nature" by John Hay and Arline Strong, is unusual in that it is primarily a picture book. It is short, with its 128 pages taken up with large photographs that speak for themselves.

Photographer Arline Strong has done an excellent job of capturing outdoor adventure as seen through the eyes of youngsters. The accompanying written material, by John Hay, is almost poetic. You might expect this if you had read Hay's two previous books "Nature's Year" and "The Run."

In this book photographer and writer followed a group of children on their wanderings one summer on Cape Cod and have related their adventures as they happened. "A Sense of Nature" would be excellent for both adults and children.

The other three books are part of a "Made Simple" series, and are aimed at beginners. These three cover the study of birds, fish and trees. All are paper backed and are inexpensive.

In "The Study of Birds Made Simple" the range of topics is comprehensive and therefore cursory, ranging from evolution to birds as pets. In between are such varied phases of bird study as physical adaptations, behavior patterns, classification, courtship, food protection and defense, migration, photographing birds and many others.

All of the books are quick and to the point, and they invade the scientific realm with a light touch.

They are well illustrated with line drawings, and these are particularly helpful. The one of fish has even tackled a larger subject than the bird book, for both fresh and saltwater must be touched upon. More easily condensed into such a beginner's volume is the subject of trees, but this has been done before.

"A Sense of Nature" is outstanding, and the others are adequate. All would be fine additions to an outdoor library.

COUNTRY EDITOR

He founded and for nearly a score of years edited an important publication for the state of Ohio. That was his second career. Before that, as the scion of three generations of newspaper men he published and edited, for almost half a century, a county weekly in Pomeroy, O. Now, at 83, since he took to "pasture" in Fairfield County's Baltimore, he still takes a keen interest in the show.

We speak of Oliver Hartley (not kin to our publisher). A name in itself means nothing to a casual reader, but we speak of Mr. Hartley as a representative senior citizen, now necessarily grounded, but still aware.

As a "country editor" in the days before unions and specializations, Mr. Hartley learned and often had to do everything about getting his paper on its way. But his chief job was writing hundreds of columns and putting copy together. Items from county correspondents came in, but Mr. Hartley always gave much thought to his editorials. Too often his saddest task was to write the valedictory for his friends, young and old.

Country editors, along with family doctors, may be on the way to join the dodo. Perhaps we shall never know how great was their influence in molding opinion and encouraging efforts spent in building this nation. This is a tribute to one of them as representing all. As they have their memories, so may we remember them.

It says here . . . . . .

Let the best of the past be the seed of the future.

Leftovers . . . by John McPeek

What's Lovely About Lovelorn Columns?

Like most women, my wife, Virginia, loves to read lovelorn columns.

McPeek

So who cares? It's a harmless outlet for the girls to release their natural nosy instincts. It gives them a vicarious sense of snooping on the neighbors.

In my wife's case, it even gives her an occasional chance to take a little jab at me. Like if she's reading a column in which some whining shrew is complaining about the habits of her spouse, almost invariably Virginia will insist on reading the column aloud.

The motivation is obvious: Virginia thinks I may recognize a "bad habit" of my own and take steps to correct it.

But her third-grade psychology won't work. Through years of effort, I have developed a marvelous skill of being able to completely block out such dribble and still give the appearance that I am all rapturous attention.

This is an especially valuable skill because I can't stand those simple columns. Every so often I will read one to see if it is as horrible as the last one I read.

For example, let me cite this nonsensical complaint I read in such a column yesterday.

A 36-year-old woman, who described herself as a lovely wife and mother of two teenage children, slobbered up the page with this:

"My husband and I don't get along. He has a good job but spends all his money for whiskey. He works every day during the week, but from Friday night until Monday morning he stays drunk.

"My real problem is that I am in love with another man, and he is in love with me, but he is married and I don't see any future for us in this affair. What do you advise?

The answer, which I didn't bother to read, probably was the typical goop that didn't say a thing.

But I'd like to give an answer:

"Honey, what in sam heck makes you think that if you ran off with this other jerk that you wouldn't drive him to drink, too?

"It's quite obvious that the only reason your husband is a souse-head is because he can't stand to spend the weekends with you sober.

"So, forget the prospective sucker. Stick with your husband and instead of trying to improve him, do a little work on yourself.

"If that doesn't cure the problem, take up a hobby. Maybe you can make lamps and use bottles for bases."

PS: Perhaps a little snort or two might not even hurt you. Could make you forget about blubbing all your troubles in newspapers.

Hilltop First Year Great Books Group Plans Meeting

The Hilltop first year Great Books discussion group will meet Monday, Nov. 5, from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Columbus Main Library, State and Grant-sts. The reading and discussion will be Plato's "Crito and Apology."

This group meets every two weeks and will discuss a new work at each meeting. The regular reading assignments give participants an opportunity to do the reading they have always planned and to exchange ideas on great ideas with fellow citizens at the Great Books round-table.

There is no tuition and no special educational background is required. The sessions are not by any means book reviews but extremely lively discussions of issues in the great books that are related to contemporary problems.

Books to be discussed in the future include works of Plato, Aristotle, Shakespeare, Thoreau and others.

Participants may supply their own books, borrow them from friends or the library, or purchase inexpensive paper bound editions from the Great Books Foundation.

Further information regarding the Great Books program can be obtained from the Public Library or by calling Mrs. Walker Lowman, HU. 8-8383.

"Materiel Command will be responsible for providing weapons and equipment to the Army," General Besson explained in a recent address at Rock Island Arsenal, Ill.

"We will integrate and lead the efforts of 166,000 Army civilian personnel and 20,000 military, plus countless millions in industry.

"Probably, our major objective is to reduce the time it takes to get a good idea translated into equipment in the hands of soldiers in the field.

"In the past it has generally taken at least seven years to turn an idea into hardware. Our target is now four years."

LINNS VISIT EUROPE ON THREE WEEKS TOUR

A visit with old friends and the meeting of new ones, as well as visits to England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Belgium and Holland, made their three-weeks' trip to Europe memorable for Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Linn of 1029 Binns-blvd.

Mrs. Linn, the former Karen Reber, is a teacher at Binns Elementary, and her husband is a professional engineer with North American Aviation.

They spent part of their tour with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Beidel, former Hilltoppers, meeting them in Heidelberg, Germany, for two days, and later in Paris for a visit in that city.

Beidel, a mechanical engineer, was recently promoted to assistant manager of the Timken plant in Colmar, France.

In England, Mrs. Linn met her pen pal, Mrs. Olwen Melling, for the first time. The two had corresponded since early elementary years. The Linns and the Mellings toured the English country side.

A short stop was made in Lisbon, Portugal, on the return trip to the United States by jet, on Sept. 18.

WINDSOR CASTLE is among the happy memories of Europe, to be relived again and again through the many slides taken by Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Linn during their three weeks abroad.

Mrs. Robert Nekervis is county area volunteer chairman.

Area volunteers, representing all 20-area mental health committees of Franklin County, will gather to hear Harry Milt, author of current best seller, "Master Your Tensions and Enjoy Living Again," and the director of public relations of the National Association for Mental Health.

Following luncheon there will be a tour of the Columbus Children's Psychiatric Hospital, 800 N. Nelson-rd.

Former Ohioans Like Leisurely Pace Of Florida Living

ON THE LEFT is former Columbusite Mrs. Richard G. Williams with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Howard, as they greeted this group of newsmen from all over the country. Every new family moving to Port Charlotte is given a hearty welcome from most of the people in the six-year-old community. A population of 20,000 is expected by 1965.

IT'S SUN AND FUN after all the industrious years for Marion and Olga Gray. They, and over 10,000 like them, enjoy "re-new-ment" living in booming Port Charlotte. Marion, who is president of Port Charlotte World War I Veterans, is retired from Columbus General Depot. The Grays formerly lived at 284 N. Yearling-rd.

IT'S ALWAYS a good time when folks from back home get together. Here, left to right, are former Hilltop residents, Ed Witherspoon, Lee Witherspoon, Jerry Watson and wife, Billie, expounding on the merits of living in Port Charlotte as Hartley Newspapers Publisher C. Carlton Hartley absorbs their pleasantries as well as the sunshine.

By C. CARLTON HARTLEY

Seeing is believing!

Some forty newsmen from all over Canada and USA had an opportunity this past week to see what has been done in the way of development of whole new cities in Florida. The believing followed automatically.

After arriving at Miami International Airport the newsmen were delivered to Port St. Lucie Country Club where they were housed as guests of the General Development Co. All the delights and good things that go with southern hospitality were forthcoming.

Port St. Lucie in itself has become a very attractive development and hundreds of northern residents are finding this a delightful place in which to live. It is one of the more attractive developments in that area. Golfers and fishermen are especially at home.

On a flight across Florida we had an opportunity to see from the air that the vastness of undeveloped areas predicts much future growth.

When our plane put down at Port Charlotte we found, as usual, that folks from back home are always welcome.

Within minutes after our arrival I had the pleasure of a hearty welcome from a long-time friend from Columbus, Ed Witherspoon. Ed was in the appliance business on the Hilltop for many years.

Ed is now a full fledged Floridian and Port Charlotte has no better one-man Chamber of Commerce. In ten minutes he can give you more reasons for settling there than the development companies have been able to put into print. His enthusiasm has paid off, in that he is finding the sale of real estate down there to be quite lucrative.

Later, following a special luncheon at the Yacht Club, we had the pleasure of being joined by Lee Witherspoon, wife of Ed, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Watson, also former Columbusites.

Jerry and Billie Watson have been in Port Charlotte long enough for Jerry to test out one of their very fine golf courses and to quickly cop the first flight championship. They, too, swear that no place is finer than Port Charlotte.

Mrs. Witherspoon is president of the Port Charlotte Women's Golf Association, and plays organ at the Presbyterian Church.

At the luncheon "folks from home" included Mr. and Mrs. Marion Gray, former Whitehall residents. Mr. Gray, on retirement from Columbus General Depot, decided the sunny clime was for him and continues to have that satisfaction.

Also present was Mrs. Richard G. Williams. She and Mr. Williams moved there in December of 1958 and are now considered as real "old timers" at Port Charlotte since they were among the first to establish homes there. She keeps herself quite busy as the local reporter for the daily Fort Myers News-Press. Everyone there knows "Georgia."

As I got off the bus from the airport I noticed a lady anxiously searching the group for an acquaintance. She was looking for someone from West Virginia. I told her no West Virginia papers were represented in the crew but that since my early years were spent in that state I would be happy to adopt her. And so came about my association with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Howard, formerly of Sharpless, W.Va., but who have many acquaintances in Central Ohio.

Every new family moving to Port Charlotte gets a royal welcome from most of the people in town. In addition to golfing, swimming, boating, fishing or just plain "doing nothing," there is a lot of warm friendship developed among the many fine folks there.

10,000th Resident Greeted

One of the events of that day's trip was the welcoming ceremony for the 10,000th new resident, a Canadian couple who had the royal red carpet rolled out for them in a big way. They were given a van load of gifts.

With just six years behind it, Port Charlotte has become the fastest growing area in Florida and a metropolitan residential area is in the making. It is estimated the population will be 20,000 by 1965 and up to 75,000 by 1970.

General Development offers a wide variety of homes and home sites. Most attractive and well built homes range from $7220 to $29,500. Prices include lot, paved street, sidewalk, landscaping, city water and sewerage. The $5000 Florida homestead tax exemption is attractive.

It was our further pleasure to visit Marvin and Bob Yerke, Ralph Trachsel, Mac Dews and Arnold Colabrese all associated with Marvin C. Yerke Associates, Inc., 232 S. High-st, Columbus, local representatives of General Development.

I had been briefed on what I might see by Harold Cramer, 570 Wilshire-rd, also associated with the Yerke firm, and can add to his prediction that "seeing is believing."

ORANGES GROW inside as well as outside in Florida. It was discovered by these Columbusites at the General Development annual sales meeting at Port St. Lucie this past week. Left to right are Ralph Trachsel, Marvin Yerke, Robert Yerke, all of Marvin Yerke Associates of this city, and C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of Hartley Newspapers. Yerke Associates Inc. is local representative of General Development.

Oppose Plans For IS 70 In Madison County

Some 300 Madison County residents attended the Highway Department public hearing in London last Thursday night.

What was felt to be "vague and roundabout" answering on some of the queries addressed to the highway officials caused what was termed "open hostility" on the part of the citizens.

Biggest objection of the Madison County citizens was that a lapse of only nine days was allowed between the publishing of proposed plans for Interstate 70 and the date of the hearing.

LIONS PREPARE FOR CHRISTMAS SALE

BUSY since Kite August, with their big yearly money-raising project for the year, the Franklin Heights Lions club members are up to their ears in Christmas trees — the small decorative type, that is. Members went to North Carolina and brought back loads of huge pine cones. Decorated with sparkle, glitter, and Christmas balls, these cones have been made into ornamental Christmas trees by club members. The basement of Lester Yerian's home at 381 Galloway-rd is stacked full of the decorations. In the picture left to right are: Lester Yerian, Ed Le Captain, Bill Rogers, Larry Judson, Randy White, as they work on another batch of ornaments. The sale gets under way Nov. 1 and continues until Christmas or until supplies are exhausted. Proceeds go to the club's sight-saving work with school children.

Leach Wins Judges' Nod In Campaign

Judge Robert E. Leach of Franklin County Common Pleas Court has not only won the esteem of Columbus lawyers, but also of other Common Pleas judges throughout Ohio, according to John W. King, 1620 E. Broad-st, chairman of the Re-Elect Judge Leach Committee.

Leach, a candidate for re-election, was overwhelmingly recommended by lawyers voting in the recent Columbus Bar Association Poll King said.

Prior to this recognition, Leach was appointed to represent all Common Pleas judges of Ohio on the Ohio Judicial Council. That organization, headed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, maintains a continuous study of Ohio's judicial system.

Judge Leach was elected to the court in 1954 to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge John R. King. Prior to his election, Leach served as chief counsel to the Attorney General of Ohio.

A native of Columbus, Judge Leach attended Columbus public schools. He was graduated from South High school and later the Ohio State University Law School.

He served three and one-half years in the U.S. Army, and presently he and Mrs. Leach reside at 325 E. Longview-av.

Sunday's play will help decide which players from the league will be selected to the All-Star team. Attendance at Bearcat contests this season have drawn an ever increasing number of parents and adult supporters. A total of over 3,000 spectators witnessed the Ohio State Fair exhibition game and the homecoming game at Starling Field two weeks ago.

Central Faces East Friday In City 'Title' Clash

GOT A TIGER BY THE TAIL?

Pirates Drop Scots, Linden Spanks West

By KENNY ASH and BOB LYNCH

The Central Pirates romped over the Walnut Ridge Scotties, 41-6, Friday, setting up a probable championship game with East's Tigers this weekend.

Both clubs have identical 5-0 marks going into the game that, barring any unforseen upsets in the final two weeks of play, should determine the title winner in the City League this season.

Quarterback Tom Fullove slipped through the middle of the line and ran 35 yards for Central's first touchdown in the opening period.

Paul Frasure, Central fullback, powered his way seven yards for the first score in the second quarter. Shortly later Fullove scooted around left end and raced 60 yards for the last Pirate score in the first half.

Dave Feyh, Scotties' quarterback, connected on a 12-yard touchdown pass to Dennis Day and Central's halftime lead was cut to 20-6.

BILL SOLOMON was first to score in the second half for the Pirates on a seven-yard run.

The Pirates moved the ball to the 35 yard line on their next series where Fullove fired a pass to George Broadnax who ran to the five yard line. Solomon charged over tackle on the next play for the score.

Walnut Ridge again failed to move the pigskin and the Pirates fought down to the two yard line with Broadnax driving in for the last score of the game.

THE WEST High Cowboys took another one on the chin last Friday night, as they were defeated by the Linden-McKinley Panthers, who came back from a halftime deficit to win 20-8.

The Panthers opened the scoring for the evening following a punt to the Cowboys which was fumbled on the West 24. The Panthers recovered, and six plays later had racked up a six-pointer as fullback Bob McNamee blasted over from the two-yard line with three minutes gone in the second period.

Following the kickoff, the Cowboys launched a 47-yard scoring march which consumed eight plays, and ended with a 27-yard pass from sophomore quarterback John Morlan to end Lawrence Stewart. Rich Neely converted, and the Cowboys led for the first time in several weeks, 6-6.

HOWEVER, their advantage was short-lived, as the Panthers came roaring back in the third quarter to score on a 23-yard scoring pass to Dave Adams, putting Linden back in the lead at 12-8.

The final Panther tally came after Linden recovered a Cowboy fumble on the West 36. Ten plays later, the Panther line opened another hole for McNamee, and he bulled over from the one. The conversion was good, and the Panthers had increased their lead to 20-8.

Heart Fund Tourney Set

Earl Flora, former local sports scribe, has been named chairman of the Sixth Annual Heart Fund Bowling Tournament to be conducted at 39 local lanes Nov. 11-17 inclusive.

Working with Flora as chairmen of lanes are Mrs. Richard Glenn Holliday, Sr., 3755 Kard-rd. and Mrs. Russell H. Keyser, 1807 Inchcliff-rd.

BOWLERS, Flora explained, compete in the Heart Fund Tournament at the same time they play in their respective leagues that week by donating $1.00 and filling out an entry blank. Those at each lane who roll the greatest number of pins over their latest established league average will be declared winners and will receive cash prizes. The scoring system, he said, gives all league bowlers a chance to win, including the low-average bowler.

The tournament is sponsored by the Franklin County Heart Council with the cooperation of bowling lane proprietors. Entry blanks will be available at the lanes.

Turkey Shoot Set For F-H

The Franklin Heights Lions and Booster clubs will hold a turkey shoot on three consecutive Sundays at the rear of the high school on Demorest Rd.

The 'shoot', which will be held Oct. 28, Nov. 4 and Nov. 11, is under the direction of John E. Crego, 3378 Stephen-dr, the chairman of the ways and means committee.

Turkeys and hams will be awarded as prizes and free coffee will be provided for competitors. The fee is one dollar per person per shoot wit' all proceeds going to a community project to be announced later.

'Jamboree' Star Scott Shares TV Duties With University Hospital

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Amusement Editor

AMUSEMENTS

Inter-office memo to Classified Ad director Joe Knapik:

If you ever need a testimonial regarding the effectiveness of want ads, suggest you contact Billy Scott, WLW-C, TV 4.

Handsome William, current star of WLW-C's "Jamboree" program aired locally week-day nights at 7, talked briefly about his career — its past and present — between bites of a ham plate luncheon and while downing aspirin to fight a pesky head cold.

The country and western singer (he says he detests the word "hillbilly") explained how newspaper want ads played an important role in his active 35 years. And, that's considerable, too, when you figure that they partially accounted for:

1. His trip to Ohio (he's a Francisville, Ind., native).
2. His full-time job as assistant personnel director at University Hospital, and
3. His wife.

"I got my first big job with a group called the 'Melody Rangers' after placing an ad in Billboard (show biz trade paper)," Scott remembered, "I took up with them in Fort Wayne (Ind.) in 1948 and they got a chance to work in Ohio and I followed with them."

The band played for a time at WRFD radio here. It was a small group with a talented vocalist named Helen Harris. She became Mrs. Scott in 1950.

From WRFD, the guitar strummer launched his TV career — at WLW-C incidently—with a woman who's name has become almost synonymous with his — Sally Flowers — on "Meetin' Time at Moore's." ("People still stop me on the street and ask, 'How's ol' Sally,'" he says.)

The show closed for Billy in 1957 (and a few months later for Sally) when the Scotts got a chance to do a husband and wife act on "Midwestern Hayride" out of Cincinnati. The couple continued to live at their 3939 Pegg-av address here and commuted for the weekly show.

In between, there were personal appearances. "But, this wasn't enough," he said and decided to get another job in 1959.

He turned to the want ads again and this time found an opening in the typing pool in University Hospital's Medical Records Department.

He was told, however, that males weren't being considered but was offered, instead, a position as an interviewer in the personnel department. In three short years he was named to his present executive position.

Then, "Jamboree" came along.

In order that there are no conflictions between the hospital and the show duties, the Scotts video tape two of the shows three nights a week.

This is probably what is meant by "Scotts Taped" and the adhesiveness of Billy's love for the entertainment world rivals that of the sticky cellophane strip product.

The Scotts are quite active in their community, too. Billy finds time to serve as chairman of the Parish Organization Committee at St. Luke Lutheran. Helen is active in the PTA and the CCL [illegible].

They have three children, Jerry (11), Linda (10) and Lori (two).

What's ahead for the Scotts? Well, if "Jamboree" continues to be as sure-fire as its bright beginning, he'll be at his WLW-C "homestead" for quite awhile.

If it doesn't, he'll probably just continue at the hospital and if a local opportunity in the entertainment field presents itself, he might consider it.

But, no "big time" — nationally — for him. "My family means too much to me for that," he said sincerely.

It was easy to see that he meant it.

Plenty Of Entertainment On OSU Campus; Waring First

Famed Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians will present "Wonderful World of Music" at Mershon Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday (Oct. 26) . . . Waring will be closely followed by the twenty-six young cowboys traveling with conductor, George Bragg, on the Texas Boys' Choir tour which brings it to Mershon at 8 p.m. Wednesday (Oct. 31). A real entertainment double-threat on the OSU campus.

Speaking of Ohio State, let us not forget University Theatre where William Saroyan's famous Pulitzer-Prize play, "The Time of Your Life," opens as the first production of the 1962-63 season on Tuesday (Oct. 30) . . . It runs until Saturday, Nov. 3.

Movie note: The title of Edmund Purdom's film "Wild Cargo" has been changed to "White Slave Ship" . . . The former title wasn't considered wild enough . . . Nat King Cole was guest of honor Oct. 3 at a daughter-father dinner at upstate New York's Cazenovia Junior College where Cole's daughter, Carol, is a freshman . . . Douglas Fairbanks, Greer Garson and Lois Nettleton will star in "The Shadowed Affair"—an original Michael Dyne love story set against a strange and gripping background—to be broadcast in color Sunday, Nov. 4, from 10 to 11 p.m. on NBC-TV's "Du Pont Show of the Week" . . . That's Channel 4 for natives.

The talented Patrick M. Williams, pianist, organist, song-stylist among other things, is now holding down the fort at the Hi Timber Inn and Party House in the North End . . . Williams most recently tuned-up at the Biltmore on W. Broad-st before making his move.

'SO YOU WANNA BE A STAR...?'

NBC publicity department informs that youngsters have been writing TV scripts for their favorite shows and sending them to the network office hoping that they'll be picked to star . . . For instance, one young lady wrote a script for "Bonanza" color series (Sundays, 9-10 p.m.) and added: "I wrote the script, 'The Race.' I guess you're curious as to why I wrote it. I suppose the best of your writers ask for money in return for their work. Well, I'm not." Then she added:

"If you could possibly use my script, I wonder if, in return, you would allow my cousin, Marsha Lynn Garrett, who is 12, and me to come and try out for the parts of Jennifer and Kate."

To other 12-year-olds: You might note that in an entire season, only 34 scripts are purchased for "Bonanza" but don't let that discourage you.

WRONG NUMBER?

It was almost a reunion by telephone last week — it could have made for some red faces if the parties had gotten together.

WTVN-TV's "Dialing For Dollars" program — hosted by Sally Flowers and Gene Fullen — selected the name of Mrs. Frank Shephard from the directory to give $250 if she was at home.

She wasn't, though. Mrs. Shepard—better known by her first name, Betty—was hard at work at Morris Butler's assistant at WLWC, TV 4.

Sally and Betty have been friends for a long time. Miss Flowers recognized the name but there wasn't much she could do about it while on camera.

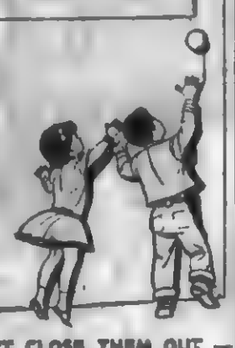
Appeals Judge John Duffey Keeps Backlog, Delay Down

Judge John J. Duffey of the Tenth District (Franklin County) Court of Appeals, who is a candidate for re-election, has tackled the problem of delays in appellate cases. As presiding judge of the court he has kept Franklin County cases moving by insisting that time limits be met, and by using a "drop list" and personal persuasion. He has kept the court ahead of its constantly increasing work.



Since early 1960 Judge Duffey has handled the assignment of the heavy case load of the court. Since the court sits in the state capital, its authority extends not only to the review of cases involving the people of Franklin County, but also to most of the operations of the state government. The rapid growth in both population and governmental activities has resulted in a persistent increase in the number of law suits filed each year.

Judge Duffey has attacked this problem vigorously. During his term as presiding judge the court not only held its own, but has decreased the backlog of pending cases. Legal experience and hard work is the formula Judge Duffey has used. He is an honor graduate from law school and holds the Juris Doctor degree. He practiced law and has served as a special assistant to the Franklin County prosecutor. As a professor of law he spent six years on the faculty at Ohio State University.

The judge has been active in civic and church affairs and has served as a member and vice-chairman of several governmental commissions. In 1961 the Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce awarded him the Distinguished Service Award for outstanding community service.

During World War II Judge Duffey enlisted in the army. He spent 14 months in the Pacific Theater. He is now completing a term as judge of the court of appeals. He, his wife and six children reside at 276 E. Kelso-rd.

Type II Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine Will Be Given Sunday, Nov. 4

The second step in the Sabin oral polio immunization program in Franklin County —the biggest and most effective community action program ever undertaken here — will take place Sunday, Nov. 4.

Type II Sabin oral polio vaccine, which immunizes against the Type II polio virus, will be given from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 118 Sabin Stations all over the county.

The location of the Sabin Stations will be the same as Sept. 30, the opening Sunday of the mass program aimed at knocking out polio in the community. More than 540,000 persons—three-fourths of the population of the county — received the Type I vaccine given during the first phase of the drive.

Dr. Richard L. Fulton, president of the Academy of Medicine of Columbus and Franklin County and head of the Sabin on Sunday committee, stressed that everyone over two months old should visit a Sabin Station Nov. 4 and receive the Type II vaccine . . . even those who for some reason did not participate in the initial part of the program.

"Type II vaccine is completely safe and harmless and 100 per cent effective," Dr. Fulton explained. "The United States Public Health Service urges that everybody — children, teenagers, and adults of all ages — take this vaccine. If all Franklin Countians do this, we'll be well on our way toward wiping out the threat of polio in this community."

Dr. Fulton said that those who failed to receive Type I vaccine can still take part in the remainder of the Sabin on Sunday drive. "Those who missed out earlier can go on with the rest of the program and then get the Type I vaccine from a private physician at a later date," he pointed out.

The system of distributing Type II vaccine will be the same as that used Sept. 30. Two drops of the odorless and tasteless vaccine will be placed in a small disposable cup of distilled water. For babies, two drops of the vaccine will be placed directly on the infant's tongue.

As before, a donation of 25 cents per person will be accepted. But those who can't afford it won't have to pay. They'll get their vaccine anyway.

DESTINATION?
Postal employees do their best to interpret accurately the addresses written on our mail. However, some are so hastily written, and so poorly addressed that they may never reach their intended destination. A good many people go hastily through life, not realizing that they are headed in the wrong direction. The church points the way to salvation and desires that all should choose the way of our Lord and Saviour.
TAKE TIME FOR THE LORD
ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY
EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH — THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR—

Urges People To Speak Out For Interchanges

TO THE EDITOR:

At the hearing at 9 a.m. in hearing Room 2 of the Ohio Department building (State Office Building) the following came out of the discussion, that will affect the Hilltop and points West:

At a point in front of the waterworks in Dublin-rd the river will be changed farther south approximately 300 feet to provide the start of new Rt. 1-70 west as a limited access highway. It will cross Grandview-av at a point approximately .3 of a mile south of Rt. 33 or Dublin-rd. At this point it is now planned to have a partial intersection to take on traffic westward and to exit travel from the west. It will then travel on a southwestern tangent over Scioto river approximately .4 of a mile from Grandview-av at the intersection with the New York Central R.R. It crosses McKinley-av approximately .1 of a mile east of Harper-rd. It then crosses Harper-rd approximately .1 of a mile from McKinley-av.

Present plans call for abandoning Harper-rd but extending a road from Harper-rd along south of new 1-70 to McKinley-av. The road then presses northwesterly crossing Harrison-rd approximately .4 of a mile west of McKinley-av, crossing Hague-av .1 of a mile south of Fisher-rd, crossing Fisher .1 of a mile west of Hague-av.

At this point present plans call for a partial intersection with the new 1-70. Traffic can go westward at this point and it can exit from the east. No provision is now planned for traffic going east or getting off from the west. Also it is not yet decided whether Hague and Fisher rise over the new highway or if the freeway will rise.

It will then continue northwestward crossing Wilson-rd approximately .6 of a mile from Fisher-rd. It will intersect and a clover leaf will be established at the western outerbelt coming from the north between Lincoln Village and Greiner-rd. A cloverleaf will be provided at Broad-st also from this western outerbelt.

1-70 is to cross Rome-Hilliard-rd about .1 of a mile north of Fisher-rd. No interchange is contemplated. It was pointed out that on the freeway four miles is the least planned between interchanges.

The route continues westward north of West Jefferson with an interchange at Rt. 29. Also Rt. 42.

There is discussion that there may be an interchange at Amity-rd.

REMARKS: In the close-in portion of the freeway it was pointed out that interchanges can be more frequent. There is a possibility there will be one at Wilson-rd. The sentiments of the people in these communities govern to a certain amount what will be done.

We need an intersection at Hague and Fisher with Route 1-70 passing overhead to serve the Hilltop community. We need an interchange at Wilson-rd to serve that part of the community especially Great Western Shopping Center to bring folks from other parts of town. We need an intersection at Rome-Hilliard-rd much more than at Amity-rd.

For the folks at West Jefferson an interchange should be made close to that community, probably East Pike.

What we do now will be what we will have in the future. If the Hilltop and the surrounding communities are to grow we need access from our interstate highways systems. Future trade on the Hilltop will be governed by the ease with which traffic can reach it. Let's go after complete intersections at all these points.

Draper and Van Heyde Should Be Returned

Franklin County is fortunate in having good candidates for every post to be filled at the election next Tuesday.

There are really no serious consequences possible as the result of this election. But we do feel that two special endorsements are in order.

We highly recommend Judge Robert M. Draper as an outstanding Common Pleas Judge and an independent thinker in his own right who believes in justice for all classes. We see no reason why Judge Draper should not be returned to this position.

Probate Judge Joseph Van Heyde too should be returned to his most important post.

Judge Van Heyde is now serving the unexpired term of the late Judge Roscoe Walcutt but has had ample time to fully demonstrate that Franklin County is fortunate in having a family man of his calibre as the judge of one of the county's most important courts.

Judge Van Heyde should be returned to the probate bench.

West High Promotes Program Of Fun Without Destruction

Based on past experiences, West High's students and faculty have concluded that nothing is hallowed on Halloween, and have pooled their efforts to make the holiday more enjoyable for everyone.

Plans for tonight's community parties found on page 3.

"Fun Without Destruction" is the theme at West, where the dramatics department has a few "tricks" up its theatrical sleeves to "treat" would-be vandals and offers enjoyment to the community.

For the past two days West's dramatics classes have been putting on plays for area elementary schools. The dramatic classes do all of their own artwork, select the costumes and make the sets.

Classes are divided into three groups of 30 students each, and are assigned to present 20-minute plays in grade schools.

Hours of rehearsals and set construction time are poured into this project to give near-professional performances.

Monday morning, the first group performed for John Burroughs youngsters, and Tuesday, the second group appeared at Chicago Avenue School. Wednesday the third group performed at Highland Avenue School.

The players are tutored by Mrs. Evelyn Hall, West's dramatics instructor and director. She was assisted by John Thomas, Ohio State University product, now student teaching at the Cowboy school.

How do these productions aid in holding down vandalism? Mrs. Hall explained it in this way:

"The plays are usually divided into two acts. The first act shows the wrong doings on Halloween, while the second act points out these wrongs and shows possible ways to prevent them."

"Mrs. Hall believes that such graphic telling of "The Halloween Story" will make an impression on elementary age students and keep them from following the lead of others along vandalistic lines.

The key seems to be "Mind Your Manners." And, we might add, "Don't spook unless spookin' to."

Leaf Cleaning Schedule Announced For West Area

Columbus leaf-cleaning crews will start the fall clean up Nov. 7, 1962.

The larger leaf crew will go north into the city's heaviest area. The smaller leaf crew will go west into the city's second heaviest area. They will first clean the area from the Scioto River to Central before going west of Central to the city limits.

The smallest leaf crew will go south into the city's fourth heaviest leaf area from Livingston-av to Hosack-st between High-st and Parsons-av.

These crews are scheduled to complete their assignments to converge into the University area during the Thanksgiving holiday.

Weather permitting, these areas will be completed by Nov. 26.

Suggestions are given to residents on how to handle leaves and facilitate leaf cleaning.

The three methods of disposing of leaves are burning between the hours of daylight and dark, placing them in regulation containers for regular

Funds For Flood Control Are Okayed

Money for planning a flood gate on Dry Run and a new levee along the Scioto River north to Dublin-rd was okayed by City Council Monday night.

Service Director Ernest Stork was granted $44,000 to engage the engineering services of the Burgess and Niple Co. The Dry Run improvement is described as a gated vehicular opening and will be installed at McKinley-av. The gate is expected to help prevent a recurrence of the flooding of Dry Run such as occurred in January of 1959.

The new Scioto levee will extend northward to a point in line with Fisher-rd, extended. About $25,000 of the appropriation also will go for improvements to Bliss Run in the East Side. Completion cost of the whole flood control package is expected to run between $400,000 and $500,000.

Council also earmarked $40,000 to rehabilitate the main sewage pumping station, south of Stimmel-rd along the Scioto. Allis-Chalmers Corp. is to do the work.

Monoxide Perils Found In Many Hilltop Homes

City inspectors found carbon monoxide in 44 out of 151 Hilltop homes as their campaign to stop the "silent killer" entered its third day Wednesday. The deadly gas was found issuing from a space heater and also from a hot water heater. Both were ordered shut off.

Without announcing exact locations in advance, men under the overall direction of Safety Director Albert Giles, chose the area between Wayne and Highland-avs and Sheridan and W. Broad-st for their house-to-house check.

Other inspection areas were picked in the South Side and in the OSU district. Teams totaling 30 men from the Housing Inspection Division and Fire Prevention Bureau are conducting the search.

Charles McGue, assistant chief housing inspector, said Hilltop violations included 22 unvented space heaters, eight blocked chimneys, 23 chimneys that had no cleanout facilities, 12 improperly vented space heaters, and 18 poorly vented hot water heaters.

McGue said the men made 246 Hilltop stops. Eighty-nine of the families were not at home and six more turned the inspectors away. No violations were found in 107 homes.

Homes given citations will be revisited in a week or so to see if faulty equipment has been corrected or eliminated, said James Worster, assistant safety director and co-chairman of the campaign. The campaign probably will continue through the entire week, he indicated.

So far, at least 30 persons have called to ask for special inspections in their homes. Others who wish this service may call the Division of Housing Inspection at CA. 1-2211 (between 7:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.); or the Fire Department (CA. 1-3132) after 4:30 p.m. Two housing inspectors are on constant emergency standby duty with the Fire Department.

Each inspector is equipped with special identification badges bearing his photograph.

The campaign got underway much earlier this year, but already carbon monoxide fumes have claimed the lives of an aged couple and sent five members of another family to the hospital.

The near West Side, checked in 1960 and '61, is not included in this year's drive.

Hilltoppers Involved In Election

Three Hilltop men will be in the race at the polls when Election Day comes to the nation, Tuesday, Nov. 6 Polls will open at 6:30 a.m. and close at 6:30 p.m.

Former City Clerk Russell Drake, 109 N. Chase-av, is the Democratic candidate for county commissioner. His opponent is William M. Hicks, president of the City Council. This year there are only two county jobs open, the other being the auditor's office.

Drake is a graduate of West High and attended Des Moines University. Formerly, he was a printer. During his tenure as city clerk, he directed the publishing of the Columbus City Code along with the health and traffic code.

John Dennis, Hilltop lawyer, is the Democratic candidate for state representative. He is a 1957 graduate of the Ohio State University Law School. He is in the general practice of law with Phillip V. Stout and Robert W. Phillips.

Judge Robert M. Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, is a Democratic candidate for the Court of Common Pleas. A graduate of Ohio State University Law School, he has been in the practice for 22 years. He has been Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for the past seven years.

Locally, the gubernatorial race between Michael V. DiSalle and James Rhodes has been of special interest to persons watching the State Hospital and Juvenile Diagnostic Center situations.

Other items of local concern include the proposed tax levy of three-tenths of a mill for the maintenance and operation of schools for the mentally retarded, and the proposed constitutional amendment concerning Sunday sales. Many of the first Sunday 'Blue Law' citations were made in this area.

FALL traditionally is time for sippin' cider through a straw, but next Sunday it will be Sabin vaccine instead. The second of three doses of the oral vaccine against polio will be dispensed in scores of schools and other community centers throughout the county. This scene was snapped by Photographer Harley Groom several weeks ago at Bishop Ready High School. The Bernard J. Kershers and daughter, Sandra, (pictured) of 2965 Parkside-dr and their five other children and two grandchildren will be back again Sunday for the second sip.

TAKE NEXT STEP

Second Doses Of Sabin Polio Vaccine To Be Given Sunday

Type II Sabin oral polio vaccine will be given from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 4, at 118 Sabin Stations throughout Franklin County.

The location of the Sabin Stations will be the same as Sept. 12, the opening day of the county's Sabin on Sunday campaign.

More than 540,000 persons —three-fourths of the population of the county—received Type I vaccine during the opening phase of the program. Sabin on Sunday officials expect that all of these, plus others, will take the Type II vaccine

The officials point out that the Type II vaccine is an important step in the drive to completely wipe out the threat of polio in the community. The United States Public Health Service has recommended that Type II vaccine be taken by everyone over two months old. Even older persons, who normally wouldn't get polio, should take this vaccine since it will prevent them from ever being a carrier of the disease.

Franklin Countians who did not receive the Type I vaccine should still participate in the remainder of the program, officials emphasize. They point out that the vaccine missed can be received later from private physicians.

The operation of the Sabin Stations Nov. 4 will be the same as the opening Sunday of the program. Two drops of the odorless and tasteless vaccine—which is completely safe and totally effective — will be dispensed in a small disposable cup of distilled water. In the case of babies, the vaccine will be placed directly on the infant's tongue.

As before, a donation of 25 cents per person will be accepted. But those who cannot afford it won't have to donate. They'll get the vaccine anyway.

Hartley Newspapers Given Award By United Appeal

Hartley Newspapers is one of the 19 firms to win the award of Excellence by the second report meeting of the United Appeal Campaign.

The award is new in this year's campaign. It represents the achievement of 90 per cent or more of employees giving their "fair share," at least one hour's pay per month.

This is a higher requirement than for the Plaque Award, which is given to those firms that attain 65 per cent employee participation at the fair-share rate. The Plaque Award has been won by Hartley Newspapers the past two years and it remains the basic measure of good giving.

Clarence Pearce, chairman of the UA campaign recently commented that, "the Excellence Award winning firms have helped greatly in getting the campaign off to a good start."

The firms winning the top award in addition to Hartley, as of the second report meeting, were:

EXCITEMENT'S HIGH AT CENTRAL

Title Looms As Pirates Defeat East

By JACK WITTENMEIER

Central's Pirates might well have won their biggest football victory since the 1949 season (when they last won a City League championship) Friday night with a crushing 43-0 win over a rugged East eleven— a victory that probably decided the City League title race.

Central Coach Frank Howe, who admittedly gets excited before a 'big game', even after 16 years at the Pirate helm, says he's 'a little more relaxed' now that it's over.

BUT HOWE pointed out that his team is far from being out of the league pressure cooker. "We have a situation now in which either team (Marion-Franklin and Eastmoor) can claim a successful season by knocking us off. We meet M-F at 3:45 Friday."

Howe admitted that the East win had to rate right up there with the big ones in his long tenure at Central. Such a win has to be a team effort but Howe was most pleased with the Pirate defense.

Willie Hoke and Gibson Hayes kept the swift Tiger backs from turning the ends while Julius Stone and Dale Thompson kept East stymied to the inside. Howe also praised his defense backs and the offensive play of Tom Fullove, Cliff Moxley and fullback Bill Solomon, who the Central coach figured played his best-ever game for the Pirates.

HOWE ADMITTED calling the big touchdown pass from Fullove to Broadnax late in the first half. "We had tried the same play several times earlier and we just finally happened to hit one."

The overflow crowd at Central watched in amazement as the Pirates completely dominated play and shut out the Tigers with comparative ease in a game that was figured to be a battle right down to the wire.

Offensively, East was never in the ball game, the Tigers' deepest penetration ending on Central's 20-yard line early in the third period. The Bucs piled up 324 yards in total offense, compared with East's 122, the Tigers' most successful in the air on Mike Gordon-to-Ken Fowlkes aerials.

DESPITE THE score, had it not been for East's defense, it could have easily been worse. Central drove inside East's 10 twice in the first half, fumbling once on the one-yard line, without cashing in a score.

A pass interference call inside the 10 set up Central's first score with quarterback Tom Fullove driving over from the one on a fourth down play

Teachers' Conference Slated November 2

"Education on the Move" is the theme of the 12th annual conference of Franklin County educators, which will meet Nov. 2 at the Youth Center on 17th-av. Sponsorship of the meeting is shared by the Franklin County Education Association and the Franklin County Board of Education.

After the 8 a.m. coffee hour, the first general session will get under way at 9 a.m. Presiding will be Lawrence J. Gillum, president of the Franklin County Education Association. The keynote speaker will be Dr. George E. Dickson, dean of the college of education at Toledo University. Other morning activities will be discussion groups presided over by leading educators in the Franklin County area.

A book exhibit will be available for viewing before the second general session which will feature Dr. Lyle Ashby, deputy executive secretary of the National Education Association as speaker. Participation in special interest groups will be the last event of the day.

All Franklin County schools will be closed Friday, Nov. 2, as all teachers will attend the conference.

Judge Grants Mistrial Motion In Beating Case

Judge Robert M. Draper granted a prosecution motion for a mistrial Monday in the trial of Carrel Roberts, 39, of Newport, Ky.

Roberts was on trial for abduction for purposes of extortion, armed robbery and burglary of an inhabited dwelling in the $8,100 robbery and beating of the Amlin Datz sisters.

The mistrial motion came during defense's cross-examination of Carl Kauffman, a farmer who worked the property of Margaret and Bertha Datz on a shares basis. Prosecution claimed the questioning was "highly prejudicial and improper."

No date has been set for a new trial of the case.

Mayor Of Valleyview Resigns

Valleyview Mayor, Robert R. Fisher, resigned Monday in an informal session of Valleyview Council.

The council said it would accept the resignation but it cannot act on the matter until the next council meeting which is slated for Nov. 5.

Fisher said the demands of the office did not leave sufficient time for his regular employment as a metalworker and general repairman.

He became mayor last January following the death of Norris Boothe. For the previous seven years, he had been a member of council.

Council President Harry Holroyd will succeed Fisher. This will create a vacancy on the council.

Dump Fires Cause Odor On West Side

West area residents who noticed an unusual smell in the air which was not related to autumn can blame fires at the McKinley-av dump.

Howard Reynolds, assistant county health commissioner, said fires have been burning at the dump all week long and have brought complaints from motorists that visibility is bad along McKenley-av.

Fire equipment was called several times in an attempt to control the fires.

The County Board of Health asked Common Pleas Court Friday to cite operators of the dump for contempt of court. The charge contends that the dump operators are violating a court order issued by Judge Dana F. Reynolds in 1957 banning the dumping of combustible materials.

The action is being brought against Mary Castle, owner of the property at 2409 McKinley-av, and Robert Wright, Hilliard, who leases the property.

In areas where most of the streets are curbed, leaves should be wet down to keep them from blowing.

Remove vehicles when cleaning is scheduled. In going around them, leaf crews will miss approximately 30 feet of gutter.

A Look Into 1963

Our annual copy of the Old Farmers Almanac arrived this week and it is a lot of fun to look ahead into 1963.

April 1, May 1, July 1, Aug. 1, Oct. 1 will be very good fishing days.

Jan. 14 will be the coldest day of the year.

There will be a total eclipse of the sun July 20, and of the moon on Dec. 30, 1963.

Got Those Pre-Election Jitters

Support Levy For Retarded

The cost of maintaining a retarded child in a state school is close to $1300 a year, and all of our state institutions have a waiting list a mile long.

The Community Class Program for Retarded Children was started by parents 10 years ago so that these children could get an education and still live at home. The School for Retarded Children on Thurber-dr is a very important part of our society and should continue to expand its services.

The three-tenths mill levy on the ballot this fall is for the training and education of the retarded children in Franklin County and cannot be used for any other purpose. Sixty-five of 88 counties appropriate funds for these special schools. Most of them have approved special levies to provide specific funds for schools for retarded.

We endorse this levy and hope that you will vote YES to help these children get an education.

Disturbed By Items Displayed In Drugstore

To The Editor:

This is a letter of protest to the practice of some pharmacies in what I believe to be an indelicate display of male contraceptives.

I have been told by some that this new open display of these items encourages their sale and also lessens embarrassment of men customers, if there is not a gentleman clerk present.

It is also true that women's needs have been openly displayed for some years. Women must select personal items in full view and then carry them to a desk to be wrapped, on many occasions, by a male clerk.

I know modesty and delicacy are often laughed and snickered at in this day and age. Instead, one is considered "prim and prissy" because everyone knows science has elevated these matters to pure education. I am told the "sophisticated" adult or child regards sex and the needs of sex as so much biological fact.

However, many people in our community have voiced the same opinion that they still believe and try to instruct their children that love, marriage and sex are still a blessing. At some time in life, we learn to revere these things, and if we are to be called prim and pris for this belief, we shall make apology to no one!

When the children of this community question what's in those boxes on the shelf, will you answer them? Have you ever tried to reduce adult understanding to a 9 year level? When you complain to the parent of a teenager because he "lifted" these items from your store, can you honestly expect the parent to accept "full responsibility?"

The removal of obscene and questionable magazines from drug stores did not eradicate juvenile fornication; neither will the removal of this display, but it can help to provide a better and more wholesome environment for our children.

—A Concerned Bexley Resident

Says Taxpayers Save If Levy Passes

Do people know that the three-tenth mill school levy for retarded children actually will save taxpayers money? The reason is very simple. If the tax levy passes, these children can live at home. However, if they were to be institutionalized, it costs the taxpayer roughly twice as much as the needed school program.

Sixty-five of the 88 counties in Ohio already take care of retarded children by special school facilities exactly as this levy will provide for Franklin County's retarded children.

Most people will see the value of making it possible for these children to live at home. There is no reason why the basic educational needs of these retarded children shouldn't be met just as we provide education for other children.

Voting "YES" for the Retarded Children's Levy is just good business for everybody.

ONE WOMAN'S Opinion . . .

3-Word Command Can Humble Nations

About a year ago I read a short story that will be in my memory forever. It went like this:

The world had reached that final crisis where the two supreme powers were ready to annihilate each other. One final, last-chance summit meeting had been called.

A new experiment was going to take place. Each nation would compile its assets, liabilities, problems, history, present mode of living, etc., and all this information would be fed to an IBM machine. All the nations of the world had agreed that they would abide by the decision reached by the IBM machine after it had analyzed the information.

Miss Hartley

The fateful night came when the delegates were to receive the decision. People around the world listened to their radios to learn if they would live or die. Each delegate was given a sealed envelope containing the IBM decision.

The delegates of the two major powers were the first to read the decision. It was brief and when they had read it they looked at each other and wept. The rest of the delegates in turn had the same emotion.

For the message said simply,

"Love thy brother."

Need I say more?

—Patty Hartley

Christianity An Idea Born In Heart Of God

Analyze talk and you will find that it assumes one of three levels. The lowest is about things; the center level is about people; the highest level is about ideas. Keeping this in mind, we turn our attention to the Christian Church.

Rev. Klopfer

It deals with things — many kinds of things. It has a building to erect and maintain. It has equipment to provide and budgets to meet. In a wider area of service it has colleges to support; mission stations to maintain; institutions of charity to provide for. It would be fine if Christian people talked more about such things as evidence of their interest in them. Instead of that, all too often matters of trivial importance mark their conversation.

The church also deals extensively with people. People won for the Kingdom, officers elected, sick visited, straying reclaimed, children taught, the lazy encouraged. In short and basically, the church is people, and the human element in the church's work will always remain a central factor; and there is much here to talk about that has merit. Let us not allow it to degenerate into gossip — that idle talk about people where the good in them is minimized, and the sordid is given all the accent.

But Christianity is not primarily things though they have a part to play; it is not primarily people though it is made up of them. Christianity is first and foremost an "idea", and born in the heart of God. Its symbol is the cross, and the heart of it lies in the words of John, "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."

It was a rejected idea when Christ was here on earth — that God could have such affection for people as to give His only Son to the cross as an atonement for sin. But the idea caught on, and the cross now stands high against the world's sky as an everlasting witness of this boundless love. Although the cross has been the target of many attacks since first it stood on that "green hill far away," it still stands "towering o'er the wrecks of time."

This great idea which is Christianity could not be stopped. In its march it deals with things, and people, but its character is spiritual and it concerns itself not only with the present but also with eternity. It remains a "great idea," and as such it calls for your allegiance.

—Rev. Frederick E. Klopfer, Pastor
Bethlehem Lutheran Church

Defeat Issue No. 1!

We who are responsible for the publishing of the Hartley Newspapers have always been old fashioned enough to believe in enforcement of the law.

This has been true in our repeated stand on the matter of Sunday operation of businesses. We have on previous occasions stated this stand and held that the best interests of the public can be served by our law enforcement officials taking proper recognition of the law and then having a proper backing of the courts in such matters.

We have often been disappointed in the lack of attention to such law enforcement and more disappointed in the fact that judges who have heard some cases have left their backbone at home on the days these cases came to hearing.

Next Tuesday the people of Ohio are being asked to vote on a matter known as the Sunday Necessities Amendment or better known as the Lawson Amendment because it is sponsored by the Lawson Milk Co., a subsidiary of the Consolidated Foods Co. of Chicago.

More has been printed about this amendment than any other issue in recent years and it is not necessary here to go into details as to what it calls for .In the claim of the Lawson Co., it is meant to more clearly define what businesses can stay open and what ones are to close.

We believe Issue No. 1 should be defeated. This means a NO vote!

If the Lawson Company has been one of these who have openly defied the present law it would appear they should be defeated in their efforts to change the law by an amendment that is aimed at primarily making it possible for food stores to stay open on Sunday.

Our interpretation of the present proposal is that it would make it possible for further such amendments to be made if the door is once opened.

It has already been indicated that if certain merchandisers start keeping their business firms open on Sunday others will be forced to follow suit. This is highly undesirable.

Business firms cannot afford to keep their doors open seven days a week and up to 24 hours per day. Such a move naturally will force costs up and in the end the consumer pays the bill.

At present a few firms take advantage of the fact that the law is not closely enforced and stay open on Sunday. These firms have found Sunday business in many instances to be profitable. But it would no longer be profitable if all firms of their type opened for Sunday business.

If there are $X Million worth of groceries sold in Franklin County in a week while stores stay open six days, there will still be just $X Million worth of groceries sold in seven days. This means that the operators have merely paid for one more day of being open in order to get the same amount of business.

In large cities in other states where the doors have been left open to Sunday operation Sunday has become a day of business almost like any other day of the week. An outstanding example of this is in Indianapolis. Department stores as well as supermarkets are open seven days a week.

There are those who will say that our approach is old fashioned. We still believe some of the old fashioned ways of doing things are good — especially when it comes to keep us from toppling over in the "rat race" for dollars that American business has today brought down upon its head.

We advocate a "No" vote on the amendment next Tuesday and then we advocate the election of judges who will not turn their heads when they meet certain situations that require intestinal fortitude.

Death May Lurk In Your Living Room

Cold weather struck early this year and already the "Silent Killer" is claiming its victims.

Carbon monoxide fumes already have killed an aged Columbus couple and sent five members of another Columbus family to a hospital.

The "Silent Killer," as the result of improperly vented heating equipment, took 17 lives in Columbus during the 1957-58 season; 10 during the 1958-59 season, five in 1959-60, and only two in 1960-61. Last year, fatalities climbed to nine.

Carbon monoxide is a deadly gas caused by the incomplete burning of almost any type fuel — wood, coal, gas, oil, or gasoline in your automobile.

One of the bad things about carbon monoxide is that you can't see it, smell it, taste it, or detect it in any way except by the symptoms it creates. These symptoms start out with a headache and throbbing in the temples. They progress to a severe headache, weakness, dizziness, dimness of vision, nausea and collapse. Death can happen in a matter of minutes.

The natural enemy of carbon monoxide is fresh air. That is why it is so important to direct the fumes from your heating equipment into the outside atmosphere.

So, to cheat carbon monoxide of additional victims, possibly one of your loved ones, follow these rules:

- Buy and use only approved heating equipment that is properly vented;
- Connect your heating equipment with a vent pipe to a good chimney;
- See that the vent pipe goes up hill from the heating equipment to the chimney;
- Use a safety thimble where the vent pipe enters the chimney so it can't be pushed into the chimney too far ;
- Make sure the chimney is clean. Blow smoke into the opening to see that it draws well;
- Provide a cleanout opening in the chimney under the vent pipe and cover it tightly with a cap;
- Allow some outside fresh air to seep into the space where your heating equipment is located;
- Have a qualified installer connect your heating equipment. It may cost a few dollars, but will save money in lower fuel bills and may save your life.

Carp Deserve Place In Sport Fishing; Their Meat Especially Good If Smoked

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

The fishing season is a long way from being over, according to Kenny Ogilvie, West Jefferson. Newly retired, he is making a specialty of catching carp from waters close to home—Little Darby, Big Darby and Deer Creek. I was talking to R. W. Recob a couple of weeks ago, and he said Ogilvie's record was 95. The carp expert was trying to make it an even 100 for the season.

Apparently the cooler weather was what he needed, for at last report his total was 114. These fish ranged from two to 20 pounds, with a lot of them in the five to seven-pound range. What does he do with all these carp? All are eaten; not by Ogilvie but by his friends and acquaintances. "None are wasted," is the way Recob put it.

I was interested in what baits were used to produce such excellent fishing. There is no secret in this department — crawfish and dough. The craws are used when they are available, and dough balls are Ogilvie's second choice.

Not too many years ago it was the common practice for fishermen to sneer at carp. It was a sort of unwritten law that carp were trash fish, and and angler with any pride did not admit to catching any. But the truth slowly and surely came. A carp is a fighting fish—not a spectacular jumper, but a strong and dogged fighter. More lines are broken and more tackle "busted-up" by carp in a year's time than smallmouth bass wreck in a generation. I am not saying that I would rather catch carp than bass, but this comparison indicates the strength and size of carp in local waters.

It is true that many people do not find carp palatable when prepared in the conventional ways, but this should be no reflection upon a sport fish. A lot of people say that northern pike are bony and not good eating. Several species of saltwater fish are not eaten, yet rate at the top of every angler's list. Some of these are the famed tarpon, jack crevelle and a number of the sharks.

No, the carp has earned a place in sport fishing ranks even if no one ever ate another fish. But just the opposite is true. More and more people are eating carp and loving it, for the secret is to not fry or broil it but smoke it. Several fish companies are supplying smoked carp commercially now, and in the future it is expected that it will be easier to get here. Now, the only dependable supply is to smoke it yourself, and not many want to go to this trouble. Smoked carp tastes a lot like tender ham, and it doesn't seem like so much trouble when you are eating it.

Izaak Walton in his "Compleat Angler" told how to catch carp along with trout and other sport species. Kenny Ogilvie and I both agree with Walton—to be a well-rounded fisherman you must know how to catch carp. And if you've never caught any, you are in for some good, water-sloshing fun.

ONE (LITTLE?) VOTE

Election officials tell us that usually only about half of our eligible citizens use enough time and effort to vote. Even in important national elections the figure is not much higher. Is this self-government? Is this democracy in action?

Nearly half of the earth's people are ruled by a self-appointed few. Elections are a farce. With only a hand-picked slate of one-party candidates are no opposition, free choice is impossible. Lesser public officials are puppets. Government is by edict of men, not impartial law.

After allowing for minor parties which serve a useful purpose, more than two strong political parties is too many. Only one is not enough. Legitimate opposition and discussion dramatize issues and give voters a chance to truly govern themselves, if they will. How many voters?

Will one vote decide an election? It has and will again. In the only time when we impeached a president of the United States, one senator's vote decided the issue, and, as many believe, preserved the delicate, necessary balance and division of powers in our federal government.

We have an important election coming up. We're still free. Do we care enough about it to at least vote?

It says here . . . .

YMCA Membership Roundup Nets $8000

The 1962 Hilltop YMCA membership roundup has officially come to a close. Over $8,000 has been turned in toward a goal of $12,000 for the current year. A cleanup campaign will be organized beginning Nov. 12 to solicit those persons who were not contacted during the past drive.

By action of the "Y" Membership Committee, headed by Roy Agin, a "Quota Buster" award was set up for the first time for all workers turning in $60 or more with their own family memberships not included. Nine workers were eligible for these initial awards.

Heading this list is big boss of the roundup, M. E. "Jack" Sensenbrenner. Other recipients are C. C. Hartley, C. H. Campbell, Nelson Greene, Mrs. Dean Baker, Ray Pendell, A. M. Pemberton, Mrs. Joshua O'Neal and Carol Hudson. Carol was the top producer on a team consisting of junior and senior high school boys and girls who were organized under the leadership of Gary Link, former member of the Hilltop YMCA staff.

Awards will also be presented to the top producers in three categories. The top ranch foreman award will be given to Melvin Senerius. Award for top wrangler will go to Richard Muir, while Mrs. Dean Baker earned the top cowboy award.

The leadership for the roundup was headed up by big boss M. E. "Jack" Sensenbrenner with Ray Anderson serving as assistant big boss. Details for this campaign were under the direction of Roy Agin, membership chairman, and his committee, which includes Ray Anderson, Roy Von Ins, James Goudy, Nelson Greene, Vic Karl, Jack Mitchell, Rev. Sydney Everson, Robert Walker, C. H. Campbell and William E. Jones.

Ranch foremen who headed up the teams of workers were Les Swinford, Mrs. Harry Miller, C. H. Campbell, Mel Senerius, Mrs. Chris Glaros, William Prillerman, Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. John Sines and Gary Link.

All persons interested in further information about membership in the Hilltop YMCA are requested to stop in the "Y" at 2879 Valleyview-dr, or call the "Y" office at BR. 6-5306.

CLASSROOM DECORUM in the science lab at Bishop Ready High is somewhat precarious these days. Bozo, the tiny squirrel monkey, and his entertaining antics add considerably to students' interest in the course. Rosalie Robosk and Mike Campbell are tenth grade students of Sr. M. Vivian, biology teacher.

Monkey Livens Lab At Ready

He's small, he's smart, he's interested in science.

Although not formally enrolled as a student at Ready High school on W. Mound, Bozo, the squirrel monkey, is learning fast. Small—about 14 inches high standing—Bozo can put on a big show.

Besides his natural agility in aerial tricks, the tiny charmer with the roguish black eyes can stand on his head, sit on a doorknob or play King of the Mountain on the top of an open door.

His usual daily fare of lettuce, monkey biscuits, puffed wheat, celery, carrots and apple slices never leave him too full for a live grasshopper or praying mantis.

Occupying as he does, a "front seat" in the school's biology lab, his fuzzy white ears take in everything from the structure of the cell to the parts of a flower. But his special interest is the study of insects. When it's his turn to "dissect" a grasshopper, his enthusiasm exceeds all bounds.

In the interests of science, the little monkey sometimes supervises the care and feeding of the hamsters, but squeals fearfully at sight of his newest neighbors, the goldfish.

Bozo has three noises, a chirp of content (food and petting); a chatter of protest (fear or anger); and a plaintive squeal (lonesomeness after school).

Questions On New Carpeting

Q. How long can I expect a carpet to wear?

A. The service you get from a carpet or rug depends on three things: Basic quality, amount of use it receives and the care you give it. Remember that carpets are used constantly in today's homes, not confined to the "best parlor" that our grandparents knew. Good-quality carpeting should last a minimum of five years under normal conditions. Naturally a carpet will last longer if not subject to abuse, unusual soiling or traffic conditions.

Q. I want a good-quality carpet that will wear a long time. What fiber should I look for?

A. Quality isn't determined by fiber content alone. Sturdy construction is a major factor. However, for heavy wear look to wool, nylon or acrylic fabrics which resist abrasion and are therefore long-wearing in good construction. More economical fibers which may be less resilient and less durable can be used in low-traffic areas.

Q. I haven't shopped for carpet in about 10 years and I'm not familiar with the new backings. What are the types now used?

A. In woven and knitted carpets, the backing is produced simultaneously with the surface or pile fiber. In tufted carpets, the pile fibers are sewn to a pre-woven backing. A latex coating is also used on most tufted carpets and many woven and knitted carpets to add stability. A "scrim" fabric or double-backing may be added to prevent any buckling or stretching of the carpet.

Q. What types of nylon are used in carpets?

A. There are two main types: Nylon which is produced as short "staple" and spun into yarn, and "continuous filament" which is made in one continuous strand. The latter is the more recent development in the man-made fiber field. Both are engineered especially for carpet use, so don't confuse them with the nylon made for hosiery, for example, or clothing.

New Kitchens To Feature Electric Aids

One of the delights of a new home is a new kitchen — well designed, well equipped, and attractively decorated.

Many of the new Gold Medallion Homes on display during National Home Week—Sept. 30 to Oct. 6 — feature such kitchens—equipped with new electric appliances.

Automatic, efficient and styled for both beauty and cleanliness, modern electric appliances in a new home point up the theme of National Home Week — "Better Living Begins When You Own a New Home."

Each major electric kitchen appliance — dishwasher, refrigerator-freezer, and range —gives the homemaker extra hours by doing automatically many of the routine kitchen chores.

The new electric dishwashers cut dishwashing time in half and help keep the kitchen uncluttered. An up-to-date electric refrigerator-freezer with its considerably increased capacity saves on shopping time, and, if it's one of the new no-defrost models, the drudgery of defrosting is ended.

Automatic electric ranges free the homemaker from standing over the stove to watch and wait while food cooks. Thermostatic controls control temperatures for her. New electric ranges also are designed to catch less dirt and be easier to clean.

One could start traveling from Florida in early spring and over a period of six weeks follow the spring flowering season all the way into Canada.

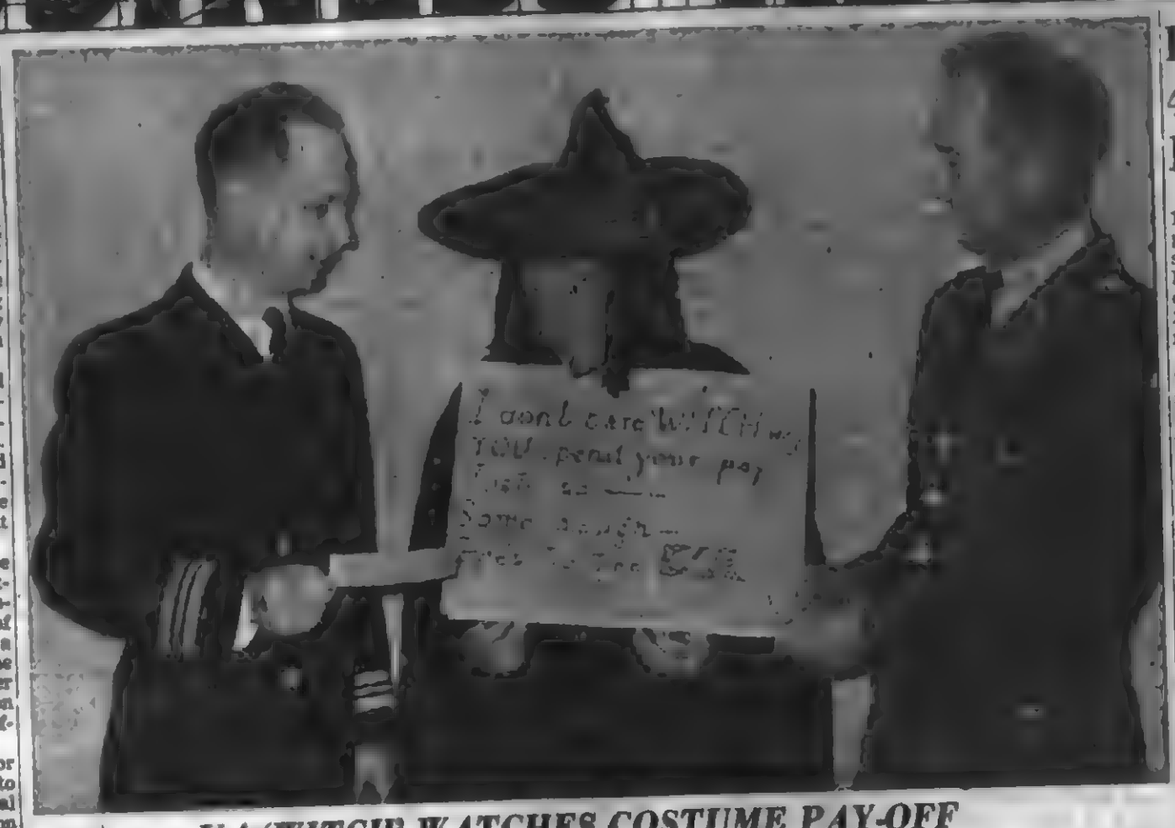
Apartment-Motel Here Under Study

An apartment-type motel proposed on the north side of Sullivant-av, between Josephine-av and Darrer-rd, came as a test to Columbus zoning regulations when reviewed by the City Planning Commission last Wednesday.

Showe Realty earlier said the building is designed to offer kitchen facilities and special rates for extended stays. The arrangement is expected to appeal to executives visiting west area industries. The realtor was not present at Wednesday's meeting.

Mayor Westlake and Service Director Ernest Stork pointed out that the proposed enterprise fits the category of an apartment, rather than a motel, under city codes. The matter was tabled for further study, pending clarification from the City Attorney's office.



Approved and readied for ordinance was a request to build a fan-shaped commercial swimming pool on 3.9 acres on the south side of Sullivant-av, west of Wedgewood-dr. The area has been zoned for single-family residential use.

The commission turned down a rezoning appeal recently returned by City Council for further study. Petitioners sought "apartment residential" for the south side of Sullivant-av, between Nashoba and Wrexham-avs. It is now tagged for commercial use.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR—

'Old Sarge' Hartman Regrets Passing Of Hilltop Homes

To The Editor:

I note today, with a sense of loss, that my first home in this city became a casualty this week to progress.

The store building at the southeast corner of S. Hague-av and W. Broad-st was erected by my father and his partner, Mr. VanCicle, and our first home was above that grocery store. It later became my first school and its teacher for some time was a Miss Findly, who resided on N. Hague-av, just about where the power station now is.

There are a few more places where we lived on the Hilltop which are either burned down, torn down or revamped so that they no longer resemble the original structures.

The old Harris home, where my youngest sister was born, is torn down, it was located just about where we live now, between Warren and Harris-av, before these streets existed.

The new Harris home, as it was known, is now a part of Spears Funeral Home. It was one of the show places on the Hilltop when new and was unusual for a Quaker to own such a fancy layout, but at that time, many of us on the Hilltop were Quakers and some of us still are, but they no longer call us Quakers. We are now Friends. Our old church at Wilson-rd and Broad-st (the former home of Dr. Parks) is now a filling station.

Our home, where my mother passed away, was what is now the first house south of Broad on S. Hague, east side of the street, which has been revamped by its present owner. The white finish is now green and the picket fence, barn and sheds are gone; so is the old bicycle shop back of it on Harris.

Another place where we once lived, the old Camp Chase Post Office Building, is gone. It stood on the west end of that pie-shaped wedge of land west of the Jones Lumber Co. and extended west to the railroad. We farmed it for some time and I was the postmaster after Kurtzaltz quit to become a rural carrier. His old home is now the home of Camp Chase Post 98 of the Legion. The old home of Louie Haldy is also gone and it was directly across from another place where we lived at one time, the first brick house west of what is now the Legion Home. It burned down while I was in France, I am told.

Jack Richardson's old home, the Old Four Mile House, is also gone, as are the homes of Binns, Powell and Stouts. The blacksmith shop and the old livery barn run for Powell by Dan Hendrickson are gone, as is the old Scott place. All but the Four Mile House were on the south side of Broad, west of Hague. The Legion Home is all that is left of that row, from Hague-av to the railroad west.

The Old Sarge,
R. M. Hartman

Increase In Ohio Unemployment Is Assailed By Rhodes

Figures just released by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation showing unemployment in Ohio has increased nearly 5,000 since a year ago, come as no surprise to the multi-thousands walking the streets looking for jobs, and other thousands employed in jobs far below the skills and income for which they are trained, James A. Rhodes, Republican nominee for governor, asserted in a statement Monday.

"In the last year while Ohio's population increased some 1.7 per cent, the number of unemployed filing claims with the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation increased 6½ per cent," the statement continued.

"On his recent visit to Cincinnati, President Kennedy stressed that the key to the nation's economic ills is more producing industry employing more people. Yet, Ohio is falling behind the nation both in industrial growth and in growth of employment.

"In recent weeks the United States Department of Commerce announced that latest grim figures show Ohio has slipped from second place among the nation's largest manufacturing states to third place.

"But the present administration would have you believe that all is well economically on the home front, and we have no problems that increases in taxes and squandering of state money can't cure. It ignores the fact that in the last three years, while the nation has enjoyed a 4.1 per cent increase in manufacturing employment, Ohio suffered a 2.6 per cent decrease.

"On Aug. 7 I proposed a program of New Jobs and Industrial Development for Ohio that combined the best features of 33 other states which are attracting new industry and promoting expansions in present industry through offering financial inducements to accomplish such industrial growth.

"The plan I submitted for Ohio called for loaning money to industries for such expansion and to communities in preparing sites for occupancy of these industries. The money would come from the issuance of self-liquidating revenue bonds without cost to Ohio taxpayers. I set as a goal the creation of 200,000 new jobs which would be needed to man the new and expanded industry that the program should attract to Ohio. And don't overlook the benefits which new industry and jobs would mean in lowering expenses to maintain the unemployed, and in adding to the tax basis to furnish more revenue for state and local governments.

"A similar program but offering fewer benefits than the one proposed for Ohio, has resulted in over 400 new industries in about a year and a half it has been operating in the state of New York.

"The present administration advocates stepping up expenditures of the present Department of Industrial and Economic Development (DIED) which has carried on shadow boxing operations in an attempt to hold the dike against the industrial and employment losses in Ohio. The ammunition used consists of reams of statistics printed as literature or other huckster media.

"The incumbent governor condemns my program as one that can't work, in spite of the success of other states. He wants to compound the expenditures of his present program which has allowed Ohio to fall so far behind.

"Other programs which I have proposed include a Youth Commission for rehabilitating Ohio's problem children and preventive measures against others becoming delinquents, Golden Age villages for housing most of the elder patients of our State Hospitals, public school programs from the elementary through college levels, plans for expansion of electronic research and another of public parks and forestry. This week I have released plans for bringing order out of political chaos in the Welfare Department, and greater use of federal money which is available for this purpose.

"All of these programs have been cleared with authorities in the fields concerned. All have been checked with leaders of the legislature for their approval. Except for certain phases in the educational program, all can be accomplished within the framework of our present tax structure.

"In recent weeks my opponent has come forward with many programs to counteract the bold and studied programs I have presented. Why, I ask you, are such programs forthcoming after nearly four long years of no major programs for the betterment of Ohio—just requests for more money to do more of what the state already has been doing that doesn't work?

If Ohio is to catch up and get ahead of the times, we must have programs attuned to present and future conditions, administered with aggressive leadership. And it must be leadership working in harmony with members of the legislature, whom you elect, with capable department heads, with the press and with some 10 million people, regardless of personal interests or political beliefs. This is the leadership I pledge to the voters in the execution of the programs I have advocated for moving Ohio forward."

Plan To Re-Apportion Ohio House Is Urged By Dennis

John R. Dennis, Democratic candidate for State Representative, announced that the Ohio legislature should move quickly in 1963 to re-apportion the Ohio House of Representatives. "Representation to the Ohio House should be proportioned according to population distribution," said Dennis.

John R. Dennis

Dennis stated that presently less than one-third of Ohio's population controls over half the votes in the House. In this way, said Dennis, the sparsely populated areas of the state controls the Ohio legislature. "Minority rules in Ohio," said Dennis.

Dennis explained that under present law representatives are apportioned among Ohio counties by dividing the total population of the state by 100 — giving a quotient of about 97,000. Each county is then entitled to one representative for each 97,000 people resident in the county. However, each county with less than 97,000 population is still guaranteed one representative under the "Hanna Amendment."

Dennis suggested a simple method of re-apportionment without repeal of the "Hanna Amendment." He advocates that the population of Ohio be divided by 200 instead of 100, thus allowing one representative for each 48,500 people in each county. The larger counties would gain representatives — Franklin county gaining an additional seven. In this way, said Dennis, the counties having 68 per cent of Ohio's population would have 64 per cent of the votes in the Ohio House of Representatives. Every county would still be guaranteed one representative under the "Hanna Amendment."

A sensible plan of re-apportionment, such as he suggests, said Dennis, would free Ohio government to solve the problems of an expanding industrial state. This plan should be undertaken immediately said Dennis.

Contamination of ground water supplies is a problem in many rural and suburban areas of Ohio.

Ohio Can't Afford Four More Years of the Present Administration

No Ohio governor ever promised more — and delivered less than the incumbent Governor. His administration has collected and spent more than any other administration in state history.

He mentioned not a word about increasing state taxes as a candidate for governor in 1958. "The Democratic Party of Ohio," he said, "firmly believes that its state government can live within its present tax sources and is opposed to the imposition of any new taxes."

What happened?

Soon after the Democratic 103rd General Assembly convened in 1959, the present administration rammed through more than a dozen different tax increases and NEW taxes.

UP UP- UP- IN TAXES

The sales tax was expanded to cover sales in the lower price levels and to include new products and services. Gasoline tax was hiked from 5 to 7 cents, a jump of 40 percent. Cigarette tax was upped from 3 to 5 cents, a sharp rise of 67 percent. Tax on 3.2 beer jumped from 12 to 36 cents a case — from $1.50 to $2.50 a barrel.

Corporation franchise tax tripled, hiked from 1 to 3 mills on share value. Inheritance taxes increased $6 million a year. Prices at state liquor stores rose 13 percent plus another 3 per cent in new sales tax.

$500,000,000 MORE TAXES

In three years — from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1962 the administration's new and increased taxes cost Ohio's citizens almost half a billion dollars. But even these increased taxes did not bring in enough additional millions of dollars to provide the governor the money he said in 1961 he needed for his inflated spending programs for the next two years.

So he proposed to the Republican 104th General Assembly in 1961 appropriations totaling $150 million more than the anticipated state revenue. Recognizing the unpopularity of his increased taxes, he refused to propose or recommend the new or increased taxes necessary to produce this added revenue, as required be done by Ohio Constitution and state laws. In the absence of such recommendations, the legislature refused to sponsor additional tax hikes or new taxes.

On March 23 of that year the Cleveland Press stated in an editorial, "The governor's attitude — has been a stubborn insistence that he is right and everyone else is wrong."

BUT THAT IS NOT THE WHOLE STORY

Instead of keeping his "pay-as-you-go" promise, the governor has been the —

FIRST ever to borrow Liquor Department funds to make up operating shortages in general funds.

FIRST ever to borrow from the Public Employees Retirement System to purchase highway right-of-way land.

FIRST ever to defer payments to the Ohio Teachers Retirement System trust fund—the same as borrowing — and to use that money for operating costs.

FIRST ever to juggle self-replenishing (rotary) funds with General Revenue funds in an attempt to change operating balances from red to black.

HOLD YOUR HATS - HERE WE GO AGAIN

Now the governor is claiming that taxes should be substantially increased again at a time when personal income is declining and the cost of living is at an all-time high.

What has any Ohio taxpayer to show in the way of state services for this $500,000,000 tax hike?

Ohio just simply cannot stand four more years of such extravagance. Let's vote against more tax abuses this November 6th.

Date Youth Concert At Vets November 3

The story of "The Littlest Circus" will be told in dance pantomime for youngsters at the first of a series of Youth Concerts sponsored by the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, in two performances Saturday, Nov. 3.

The Nelle Fisher Ballet will perform the satire of a magical miniature carnival at Veterans Memorial Auditorium at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

As the story unfolds a troupe of performers are seen arriving in town and unloading their belongings from a little wagon. Since they cannot afford to support a large group of circus animals, they play all their parts performing as lions, seals, horses, as well as acrobats, jugglers, tightrope walkers, magicians, giants and clowns.

The ballet, designed by Wolfgang Roth and choreographed by Nelle Fisher, is danced to Kabalevsky's Suite, "The Comedians."

Dancers include Rebecca Bryan, Jay Devlin, Nelle Fisher, Emily Kidwell, Darwin Knight, Robert Molnar and Paul Owsley.

Tickets can be purchased at Summers and Son, Zeisler's, the Turn Table, Bexley Records, or by telephoning the Symphony Office, CA. 4-4742.

Herbert Campaign Vigorous For Treasurer Of State Post

John D. Herbert, Republican candidate for state treasurer, has been conducting what is termed a vigorous campaign. Since the May primaries, Herbert has rolled up 30,000 miles on the campaign trail and put together a hard-working organization to penetrate to the grass roots level.

Although this is an office where issues may be hard to find, Herbert has apparently found them and is pressing them. He has been particularly critical of the present treasurer's delays in depositing funds collected for tax payments. Herbert says these delays are sometimes as long as several months.

Herbert points out that this is damaging in three ways: by working hardships on the taxpayer in balancing his own books; by keeping needed funds out of the state's account at a time when the state has felt a cash pinch; and by failing to invest funds not immediately needed to earn interest.

Herbert has also been critical of the failure of the present treasurer to mail out tax bills promptly, asserting that corporation officials have complained of not receiving franchise tax bills until after they are overdue.

If elected, Herbert has pledged efficiency in all sections of the state treasurer's office so that tax bills will be mailed on time and tax receipts will be promptly deposited. He further pledges to take every possible advantage of the state laws permitting the investment of funds not immediately needed for the state's bills in authorized investments to add to the state's income.

Herbert, a resident of Upper Arlington, is married and the father of four children. He has public service as an Assistant Attorney General of Ohio, and as an officer in the Ohio National Guard. During the Korean War, he served for 14 months in Korea, and has been awarded the Bronze Star for combat. He is the son of Supreme Court Justice Thomas M. Herbert, and is presently practicing law at 44 E. Broad-st.

PENNEY'S

ALWAYS FIRST QUALITY!

If you believe Sunday should be retained for Rest, Worship and Recreation . . . we urge you to

VOTE 'NO' ON ISSUE 1

Sunday has always been a day most families could enjoy together, doing as much or little as they pleased . . . a day of quiet calm away from the busy, noisy weekday pace.

Certain private interests, who operate several hundred grocery outlets in Ohio, are now pushing a "Sunday Opening" amendment to Ohio's Constitution. They hope to make Sunday another "business-as-usual" day . . . the seventh business day of the week.

We believe that six days a week allow ample shopping time for most ordinary family needs.

And the things you can't easily stock in your refrigerator . . . like electric power, gasoline, medicines, Sunday newspapers and entertainment . . . are all sold legally on Sunday under present Ohio law.

Once we start voting new exceptions, there's really no place to stop. If you don't want business-as-usual, work-as-usual, seven days a week, join us in voting "NO" on Issue 1.

WILL YOU HELP TO KEEP SUNDAY FOR THE FAMILY?

Sunday is a day of needed rest, worship and recreation.

Not only is there no necessity for chain food stores to stay open Sunday—there are many reasons why they should not. Food stores are by the biggest retail business in America. If Ohio voters "open the door" for chain food stores, every other kind of store will soon want to sell on Sunday . . . fair for one, fair for all.

When stores are open everywhere on Sunday, Sunday as we know it will be gone. It will become just another business day. Hustle-bustle, noise, traffic, fatigue.

High prices for food. Total food sales for 7 days would be the same as 6 because people can only eat so much — no matter how many days they shop. But 7-day store expenses would be greater, requiring higher prices to offset the higher expenses.

Hundreds of thousands of Ohio people would be forced to work needlessly on Sundays.

The firm behind the "Sunday Opening" amendment has only one obvious reason for trying to change Ohio's constitution — profits for themselves at your expense. We have elected representatives who are far better qualified to decide what needs changing in the Ohio Constitution than any private interest.

PENNEY'S urges you to . . .

Columbus School Head Leads Seal Campaign

Dr. Harold H. Eibling, superintendent of Columbus Public Schools, has been appointed chairman of the 1962 Franklin County Christmas Seal campaign which opens Nov. 13, John Nippert, president of the Board of Directors for the Tuberculosis Society, announced.

"We are especially pleased to have Dr. Eibling as our chairman this year," Nippert said. "The society's new emphasis on respiratory diseases (RD) calls for concentrated educational programs for schools and the general public."

Nippert pointed out that many other respiratory diseases are similar to tuberculosis on x-ray and in symptoms and often delay prompt, accurate diagonosis of TB. Medical authorities agree that we may quickly solve the mysteries of the TB germ if we learn more about such lesser-known, yet serious diseases, like emphysema, bronchiectasis, bronchitis, silicosis and histoplasmosis.

Chairman Eibling will supervise volunteeer workers in preparation of 225,000 Christmas Seal campaign letters to residents of Columbus and Franklin County. The annual Christmas Seal campaign is the TB Society's only fund-raising activity and is carried on strictly by mail.

Dr. Eibling graduated from Ohio Northern and Ohio State University. He is president of the Metropolitan Board of YMCA and on the Boards of Dirtctors for the Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Eibling, 225 Ceramic-dr, has been school superintendent since 1956.

November Food Shopping Tips Are Given

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, grapefruit, juice oranges, grapes, chilled and frozen orange juice.

Vegetables — Broccoli, cauliflower, leafy greens, potatoes, carrots.

Protein Foods — Pork roasts, rib roasts and steaks, ground beef, beef lines, fryers, bacon.

The three snows last week finished off local outdor crops and convinced us that summer has completey passed from the scene. However, you will find that food markets have adjusted to the season's change and abundance reigns.

Mrs. Franks

Oranges and grapefruit are in heavy volume now and quality improves with each shipment. Orange prices, particularly, are moving downward; this price decline is also reflected in lower price tags on all forms of processed orange juice—chilled, frozen and canned. Barring severe weather conditions you can include lots of citrus in your menus this winter at low prices.

Apples, of course will continue to be a big item at fruit counters during November. There will also be plenty of grapes — Emperors, Tokays and other storage grapes. Film-wrapped Bartlett pears are still around and the Anjous and Boscs will be coming this month. Supplies of dried fruits increase in time for holiday baking needs and new crop nuts appear. Plenty of walnuts are predicted but the crops of other nuts are smaller this year than normal.

Three late fall vegetables will be in good supply at prices you'll like — potatoes, onions and cabbage. Other vegetables you'll want to use generously this month are turnips, broccoli, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts, and leafy greens. Local greenhouses will supply the special treats — greenhouse tomatoes and Bibb lettuce. The fall greenhouse tomato crop is a good one this year and will last well into January.

On the grocery shelf you'll find the canned fruits and vegetables are all new pack now, with peak of freshness and at the lowest price for the year. Tomato processing is just completed and the pack is a big one; expect good buys on all tomato products.

Turkeys and cranberries are, of course, a natural for Thanksgiving. Heavy supplies of both are expected. While the 1962 turkey crop is 15 percent smaller than last year's record crop, the number of turkeys to be marketed this year is the second largest on record. You may pay a little more than last year's extremely low price, but turkey will still be a good buy. Many retailers will feature them at special prices during the holiday season.

wr

Pork production will be seasonally high this month. Although supplies will be less than a year ago, you can expect loin roasts and and chops, Boston butt roasts and steaks and spareribs to be featured frequently. Bacon prices are lower and hams are a good buy.

SELF-HELP COURSE

Medical Groups Start First Aid Instruction

In order to meet both a present and a long-range requirement, the Franklin County Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Columbus and Franklin County Academy of Medicine in coordination with the State Health Department and local Boards of Education, is inaugurating a more comprehensive first aid and medical self-help course.

The course will include instructions for survival and emergency health care if a physician or organized health service is not available for several days to several weeks.

One of the prime areas of civil defense preparedness is medical self-help. Every family in the United States is a potential survivor of a natural disaster or nuclear attack and must be prepared to exist an extended period of time isolated from outside assistance.

During this time, the services of a physician might not be available and people must be prepared to meet their own health needs. To do this, every family group should be trained in medical self-help. The instructions obtained can be used in daily living as well as for emergency purposes.

Classes will be limited to an enrollment of 25 persons. They will be scheduled according to demand. Anyone interested should call the Franklin County Red Cross, 998 E. Broad-st, at CL. 3-8511 to register and receive further details on this free instruction.

The program for First Aid and Medical Self-Help training will be under the supervision of Wendell Butcher, M.D., of the Ohio State Medical Association, and Drew L. Davies, M.D., chairman of Safety Services of the Red Cross.

Instruction will be conducted by Red Cross instructors.

Drake Sees Bi-Party Commission As 'Ideal'

With two Republicans and Democrat Russell Drake as county commissioners, both parties would be represented —an ideal condition.

This is the "talking point" Drake, former city clerk, is using in his campaign for the county post.

"Working with others of opposite party came easily while I was city clerk and during that period I was able to meet and deal with many county and township officials," Drake said.

He has taken stands on various issues:

• On annexation, the basic consideration shall be what is best for all the people concerned.

• Health services, police and fire protection someday will be a countywide authority and the sooner the better.

• Flood control in Central Ohio soon will be in high gear and is in good hands. Drake pledged full cooperation.

• Planning officials want a new courthouse. This problem must be faced and taken to the people in the near future.

• A finance director or administrator would be of tremendous help to commissioners as it is for Columbus. The entire welfare program needs better communications between the director and the joint city-county commission.

Drake also urged support of the retarded children's levy.

"Gee, Pop, can't you play with it Sundays and leave the week for us essential users?"

Former Columbus Boy Makes Hit With Comedy

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Former West Columbus boy Danny Vitale walked into the office Monday and he looked like a new man. And, that's considerable, too, when you figure he IS.

He's got a new name, a new record release, a new health record and the start of a new career. And things don't come much newer than that.

It was Danny Vitale on the honor roll list at Central High School and Capital University. Now it's Danny Victor (derived from spelling Vitale "V—like in victor," he said) and it should be soon listed high on the honor roll of album hits.

"The Warrior Record release is that company's first comedy album," said thirty-two-year-old Victor with the enthusiasm of a schoolboy getting ready for his first prom. "Actually, I started out as a writer but people said my serious stuff was funny so I changed course."

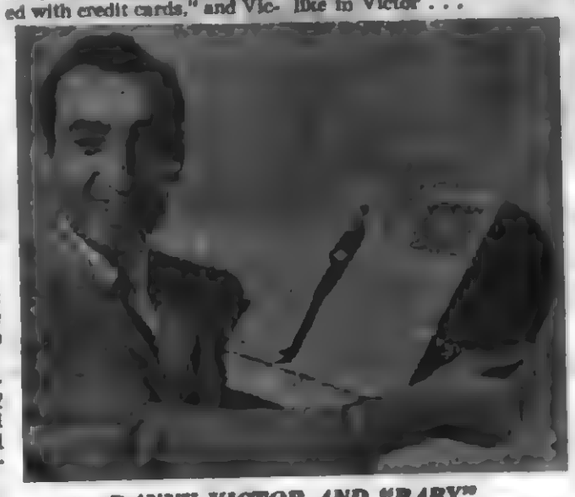
And, he's glad he did. Actually things weren't always funny for him, though. Like the years he spent as a disabled veteran of the Air Force and the hard times he spent in the truest tradition of struggling entertainers.

His album is a good one. Don't classify it with the ten thousand sick - comedy albums though. This is a different kind of humor—suitable for a housewife to play for her children with equal enjoyment by both.

Nicest part about it for his hometown folks is that one of the bits entitled "Marriage" is about his native Columbus.

He takes fresh jabs at political situations (park bench philosophising to President Kennedy: "Put the White House in your wife's name") and at you and I (Definition of a tourist: "A person who travels 1500 miles to get a picture of himself standing beside his car.")

The material about Columbus is funny too. For example, "It's so cold here that the statues at the State House huddle together to keep warm."



Danny left his 1068 Cable-rd address in 1959 and went the nightclub route on the West Coast — mainly at the Dunes in Las Vegas.

He came back home Monday but it was just a brief stop. He's making a personal appearance tour (it lasts until Christmas) plugging his album and left hurriedly Monday afternoon for Youngstown, O. He's traveling with his agent Tom Seigel, who may work on booking Victor here in the future.

The entire album was written by Victor who claims he gets inspired for comedy material "almost everywhere." He mentioned overhearing a seven-year-old boy talking to a five-year-old girl over breakfast out west. The boy said, "I'm broke, but I'm loaded with credit cards," and Victor was off for his typewriter.

While in Columbus, he visited his sister, Mary Di-Pietro, 1918 Westwood-av.

You shouldn't have any trouble remembering his name. It's Victor. That's "V," like in Victor . . .

Sunday View Looks Good On WBNS-TV

Keep Sunday, Nov. 4, as free as possible and get ready for some top-level television on WBNS-TV, Channel 10.

A full-hour musical profile of Richard Rodgers will lead things off on the "Ed Sullivan Show" at 8 p.m. Rodgers, one of America's foremost composers, will conduct a symphony orchestra himself in one selection.

Then, at 10 p.m., Philippe Halsman, one of today's outstanding photographers, will show camera portraits of some of the world-famous people he has photographed when he visits "Candid Camera."

Among the "Candid Camera" capers on this date will be a sequence showing a hotel doorman (played by a show staffer) who reverses customary procedure by tipping hotel guests when he calls a taxi for them.

THE BIG TEN . . .

Role At Vets Nov. 6 Played By (Another) 'Fair Lady'

They probably won't ever change the title of "My Fair Lady" to "The Passing Parade," but if they did, it would be appropriate.

The incredibly successful musical opens Tuesday, Nov. 6, for a five-day run at Veterans Memorial with a sweet actress, Caroline Dixon, in the title role.

And, as they say in the business, "she's got a tough act to follow."

For it's been a long time since the title "My Fair Lady" has been fitting. During a New York run that lasted more than six years, a small army of actresses have played the leading role of Eliza Doolittle from Russia to Australia.

In London, for example, at the Theater Royal, Drury Lane, Anne Rogers plays the part. It's Mona Hofland in Oslo, Norway at the Folketeatret. Liisa Tuomi has the role in Helsinki, Finland and Ulla Sallert and Gerda Gilboe have played Stockholm, Sweden and Copenhagen, Denmark, respectively.

Bunty Turner was Eliza in Australia and Lola Fisher made her debut before Russian audiences in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev.

In this country, Margot Moser played the role at the Broadway Theater in New York until Sept. 29 and Miss Dixon, the sixth young English actress to play the Cockney flower girl in America, made her American debut two years ago in the National Company.

Evening performances at Vets will be at 8:15, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are on sale at Central Ticket Office (Richman's), 37 N. High-st. Mail orders must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

• Leslie Blanchard, the hairstylist, reported that the movie, "Cleopatra," had better do better than the hairstyle. Blanchard said that even though thousands were spent advertising the hairdo, it never caught on.

The Hawks and Lions wrap up the OBFF season with a game next Sunday. In other play in the 110-pound leagues, Duckworth blanked the Comets, 28-0, and Mifflin edged Obetz, 16-14.

JACKPOT UP TO $125

Fifth Round Goes To Paul Norris

Paul Norris, 223 E. Sycamore-st, was named winner in last week's torrid Hartley Newspaper football contest.

Norris missed five of the 24 games, three of which were automatic losses because the Bowling Green-Miami, Kentucky-Georgia, and Dublin-Rosary games ended in deadlocks.

Eight other contestants challenged Morris by missing only five games, but Morris' guess of 17-10 in favor of Ohio State on the tie-breaker was the deciding factor.

Runners up to winner were: S. L. Pidock, 3656 Seabrook-av, Richard Mindigo, 364 Topsfield-rd, R. Larry Terman, 591 S. Brinker-av, Donna Young, 197 Guernsey-av, Herbert Zanes, 1477 Watkins-rd, Ed Buckholtz, 993 Francis-av, Robert Edwards, 433 Weymouth-dr and Merrill Burchnell, 512 W. Town st.

This marks the second time Pidock, Terman, Buckholtz and Young have been beaten via the tie-breaker. Zanes won the first round of the contest.

Central vs. Steubenville

THE BEGINNING OF THE END

TOM FULLOVE (arrow) started Central's touchdown parade in the Pirates big 34-0 win over East Friday night with this sneak into the Tiger end zone in the second period. The senior quarterback drove the final six inches on a fourth down situation to give Central a 6-0 lead with seven minutes remaining in the half. Clearing the way for Fullove are Pirate center Kenny Ash (67) and Warren Jennings (30) while unidentified Central lineman (left) takes care of East's Kent Schoolfield and John Coleman. (See story on page one).

with seven minutes remaining in the first half.

But the real back-breaker came with only four seconds remaining in the half. Fullove ran 46 yards to East's 11 late in the second period but the Tigers drove the Bucs back to the 35 in three plays. Then with fourth down and 34, Fullove faded back and uncorked a perfect touchdown pass to halfback George Broadnax, who snatched the pigskin between three East defenders in the end zone and gave Central a 12-0 halftime lead.

EAST SHOWED signs of recovering early in the third quarter but when their offense stalled Central got out on an 80-yard march with halfback Cliff Moxley sweeping end for the final 18 yards with 1:54 remaining in the third quarter.

The Pirates then completed the rout with two final period scores on fullback Bill Solomon's 18-yard TD sweep with 5:16 showing on the scoreboard clock and Dale Thompson's 45-yard run with an intercepted East pass in the last minute of play.

The Central defense held East to a minus eight yards rushing while the Pirate offense tallied five times against an East defense that had allowed only one touchdown in five league encounters prior to Friday night.

Central now can nail down at least a share of the City title with a victory over Marion-Franklin, winless in league competition, Friday. The Bucs play at Eastmoor in their season finale on Nov. 9.

Lions Forfeit, Will Play Again

The league coaches in the Hilltop Lions Little League decided Sunday that the game between the Lions and Panthers shall go into the record as a forfeit win for the Panthers.

However, the coaches also ruled that the forfeit shall not be the determining factor in deciding the league championship. The two teams will play began Saturday at 1:30.

If the Panthers win, they will be declared champs. If the Lions win, a final playoff game will be scheduled to determine the league champion.

In other league play over the weekend, the Eagles downed the Cavaliers, 27-8.

Eagles	7	0	7	13	—27
Cavaliers	0	0	0	8	— 8

Scoring: Eagles — TDs — Lloyd-2 (1, 15 runs), Oglesbee (2, run), Rhodes (18, run). PATs—Rhodes (run), Lloyd-2 (runs). Cavaliers—TD—McAndrews (5, run). PAT—Welsh (run).

READY STACKS CARDS

West Finds Punch, Wallops Scots, 52-14

By BOB LYNCH

The West High Cowboys finally reversed their losing trend last Friday night, as they treated a homecoming crowd to their first home victory of the year by defeating Walnut Ridge, 52-14.

Halfback Rich Neely scored four touchdowns and six more points on conversions to total an even 30 points and boost him into a tie for the City League scoring race leadership.

THE RED-HOT Cowboys opened the scoring for the evening as they marched 50 yards in nine plays for their initial score, with Neely charging over right tackle for 11 yards to give the Cowboys a 6-0 lead with 7:27 left in the opening period.

It took the Cowboys only five minutes to score again, as Jeff Reeder broke through to block a Walnut Ridge punt, which was recovered on the Walnut Ridge 30. Don VanOrder carried the next five plays and scored from one yard out.

The Cowboy offensive tide was not to be stemmed that first period, as the Cowboys took a Walnut Ridge punt on the Scots' own 39, and on the first play from scrimmage, John Morlan completed a pass to Jeff Reeder for the score.

IN THE second period Neely again provided the scoring antics as he raced 64 yards on a deep reverse around his right end.

The halftime break failed to slow the Cowboys as fullback Don VanOrder swept his left end to race 20 yards to paydirt, and with 2:59 gone in the third quarter, the Cowboys had increased the margin to 30-0.

Walnut Ridge scored the next two times they got possession but the Scots' comeback were short-lived as Neely added his final two touchdowns on runs of 70 and three yards to wrap up the Cowboy scoring.

JAY KUBIN turned the corner for one TD on an eight yarder and Jim Muir went four yards for another as Bishop Ready ran its seasonal mark to 6-3 with a 12-0 win over St. Charles Reserves Thursday.

Friday night's action finds Marion-Franklin (1-7) at Central (6-1-1) and East (5-3) at West (3-5). Bishop Ready hosts DeSales in a game Friday evening at Hartley (8 p.m.) which wraps up the Silver Knights' '62 season.

Pirates Claim Bearcat Title

Jim Bell and Bob Arnett led the way as the Westside Pirates topped Maryland AC, 20-0, Sunday to lay claim to Ohio Bearcat League championship.

The Pirates, undefeated in seven games this season, piled up a total of 172 points scored as compared to their opponents' 18.

NEXT ON the Bearcat schedule will be the All-Star game Sunday at 5 p.m. at Jet Stadium. The Pirates will provide opposition for the Stars team, which is composed of top boys from other teams in the league.

The All-Star game will precede the Columbus-Toledo United Football League game and tickets for the Bearcat tilt also cover admission to the pro game which gets under way at 7 p.m.

The Pirates leave for St. Louis on Nov. 23 at 8 p.m. for their scheduled post-season game against the Missouri cities' top little league grid team.

In other action Sunday, the Eagles shut out the Bears, 30-0 and the Blues downed the Tigers, 12-2.

Worthington finished in six of the first nine individual places, totaling 22 points as compared with runner - up East's 80.

The Cardinals' Jeff Eckert led the field with a time of 10:22, followed by teammate Russ Cellar, West's Tim DeWitt and Eastmoor's Don Wray. DeWitt and Wray also qualified for the state competition.

FREEDOM
Inscription for the Statue of Liberty
BY EMMA LAZARUS
Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore,
Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed, to me:
I lift my lamp beside the golden door.
This truly reflects the attitude of a nation living close to God. The concern and love for others grows through Christian fellowship. Attend Church Regularly.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Hilltop 'Y' Gra-Y Club Induction Held At Westmoor Junior High

The 11th annual Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Club induction was held Oct. 23 at Westmoor Junior High School. All members of Binns, Valleyview, Eakin, Highland, Prairie Lincoln, West Broad, Westgate, North Franklin, John Burroughs, Georgian Heights, West Mound and Lindbergh Gra-Y clubs were inducted and club officers were installed.

Among the honors given at this induction was a recognition of all club presidents. Leading their clubs this year are: Chuck Trabue, Steve Davis, Bill Ackerman, Dale Coldren, Jeff Bryant, Eddie Sparks, Mike Stumpf, Charles Bergmann, Gary Wiseman, Terry Dillahunty, Windel Tonney and Bill Burchett. These boys were presented the club charters, which they in turn, presented to their school principal or representative.

Trophies were awarded to Prairie Lincoln for winning last year's softball sportsmanship and to West Mound for winning the softball championship. The next awards went to West Broad and Lindbergh for winning the class "A" and "B" basketball sportsmanship, respectively. The year's award, which is a traveling trophy, for the Gra-Y track relays, went to the Westgate Gra-Y Club. This was the third annual Gra-Y relays sponsored by the Hilltop Y's Men's Club.

The highlight of the evening's program was the presentation of the Hilltop Y's Men's "Club-of-the-Year" award to Forest Rader, principal of West Broad Street Elementary School, and Bill Ackerman, president of the West Broad Gra-Y Club. The traveling trophy is decided by a point system devised by the local Gra-Y Council.

John Clay, of the Hilltop Y's Men's Club, in presenting this trophy, told how the various activities gave the club the award. The points come from attendance at weekly meetings, regular payment of dues, consistent church attendance, conduct at meetings, participation in all Gra-Y sports, and participation in activities such as the YMCA World Service Mint Sale and the Jet Badge sale.

The Gra-Y platform was explained to the boys and their parents by a member of the respective Gra-Y clubs. Sharing in this responsibility were Steve Howard, Binns; Steve Davis, North Franklin; Tom Cash, West Broad; Dale Coldren, Georgian Heights; Steve Clemons, Valleyview; Tom Skipper, Lindbergh; Jack Beery, John Burroughs, and Davis Brose, Westgate. Steve Harris, chaplain of Valleyview Gra-Y Club, closed the evening's program with prayer.

This year's program was again put under the direction of the Youth Program Committee of the Hilltop YMCA Board of Management. Vic Karl, chairman of the committee, was presiding chairman for the evening's program. Other members of the board participating were James Goudy, John Roman, Harry Grashel and Mrs. Ray Anderson, president of the Hilltop YMCA Mothers' Council. Members of the Y's Men's Club, under the direction of Roy Agin, served as marshals. Ushers for the program were members of the "Y" Leaders Club. Rev. Sydney Everson delivered the invocation.

Camp Fire Notes

By HELEN KILBOURNE

Members of the Da Kon Ya group spent Oct. 19, 20 and 21 at Camp Wyandot. Stephanie Emory, Pat Currier, Becky Hobbs, Karen Roberts, Roberta Ackerman, Georgia Brannan, Sue Ann Lavitchka, Linda Waddell and Diane Guenther were accompanied on this trip by Mrs. Johnny Ackerman, guardian, and Mrs. Gerald Roberts. The parents of all the girls went to Camp Wyandot on Sunday, Oct. 21, for a potluck dinner.

Stephanie Frock, Debbie Gordon, Jeannie Miller, Diane Mercer, Peggy Metzger, Roberta Williams, Debbie Zipf, and Vicki Spradling are taking a four-week charm course at Lazarus. The girls are all members of the Ki Yo Tom Mi group under the guardianship of Mrs. Carol Gordon. This charm course will fulfill one of the requirements under the new Jr. Hi program. The girls will receive a group torchbearer rank in home for competing in this course.

VFW auxiliary, Post 3441 donated a large American flag to the Kwa Ki Ya Camp Fire group. The flag was presented to the girls by Mrs Robert Zulauf and Mrs. Lawrence Work at a meeting held at the home of their guardian, Mrs. Toni Moore. Proper flag procedure was explained at that time.

The Kwa Ki Ya group recently passed several requirements for Woodgatherers rank. On Oct. 19, before attending a slumber party at the home of Mrs. Barbara Northrup, assistant guardian, the girls cooked their supper on hobo stoves. The next day they visited a farm near Delaware and cooked their lunch outdoors. Girls who participated were Robyn Aispach, Kathy Hastings, Lee Lahman, Vicki Michaelis, Amy Moore, Nancy Northrup, Kathy Baker, Debbie Takos, and Carol Bishop.

He Did It . . .
Jim Rhodes Is Governor

Well, he did it! Jim Rhodes is governor-elect of Ohio.

The outcome of today's election takes me back about 25 years to my early days as owner of The Hilltop Record.

One day I received a phone call asking me to report to a certain room in the Neil House to pick up a printing job. Any opportunity to pick up some business took me flying and when I arrived I met Jim Rhodes for the first time.

He was something of a youngster then, just learning a bit about politics and was helping Paul Herbert in one of his first campaigns for Lt. Gov. of Ohio.

Jim in his cordial manner handed me a candidate card and then asked me to print 75,000 for Paul. I said, "You mean you want a price on 75,000."

"No," came his reply. "I've checked you out. Just go ahead and print the cards. I know you'll treat us right."

This was something on the unusual side in my short business experience and I asked him, "What do you get out of this?"

His reply was straight to the point: "Someday I'm going to be governor of Ohio."

Congratulations are in order to Jim. He had a vision and over the years has tenaciously held onto it. We hope he will serve Ohio well—and enjoy his realized long time ambition.

Smart politicians agree that they like to appear on television rather than be quoted in the papers because nearly everyone gets a different interpretation of what they say on the air, but their statements in the papers really put them on the spot.

If we had a direct line to President Kennedy we would tell him we think he is letting America down if he doesn't take advantage of his opportunity to clean up Cuba all the way while we have the chance. We'll regret it if we don't.

Short Takes: Mrs. George Matson, Sr., and Mrs. Chan Randall have been enjoying a trip to Hawaii. The trip over on the Matson Lines Lurline was a dandy for Mrs. Matson but reports have it that Mrs. Randall didn't care so much for the trip. This past week, son George received a message from his mom saying she was going to stay on for a couple more weeks. Mrs. Randall was to fly back. . . Roger Strauss received an award at Hilltop Kiwanis last week, the Legion of Honor, representing over 30 years of service in Kiwanis.

Church Cash Temptation To Burglar

Cash of any kind—even the pennies in a piggy bank—was sought by the character who broke into Glenwood Methodist Church, Sunday night.

Officials of the new church on Valleyview-dr told police someone broke a south window to get in, then proceeded to pry open a six-foot locker cabinet, raided a pop machine, stole coins from a rack of devotional literature and cracked the piggy bank in the Sunday School office. Value of the loot was not revealed.

The vandal also "jimmied" the door to the office of the pastor, Rev. Warren Bright. Several hours earlier the church was host to a festival of 11 Hilltop choirs.

Muddy footprints were left throughout the building by the intruder.

Hilltop Community Council To Choose New Officers

A slate of candidates will be presented and election of officers will be the main business of the Hilltop Community Council's regularly scheduled meeting Thursday night at 8 o'clock, in the Hilltop Branch of the YMCA, 2879 Valleyview-dr.

The executive meeting will be held at 7. The general meeting at 8 will be open to the public.

Details of the community Christmas tree lighting ceremonies will be discussed.

Terry Ogden, chairman, and his committee chairmen will give final reports on the community Halloween party.

Patriotic Groups Arrange Nov. 11 Parade

Three-Division Procession To End With Bomb Salute At Central High

In step with the rest of the nation, Columbus area patriotic, school, and civic groups will honor all military veterans Sunday.

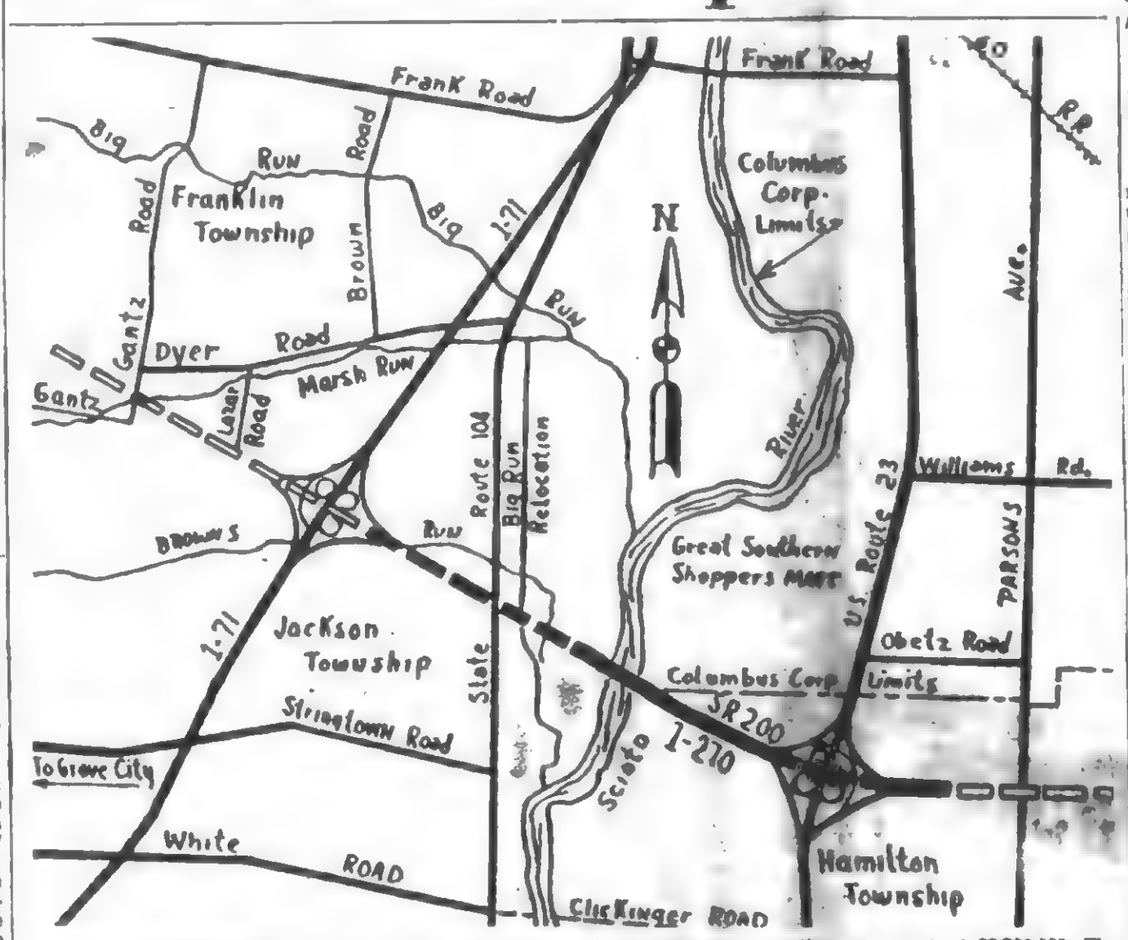
A three-division parade will move through several downtown squares starting at 2:15 p.m. A number of suburban groups will take part.

Starting on E. Broad-st at Fifth-st, the columns will march west past a reviewing stand in front of the south side of City Hall. Occupying the places of honor will be officers of the Armed Forces, state and city officials, and representatives of the various veterans' organizations.

Proceeding across the river bridge, the divisions will close ranks on Washington-blvd between W. Broad and Town-sts and, facing to the east, will observe a three-bomb salute and solemn tribute to deceased veterans.

Other Events Announced

Many veterans' organizations will hold open house during the day. In a post-parade salute to World I veterans an Armistice Day supper will be served at 5 p.m. at Westway Post 3441, VFW, Clarendon-av and Whitehead-rd. Members and wives of Capitol City Barracks 461, Veterans of Word War I, will be guests. R.M. Hartman (The Old Sarge) will speak on current legislation for vets.



Camp Chase Post 96, American Legion, 3211 W. Broad-st, will hold its traditional public breakfast starting at 6 a.m. Tickets are $1.

After the parade, Charles Bloce Post 157 will hold its annual bean dinner. Southway Post will have an open house as will posts at Hilliard and Grove City.

The 83rd Division of the United States Army Reserve will not be represented because of a special event of its own. Absent also will be units from Lockbourne, which are on stand-by alert.

The first parade division, headed by Columbus Police cyclists, will include Grand Marshal William R. Schnug, Hilliard, past commander of Franklin County Council of American Legion with BLACK DASHED area from I-71 to the west bank of the Scioto River is the section of the outerbelt now under construction. The 1.42 mile stretch is being constructed by V. N. Holderman and Sons at a cost of $2,900,000. The solid black line is the second section to be built and the white dashes show the path of the highway to the west.

Local Men Engulfed By GOP Vote

Democratic office seekers were caught in the undertow of the same Republican tide which covered most of Franklin County and also swept Rhoads into the State Capital Tuesday.

Closest local race was that for Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, Jan. 1, 1963 term. Robert M. Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, who has served the court seven years, lost a "cliff hanger" to North Sider Judge Charles R. Petree. Final unofficial count was 83,382 to 80,477. Draper was unopposed on the Democratic slate in the primaries and garnered 26,919 votes last May.

Russell D. Drake, 105 N. Chase-av, who was city clerk two years under the Sensenbrenner administration, failed Tuesday in his bid to fill the county commissioner vacancy. Pulling 75,580 votes, he trailed Robert M. Hicks (now president of City Council) by more than 30,000 votes. Democrat Drake, a printer by trade, had campaigned that his election would even up the party lines within the commissioner ranks.

Charles Meeks, 68 Clark-pl, and Hilliard resident John Dennis, who practices law on the Hilltop, both were among Democrats who fell behind in the scramble for state representative seats. All those elected are Republicans. Meeks collected 60,709 votes; Dennis, 63 926.

Meanwhile, local backers of the county's .3 mill levy for Retarded Children were jubilant as the measure passed 105,865 to 64,066.

Also of widespread interest here was the defeat of the Constitutional Amendment for Sunday sales. Ohio voters turned it down by a 3-2 vote.

NEW MAYOR

HARRY HOLROYD, 479 N. Warren-av, Valleyview, is expected to be sworn in as mayor of that village this week, following the resignation last week of Mayor Robert Fisher. Holroyd was president of council and a seven-year council veteran. He is a member of the Glenwood Methodist Church and is employed by the General Electric Corp. He said he plans no changes in administrative policy.

Homemaker Search Is Ended!

Hartley Newspapers' local search for area Suburban Homemakers of the Year has ended.

See the 32-page homemaker supplement in this newspaper for complete stories and pictures on the four local winners who have won an all-expense paid trip to Chicago to attend the national homemaking finals.

Three photos on page two of the section are those of the local Homemaker judges. This identification was omitted from the story.

One-Way Traffic Plan Near Reality

The long awaited conversion of Town and Rich Streets to one-way traffic will soon be a reality, according to Frank Schneider, 212 Avondale, chairman of the West Side Neighborhood Council Traffic Committee.

Schneider stated the City Traffic and Transportation Commission has cleared up final details, including the working out of alternate bus routes with Columbus Transit Company. The City Commission is expected to put its stamp of approval on the change at its next regular bimonthly meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 13th. Representatives of the West Side Council plan to attend and discuss with Commission members other aspects of the Council Traffic plan which have not been implemented. The Executive Committee of the West Side Neighborhood Council will meet Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 7:45 p.m. in Gladden Community House. Full reports from all committees will be received.

FROM I-71 TO SCIOTO

Work Starts On Outerbelt

First leg of the $104,599,000 Columbus Outerbelt (I-270) has now been under construction two weeks and "All is going well," according to workmen on the scene.

Land is now being cleared from I-71, approximately one mile north of Stringtown-rd, east to Rt. 104 for the first section of the Outerbelt which runs from I-71 to the west bank of the Scioto River.

V. N. Holderman and Sons are contractors for the 1.42-mile stretch which was let for a bid of $2,890,000.

Limited earth work will be carried on through the winter on the section and paving is scheduled to start early in the summer of 1963.

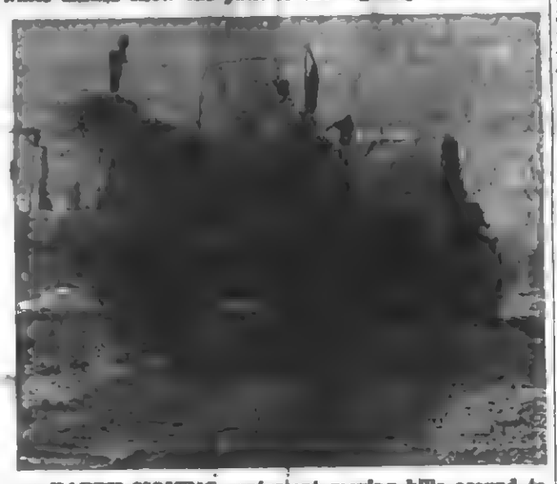
Western arcs of the super highway will pass just east of New Rome. The new road, together with the proposed West Freeway to West Jefferson, is bound to dictate big changes in future traffic patterns here. Most of the cross-country Route 40 traffic will be taken off W. Broad-st.

Outerbelt project completion date is Nov. 30, 1964, according to Highway Dept. officials.

The second section of the Outerbelt will span the Scioto and intersect with U. S. Rt. 23 (S. High-st.) approximately one-quarter mile south of the Columbus corporation line.

That leg will include a full intersection (cloverleaf) at Rt. 23 and bridges crossing the Scioto and S. High-st.

The bridge over the Scioto will be the only one between Frank-rd and Rt. 665 west of Shadeville, a distance of approximately seven miles.



It will be 730 feet long and 42 feet wide, constructed with continuous steel girders and reinforced concrete decks.

The Outerbelt will completely encircle Columbus (approximately 56 miles in length) and offer by-passes to incoming traffic from all directions when completed.

Only an area from a point just south of Westerville to E. Broad-st. remains to be plotted.

A definite path has not yet been established for that vicinity pending further study of traffic conditions in the

Rt. 104 from Stringtown-rd to Frank-rd will be closed until further notice during construction of the Outerbelt.

Westgate Hawks Set For Pennsy Playoff

A trip to the Milk Bowl — the No. 1 dream of every Little League football team in the nation—hangs in the balance Saturday when the Westgate Hawks return to Pennsylvania for the Eastern Division playoff.

The Hawks, who have plowed through their National Division OBFF schedule this season without a loss, earned their berth in the division playoffs last Sept. 22 when they downed McKeesport, Pa., 19-13, to snap the Little Tigers 57-game winning streak.

THEIR OPPONENTS again will be the same Little Tigers, whose record now stands at a still impressive 64-2 as compared with the Hawks' 42-0 mark.

The game, played for the benefit of the International Lions clubs is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Glassport, Pa., High School stadium.

If the Hawks defeat the Little Tigers again, it's off to Pharr, Tex., and the national Milk Bowl championship game on Dec. 29 that will decide the nation's number one Little League football team.

THE WESTGATE team will depart from the Westgate Park parking lot Friday at 4:30 p.m.

The Western Division playoff will be held in Oklahoma City, Okla., with a New Orleans team facing an entry from either Los Angeles or Phoenix, Ariz.

The Hawks are in for a busy weekend. They will leave Glassport immediately following the game and return to Columbus, catching up on their sleep at the YMCA before facing Arlington, the American Division champion, Sunday afternoon for the OBFF 110-pound league championship.

THE 27-MAN Hawk roster includes Mike Colegrove, Gerry Henderson, Mark Carney, Jeff Clark, Terry Meinberg, Junior Dembinski, Bill Shaw, Ted Toles, Dusty Hoover, Bill Prillerman, Marty Barnes, Rick Winston, Larry Leichner, Chuck Francis, Reg Scott, Walt Richards, Stan Foster, Frank Wigfall, Frank Hanson, Winnie Dearing, Jeff Reeves, Bill Weeks, Terry Peake, Jim McVey, Tom Randall, Lloyd Bixler and Jim Chiero.

The Westgate coaching staff is composed of Dennis McDonald, head coach, and Karl Fulton and Ed Richardson, assistant coaches.

IT'S TRAVELIN' time again for the Westgate Hawks as the OBFF National Division champion takes to the road for the second time this season to face the McKeesport Little Tigers. A berth in the Milk Bowl is at stake as the Hawks put their 42-game winning streak on the line. Packing their gear for the big trip are, left to right, co-captain center Mike Colegrove, 3491 Wicklow-rd, quarterback Jeff Clark, 788 Brixham-rd and halfback Mark Carney, 4145 Sexton-dr. Supervising the job is Hawk business manager Chuck Carney.

SCD Plans To Be Heard On Nov. 30

November 30 at 10 a.m. has been set as the public hearing date on the plans for $79.6 million flood control projects by the Scioto Conservancy District.

The hearing will be held in the Columbus City Council chambers before members of Common Pleas Courts of Franklin, Pickaway, Ross, Pike and Scioto counties.

A court decision on whether the plans fulfill the prescribed requirements laid out for the SCD cannot be made until a public hearing has been held and objections heard.

If the court approves the 11-part plan, the district trustees will proceed with appraisal of benefits and damages to property involved.

After appraisal another hearing must be held to consider financing and appraisal costs.

Ex-President Of Letter Carriers To Be Honored

Sunday, Nov. 11, at the Nationwide Inn, Buckeye Branch 78 of the National Association of Letter Carriers will be host to the state association which will honor William C. Doherty, newly appointed ambassador to Jamaica.

Doherty has just retired after 21 years as president of the National Association of Letter Carriers and is the first person in history to be selected from the ranks of organized labor to be an American ambassador.

Doherty is a native Cincinnatian who, in 1941, was elected president of the union and held that position until Sept. 8, 1962 when he retired.

The 60-year-old Doherty has been a vice president of the AFL-CIO since 1955 and was vice president of the American Federation of Labor from 1943 until the amalgamation with the CIO in 1955.

His effectiveness as a freedom fighter on a world-wide scale caused him to be invited by Gen. Lucius D. Clay in 1945 to assist in re-establishing a free trade union movement in Germany. In 1956 he was selected by President Eisenhower to be a member of the official party attending the inauguration of President Kuitscheck, of Brazil.

He and his wife, Gertrude, have nine children and 37 grandchildren.

The meeting Sunday will be from 2 to 6 p.m. and is open to Letter Carriers and Labor leaders from all over the state.

Don't Forget To Fly Flag During Winter, Too

Symbol of 'Old Glory'—Our Veterans

To The Editor:

A stranger in our South Side was heard to comment favorably the other day about our good display of the National Emblem, our beloved Stars and Stripes.

It is characteristic of our community that we observe the proud tradition on major flag holidays. A few families display their flag on other days. We are getting older, are giving up some long standing habits, just like to observe traditions.

We sometimes fear that after Labor Day the Emblem is furled for the last time to await another summer season.

The truth is this: the flag should be out of moth balls more often than in. The flag can (should) be displayed on all days when the weather permits—and not just on public buildings, school grounds, and ball parks. The quiet, regular devotion to our cherished national symbol is constant reminder of an endowed heritage, of sacrifices and perseverance.

Flag holidays fall in every month except March.

The season is not over. Three more days can be observed before New Year's Day — Veterans Day (Nov. 11), Thanksgiving (Nov. 22) and Christmas.

On into 1963 they are: New Years Day; Inauguration day, Jan. 20; Lincoln's Birthday, Feb. 12; Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22; Army Day, April 6; Jefferson's Birthday, April 13; Easter Sunday; Loyalty Day, May 1; Mothers Day, second Sunday in May; Armed Forces Day, third Saturday in May; Memorial Day May 22; Maritime Day, May 30 (Half staff until noon); Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4; National Aviation Day, Aug. 19; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Citizenship Day, Sept. 17; Columbus Day, Oct. 12 and Navy Day, Oct. 27.

This reminder is forwarded from Southern Kiwanis Club whose directors are enforcing a flag display project among their members in coordination with the Northern Kiwanis Club. (When North and South get together on patriotic issues, we have something that begs heed).

Observe Sabbath From Heart, Not By Law

Re: a recent article "Closed on Sunday Decals" by the Southern Kiwanis Club. There are many facets of the Sunday closing laws. More likely than not they are antiquated and need restatement, reinterpretation or complete nullification. A most unfortunate fact is the religious implications of the closing laws. The implications are real—this being so, legal enforcement of such laws under any pretext, good or bad, is a constitutional infringement upon the inalienable rights and privileges of both religious and non-religious of any community.

True, the "Good Book" says "Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth. . . ." Common experience will also dictate that man needs one day out of seven for physical rest. However, if man chooses to disobey a common law of nature, what authority has the state in this particular realm to force man to do that which can only be a voluntary act of the mind and heart?

The truth is, religious motivations are deeply imbedded in this "one day in seven" and neither state nor church can dictate to the individual conscience of the masses concerning it for each has its own sphere of influence.

If all that is desired in a Sabbath devoid of the intrusions of secularism and materialism is to be realized, then don't legislate it, but let every Sabbath keeper (regardless of the day) be found observing it out of heart commitment, come what may! The "nominally religious" ever seek to force their way upon a "godless society" by legislation and the converting of government rather than by God ordained and God appointed means, which are never coercive.

Respectfully Yours,
Harold L. Turner

Frosting On The Cake

By
"UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

How to stay sane in a world gone nuts? That is the $64,000 question today for decent people.

Three things give some guarantee of peace of mind and serenity of soul. They are: 1. an unassailable and inviolate faith in Almighty God. 2. Simple and frugal living, meaning proper diet that is necessary for the physiological health of man as an animal. 3. Constant improvement in the individual's habit pattern of mind.

Now to amplify a bit . . . . point one: No man can stay sane unless he owns absolute allegiance to some force for good, outside himself and greater than all of his mortal talents combined. People who "have everything" except the secret of happiness, are just as confused and bewildered and fear-bedeviled as anyone else, no matter how limited their "understanding quotient" may be.

Never, in my entire professional and public career of 45 years, have I ever seen a time when so many fine and decent people were seeking modern, scientific enlightenment, as at this very moment.

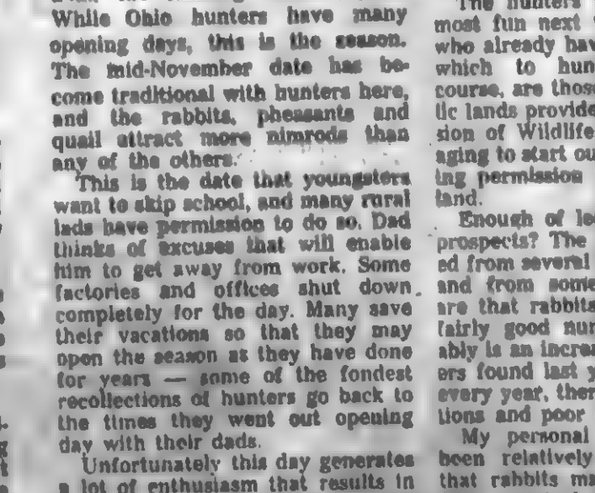
Point two: The simple life is neither expensive nor frustrating to those of us who have achieved some degree of liberation from the seven deadly sins of fear and hate and envy and jealousy and vengeance and fault finding. Last, and most dangerous of all is negative-minded ,sad-sack "gloomitis"

Millions of otherwise fine and decent people destroy themselves by constant psychological malpractice against themselves. There is a master key that works for those who will have the wit and good sense to drive any and all kinds of rubbish out of their habit-pattern of mind.

Point three: This country doesn't have a single problem that good sense, good humor, good manners, hard work and absolute faith in "that Wise Old Man Upstairs" can't solve!

• • • •

The little old-fashioned country schoolhouse was red only on the outside. On the inside children were taught how to read and write and figure and spell, and how to behave as members of decent society.



Discipline was always adequate for the immediate and particular situation. Children who could be reasoned with by infinite patience and love, learned the easy way how to grow up. Those who rejected every such effort usually had to learn the hard way through the "south end" of their education.

• • • •

Delinquency can be nipped in the bud. Juveniles can be trained in ways of uprightness. Children can be molded into good citizens. But this has to be done at home by men and women who know that love is not indulgence.

• • • •

The insatiable demand for the exceptional individual in every realm of human endeavor is growing by leaps and bounds. Personnel directors tell me that life has no greater thrill for them, than to find here and there an ambitious young man or woman, fresh out of school, who is really "looking for work," not just easy money.

"I'll flip you, Mason—double or nothing!"

Mighty Gun-Toting Migration Expected Nov. 15 In Search Of Bunnies, Birds

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Next Thursday, Nov. 15, at 9 a.m., the hunting season opens. While Ohio hunters have many opening days, this is the season. The mid-November date has become traditional with hunters here, and the rabbits, pheasants and quail attract more nimrods than any of the others.

This is the date that youngsters want to skip school, and many rural lads have permission to do so. Dad thinks of excuses that will enable him to get away from work. Some factories and offices shut down completely for the day. Many save their vacations so that they may open the season as they have done for years — some of the fondest recollections of hunters go back to the times they went out opening day with their dads.

Unfortunately this day generates a lot of enthusiasm that results in some accidents. The great majority of such casualties can be traced back to a hunter who overanxiously pulled the trigger before he was sure of his target, or to someone who hurried to climb a fence or get out of a car, and the like. A hunter who remains calm and deliberate even though enthusiasm is running high, is a safe hunter.

The hunters who will have the most fun next week are the ones who already have lined up land on which to hunt. Exceptions, of course, are those who hunt on public lands provided by the Ohio Division of Wildlife. But it is discouraging to start out opening day seeking permission to hunt on private land.

Enough of lecturing, how about prospects? The reports I've received from several farmers in the area and from some on to the south, are that rabbits are being seen in fairly good numbers. There probably is an increase over those hunters found last year. As is the case every year, there will be good locations and poor ones.

My personal observations have been relatively few, but I agree that rabbits may be up slightly. I have worked my dogs several times, and they have found plenty of rabbits to run.

Information on pheasants and quail is more sketchy, and I would not want to hazard a general opinion. Along in late summer, actually at the State Fair, I talked with three farmers from the hill country in southern Ohio, and they believed that quail numbers were up substantially. This is good news, and I hope it's true.

Up until a week ago, corn picking in this area seemed to be behind schedule, and this plays an important part in the number of pheasants farmers will see prior to the season. If you do some checking on your own, you are likely to see some birds early in the morning in field borders and along roadways. I would say that the number of pheasants I've seen thus far would not indicate an increase on the farms I know about.

Birds and rabbits are where you find them. And all the predictions in the world will not fill every hunter's bag. Those who know how to hunt, and are interested enough to have found places to hunt, will find game. They always do, and their opening days are always a success.

Gift Plan With A Heart . . .

This year again, Nov. 1 marked the kick-off date for the eighth Annual Christmas Gift Program for patients of the Columbus State Hospital and Columbus Childrens Psychiatric Hospital.

This straight-from-the-heart program is sponsored, in this area, by the Franklin County Mental Health Association. The appeal is to raise such new gifts as anklets, aprons, wind bonnets, men's and women's washable gloves, head scarves, hose, scuffies, socks, ties, smoking needs, bracelets, tie clips, and all types of toiletries. Gifts can again be left at any of the stores of a prominent local cleaning company who will act as "gathering hosts".

Last year this appeal, through a fine community spirit raised 24,000 items for a merrier Christmas for patients. Won't you help in this effort? This year any kind of trading stamps and books also will be collected for this project. They can be mailed to the FCMHA, 131 E. State-st, Columbus, 15, or also left at Swans.

We encourage all club groups, church groups or residents interested in this gift-therapy program to call the Franklin County Mental Health Association at CA. 8-4344 for further information.

Worship Is Good Investment

You'll not find your local house of worship listed on the stock market, but we believe that there is no better investment for our citizens than shares in the ongoing work of churches and synagogues.

Dividends are not paid in cash. Rather you find a high interest rate in the more fruitful experience of living, an enlarged sense of well-being for having volunteered services unselfishly, and a deeper appreciation of your fellow men who need your helping hand — all of which adds up to a better community for everyone.

This type of investment in time and money takes you into a partnership with other men and women of our town and around the world, not to mention the important partnership it offers with the Creator.

Such a sound investment, combined with an extremely valuable rate of interest, offers a rare opportunity. It would benefit all of us to take advantage of it by worshipping at the church or synagogue of your choice each week.

"Guard Well That Tongue — It Stretches For; For What You Say Tells What You Are."

Do You Weary The Lord With Words?

Rev. Orth

Returning from Babylonian captivity the people of Israel suffered hardships, disappointments, frustrations, which they believed were caused by the foreigners in their land, the mixed marriages and generally by circumstances. They did not see their own faults and even felt justified to tempt God by asking: Where is the God judgment?" "Everyone that doeth evil is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them." (See Malachi 2:17 and 3:5).

Are we today not all tempted to wish some harm to come to our neighbours who cross our ways? An unbeliever once declared: "If God exists, then in five minutes he will kill me." Were not those who heard this sacrilege tempted to wish that God would kill him instantly?

But God's messenger received a different message to tell the people: "Ye have wearied me with your words." Which means that God simply does not like the constant complaints over the wickedness of this world. God is not delighted by prayers which almost crave for the punishment of the world.

God's not acting "in the next five minutes" does not mean that He would not act at all. And besides, God seldom acts when we think he should act. Now show Thy power Lord, now is the time to prove that Thou art God! God is absolutely free from our decisions. God cannot be pushed around. He rejects our interference. We would say that sometimes years pass until He "ships our orders." He cannot be scared by us when we tell Him: If thou dost not fulfill our wishes, we will go somewhere else for better service.

All right! Go! Go to the competition, go to the modern political ideologies, go to science, go and find out if these your modern gods could be a substitute for me. You cannot deal with God like you deal with an automat. You insert a dime and presto you get a Coke.

God, though a loving, kind and eternally merciful father, is not our servant . . . He still is the Lord of hosts. And He dislikes it when people, who consider themselves perfect and good and pious and religious, intend to crucify others. And besides all this, the sins that the eager pious condemn in the world can be found in themselves, too.

There is an inner relationship between the judgments of God and the way we are dealing with the widow, the fatherless, the stranger, the hireling. The lot of these speaks of the standard of justice in a country. And in case this standard would be low, it would be the duty of the Church, to stand up and demand justice, for the lot of the widow and fatherless, the lot of the strangers, the lot of the hireling, the problem of the workers' wages . . . is God's cause!

Grunts And Oinks Have Meaning, Too!

Pigs talk?

That's what Australian geneticist Glen McBride says. After spending two years perched on pigpen fences with ears cocked to the assorted grunts, oinks and squeals from the occupants, McBride is convinced pigs have a distinct language of their own . . . and he can understand it.

McPeek

Like you may be, I was a little skeptical when I read about McBride's discovery. But upon reading it some of my incredulity diminished when, according to McBride's eavesdropping, it appears lady pigs do the most talking.

Knowing that this is a strong characteristic of the speech behavior of humans, it seems logical that if pigs talk, sows surely would hog the conversation.

Most pig words are simple expressions of mood or emotion, says McBride. A low-pitched squeal means "I'm hungry." A high-pitched squeal means distress, pain or discomfort. A short yelp-like squeal means "I give up."

As to be expected, most pig talk seems to center around food. It's not uncommon, McBride says, to hear sows grunt out such remarks to their little porkers as "Come and get it," "Finish your dinner," "Here I am," "Stop biting, children," and when she gets ready to clear off the table, "Watch out, kids, I'm going to roll over and may squash you."

Other pig grunts recognizable to McBride's ears include: "I'm in a bad mood" and "Let me alone."

What really disturbs me about McBride's discovery is that from this day forth it is not likely I'll ever be able to crunch into a ham sandwich without wondering what the ill-fated pig's last words were.

Perhaps they may have been: "Please, sir, is it too late to catch a boat for Israel?"

HOPE

Once upon a time a sailing ship was becalmed with no land in sight, the crew dying of thirst. They had no hope.

But one man, deciding to die quickly if painfully of salt water instead of thirst, tied a rope to a bucket, threw it overside, and drew it up full of water. To his utter amazement, it was fresh. Of course they all were saved.

The impossible had happened. Later, they learned that they had been in the broad estuary of the Amazon at neap tide where fresh water was pushing the salt back downriver to the sea.

Two men were running a race. One was so far behind it seemed he couldn't possibly win. Yet he "poured on the coal" and won.

Kick open an anthill. The ants scramble about in a desperate hurry. But after a few seconds they are rebuilding and will finish the job if left alone long enough.

Is any situation so hopeless it can't get worse? Mebbe so. But remember, the last blow drives home the nail. Let's try it just once more. What say?

It says here . . . . . .
Lower your bucket of hope wherever you are.

HEARING NOV. 16

Caperton Predicts Defeat Of 946 Acre Annexation Proposal

"The citizens of Franklin Township definitely have a chance to defeat this annexation bid."

Dave Caperton, president of the Franklin Township Citizens Association, backbone of annexation opposition in the township, expressed such optimism this week on the latest proposed annexation to the of Columbus—946 acres in the south-western portion of the township.

A public hearing, before the Franklin County Commissioners, is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 16, at Franklin Township Firehouse No. 3 at Frank-rd and Harrisburg-pk.

The petition for annexation was filed with the commissioners Sept. 14 and signed by 14 resident property holders in the petitioned territory.

Largest landholder in the area is the city of Columbus with 239 acres, including the Men's and Women's Workhouses and the Jackson-pk sewage plant.

Caperton said that township residents will attend the meeting "in force," to try to persuade the commissioners that annexation of the area would be "bad" for both Columbus and the township.

"Service to that area," said Caperton, "such as fire and police protection would be much more difficult to maintain simply because of the traveling distance involved."

He estimated that the nearest Columbus fire station at Glenwood and Broad would be "at best" 20 minutes away from any part of the territory, "while Franklin Township has a fire company within three minutes of any part of the area."

"Another thing" Caperton said, "is that bus service for school children would be non-existant after annexation."

He said that no West Side buses serve the area and the only bus service now available for children is provided by the [illegible] City School District. If the area were annexed the Columbus School System would probably take in the area students and bus service would not be available.

"Special service of some kind would have to be set up to accommodate these children," said the president.

Caperton also thought that some of the petitioners for annexation had been "misinformed" and hoped that the commissioners would agree with him on the point.

Two Juveniles Admit Pilfering

A 14-year-old West side youth and a 15-year-old companion admitted pilfering at least 70 cars on the West side in recent months.

The 15-year-old was quoted as saying, "Please put me in jail. I have tried to stop stealing and I can't. I even had my dad keep me in the house for six months to stop it."

Police said the case was broken when the father of one boy called to say his son came home with a flashlight, which he couldn't explain.

Names of the boys are withheld because police say they expect to apprehend others.

Police Tighten Area Regulations

Police Chief George Scholer has announced increased enforcement of laws concerning speeding and changing lanes without signal on Broad-st, from Gift-st to Souder-av, from 7 to 9 a.m.

He also announced increased enforcement of laws concerning speed and stop signs on Mound-st, from Wayne to Hague, from 2 to 6 p.m.

Regan Greets Cap Hoopsters

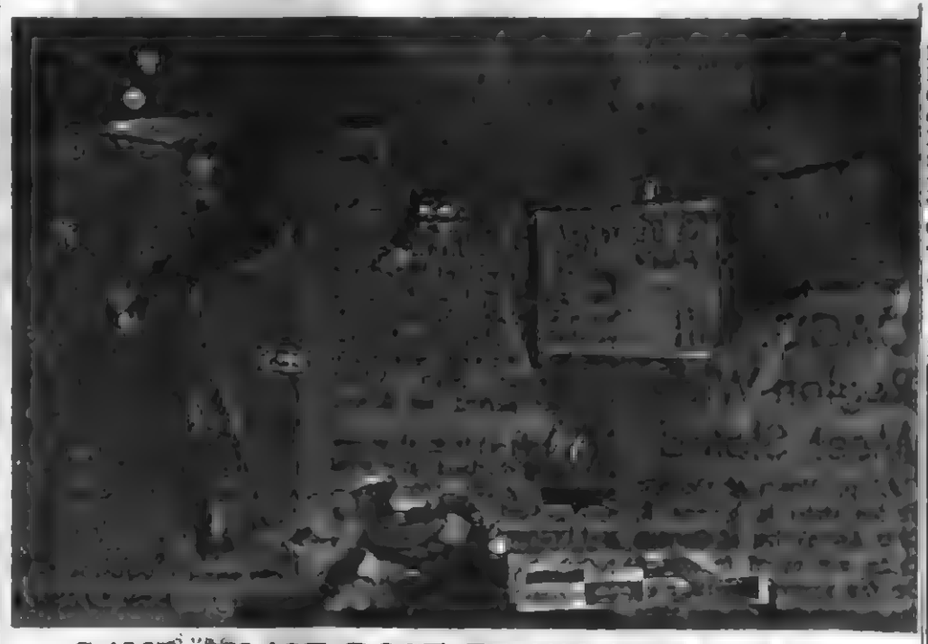
Capital University Coach Harold "Whitey" Regan dragged the round ball out of moth balls and greeted a 40-man squad Nov. 1 as preparations for a 17-game basketball season got underway.

Among those who turned out included nine returning lettermen paced by junior co-captains Jerry Phillips, and Bob Fraas. Other lettermen include John Beach, Steve Kick, John Brugler, Dick Guyer, of Columbus South, Dick Cassie, Mike Carr, and Dave Mumau.

OUT OF 17 games, Cap plays ten at home, opening Dec. 1 with Franklin, Indiana. Of its first ten games of the season, Cap plays but three away.

Regan says he is looking for improvement over last year's 9-12 record. His main concern is finding a replacement for high scoring center Joel "Bud" Dill.

Regan is not overlooking freshmen in his search for Dill's replacement. It is not inconceivable that a "phenomenal" jumper such as Jim DeBerry, of Hilliard, could fit the slot, according to Regan.



The schedule, Regan says, appears to favor Capital, but hastily adds that any apparent advantage will be offset by the calibre of the opponents.

The schedule: Dec. 1-Franklin, Ind. (H); Dec. 4 - Akron (H); Dec. 8-Baldwin-Wallace (A); Dec. 11-Wilmington (H); Dec. 13-Denison (H); January 5-Hiram (H); Jan. 8-Otterbein (H); Jan. 10-Kenyon (A); Jan 12-Marietta (H); Jan. 15-Mt. Union (A); Jan. 17 - Muskingum (H); Jan. 25-Wooster (A); Jan. 26-Oberlin (A); February 2-Otterbein (A); Feb. 9-Wittenberg (H); Feb. 12-Heidelberg (A); Feb. 16-Ohio Wesleyan (H); Feb. 21-22-23-Ohio Conf. Tourney (H); March 1-2-Ohio Conf. Tourney (H).

You could lose every cent you have by having the wrong insurance on your car or home!

After you have an accident, it may be too late to discover you don't have enough liability insurance. In the United States last year, hundreds of car owners, most of them average people who consider themselves good drivers, had individual liability judgments exceeding $100,000 rendered against them. How much liability insurance do you have?

After you have a fire, it's too late to wish your home insurance was up-to-date. If inflation has increased the worth of your home without your insurance being correspondingly increased, you may have to pay part of the loss out of your own pocket.

Protection Week

May we suggest you check up on your insurance right away? This week, November 4-10, is Protection Week, a time for car owners, home owners, and businessmen to make sure they're really protected by insurance.

We'll be glad to analyze your insurance—to appraise accurately the present worth of your home—without charge. Call us today.

Guests Will Learn Ancient Japanese Art, Investment Tips, 'Tuesday At The Y'

The art of Japanese paper folding will be demonstrated and taught by Mrs. James Irwin at "Tuesday at the Y," on the morning of Nov. 13 at Hilltop YWCA Center, 2879 Valleyview-dr.

Paper folding is an ancient art which originated in China in the 16th century and eventually found its way to Japan, and can be used to make animals and birds for the entertainment of children or to make intricate art objects for home decoration.

Thanksgiving and Christmas decorations for family dinners and parties will be featured. Those who wish to take ornaments home may bring stationery and gift papers appropriate to the season.

Because of the rising interest in investment clubs for women, the afternoon program has been planned to provide useful information on this subject.

Winfield Polk, vice-president of Midland Investors Co., will show a film and lead discussion on "Investing in Mutual Funds."

Mrs. Donald Corderman and Mrs. Albert Hamowitz will be in charge of arrangements for the gourmet luncheon.

"Tuesday at the Y" is available to members of the YWCA and those holding family memberships in the Hilltop YMCA at a cost of $1 per day, including luncheon.

Supervised baby-sitting with crafts is provided without charge. Mothers are requested to bring a sack lunch for children. Milk will be furnished.

For details or reservations call CA. 4-9121.

3000 PARTICIPATE IN TWIGS' CHRISTMAS BAZAAR, SET NOV. 19

Rivaling the acorn-to-oak-tree success story, the annual Twigs' bazaar has expanded from a small fair held in the home of one of Columbus' pioneers in 1890, to today's gigantic affair staged at Veterans Memorial.

Three thousand women, members of the more than 125 Twigs of Children's Hospital, will cooperate in the 1962 bazaar, planned Monday, Nov. 19, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Members put their imagination, talents and skill to work throughout the year in preparing an impressive array of items for sale at the affair.

More than $120,261, including bazaar proceeds of $19,046, was presented to Children's Hospital by the Twigs last year.

The first affair, held by a small group from St. Paul's Episcopal Church in the home of Mrs. James Kilbourne, realized $125 proceeds for the hospital in 1890.

Children's Hospital was incorporated with nine beds for crippled children two years later, and in 1916, the first seven Twigs were organized.

The first cooperative bazaar was held by the Twigs in 1921, and consisted of one table in the Thrift Shop, operated by one woman.

Proceeds and tables have increased progressively through the years, until 180 tables were achieved last year.

SHOE WEAR

How long should a pair of shoes last an active nine year old boy? That's a good question. It depends a lot on the activities of the boy and the type of shoe. Cheap, heavy brogans may last longer than expensive corrective shoes, but, is wear everything?

I just fit a boy in his second pair of Thomas Heel extra support shoes. The first pair lasted two and a half months. Yet his mother said that was the best buy they had ever made on his shoes. Even though they cost more and didn't last as long, they had made a new child out of their son. He could run and play, he was more agressive in his activities and because he could now get around and play like other kids, he was healthier.

I've always said that children who could wear out shoes, usually didn't require a lot of expensive pills.

Each of these communities offers you a wide choice of different "Space-Age" homes ... modern, colonial, Polynesian, contemporary in design ... one to four bedrooms in size ... all designed for Re-new-ment living in the sun.

If you have ever given a thought to living in Florida, either now or in the future, you most certainly should have the facts about General Development Corporation's new "Space-Age" homes for 1963. And you can get this information without leaving your easy chair.

LEADING BUSINESSMAN IN YOUR COMMUNITY READY TO SERVE YOU

For your confidence and peace of mind, and to assure you of all the facts necessary for you to make the right decision, there is a General Development home counsellor right in your community. He was chosen as our representative after thorough investigation because of his special qualifications — his knowledge and experience in the real estate business — his standing in the community — but primarily because of his honesty and integrity.

After his selection by General Development Corporation he made a trip to Florida — inspected each of our communities — talked with residents and employees. Nothing was held back. He was encouraged to ask questions — how we build our homes, what our costs are, and why the values we offer are so outstanding. Then, and only then, he was asked if he would like to become a partner in selling General Development properties.

Now, we invite you to take advantage of the experience and the advice of the General Development home counsellor in this city. He will be happy to give you all the facts about Florida, help you decide where to live, what kind of home to buy, and how much to pay for it. Remember, there is no cost — no obligation. All you have to do is call or write the home counsellor below.

Mexican Critics Loved Her; She'll Be At Cap Nov. 13

It has been said that they never build statues to critics but the south-of-the-border variety has called Teresa Orantes "a girl who displays outstanding vocal projection . . . solid technique . . . precise intonation," and that's good enough for Capital University.

Miss Orantes

Miss Orantes, the soprano from El Salvadore, Central America, has been booked as the featured guest artist in the second of Capital's Concert-Lecture Series.

• Noticed in passing that rumors about a former car show room at S. Fifth and E. Broad turning into a night club must be true. Sign outside now says Tommy Henrich's Steak House. Nothing else on this yet.

• Frank Sinatra, who opens at Loew's Ohio Nov. 8 in "The Manchurian Candidate," checked into a hospital . . . says he's concerned about his throat. A top singing instructor in New York says a good vocal coach could cure him and added that Frankie has been going at it wrong for the last 15 years and that he never really learned to take care of his singing equipment. Incidentally George Axelrod, who adapted "The Manchurian Candidate" for the screen, had a string of Broadway smashes until his "Goodbye, Charlie" bombed out in 1959. Asked if pans by critics taught him a lesson, he replied: "No. Failure never helps anybody. It sent me back to my analyst, shook me up for a while and it took me a year before I could write anything again."

Strollers To Present 'Male Animal'

WHEN TWO MEN get together to drown their sorrows, the situation is hilarious. Taking part in this scene from Strollers production of "The Male Animal" is Gary Waldhorn (standing) who plays Professor Tommy Turner. Sitting in a trance is Jerome Lacher, who portrays Michael Barnes. The show is dated Nov. 14-17.

The Strollers first dramatic production of the season, "The Male Animal," will be presented Wednesday, Nov. 14 through Saturday, Nov. 17 in University Hall at OSU.

Tickets are $1.25 and may be purchased from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. at Mershon Auditorium Box Office, reserved by calling Mershon at CY. 8-2354, or purchased at the door.

"The Male Animal" was written by James Thurber and Eliot Nugent, both former residents of Columbus and graduates of Ohio State.

The story evolves around Tommy Turner, an English professor at OSU and takes place during Homecoming weekend when mighty Michgan is about to invade Ohio Stadium.

"The Male Animal" has all the ingredients of a great Thurber play, but a comedy with serious implications. It is certainly a play that should live up to the Stroller tradition of fine quality.

National Ballet Is Top-Level Artistry

The National Ballet of Canada appearing at Mershon Auditorium tonight (Thursday), 8 p.m., is now in its 11th year.

Lois Smith is a prima ballerina with the company and is just one example of the fine talent boasted by the group.

It has been headed by Celia Franca, formerly of London's famed Sadler Wells Ballet Company.

The company, now grown to 80 members from its meager beginning of 23 dancers, has already received highest critical acclaim all over the North American continent.

'Rigoletto' Dated

New York City Opera Company will bring Verdi's "Rigoletto" to Mershon Auditorium at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 15. The company not only presents the works of the classic composers, Mozart, Verdi, Puccini, etc., but it has given opera lovers an opportunity to hear the works of contemporary writers.

Cash Prize Is Won By Roy Heigle

Roy Heigle, operator of the Ashland Oil service station, 2541 W. Broad-st, was visited by one of Ashland Oil's "Mystery Drivers", and as a result was awarded a cash prize of $45 this week for his customer service and cleanliness of his station.

Awards under the sales-promotion program are based on salesmanship, driveway service, station cleanliness and appearance, and other key points in service station operation.

The Mystery Drivers, who remain unknown except to one or two Company representatives, travel Ashland Oil's entire eleven-state marketing area visiting service stations. Driving unmarked cars, they at no time indicate to the service station dealer that they are checking station appearance and service.

Spanish Feria Is Staged At Central

Central High School's gym was the scene of a Spanish Feria Halloween night, Oct. 31, sponsored by the school Spanish Club.

A bullfight, fortune telling, ring toss and fish pond games were part of the program.

Mr. Mook and his Jokers provided music for dancing, and gaily-costumed students swung to the Mexican folk dance, the rasps, with equal enthusiasm as the twist.

Prizes were awarded to Dena Lynn for the prettiest costume, to Kathy Machan for the most appropriate, and to Mike Clark for the funniest.

Parents and teachers served as chaperones for the affair.

Sixth Round Goes To M. W. Davis

M. W. Davis, 2680 Eakin-rd, was named winner in last week's football contest. Davis missed seven of the 24 winners in winning the $50 cash prize. Three games ended in ties and were counted as losses.

Apparently the many upsets fooled Columbus area predictors because most of those entering the contest missed on about half the games.

Runners-up to Davis were: Franklin Weatherby, 3746 Elm-st; Sheila Bloom, 1058 Berkeley-rd; Connie Fletcher, 2854 Watkins-rd, and Don Harlor, 855 Stanley-rd.

After six rounds of the contest, the unclaimed jackpot has skyrocketed to $175.

Write your selections on the contest entry blank below based on the games to be found in the advertisements on this page.

Send your picks to Football Contest Editor, Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st, Columbus 4, O.

In several areas of the city Hartley Newspapers is conducting an extensive introductory campaign by giving free samples. If you are in one of these sampling areas and receive a weekly newspaper, you may not be a paid subscriber.

If you want to become a paid subscriber get in touch with your local carrier, or call BR. 4-1155.

In the event no one claims the accumulating jackpot by picking all 24 games correctly in the eighth and ninth rounds of the Hartley Newspapers football contest, several hundred dollars will be distributed at the end of the 10th and final round.

The unclaimed jackpot, which may contain several hundred dollars, will be split three ways. The exact amount and manner of distribution will be announced later.

Five Local Winners Await PKP Statewide Results

Over 100 adults and children turned out for competition in the Ford Motor Company's annual Punt, Pass and Kick program last weekend.

Beasley Ford Publicity Director Pete Block said Monday he was very pleased with the turnout of young gridders who competed in five age groups.

ACCURACY was the key in the scoring. Jack Burton, 308 Demorest-rd, added up a total of 188½ points to win the competition for 11 year olds.

John M. Alton, 1377 S. Roosevelt-av, took honors in the 10-year-old class with 165 points while John W. Cloyd, 1236 Broadview-av, finished first in the nine-year-old division with 159½ points.

Gene Herron of Gandolf Ford listed the winners in the junior division. Steven Dietz, 1446 Wakefield-ct, scored 115 points to top all eight-year-old competitors while Charles Tubbs, 711 Stanbaugh-av, led all seven-year-old point totals with 111½.

THE LOCAL results have been sent to Detroit, Mich., where they will be compared with other Ohio state-wide scores. Should any of the local boys top the state results in their class, they will go to either Cleveland or Detroit with their father and a dealer representative to compete in the divisional program.

The nation's top 10 winners will be sent to the National Football League championship game with their parents and later be guests at the White House.

DICK FRANCIS (left) points to the "big day" for all dads of Ohio State gridders. The Buckeye fathers will honor their Scarlet and Gray sons Saturday when OSU plays host to Indiana in the stadium horseshoe. Dick has plenty to be proud of in son Dave (right) who has been adding up the Buck yardage from his fullback spot.

EVERYDAY IS DAD'S DAY

Thrilled Father Plays Again Through OSU Son's Success

By JACK WITTENMEIER

When the fathers of Ohio State varsity football players form the traditional corridor on the Stadium field for their sons on "Dads' Day," Saturday, none will be prouder than Dick Francis, father of the Buckeyes' battering 210-pound senior fullback, Dave.

Father Dick, who knew the excitement and glory of the gridiron himself as a player, might well have spoken for all the football "dads" of the country when he spoke of a son who has realized for him that inner glow only a father can know when he watches his boy perform on the athletic field.

"IT'S BEEN a dream come true," Dick Francis admitted as we chatted outside Stadley Hall, where Dave rooms during the school year.

"Dave has given me more thrills than any father deserves. I get a bigger kick out of watching him play than I did playing myself."

And Dick Francis did quite a job when he played on the gridiron himself, starring at West High from 1933 to 1935 and nailing down an All-State halfback spot. Dick recalls helping the Cowboys beat East for the City League championship in the last high school game ever played in Ohio Stadium.

MR. FRANCIS enrolled at OSU after high school but a leg injury ended his football career as a freshman. Now, his football interests are centered around Dave.

During Dave's first two years at Ohio State, Dick never missed a practice but now, as an assistant engineer at the City Water Department and owner of a Laundromat, the 47-year-old Mr. Francis has to limit his interests to home football games and any road contests he can work into a busy schedule.

Dick admitted that Dave showed an interest in the game at an early age and he can remember "taking the kids around to play at different parks on Sundays." During the summer, Dick joins his son at West High's football field whenever possible, timing Dave's speed. "He's faster this year," Dick said proudly.

"I'VE ALWAYS tried to impress Dave with the fact that if you're going to play, play to the hilt. You're out there every day taking those bumps, so you might as well give it your full effort."

But Dick Francis, like most fathers, realizes that football isn't the whole of college. "The really important thing is for Dave to get his diploma. If you go to college and don't come out with that, then you have just wasted your time."

And how does the game today stack up against play in the '30's, we asked Dick Francis. "They throw a forward pass today," fullback Bob Butts, Dave's roommate at OSU, broke in jokingly.

"THE GAME today is more organized and commercialized," Dick said. "There are more specialists and I guess you could say it's tougher. The boys practice more."

Although Dave is the only football offspring in the family, Dick Francis and his wife, who live at 370 S. Richardson-av, have another son, Jerry, 22, in engineering at OSU, and a married daughter, Kay, who is 19.

Looking to the future, Dick, who largely helped in setting up the West High Booster Club, hopes to sponsor a little league football team when he can find the time.

DICK FRANCIS is deservedly proud of Dave. And why not? An All-City fullback at West, recipient of offers from most of the Big Ten schools, the Air Force Academy and West Point, Dave has picked up a total of 302 yards rushing in 65 carries for a 4.9 average in six games and is tied for the Buckeye scoring lead with 24 points, including TD runs of 48 and 22 yards against Illinois.

And when Dave graduates from Ohio State? "Dave is considering going into coaching after college. I'm afraid I'll have to give up following him when that happens," Dick said.

Bucs Nab Title Tie, Cowboys Tie East

By Kenny Ash and Bob Lynch

Central Pirates cinched a title share by crushing Marion-Franklin, 73-22, Friday afternoon, at Central.

The Pirates took the kick off and moved the ball to 30 yard line. On the first scrimmage play of the game, halfback Cliff Moxley charged between center and left guard, cut to the sidelines and raced 70 yards for the first score of the game.

THE RED Devils couldn't get a break as a high pass from center, which sent the ball over the intended kicker's head, rolled into the end zone and Willie Hoke, Central end, pounced on it for a touchdown. This pretty well set the pace for the game.

Coach Frank Howe only permitted his first string to play a few minutes of the ball game. At the end of the first half the score was 53 to 6 in favor of Central.

The first string started the second half as they kicked off to the Red Devils who couldn't move the ball and were forced to punt to the Pirates. On Central's first play of the second half Moxley ran the ball again for a touchdown, covering 53 yards.

OTHER CENTRAL touchdowns were scored by Moxley (25 yard run), Mel Williams (42 yard pass from Tom Fullove), Dale Thompson (22 yard run), John Greenway (three yard run), Steve Valentine (15 yard pass from Jim Cuckler), Gibson Hayes (53 yard pass from Cuckler), Fullove (27 yard run) and Skip Parks (three yard run).

The Bucs have a chance to wrap up the City League title Friday night at Eastmoor with a win that could give Central its first CL champion since 1949.

THE WEST High Cowboys battled East to an 8-8 tie Friday night, extinguishing any possible title hopes for the Tigers.

The game started out as a trading match, with each team exchanging possession of the pigskin during the first half.

It looked as if the Cowboys might open up the ballgame right at the beginning, as they moved from the East 40 to the 24 in three plays before having a pass intercepted by Vernon Fields on the Tiger 20.

THE BRONCOS messed up a scoring opportunity again as they fumbled on the two-yard line. The Tigers then drove to the Cowboy one-yard line, but also failed to score.

The second half started out as a replay of the first. But, the Cowboys scored the second time they got their hands on the ball with 4:33 left in the third quarter as John Morlan flipped a short screen pass to Rich Neely on the Cowboy 49. Neely turned what looked to be a possible loss into a 51-yard touchdown. Morlan scored the extra points on an off-guard plunge.

However, it did not take the Tigers long to recover, as they took the returning kickoff on their own 34 and marched the remaining 66 yards in 15 plays, with Marvin Owens blasting over from the one. Owens converted and the score stood knotted at 8-8 with 2:16 gone in the final period of play.

BISHOP READY closed its '62 season on a successful note Friday by edging DeSales, 14-8, at Hartley.

The Silver Knights broke up a defensive battle with a second period TD pass from quarterback Tom Weisenbach to Jim Muir. DeSales tied the score in the third period but John O'Neill ran over from the final stanza to close out Ready's grid record at 7-3.

Friday night marks the finish to area high school grid play. Central (7-1-1); West (3-5-1) help wrap up the City League season with the Pirates gunning for the league title at Eastmoor (5-4) while the improved Cowboys play host to an equally revived South eleven (3-6).

Bearcat Dinner Set Sunday

The scheduled game between the Bearcat Association All-Stars and the league champion Westside Pirates was cancelled Sunday due to inclement weather and a UFL ground rule that would not permit the removal of the field tarp more than two hours prior to play. The game will be rescheduled at a later date.

The Bearcat players will be honored Sunday at a Recognition Dinner at the Officers Club of the Columbus Army Depot at 6 p.m. through the cooperation of the Eastern Civitan Club.

Awards will be presented to the champion Pirates and the loop's most valuable players along with presentations to players for outstanding scoring ability.

HAWKS NAB DIVISON TITLE

The Westgate Hawks won their 42nd straight game Sunday and in the meantime sewed up the National Division title in the Ohio Boys Football Foundation with a 12-0 win over the Beatty Lions.

Rick Winston scored both of the Hawk TDs, one on a 35-yard run, the other on a 20-yard pass from quarterback Gerry Henderson.

The Hawks now must play Arlington, the American Division winner, for the OBFF crown Sunday afternoon. In the 90-pound division, the battle between the undefeated Falcons and Cubs was postponed because of darkness at the end of three quarters with the Cubs ahead, 6-0. A league ruling is due this week to decide when the game will be replayed and from what point.

Youth Oppose Obscene Literature

Christian Endeavor Society of Brown Road Community Church, 1187 Brown-rd, has vigorously launched a campaign to correct a problem of national concern.

The availability of obscene literature on magazine racks has prompted verbal and written protests from individuals and groups throughout the country.

Arthur W. Scurlock, Jr.

The small group of 87 teenagers, age 12 through 18, their enthusiasm fired by response already made to their campaign, have achieved some remarkably far-reaching results.

Under the leadership of the church youth director, Arthur W. Scurlock, Jr., of 1112 Geneva-av, and with the encouragement of their pastor, Rev. Mabel Rife Whipple, the group opened its carefully-planned attack in September.

Since then they have sent letters to the 520 churches in Columbus and Central Ohio, requesting cooperation in the form of sermons on the subject, and committees to aid the project.

The group has also sent petitions to each church. These names will, eventually, be sent to magazine publishers.

Columbus Mayor Ralston W. Westlake has offered his support to the program in the form of a proclamation declaring Nov. 4 to 10 as the week for a concentrated drive against obscene literature.

Many ministers will present sermons on the subject this Sunday.

Among encouraging responses received by the Brown Road youth group is a letter from Dr. George W. Crane, promising a column on the subject in the near future.

The hoped-for, ultimate end of the campaign will be an inter-denominational standing committee in Columbus, designed to educate the public on the matter, and to offer recommendations.

Inspiration for the project came from the International Christian Endeavor Society, with offices at 1221 E. Broad-st. The society suggested a three-fold program of service to individual churches, recommending social reform, patriotism and community service.

The Brown Road project will be entered in the international awards program, next February.

PARROTS DO TALK... But!

SO DOES A RECORD PLAYER

Our Nation faces a serious threat of communism just off our shores. At the same time within our nation, they are seeking to undermine our faith in God. There are many sayings and expressions going around in our country that are communist inspired. In order to prevent "parroting" these sayings, that weaken our nation... attend church regularly, and study God's word so that the truth is more easily recognized.

"Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

A new schedule of teenage dances is now being offered at the Hilltop YMCA. Present plans call for these dances to be held each Friday evening from 7:30-10:30 p.m. In order to be eligible to attend, all boys and girls must have memberships in either the Hilltop YMCA or YWCA. A committee will be organized in the near future to set up a schedule of special activities.

Physical activities at Westmoor Jr. High School are now available. Each Monday evening from 7 - 9:30 is set aside for boys in junior high and above, along with male adults who hold Hilltop YMCA memberships, to enjoy informal activities in the gym. Wednesday evenings at the gym are now open for recreation and relaxation for all families holding memberships. Each Thursday from 7-9 p.m. will find a schedule of tournaments for husbands and wives offered at the gym.

The Gra-Y flag tag football championship game will be held this Saturday at 10 a. m. at the "Y". Valleyview, the winner of the north division championship, will meet West Mound who won the south section playoff game. Parents and friends are invited to attend.

Members of West, Hilltonia and Westmoor Jr. Hi-Y Clubs were inducted into the Hilltop YMCA Jr. Hi-Y program Monday evening. Officers for the coming year were installed by Gary Link, advisor of West Jr. Hi-Y, while John Reed, advisor of Westmoor Jr. Hi-Y, handled the induction of members. John Brown, member of the Hilltop YMCA Board of Management, delivered a message to the boys and their parents.

The Hilltop YMCA Indian guide dance team will hold regular practices each Saturday morning at 9. Robert Ehlers will be assisted by Russ Crawford as leader. Any little brave currently active in the Indian guide program is eligible to participate. In a recent article about awards presented to dance team members the name of Kenny Howell was omitted by error.

Westgate Manor Couple Rescued By Firemen

A Westgate Manor couple and about 20 other persons including four children were forced to flee a $1500 apartment building fire at 756 Doulton-ct early Saturday, firemen reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Washington were rescued from a window of a third-floor apartment by firefighters Charles Hulls and Robert Clemmons. The escape was made by ladder.

The Washingtons had been blocked by thick smoke in the hallway outside their apartment, according to Battalion Fire Chief Ralph Lombard.

The fire was confined to the second floor apartment of William F. Duffendack. Firemen reported flames were leaping out of the apartment window when they arrived. Cause of the fire, which started in the bedroom, was not determined.

Cars in narrow Doulton-ct delayed some fire equipment as much as five minutes, Lombard reported.

Navy Needs 25 To Achieve Goal

On Oct. 25 the U.S. Navy Recruiting Station in Columbus announced that in support of the president every effort would be expended to enlist 50 men from the Columbus area by Nov. 14. As of Nov. 2, it was half way to the goal, having had 25 young men sign up.

However, it still needs 25 more recruits. Those who enlist by Nov. 14 are assured of being home on leave by Christmas in a Navy uniform. All interested applicants should contact the U.S. Navy Recruiting Office at 90 E. Gay-st or Room 500 in the new Post Office at Gay and Marconi-blvd.

Library Will Be Finished Nov. 23

By the day after Thanksgiving, the Hilltop will have the largest branch library in the city. It will be able to accommodate more books and have more floor space than any other branch.

"Why the Hilltop will be the readin'est section in town," said Galvy Gordon, publicity director of Columbus Public Libraries.

Floors and other renovations are right on schedule and the addition has been completed for some weeks. Total cost of the project is around $60,000, library officials disclosed.

A new parking lot, which will be blacktopped in the spring, will allow nine autos to park in addition to the six spaces already available.

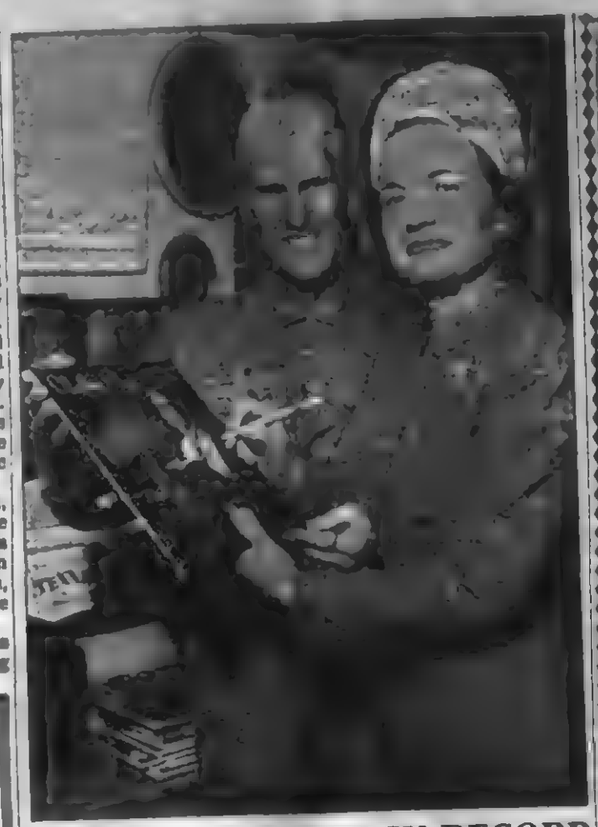
Ex-Senator Hits 'Shotgun' Charges

Former state senator Fred O. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Committee of 100, called for a halt to "irresponsible shotgun blasts at Florida land developers and home builders attributed to persons some of whom have never even visited our state."

"The time has come for an accounting and for a halt to charges by these people who, in seeking to weed out nefarious land developers across the county, blacken the names and reputations of some of the finest construction firms in Florida," Dickerson said.

He referred to a recent quote in an AP dispatch by officials of the Association of Better Business that "the greatest land scandal in United States history is developing in the Southwest and in Florida." One of the officials Dickinson referred to lives in Rye, N.Y., the second in Des Moines, the others in Chicago and Kansas City.



"I cannot, of course, speak for what is happening in Southwest United States, but I must take sharp exception to such a blanket indictment of Florida and our home builders and land developers here," Dickinson continued.

"Florida has passed stringent laws to protect investors in Florida properties. There are still some isolated examples of nefarious real estate operations, but these are being weeded out as rapidly as they arise.

"What the officials of the Association of Better Business forget to note is that there are fine, well-financed and highly responsible home builders and land developers in Florida. Organizations such as Arvida, General Development Corporation and others have invested millions of dollars of their own money in the growth of Florida. They are selling good land and are bringing good, substantial people to our state to enjoy the benefits we have to offer. Th new arrivals, in turn, are creating a highly effective impact on our economic growth.

"It is entirely unfair, and, indeed, untrue to indict these fine Florida organizations with a reprehensible shotgun blast at everyone. Great harm, and very little good, can come from such tactics."

The Committee of 100 is composed of 100 leading Florida citizens.

COMBINE TALENTS IN RECORD

CHARLOTTE AND CURT DAVIS visited Columbus this past week and dropped in for a friendly chat with Mrs. Mildred Smith of Christian Book Store, 179 S. High-st., where they talked about their new record featuring the combined talents of the two. This is the first record featuring the contralto voice of Charlotte, accompanied on the organ by her husband, Curt. The record is now available at Christian Book Store.

In our efforts to learn everything to be learned we are finding some costly studies are being made at a cost to taxpayers today. For example, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, has come up with the following list of studies being made by the National Institute of Health:

Ex-Senator Hits 'Shotgun' Charges

Former state senator Fred O. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Committee of 100, called for a halt to "irresponsible shotgun blasts at Florida land developers and home builders attributed to persons some of whom have never even visited our state."

"The time has come for an accounting and for a halt to charges by these people who, in seeking to weed out nefarious land developers across the county, blacken the names and reputations of some of the finest construction firms in Florida," Dickerson said.

He referred to a recent quote in an AP dispatch by officials of the Association of Better Business that "the greatest land scandal in United States history is developing in the Southwest and in Florida." One of the officials Dickinson referred to lives in Rye, N.Y., the second in Des Moines, the others in Chicago and Kansas City.

"I cannot, of course, speak for what is happening in Southwest United States, but I must take sharp exception to such a blanket indictment of Florida and our home builders and land developers here," Dickinson continued.

"Florida has passed stringent laws to protect investors in Florida properties. There are still some isolated examples of nefarious real estate operations, but these are being weeded out as rapidly as they arise.

"What the officials of the Association of Better Business forget to note is that there are fine, well-financed and highly responsible home builders and land developers in Florida. Organizations such as Arvida, General Development Corporation and others have invested millions of dollars of their own money in the growth of Florida. They are selling good land and are bringing good, substantial people to our state to enjoy the benefits we have to offer. Th new arrivals, in turn, are creating a highly effective impact on our economic growth.

"It is entirely unfair, and, indeed, untrue to indict these fine Florida organizations with a reprehensible shotgun blast at everyone. Great harm, and very little good, can come from such tactics."

The Committee of 100 is composed of 100 leading Florida citizens.

Four Local Ladies Named Homemaker

30 Finalists Interviewed In Contest

When the job of selecting the four local homemakers was presented to the committee of judges, they had the task of interviewing thirty contestants. The four were selected from this group.

Following is a list of other finalists in the local contest:

Mrs. Armor Hank, 406 Danhurst; Mrs. Thomas Healy, West Jefferson; Mrs. Keith Brum, 603 Mengel-ln, Hilliard; Mrs. Betty Stone, Georgesville; Mrs. Frank Roby, 8184 Hayden Run-rd; Mrs. Jack Roby, Rt. 2, Plain City; Mrs. Marianne Cox, 96 Amity-rd; Mrs. Martha Rucker, 3257 Fisher-rd; Mrs. Margery Rennie, 1121 N. Hague-av; Mrs. Nita Huffman, 310 Heywood-dr, Hilliard; Mrs. William Share, 1487 Lillian-ln; Mrs. Jesse Evans, Reynoldsburg; Mrs. Roselyn Marguiles, 2671 Bexley Park; Mrs. Daniel Pike, 1296 Shady-ln; Mrs. Beatrice Thibaut, 688 Mohawk; Mrs. Sybil Beranek, 248 S. Roye-av; Mrs. Doris Wilson, 1080 Parma-av; Mrs. John Dehnart, 242 Letchworth; Mrs. Arthur Mitchell, 355 Binns-blvd; Mrs. Lenore Sibbalds, 438 N. Harris-av; Mrs. Virginia Schneider, 2767 Bellwood-av.

Each of the many ladies entered in the local contest was nominated in a special letter from a friend, neighbor, husband, child or acquaintance. Letters of nomination for some of the runners-up in the contest are printed in this supplement today.

Outstanding letters of nomination were turned over to the three local judges who in turn made up special score sheets on their selections.

These score sheets, the original letters of nomination and supporting information secured by Hartley Newspapers staff members, were sent to Chicago where judging is to be done by the panel of five national judges.

Homemaker Tribute 'Amazing'

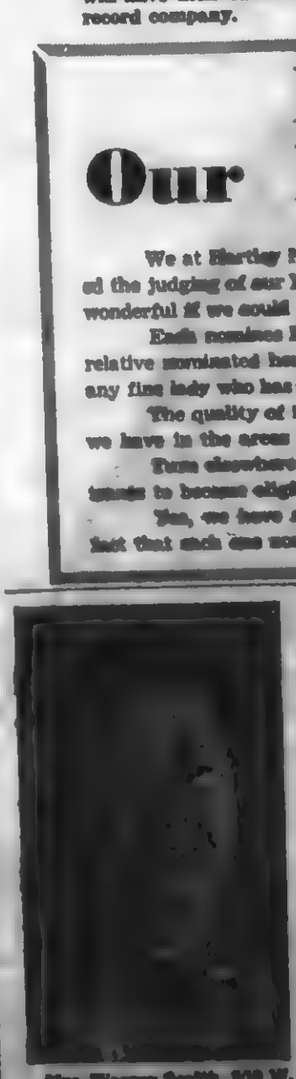
"After reading some of the letters sent into the Suburban homemaker search throughout the nation, I could write a book," exclaimed Chester K. Hayes, executive director of the National Suburban Press Foundation.

Hayes expressed amazement at the ability of American homemakers — at the way they are taking their places in the country — as superior homemakers — as active community and church workers — and in every facet of life in which they are called upon to serve.

OUR FOUR local Suburban Homemakers were pleasantly surprised this past week when they were advised to meet at the Christian Book Store, 179 S. High St., to receive fine copies of the Oxford Bible, gifts from the publishers through the local store operated by Mildred Smith. Shown here from left to right, are Mrs. L. T. McKinley, Mrs. O. L. Tallman, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Kedron Heckner and Mrs. Phillip Wagner. Mrs. Smith also advised the group that they will have their choice of any Capitol record in her store. This is a gift from the record company.

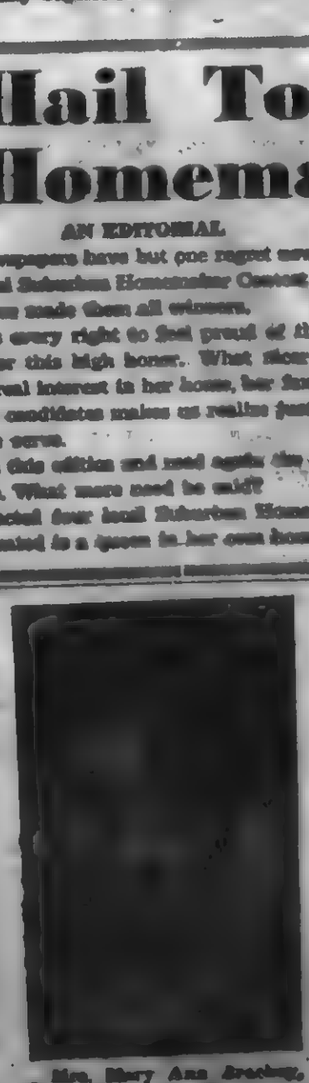
Hail To Our Homemakers

AN EDITORIAL



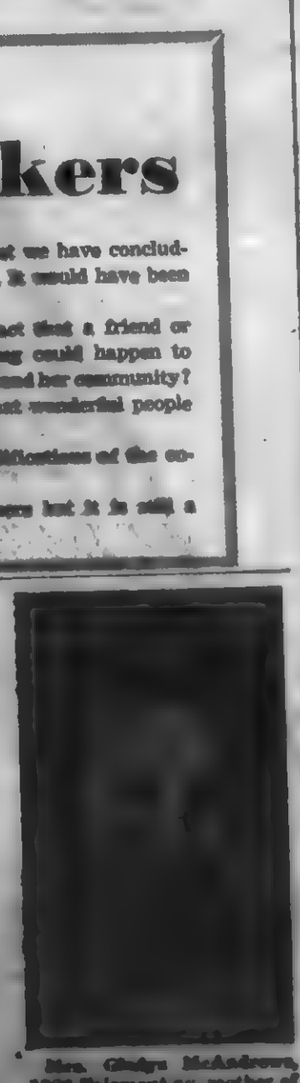
We at Hartley Newspapers have but one regret now that we have concluded the judging of our local Suburban Homemaker Contest . . . It would have been wonderful if we could have made them all winners.

Each nominee has every right to feel proud of the fact that a friend or relative nominated her for this high honor. What nicer thing could happen to any fine lady who has a real interest in her home, her family and her community?



The quality of the candidates makes us realize just what wonderful people we have in the areas we serve.

Turn elsewhere in this edition and read again the qualifications of the contestants to become eligible. What more need be said?



Yes, we have selected four local Suburban Homemakers but it is only a fact that each one nominated is a queen in her own home!

Mrs. Warren Smith, 500 W. South-st, Worthington, president of Columbus Presbyterial, spiritual life chairman of United Church Women of Columbus and Franklin County. She is a registered nurse, the wife of an architect and mother of a teen-age daughter.

Mrs. Mary Ann Bradley, home economist with Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, graduate of Bob Jones University in South Carolina, attended Morehead State College, secretary of Electric Women's Round Table, member of Home Economists in Business.

Mrs. Gladys McAndrews, 1936 Fairmont-av, mother of five children, active in Girl Scouting and Cub Scouting, member of Christian Mothers Club, member Parish Council of Catholic Women. Last year Mrs. McAndrews was named Mother of the Year for St. Aloysius Parish. She is a registered nurse.

ToBeHonored At Gala Event In Chicago

Four very lovely ladies have been selected to represent Hartley Newspapers in the big National Suburban Homemakers Contest to be held in Chicago on Nov. 15. They are:

Mrs. L. T. McKinley, 835 S. Enfield, on Columbus East Side, mother of six sons.

Mrs. Kedron Heckner, 161 Topsfield-rd, Lincoln Village, mother of two daughters and two sons.

Mrs. Oliver Tallman, 3306 Stephen-dr, on the Hilltop, mother of three daughters.

Mrs. Philip Wagner, 2869 Bulen-av, in the southeast suburban area, mother of two daughters and a son.

Each of the four local winners have been notified and are prepared to take off by plane from Columbus Airport on Wednesday, Nov. 14 and will spend the next two days as guests of Hartley Newspapers on an all-expense trip in Chicago.

In Chicago they will meet other local homemakers from suburban areas over the USA, participate in a big panel discussion, and learn what lady has been selected as National Suburban Homemaker which title takes with it a $5000 cash award.

Standards Set For Judging Home Contest

Official judging standards as set up by the Suburban Press Foundation should be reviewed to be able to determine the many points for which the judges of this contest were on the alert. They follow:

1. In what ways has she revealed her spiritual and moral strength in modern day living —for her home, for her church, for her community, and for the world in which she lives?

2. In what ways has she helped in developing and maintaining the total health and fitness (mental, emotional, physical and spiritual) of her family?

3. How well does she demonstrate her personal health and fitness through her attitudes, habits, appearance and physical well-being?

4. To what extent has she participated in civic and community affairs—local, state, national and international?

5. How well does she exemplify her ability in the management of the family resources of time and income in relation to family needs and goals?

6. To what extent has she demonstrated her skills in: a. preparing meals. b. clothing the family. c. appearance of home. d. housekeeping.

7. How does she create an atmosphere of love, respect and affection for effective family living?

8. How else has she demonstrated her abilities as a successful homemaker?

National Winner To Receive $5,000.00

Ladies Will Appear On Conference

The Conference will open with a morning session under the theme, "Our Changing Pattern of Living as it Affects the American Homemaker." A discussion between the suburban homemaker winners, representing a national cross section of suburban women, and a panel made up of representatives of communications media and information groups will explore the many facets of this theme.

Members of the panel will include: Mrs. Virginia Habeeb, Home Equipment Editor, American Home magazine; Miss Doris Doland, Assistant to the Publisher, Look magazine; Dr. Kenneth Milstead of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, Washington, D.C.; Mr. Frank R. Neu, Educational Director, American Dairy Association; Mrs. Mary Jane Chinn of KRNT-TV, Des Moines, Ia., representing the national organization "American Women in Radio and Television," and Robert V. McCarthy, Executive Editor, Progress-Advance Leader, Penn Hills, an eastern Pittsburgh suburban community.

The panel will be moderated by Mrs. Peg Kellholz, consumer education consultant and former women's editor of Country Gentleman magazine.

Following luncheon and the introduction of honored guests the national judges will give brief comments regarding the standard used in judging and their reactions to the broad picture of suburban homemaking as it emerged through the stories of the suburban homemakers, their abilities and attributes.

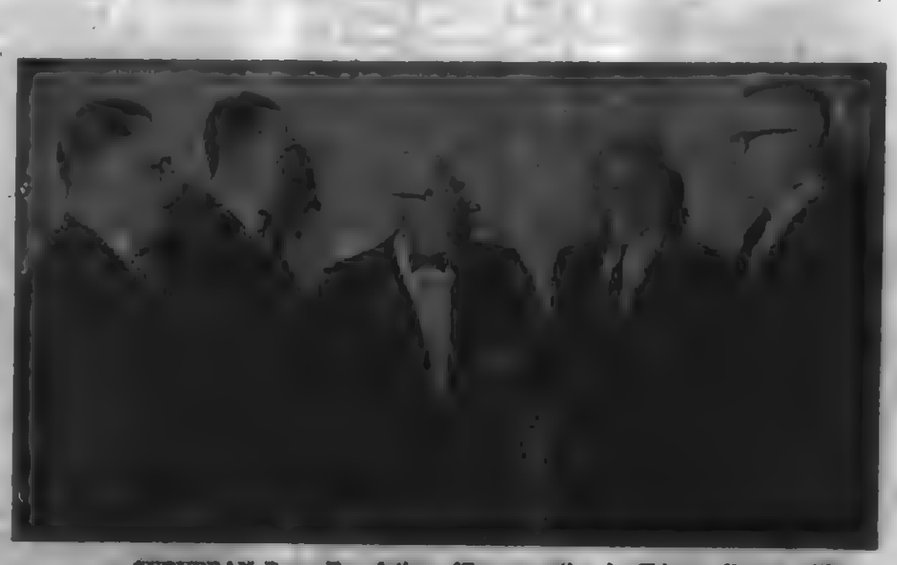
Dr. Richard Morris, Head of the Department of Family Economics of Kansas State University will participate in the program in his capacity as a member of President Kennedy's new formed Consumer Advisory Council.

Honor Heart Of American Home Today

For the first time in history a program is under way to honor the heart of the American home today — that is the suburban homemaker. From coast to coast members of the Suburban Press Foundation, to which Hartley Newspapers belongs, are spearheading a national search to find the most outstanding Suburban Homemaker in the United States.

This is an event of national significance, because it is in the suburbs throughout the nation that the population is increasing more rapidly than any other area.

It is from these suburbs that one woman will be chosen to represent to the world the finest example of American homemaking.



Our suburban communities stretch all across the country, ringing all the big cities. Today, in fact, one-third of the people live in suburban communities.

THE NATIONAL SUBURBAN HOMEMAKER of the Year Search was held in Chicago under the auspices of the Suburban Press Foundation through a public service grant made by the American Dairy Association. Here the national judges, Foundation president Robert Y. Paddock and Miss Marguerite Gustafson of the American Dairy Association discuss the selection of the top homemaker. Seated: Mrs. Ruth Phillips, Dr. Marie Pfeiffer; standing, left to right: Judge Clayton W. Rose, Dr. Janet Wessel, Robert Y. Paddock, Dr. Ruth Leverton, Miss Marguerite Gustafson.

Hayes, Executive Director of the Foundation; Charles Lambert, Secretary-Treasurer; W. R. Williams, Sr., Vice-President; Judge Rose; Robert Y. Paddock, President.

Winners Announced On Nov. 15

The National Suburban Homemaker of the Year has been chosen! Who she is, however, will remain a top secret until Nov. 15 when the honored homemaker will be feted at a gala luncheon and award ceremony in Chicago.

The national judges, who on Oct. 30 selected the National Suburban Homemaker from among the 54 local community winners, had a difficult task. The selection was made, according to the judges, on the basis that the woman chosen top suburban homemaker of the year met all of the judging standards in an unusually well balanced proportion. Many of the finalists were outstanding in one area, often in dramatic ways, but the judges' final selection was based on the total "human values" as exemplified by the winning homemaker in her home and in her community.

The Award Luncheon, at which the National Suburban Homemaker will be honored and will receive a $5000 award, will be a part of the one-day National Suburban Homemakers Conference being held under the auspices of the Suburban Press Foundation and its member newspapers.

Attending the Conference will be Foundation member publishers, their local "Suburban Homemakers of the Year" and representatives of women's organizations, civic groups, governmental agencies at the state and national levels, executives from business and industry.

The presentation of the $5000 award to the Suburban Homemaker of the year will be made by Miss Peggy Wood, the stage and screen star whose role of "Mama" in the CBS television show of previous seasons, "I remember Mama" made her a natural choice to play this "supporting role."

The Suburban Homemaker of the Year and her sister homemakers, all of whom were chosen by their communities as homemakers-of-the-year, will be appearing on radio and television shows while in Chicago. A dinner and theatre party will complete the days festivities for the National Suburban Homemaker of the Year and the other 53 suburban women.

Why Select A National Homemaker?

This search for a national winner, as well as the search to find the outstanding local winners, has not been a superficial contest. Winners were chosen by a panel of local judges who read letters about the contestants attached to entry blanks. They judged them by being guided by national rating standards. These letters detailed the attributes of each entrant. The letters, for the most part, followed closely the judging standards specified on the entry blank.

Ex-Senator Hits 'Shotgun' Charges

..Former state senator Fred O. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Committee of 100, called for a halt to "irresponsible shotgun blasts at Florida land developers and home builders attributed to persons some of whom have never even visited our state."

"The time has come for an accounting and for a halt to charges by these people who, in seeking to weed out nefarious land developers across the county, blacken the names and reputations of some of the finest construction firms in Florida," Dickerson said.

He referred to a recent quote in an AP dispatch by officials of the Association of Better Business' that "the greatest land scandal in United States history is developing in the Southwest and in Florida." One of the officials Dickinson referred to lives in Rye, N.Y., the second in Des Moines, the others in Chicago and Kansas City.

"I cannot, of course, speak for what is happening in Southwest United States, but I must take sharp exception to such a blanket indictment of Florida and our home builders and land developers here," Dickinson continued.

"Florida has passed stringent laws to protect investors in Florida properties. There are still some isolated examples of nefarious real estate operations, but these are being weeded out as rapidly as they arise.

"What the officials of the Association of Better Business Bureaus forget to note is that there are fine, well-financed and highly responsible home builders and land developers in Florida. Organizations such as Arvida, General Development Corporation and others have invested millions of dollars of their own money in the growth of Florida. They are selling good land and are bringing good, substantial people to our state to enjoy the benefits we have to offer. Th new arrivals, in turn, are creating a highly effective impact on our economic growth.

"It is entirely unfair, and, indeed, untrue to indict these fine Florida organizations with a reprehensible shotgun blast at everyone. Great harm, and very little good, can come from such tactics."

The Committee of 100 is composed of 100 leading Florida citizens.

MRS. BETH HECKNER

HomemakerMustBeDomesticEngineer

Mrs. Kedron Heckner, 161 Topsfield-rd, Lincoln Village, age 33, mother of four children, occupation: Domestic engineer.

Selected as the local winner of the Hartley Newspaper Suburban Homemakers Contest in the West Rural Urban News area is this energetic young lady who admits that there are many things more pleasant than house cleaning but at the same time agrees that this task must take a priority in the development and preservation of good family living in the suburbs.

Mrs. Heckner (Beth) is a devout Episcopalian and was nominated as a candidate in this contest by an equally devout Catholic, Mrs. Richard D. Morgan, her next door neighbor. And it all came about with the knowledge that Mrs. Heckner is a practical mother concerned with the development of both the bodies and minds of her youngsters.

Mrs. Heckner in the four years her family has lived in Lincoln Village has been an outstanding community leader and most residents of the area will agree that a lot of the spirit and enthusiasm for civic affairs in Lincoln Village have resulted from the planning, the energy and the enthusiasm developed by Beth.

One of her treasures is the bound scrapbook she received this past year containing photos, publicity releases and numerous mementos from her very successful year as president of the Lincoln Village Women's Club. Page after page is filled with activity from this outstanding group that shows it was headed by capable leadership.

In fact, the ladies in this organization have every right to be proud when they look back at the State award they received in the Seat Belt Safety Campaign and their award for development for an outdoor laboratory in the local school. The club has an enviable record this past year by winning 11 out of 40 awards in competition with 700 women's clubs in Ohio.

Successful leadership is generally not allowed to die and so at the end of last year's heavy schedule, Beth accepted the responsibility of director of junior clubs for District 7 covering six counties and involving 15 clubs who are members of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.

She points with pride to her new electric typewriter, her Christmas gift from her husband, given to her recently well in advance of the holiday. Heavy correspondence as well as the fact that she considers herself something of a budding playwright, takes much of her time.

Energy and enthusiasm abound in the Heckner household and it is a lively place when Mom and Pop and the four little Heckners live it up as a family should.

Beth finds that she has time for more extra-curricular activities now that all four youngsters are in school. Larry, 10, in the fifth grade, Susan, 9, in fourth grade, and Sandy, 6, in the first grade. All attend Prairie Lincoln School. Ann, 5, attends kindergarten. This kindergarten is another project sponsored by the Lincoln Village Women's Club. Attendance has grown from 18 to 120 in seven years, and this past year under Beth's administration, it was stepped up from two to three sessions with two full time teachers.

Other members of the family include two ducks, Orson and Seymour, and a Labrador puppy, Sambo.

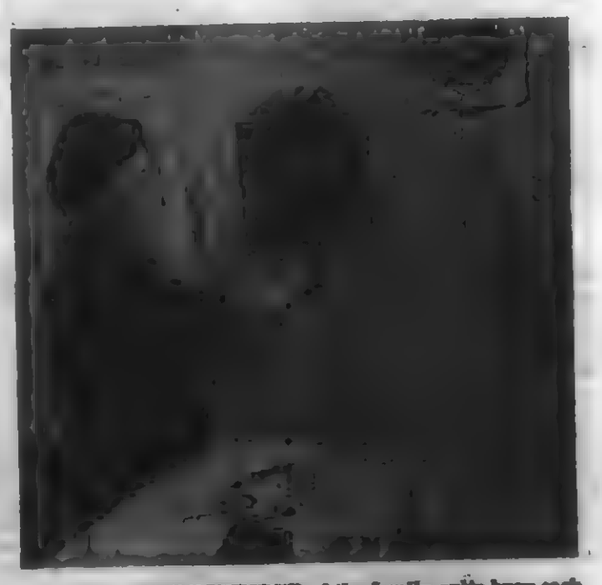
If it takes a lot of living to make a house a home, then the Heckner house can certainly be called home. It is friendly, inviting and shows signs of having been lived in.

Since purchasing this home Beth and Bud have done much to improve it. A major operation was the development of an "apartment" on the second floor, which has since been turned over to the youngsters. Here they have their own TV set, plenty of room for pennants, swimming trophies, athletic equipment, and the thousand and one things that go into the lives of a boy and three girls.

One outstanding item of furniture in the living room is that of a very large old grandfather's clock, an heirloom from many years back. Several other collectors items are spaced at intervals but Beth says nothing comes into the house unless it is functional.

She has a small private work room, where the manager of this institution is housed, with a work table, her electric typewriter, and a sewing machine that is kept busy many times a week making the necessary draperies, repairs, alterations, and new dresses for her children.

Neighbors and family alike agree that Beth is a good cook. And when asked for her favorite recipe, she produced a whole book full. Good household management is in evidence as she explains that they have always adhered to a policy of never buying more than they could see their way clear to pay for.



The family communication center is a blackboard in the kitchen where all special messages and instructions are written and each member is required to check the board regularly.

Successful homemaking, in the opinion of Mrs. Heckner, must be made up of a flexible schedule wherein the home duties can be taken care of and at the same time a contribution can be made to the welfare of the community. These extra-curricular activities are a real challenge in her life. She expresses her belief that the day of the mop wielding housewife is past. She is in accord with the many aids

THE HECKNERS are all smiles as Mother prepares to take off for Chicago on Nov. 14. Elizabeth Ann, age 5, sits on Mother's lap with Susan, 9, and Larry, 10, on the left. Sandy, 6, and Dad are on the right.

WITH EVERY MEMBER of the family quite busy each can consult the "communications center" for special instructions at the Heckner home.

HOUSEWORK is no thrill admits Mrs. Heckner but "I believe in a clean house."

THERE is a place for everything but youngsters sometimes don't put them in their proper place as this picture testifies. Mrs. Heckner is busy sorting out various pieces of athletic equipment in the children's "apartment."

MRS. MIDGE McKINLEY

Many Ingredients In This Good Recipe

Take one 36-year-old homemaker who can quite easily pass for 25.

Mix well with a dash of personal good-grooming and natural beauty.

Sprinkle in a generous measure of graciousness and energy.

Stir repeatedly with tremendous respect from neighbors and friends.

Garnish with the unmistakable love of her husband, and the adoration for her six healthy sons.

Add a double measure of moral strength and spiritual stability.

Blend in with an ample amount of devotion to her Church and God.

Mix with an abundant portion of reverberating Americanism.

Add two heaping measures of civic pride and community participation.

Top with the ability to prepare creative meals and efficiently manage a household.

The result is a radiant Mrs. L. T (Midge) McKinley, 835 South Enfield, Columbus, one of Hartley Newspapers' four entrants in the National Suburban Homemaker of The Year Contest.

Call her what you like — effervescent — unique — prominent, ambitious, aspirational — Mrs. McKinley is one of the most vivacious homemakers in America today. She does not try to impress you with her sparkling moral strength and ideals—she doesn't have to. One is aware of her captivating personality the instant you meet her. She literally bursts with spritely competence when she enters a room. Mrs. McKinley couldn't be more disarming if she were 10 feet tall.

After graduation from Loudonville (Ohio) High School she enrolled in the Mt. Carmel Hospital School of Nursing. That was in 1943.

Mrs. McKinley passed the registered nurse's examination in 1947, and soon afterward married Mac, who had received his army discharge.

"Our honeymoon was spent fixing up an old monstrosity of a house near Ohio State University.

In September Mac enrolled at the University. The old house had five upstairs bedrooms which were rented to 10 ex-G.I.'s also attending the University. Mrs. McKinley worked full time at Mt. Carmel Hospital and Mac attended afternoon classes and worked nights as an adding machine repairman. "Several months later when I found I was pregnant, I left the hospital to work in a doctor's office where the work was lighter. I couldn't quit—we were broke."

The McKinleys' first son, John, was born in 1948. "I only missed work for two weeks. Our 10 college boys helped baby-sit but sometimes I had to pack little John off to work with me when the men's schedules were tight. I fixed him a crib in an examination room."

Neither the McKinleys nor their 10 roomers were flush with money. There were many times when the entire settlement had to live on the food sent by the boys' parents. "We were just one big happy family in those days."

The McKinleys believe the seven years they spent in the old house taught them a great deal about how to raise a troop of boys later. "Nothing any of my six sons come up with shocks me."

Mac was graduated from Ohio State in 1952. A year later he enrolled in law school. The family income came from his part-time job with a real estate developer, Ernest Fritsche, who still is his employer.

He passed the bar examination in 1954, and the family, loaded down with three growing sons and a tremendous mortgage, moved into their present home to finally start to live like other people.

Mrs. McKinley is a member of the Companions of St. Vincent Orphanage. "There's about 70 children there. It's the most heart-warming experience to know you are helping them." Once a month Mrs. McKinley brings an orphan into her home for a day and makes it one of the family "I only wish I could do more." She served as secretary to the Companions in 1960.

The Marian Ladies is another of her favorite organizations. "We're an auxiliary to the Knights of Columbus. We help the men raise money for athletic equipment for children, prepare and deliver poor baskets at Christmas time, and collect used clothing for the needy."

Although she is no longer a practicing nurse, Mrs. McKinley is active in the Catholic Nurses Association. The CNA is an educational society that keeps its members up to date on new nursing procedures, and conducts lectures on ethics in the field.

Of all her outside activities, the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, at Christ the King Elementary School, probably keeps her busiest. "I'm on so many committees there, I couldn't name them all." Her chores include administering sight and hearing tests, furnishing volunteers for work in school cafeteria, planning the eighth grade graduation, and coordinating part of the spring festival.

"Two of the boys are crazy about swimming, so I became

FAMILY PORTRAIT. The men surrounding Mrs. McKinley are, left to right, sons, Paul, 5; Thomas, 7; Joseph, 12, Patrick, 13; John, 14; husband, Mac, and son, William, 3.

FLOWER arranging is one of her many pastimes, but Mrs. McKinley admits she would rather grow them than arrange them.

SALADS are a special favorite in the McKinley home. Mrs. McKinley constantly is on the lookout for green and and fruit salad recipes.

Ex-Senator Hits 'Shotgun' Charges

Former state senator Fred O. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Committee of 100, called for a halt to "irresponsible shotgun blasts at Florida land developers and home builders attributed to persons some of whom have never even visited our state."

"The time has come for an accounting and for a halt to charges by these people who, in seeking to weed out nefarious land developers across the county, blacken the names and reputations of some of the finest construction firms in Florida," Dickerson said.

He referred to a recent quote in an AP dispatch by officials of the Association of Better Business that "the greatest land scandal in United States history is developing in the Southwest and in Florida." One of the officials Dickinson referred to lives in Rye, N.Y., the second in Des Moines, the others in Chicago and Kansas City.

"I cannot, of course, speak for what is happening in Southwest United States, but I must take sharp exception to such a blanket indictment of Florida and our home builders and land developers here," Dickinson continued.

"Florida has passed stringent laws to protect investors in Florida properties. There are still some isolated examples of nefarious real estate operations, but these are being weeded out as rapidly as they arise.

"What the officials of the Association of Better Business forget to note is that there are fine, well-financed and highly responsible home builders and land developers in Florida. Organizations such as Arvida, General Development Corporation and others have invested millions of dollars of their own money in the growth of Florida. They are selling good land and are bringing good, substantial people to our state to enjoy the benefits we have to offer. Th new arrivals, in turn, are creating a highly effective impact on our economic growth.

"It is entirely unfair, and, indeed, untrue to indict these fine Florida organizations with a reprehensible shotgun blast at everyone. Great harm, and very little good, can come from such tactics."

The Committee of 100 is composed of 100 leading Florida citizens.

MRS. JUNE TALLMAN

Time—Most Important To Homemaking

"You get just as much out of any experience as you put into it," is the guiding principle that has built for Mrs. June Tallman and her family, 3306 Stephen-dr S., a serene home and a happy life.

Love for her husband and three daughters, and her dedication to their happiness and security has many different facets.

She expresses her attention to their well-being not only by maintaining an inviting home and serving carefully prepared meals, but in assuring their spiritual and emotional health by lending a sympathetic ear to a problem, entering into their projects with enthusiasm, encouraging individual expression and instilling in them strong spiritual ideals and moral standards.

Believing strongly that "children learn mostly by example—and so parents, pastor and teachers are most influential in laying the foundation for children to grow on," Mrs. Tallman strives always to lift the level of her daughters' environment.

The entire community benefits from the time and energy she puts into leadership in Binns Elementary School PTA, Bethlehem Lutheran Church and Girl Scouting.

She is leader of Girl Scout Troop 600 at the school, and has accepted the post of vice-chairman for the scouting Neighborhood of 15 troops.

She is also board member of the PTA and of the Women's Society of the church where she has taught Sunday School for the past seven [illegible].

And the thread of her own joy, pride and contentment in her role as homemaker, runs through the fabric of her life.

Thirty-four years old on Nov. 10, Mrs. Tallman is well-groomed and attractive from the top of her shining red hair, often topped with a hat of her own making, to her fashionable shoes.

Stimulating interests in the world about her, an eagerness to learn new skills, new recipes, meet new people and see new sights, and a constant broadening of her own life inspire the admiration and respect of her family and friends.

And her talents and skills, with all their rewarding satisfactions, she shares not only with her own daughters but with girls in her scout troop and the youngsters in her Sunday School class.

Her oldest daughter, Barbara, 11, is learning to sew and is already becoming an accomplished cook. Joyce, nine, and her eight-year-old Marilyn are also learning, through responsibilities determined by their own abilities, the arts of homemaking.

In assuring the individual happiness of each family member, Mrs. Tallman stresses one ingredient — time.

"Time to talk and to listen, time to notice the first little frown and find out what the little problem is so it can be settled before it has time to grow out of proportion.

"And time to tell your children, and your husband, that you love them. Even though they know it, it's nice to say it, and to hear it.

"My husband and I do dishes together always, while the children finish their homework. This is our time to talk and listen, tell of the day's accomplishments and its problems." Oliver Tallman, who nominated his wife as Suburban Homemaker of the Year, is sales representative for the Sterling Paper Com-[illegible].

"As for family problems, talking again is the solution. We discuss a problem openly and fairly, without anger, and then with some thought and prayer reach our solution."

And Mrs. Tallman finds this time in her busy life by careful budgeting of the precious commodity. "Every hour has to count," she said earnestly, "in order to do all the important things.

"I keep my schedule flexible, though, to allow for quick changes, for an unexpected meeting or activity I feel is important to the children."

She is also in complete charge of family finances, budgeting the income and making purchases. "I enjoy this," she says with her quick enthusiasm. "I worked as a bookkeeper after I graduated from high school and for the first three years of our marriage."

Mrs. Tallman cooks, as she keeps house, with pride and love of the job. Meals are well balanced and carefully planned, and served at a set time.

Pie-baking is her specialty and her proficiency has won honors in competition. Her most treasured recipe is one of her own devising, "Caramel Party Pie."

The Tallmans' home is planned as a beautiful, comfortable setting for family living, kept bright and inviting with flowers and seasonal decorative touches, and each member of the family has a hand in keeping it that way.

A recreation room in the basement is furnished with ping pong tables, darts, games and craft materials. Its fireplace is often the scene of family wiener roasts on Sunday — the day the family always reserves for each other.

In addition to their Sun-

MRS. EMMA WAGNER

Working Together Is Secret To Success

Homemaking for Mrs. Emma Wagner, 2869 Bulen-av, is many things . . . building the house, raising three youngsters, feeding a happy family, making their clothes, directing two church choirs, participating in civic activities, canning and freezing, and being employed three days a week as a nurse.

And a plus list that makes it appear that there are not enough hours in her day to cover all this ground.

Mrs. Wagner was born at Royalton, Ohio, and grew up in the Lithopolis community, and back in the early courtship days met her husband-to-be, Phillip Eugene, at a skating rink.

Since that time life has not been entireley smooth in every respect but certainly the story of the Wagner household provides positive proof that life can be beautiful.

"To what do you attribute your success as a homemaker?" we asked.

"Working together!" was her reply.

Togetherness to the Wagners includes such things as making decisions on the building of a home, adding to the home as finances permit, never allowing debt to pile up beyond their ability to pay, vacationing, bowling, fishing, and attending church as a family.

Decisions in the rearing of the children . . . a knotty problem in many homes . . . is no problem in the Wagner home. When one corrects, the other never interferes. Major decisions are discussed jointly and decided together.

One of Mrs. Wagner's extra curricular activities is that of directing the adult and youth choirs of Hope EUB Church where the family is prominent in all phases of religious training. When this interview was made Mrs. Wagner was in the process of developing the musical arrangement for the annual church Christmas program.

She serves as secretary of Women's Society of World Service and is local conference secretary, has time to help as a leader with Youth Fellowship, is co-chairman of the Christmas program and because of her ability as an artist can regularly be counted on as a member of all decorating committees.

Mr. Wagner is an active member of the Brotherhood and ushers on Sunday. All of the little Wagners are proud of their Sunday School perfect attendance pins.

Life starts in the Wagner household each morning with a very good breakfast for father before he takes off for his job as a steel fabricator at the Tarrier Steel Company. Daughter Jean then takes off for Watkins Elementary School and Susan, 13, leaves for Berry Junior High. John, age four, starts on the busy schedule of looking after his new pup, "Pansy," and an old timer in the family, kitty, "Tan."

All the patience that must go with motherhood is evidenced in the fact that harmony is currently being maintained as mother adds to her long list of obligations and duties that go with a training program while housebreaking Pansy. And Pansy is no thoroughbred . . . "just dog," a gift from a friend . . . but still one of those little necessities in successful growth of youngsters.

Everyone in the Wagner household has his or her job to do. This may consist of such things as washing dishes, sorting clothes, putting things away.

"I have always felt that my family should be reared to understand that there is dignity in work," says Mrs. Wagner.

To many people Mrs. Wagner is a perfectionist. But she explains it this way, "Anything worth doing should be done well."

Warmth . . . this is the best description of a first impression of the Wagner home as you step inside. Knotty pine walls blending into hardwood floors, with numerous handmade throw rugs, with Colonial and Early American furniture throughout, is a genuine invitation to "sit down and make yourself at home."

One of Mrs. Wagner's hobbies is that of collecting antique plates and many of these are fitted into the decorating scheme.

Several years ago when Emma and Phillip Wagner bought their property in what was then known as "Opportunity Farms" they thought they would be living in the country. At that time they started construction of a garage and one room which later was transformed into their

ALL THE MEMBERS of the Wagner family are enthused about the local homemaker selection and they have good reason to be since "Mama" is one of the candidates. Shown here are John, age four; Jean, 10; Susan, 13; father Phillip and mother Emma. They live at 2869 Bulen-av.

WORK HAS STARTED on the Christmas church music and Mrs. Wagner spends some time each day preparing for this big annual event.

WHEN THE TWO older children take off for school there is still plenty of activity at the Wagner home with son, John; his puppy, Pansy, and kitty, Tan. Mother keeps the situation harmonious.

MOTHER, Mrs. Wagner, does some last minute checking on son, John, before she leaves for her job as supervisor of nurses at Mercy Hospital.

to housekeeping provided by specially prepared mixes, household hints and short cuts, extension bulletins, and the wealth of assistance she gets from reading and shopping newspaper ads.

The extra time she gives to civic work is under the heading of the contribution to the development of better youngsters in Lincoln Village. She is happy in the knowledge that there is a wealth of such leadership in the Village and it has resulted in "making this more than just an ordinary, flat development."

Beth further stresses her belief that working with adults provides better training for the handling of children.

One of her current major projects is that of being a guardian for the TAN DAKO Campfire Girls. This takes an average of 10 hours weekly. In the summer just passed, her interest was likewise centered on son Larry's Cub Scout activities and now it is football for him.

For two years she taught a Sunday School class and is now a substitute. Currently a time taker is that of preparing for the annual Church Christmas Bazaar.

Religious education has its rightful place in the Heckner home with regular attendance at St. Mark's Episcopal Church. All members of the family join in saying grace together at meals.

"Our religious training," says Mrs. Heckner, "is centered around our belief that our God is a loving God and we strive to teach our youngsters that God is just a greater parent and one that will always love them."

Regularly each Monday morning at 9 o'clock she joins the other women who make up the Lincoln Village bowling league for her weekly "not too good" game with an average of around 100.

Another regular outside activity is that of participation in the Choral group which she helped organize. These ladies meet once or more each month and make numerous public appearances.

Last Christmas season Beth was up to her ears in work as the ladies of the community provided the annual Lincoln Village Christmas celebration. Santa was brought in by helicopter with gifts for all the youngsters, and more than 500 were in attendance.

Husband Kedron, better known as Bud, is business manager of Davidson-Green, Inc., Volkswagen Sales and Service, 701 S. Hamilton Rd.

At the conclusion of a very busy year as president of the Lincoln Village Women's Club in 1961, the aforementioned scrapbook contained a page with a very real and attractive hand drawing of Beth with this inscription: There are four things a woman must know . . .

How to act like a lady
How to think like a man
How to work like a dog.

Mrs. Kedron Heckner is entitled to such an accolade.

Why Select Natl. Homemaker?

portunity to talk with local winners if they feel they do not have sufficient information in the letters to judge them to their satisfaction.

The national judges will also have a chance to observe the local winners as they participate in a panel discussion the morning of Nov. 15 before the national winner is definitely chosen that afternoon.

Why have Hartley Newspapers and other members of the Suburban Press Foundation undertaken this task to find the most outstanding suburban homemaker?

Because it is the desire of the publications which serve the suburban population of the nation to direct attention to the importance of suburban community homemakers as the core of the family and community life of the nation, thus recognizing that homemaking in our expanding suburban population is largely responsible in these changing times for guarding and building the American way of life and all for which it stands.

Another reason is that these publications desire to broaden the horizon of all suburban homemakers in their concept of their responsibilities—bearing in mind all the interrelated interests for successful family living and community development.

A third and equally important reason is to stimulate progress in further building the material, moral and spiritual strength of the American family and community life of the nation.

It was not easy for the local judges to pick winners from the area as there were special qualities possessed by each entrant which would be recognized. Picking just one from each publication area was a serious affair for each judge. They, too, were conscious of the responsibilities they undertook to help select the most outstanding homemakers in the area.

They, too, wanted to do their part on honoring the heart of the American home. Their responsibilities weighed heavily upon their shoulders, and they wished each woman entered could have been a winner.

BROADLOOM IS WIDTH

BROADLOOM is a designation of carpet width. It does not describe any special style, quality or construction. The term refers to any carpet made in seamless widths of six feet and over.

THE HECKNER HOME in Lincoln Village is easily found. Just look for the sleigh on the front lawn. The sleigh was donated to the Women's Club about four years ago and has been moved to the homes of the presidents of the club since that time. It is used once a year in the community Christmas celebration.

Ex-Senator Hits 'Shotgun' Charges

Former state senator Fred O. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Committee of 100, called for a halt to "irresponsible shotgun blasts at Florida land developers and home builders attributed to persons some of whom have never even visited our state."

"The time has come for an accounting and for a halt to charges by these people who, in seeking to weed out nefarious land developers across the county, blacken the names and reputations of some of the finest construction firms in Florida," Dickerson said.

He referred to a recent quote in an AP dispatch by officials of the Association of Better Business' that "the greatest land scandal in United [illegible] history is developing in the Southwest and in Florida." One of the officials Dickinson referred to lives in Rye, N.Y., the second in Des Moines, the others in Chicago and Kansas City.

"I cannot, of course, speak for what is happening in Southwest United States, but I must take sharp exception to such a blanket indictment of Florida and our home builders and land developers here," Dickinson continued.

"Florida has passed stringent laws to protect investors in Florida properties. There are still some isolated examples of nefarious real estate operations, but these are being weeded out as rapidly as they arise.

"What the officials of the Association of Better Business forget to note is that there are fine, well-financed and highly responsible home builders and land developers in Florida. Organizations such as Arvida, General Development Corporation and others have invested millions of dollars of their own money in the growth of Florida. They are selling good land and are bringing good, substantial people to our state to enjoy the benefits we have to offer. Th new arrivals, in turn, are creating a highly effective impact on our economic growth.

"It is entirely unfair, and, indeed, untrue to indict these fine Florida organizations with a reprehensible shotgun blast at everyone. Great harm, and very little good, can come from such tactics."

QUEEN Midge McKinley . . .

a member of the Eastmoor South Pool Association. We help transport the teams to and from swim meets all over the city. During the races I sometimes embarrass myself because I cheer so loudly for our team."

Both Mr. and Mrs. McKinley were instrumental in organizing the Eastmoor South Civic Association. Several years ago the association sponsored a Hungarian refugee family to Columbus. "We found them a house, furniture, food, and work. I helped the Mrs. through the last weeks of her pregnancy. It was quite an experience. Neither of us could understand the other."

Mrs. McKinley admits that she is not as active in organizations as she used to be. "Let's face it; the husband and children come first. After they're taken care of I work on outside projects if there's time."

John, the eldest son, is 14 and an excellent student. He is the official household floor cleaner. (Every little smudge bothers him. He's so thorough the neighbors hire him to keep their floors clean!") He is a self-disciplined individual with a rather thrifty philosophy.

Patrick, 13, is the exact opposite. He's awfully care-free, but he has the most friends. Patrick is a sympathetic lad who loves animals. The McKinley home is a sanctuary for a wide assortment of species from the animal kingdom. At present Patrick owns a cat, two rabbits, a turtle, several white mice and a chameleon. "We've had hampsters, fish, and parakeets, too. Pat rooms alone in the basement now — none of the other boys will room with him because he has animal cages scattered all over the room." The second McKinley son works several hours a week in a local bakery where he scrubs and dries baking [illegible].

Joseph, who is 12, has been labeled "The All-American Boy," by other family members. He excells in football, baseball, basketball and swimming." "He loves everything and everybody.." Joseph is a big favorite with neighborhood children younger than him. "He likes to crawl around on his hands and knees with them and carry [illegible] piggy-back." Joseph's specialty is lawn mowing, and he brings in a nice weekly income during the summer months.

Second grader Thomas likes sports and is looking forward to joining one of the local swim teams. He is interested in most of the things his older brothers are, and can't understand why is seven-year-old can't do most of the things John, Patrick and Joseph do.

"Paul is only six and very hard to describe. He loves to surprise me. When I'm not home he vacuums the rugs, washes dishes, and straightens up the living room so I will be pleasantly surprised."

The youngest McKinley son, William, is four. "He spends most of his time trying to imitate his big brothers. Thank goodness, he has picked up only their good traits, so far."

The three eldest sons have served as Altar Boys, been members of the Optimists Boys Club, and Boy Scouts. John currently is becoming a member of the Catholic Youth Organization. They are the most popular baby-sitters in the neighborhood.

The meals at the McKinley home are not extravagant. Mrs. McKinley serves steak once a week. The rest of the time she prepares casserole dishes with meat, chop suey, spaghetti, etc. Mrs McKinley makes chop suey in gallon lots, and when she fixes chicken and noodles — the family favorite—she uses four chickens at a time.

Breakfast is eaten in shifts. The five oldest boys eat first, then hop off to school. The McKinley parents eat second, and little Willie is fed whenever he gets up. The early morning menu consists of juice, eggs, rolls and hot chocolate. "When it's cold I fix hot cereal for them, too."

"I find if I can fix vegetables 'pretty' enough, the children love them." Mrs. McKinley bakes four times a week. "The men won't let me stop."

There is a neighborhood joke about Mrs. McKinley's pie-baking. It's a known fact that she quickly bakes a butterscotch pie for her husband after the two have had a little family argument. "Mac and I have our little differences like everybody else, but never in front of the children." When these infrequent tiffs occur, Mac 'phones home later. If he learns there is a butterscotch pie in the oven, he knows everything is all-right.

Bedtime snacks are not encouraged by Mrs McKinley. The boys often have a peanut-butter and jelly sandwich, but their mother believes that three well-balanced meals a day should be enough. "But mercy, how the peanutbutter is consumed around here in the evening."

"Family experiences and religion are the two main ingredients for a successful family life. Looking back, I believe the most enjoyable [illegible] we've had have been those we've shared with the boys."

The McKinley family is well-known on the East Side for its papier mache projects. The parents join forces with the boys in making decorations, toys, and costumes. "The boys win all kinds of prizes at Halloween time for their mache costumes. We've got an attic full of them."

Mac, who is pretty handy with a hammer and nails, teaches his sons carpentry and painting.

Although Patrick is the animal lover, the entire family takes an active interest in his pets. "I'm sure having pets is an integral part of growing up."

Mrs. McKinley loves to grow flowers and arrange them about the house. She also enjoys raising vegetables, but jellies are her specialty. She puts up fancy preserves, packages them in a novel manner, and gives them away at Christmas time. "Once I was a Den Mother for a Cub Scout pack. I taught all the boys how to make cherry jelly. Their mothers were flabbergasted."

In the summer the McKinleys dine nearly every evening at the picnic table in the backyard. "But we have to play about nine innings of baseball before Mac and the boys are ready to eat."

The McKinley boys are probably the best versed group in the area when it comes to political issues. Their mother always gathers literature on the subjects for them to read and discuss. "You'd be surprised what an interest children take in grownup affairs when they have half a chance." Mrs. McKinley believes that democracy begins in the home, and to get the most out of it, you have to be well-informed.

Mrs. McKinley serves as neighborhood nurse and guidance counselor. "Only yesterday a friend called and asked me to come over and take her temperature." Children in the neighborhood run for the McKinley home when they have a bleeding finger. One neighbor shook her head, "Our daughter thinks Midge is the only person in town who can put on a Band Aid."

"I don't know why people have chosen me to hear their troubles. Maybe it's because I sit patiently and listen. I don't feel qualified to offer much advice, but I do try to talk religion with them and encourage them to seek God."

Religion has always come first at the McKinley household. "If parents lend their spiritual guidance and teach their [illegible] the true meaning of the word 'love', everything will be all right. The special significance of the church must be pointed out in the home."

Another close friend, Mrs. Ben Fultz, exclaimed, "Midge is the kindest person I've ever known. She's simply lovely. I don't know how she finds time to raise six well-mannered boys, yet do the things she does for other people."

Mrs. Ermgard Stillson said, "Midge [illegible] my [illegible] when I came here from Germany. The adjustment was terrific and if it hadn't been for her, I think I would have died. She was working full-time, raising three children, serving as housemother to 10 college men, yet she found time to guide me."

Neighbor Mrs. Al Zerby confided, "When I need help, I call on Midge. And other people know about her because whenever someone gets down on their luck, they call her. Our religions are different, but that doesn't make any difference to Midge."

"I cannot think of anyone more qualified or more deserving of the title "Suburban Homemaker of the Year," is the way Mrs. Paul MacDonald described Mrs. McKinley. In her letter of nomination. "Whether the neighborhood drive is for the United Appeal, Retarded Children, Cancer, or Heart Fund, 'Get Midge To Do It' is a favorite slogan."

Mrs. MacDonald concluded, "It's not unusual to see Midge campaigning and ringing doorbells in the neighborhood with one or two of her little tots tagging along behind her."

PREPARING SON PAUL to play the part of St. Paul in a religious play at Christ The King Elementary School, Mrs. McKinley adds the final touches to the costume.

Ex-Senator Hits 'Shotgun' Charges

..Former state senator Fred O. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Committee of 100, called for a halt to "irresponsible shotgun blasts at Florida land developers and home builders attributed to persons some of whom have never even visited our state."

One of the officials Dickinson referred to lives in Rye, N.Y., the second in Des Moines, the others in Chicago and Kansas City.

"I cannot, of course, speak for what is happening in Southwest United States, but I must take sharp exception to such a blanket indictment of Florida and our home builders and land developers here," Dickinson continued.

"Florida has passed stringent laws to protect investors in Florida properties. There are still some isolated examples of nefarious real estate operations, but these are being weeded out as rapidly as they arise.

"What the officials of the Association of Better Business Bureaus forget to note is that there are fine, well-financed and highly responsible home builders and land developers in Florida. Organizations such as Arvida, General Development Corporation and others have invested millions of dollars of their own money in the growth of Florida. They are selling good land and are bringing good, substantial people to our state to enjoy the benefits we have to offer. Th new arrivals, in turn, are creating a highly effective impact on our economic growth.

"It is entirely unfair, and, indeed, untrue to indict these fine Florida organizations with a reprehensible shotgun blast at everyone. Great harm, and very little good, can come from such tactics."

days together, the Tallmans plan many family projects. Swimming in the summer and travel are their favorites, with frequent trips throughout Ohio.

And home is for sharing with friends. The Tallmans entertain often, with gatherings ranging from small dinner parties to large groups.

Mrs. Tallman, always consciously aware that their home is the foundation upon which their children are building their individual lives, strives also to focus their attention outward; to broaden their horizons by fostering an interest in the world about their home.

Again by example, they learn to interest themselves in their government, and in people of other countries.

A native of Columbus, Mrs. Tallman met her husband while they both attended Central High School. They were married two years after graduation.

A HAT TO MATCH a new ensemble is easy, with a little bit of knowledge and a pinch of imagination. Mrs. Tallman learned the art of hat-making at the Hilltop YWCA.

Cookouts Carefree With Gas

There are few things left in this troubled world as carefree as the cookout. With a backdrop of clear blue sky or shining stars and a spotlight of glowing coals, the stage seems set for light-hearted dining.

Ease, however, is the essence of such meals and the scene can soon be spoiled through lack of know-how or makeshift equipment. Huffing and puffing to make the charcoal burn, cooking in acrid smoke—these are only two of the troubles that can mar a barbecue. Insects and harsh illumination are added woes.

To insure success, families in increasing numbers are turning to modern gas barbecues that ignite instantly, imparting a rosy glow to ceramic "coals." They're ready to cook in seconds. Meat and other foods take on the heavenly flavor and appetizing appearance everyone [illegible] with outdoor cooking. And there's no mess or fuss involved. Smoke and soot from dripping grease is consumed by the gas flame. There are never any ashes to empty or fly about. The ceramic briquets are self-cleaning and can be used over and over again.

Homeowners can choose from a variety of gas models, ranging from portable units that can be used indoors as well as out of doors, to built-in equipment permanently installed on the patio or terrace.

For cooking at night, families find the mellow glow of gas light ideal. It provides ample light for working, yet never spoils the setting because it is too bright or glaring. Instead, gas light is similar to moonlight, casting a soft, flattering glow over the scene. It actually enhances the setting and adds a touch of elegance.

Equally important, gas light doesn't attract annoying insects. Unlike filament-type lamps, gas lights create light on the yellow band of the color spectrum which in effect makes them insect-repellent. And, of course, gas lights are dependable. Sidewalks, driveways, swimming pools, patios, porches, etc., are properly lighted at all times in good weather and bad. Families are never without outdoor illumination when they need it most.

Curiosity May Kill Us

In our efforts to learn everything to be learned we are finding some costly studies are being made at a cost to taxpayers today. For example, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, has come up with the following list of studies being made by the National Institute of Health:

Behavioral and physiological concomitants of dreaming $20,700

Ex-Senator Hits 'Shotgun' Charges

Former state senator Fred O. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Committee of 100, called for a halt to "irresponsible shotgun blasts at Florida land developers and home builders attributed to persons some of whom have never even visited our state."

"The time has come for an accounting and for a halt to charges by [redacted] people who, in seeking to weed out nefarious land developers across the county, blacken the names and reputations of some of the finest construction firms in Florida," Dickerson said.

He referred to a recent quote in an AP dispatch by officials of the Association of Better Business that "the greatest land scandal in United States history is developing in the Southwest and in Florida." One of the officials Dickinson referred to lives in Rye, N.Y., the second in Des Moines, the others in Chicago and Kansas City.

"I cannot, of course, speak for what is happening in Southwest United States, but I must take sharp exception to such a blanket indictment of Florida and our home builders and land developers here," Dickinson continued.

QUEEN Emma Wagner . . .

THE WAGNER home sits slightly back off the main street which makes it possible for Mrs. Wagner to get a bit of fresh air going after the mail each morning.

living room and utility room. The rapid growth of the Columbus area was soon to catch up with their plan for country living and today they find themselves in an attractive and well kept community of modern homes, a part of America's great Suburbia.

Growth in their community has had all the attending problems that have accompanied growth throughout America. Schools were needed, sewers were needed, zoning was needed. And, as might be expected, Mrs. Wagner has been one of the community leaders in bringing these things into being.

Naturally an active mother like Mrs. Wagner would be a member of the PTA but she admits that while there are numerous people who will always give time to affairs that concern their children in school, she has felt that not enough families devote enough time to church activities and has leaned a little more in the direction of the church.

Mrs. Wagner was nominated as Suburban Homemaker of the Year by a church friend, Laura Liston.

"We have had our troubles from time to time but have always found that keeping God a part of our family has helped." A deep sense of responsibility is further evidenced in the fact that neither of the parents smokes or drinks.

Making the most of everything is quite evident in the Wagners' lives and much of the credit for their nice home, their good times, and the good things that their family enjoy can well be attributed to her ability as a manager.

Each year they have their family garden and this summer even found time to take care of the garden and the lawn for her mother. She does a lot of canning, jelly making, freezing foods, and generally utilizing food commodities that go into the making of good meals. She even finds time to make lots of apple butter in the fall for an annual church project.

During the winter months she makes quilts and more throw rugs and many of her lamp shades carry the Wagner brand.

She loves to bowl and has an average of 152 in a housewife's league. Another pleasant afternoon is when she has an opportunity to attend an auction. And many of her antiques have been acquired from such occasions.

Art and music have provided much enjoyment for Mrs. Wagner and now she is directing her children toward a musical education. Susan is in her fourth year at the piano and Jean plays the saxophone. She has a natural ability as an artist and has been able to do some outstanding work in pencil drawing. A life-size likeness of General MacArthur is framed in one of the bedrooms. She is an avid reader, has a small library, belongs to a book club, and regularly keeps refreshed with Bible readings.

Sewing is a major project for Mrs. Wagner and most of the girls' dresses are her own design.

Already there are many women who are wondering where Mrs. Wagner gets the time to do all the things she does. But, the story has not all been told.

Mrs. Wagner is a registered nurse and three days one week and four days the next week from 3 to 11 p.m. each day she is the supervisor of nurses at Mercy Hospital. This extra job is not an absolute necessity but she does admit that it helps a good bit financially. Even more important is the fact that it is essentially a part of her life . . . doing things for other people.

Baby sitting with son, John, is no problem since one or the other of the grandmothers who live close by are always ready to fill in for an hour or so until father comes home from work.

Mrs. Wagner's life might well be summed up in four words . . . warmth, growth, service and love.

RUNNERS-UP

Mother Is Nominated By Daughter

My nomination for the suburban homemaker award is Gladys Anderson. I feel she more than adequately meets all of the qualifications.

I thinks she very skillfully fulfills the basic responsibilities of any housewife. First of all, she seems to have that special knack of making almost any food taste especially good. Her meals are not exotic, but planned to be well-balanced and appealing to the appetites of her family.

I do not know what I can say about her house except that it is always clean; including parts that are not so conspicuous, such as cupboards and drawers. Her home is also very tastefully decorated and she is constantly looking for ways to improve the appearance of her home.

These, however, are attributes that every housewife should have. There are other qualities which make the woman I am nominating an outstanding homemaker.

Her own personal appearance and personality contribute greatly to her character. She is always neat and attractive in appearance as well as in manner and attitude. She is a quiet, unassuming individual. Yet she has very definite ideas on certain subjects and she works very hard to promote causes she feels are worthwhile.

She has always been a very active worker in the church. In the past she has served as secretary of the Junior Department, an officer in the Sunday School class and sung in the choir. She just finished a four year term as President of the Women's Society of World Service in the church and she is presently serving as one of the counselors in the youth department.

She belongs to a Wing, a group of women who participate in service projects directed toward Nightingale Cottage a convalescent children's home.

She is also active in the YMCA. At present she is serving as president of the Hilltop YMCA Mother's Council. At a recent money-making function of this group, I was discussing the success of the event with one of the members and she made this remark, "Gladys is so nice to work with and everyone likes her so well that they all work extra hard to make it a success for her sake." This, I thought, was a fine tribute to the type of person she is.

But above all of these things is the wonderful home atmosphere which she has been able to create. There is affection, love, and respect among all of the members of her family. I feel qualified to make this comment, for she is my mother. Her responsibility to her husband and children has always come first. I always knew that my mother would be in the first row at the piano recitals, the children's day programs, the PTA meetings, the choir concerts, or any other activities in which her children were participating.

The apex of importance, however, is the attitude that prevailed at home. I never avoided wrong because I would be severely punished. Rather, I strived toward what I thought was right because I wanted my mother to be proud of me. I loved my mother so much that I did not want to do anything to displease her. A mother who can create a love like this within her family has truly made the home what it should be, an attractive, pleasing place that is full of love. I feel that my mother is the epitome of what a homemaker should be.

Selecting America's "Suburban Homemaker of the Year" from among 53 finalists, was a serious and formidable task. Here the judges, left to right, pore over the entries in the final hours of the national judging: Dr. Marie Pfeiffer, Chairman, Women's State Committee of Ohio for Public Welfare, Health and Education; Dr. Janet Wessel, Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Michigan State University; Judge Clayton W. Rose, President, National Council of Juvenile Court Judges; Dr. Ruth Leverton, Assistant Administrator, Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture; Mrs. Ruth Phillips, President League of Women Voters of the United States; and Chester K. Hayes, Executive Director of the Suburban Press Foundation under whose auspices the Search for the Suburban Homemaker of the Year was held.

The Award to the "National Suburban Homemaker of the Year" will be made in Chicago on Nov. 15.

RUNNERS-UP

Marianne Cox Candidate Of Her Aunt

I would like to nominate my neighbor and niece, Marianne Cox, for the role of Suburban Homemaker of the year.

Marianne and Dale Cox have been married nine years. They live at 96 Amity-rd. They have two children, John, age 7 and Jill, age 3.

This young couple act as foster parents and now are caring for three children — all under three years of age.

On Sunday morning Marianne, Dale and all five children attend the Memorial Baptist Church on Eakin-rd.

Marianne is secretary of the Alton-Hall PTA. Her son is a second grade student there. She is also busy at the present time with the Southwestern School District bond issue drive. Marianne is an officer in the local Alton Grange. All members of the family take part in some of the Grange functions.

Although she and her children are away from home many hours on outside activities, Marianne insists that she loves to stay home. Anyone can see by her home that she spends many hours on hobbies that help beautify her lovely six room home. She makes her drapes and bedspreads and has made numerous ceramics to decorate. She loves color which is apparent by her interior decorating.

Among Marianne's hobbies is sewing. She makes most all her children's clothes and has won prizes at State and County Fairs for her very lovely work. While she works on Ceramics or sewing she always lets the children take part in the art with her.

There are many more things I could say about this very attractive, sweet and lovely homemaker but since time and paper limits me I will close for now, with the hope she will be considered for this honor which she so richly deserves.

SAFETY MEASURE

Some 4½ million automobiles are now equipped with safety belts, almost double the number a year ago.

Don't burn leaves. Put them to work in a compost pile to give you a better garden next year, suggest OSU Extension specialists.

AVOID LAPS

Ideally, the best way to paint the side of a house is from scaffolding so that you can paint across the entire width and thus not have any lap marks. If you are painting from a ladder, however, it is simpler to paint from the top down, covering an area as wide as you can comfortably and safely reach. Make the edge of each strip uneven so that if there are lapmarks they will not be in a straight vertical line that calls attention to them.

FEEL LIKE A PING PONG BALL?

Don't eat this. Don't eat that. Calories. Cholesterol. Polyunsaturates. Heart disease.

The current rash of do-it-yourself diets and food fads is enough to make you feel like a ping pong ball. Bouncing from claim to claim.

Should you change your diet or not? Are these dangers real or not? Are they proved or not? Is there someone you can trust in all this?

There is. Your physician.

And the first thing he'll probably tell you is: don't change your diet unless you're sick.

And if you are sick, trust him to get you back on the right diet—not unproved food claims.

Even if he asks you to cut down on some of the products we represent, that's all right with us.

Because no one knows your individual health problems like your physician. We don't. (And other food people don't, either.) There's no such thing as a universal diet.

For good nutrition, the American Medical Association (October 12, 1962) recommends a well-balanced diet chosen from these four basic food groups: (a) The Milk group (milk, cheese, ice cream), (b) The Meat group, (c) The Vegetable-Fruit group, and (d) The Bread-Cereal group.

That's why we urge you not to endanger your health with do-it-yourself food plans or to change your diet because of widely publicized food fears—like cholesterol.

Your physician will tell you this himself. Trust him. We do.

We're people, too.

Ex-Senator Hits 'Shotgun' Charges

Former state senator Fred O. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Committee of 100, called for a halt to "irresponsible shotgun blasts at Florida land developers and home builders attributed to persons some of whom have never even visited our state."

"The time has come for an accounting and for a halt to charges by these people who, in seeking to weed out nefarious land developers across the county, blacken the names and reputations of some of the finest construction firms in Florida," Dickerson said.

He referred to a recent quote in an AP dispatch by officials of the Association of Better Business that "the greatest land scandal in United States history is developing in the [redacted] and in Florida." One of the officials Dickinson referred to lives in Rye, N.Y., the second in Des Moines, the others in Chicago and Kansas City.

"I cannot, of course, speak for what is happening in Southwest United States, but I must take sharp exception to such a blanket indictment of Florida and our home builders and land developers here," Dickinson continued.

"Florida has passed stringent laws to protect investors in Florida properties. There are still some isolated examples of nefarious real estate operations, but these are being weeded out as rapidly as they arise.

"What the officials of the Association of Better Business forget to note is that there are fine, well-financed and highly responsible home builders and land developers in Florida. Organizations such as Arvida, General Development Corporation and others have invested millions of dollars of their own money in the growth of Florida. They are selling good land and are bringing good, substantial people to our state to enjoy the benefits we have to offer. Th new arrivals, in turn, are creating a highly effective impact on our economic growth.

"It is entirely unfair, and, indeed, untrue to indict these fine Florida organizations with a reprehensible shotgun blast at everyone. Great harm, and very little good, can come from such tactics."

The Committee of 100 is composed of 100 leading Florida citizens.

Beauty Has A Healthy Look

The glow of youth! What sort of picture does this conjure up in your mind? No doubt you will concentrate on the word "glow"—not youth —a "radiant being — fresh, vital." For youth is not an age; it's a status. We think of beautiful babies, pretty girls, lovely matrons. These are qualities all women desire, from childhood on, whether 14 or 40. They are the secrets of being attractive, admired, popular.

To glow with beauty one must also glow with health, for good health is essential to a clear, clean skin, bright eyes, a well formed figure and, not least, a wealth of energy.

So much emphasis has been given to weight problems these days that one is apt to overlook the most basic principle of looking well — to be healthy. Pills, diets and, sorriest of them all, the denials of certain foods, are sheer nonsense. Simple enjoyable living and sensible discipline can accomplish what you are seeking — to be physically fit; controlling the amount of food rather than eliminating nutritious foods.

If you question this, look to your authoritative nutrition experts who have proven that an every day routine of balanced meals is the way to health—and beauty. Keep fit —don't undermine your health — and lose your glow! Should you have a special diet problem, see your doctor.

And, lest that teenage daughter lose her glow of youth before her youth is gone, explain to her that to be pretty, popular and happy now and in the future means practicing good health habits. She'll be smart to cut down on carbonated beverages, french fries and catsup, and not forsake good milk, fruits and vegetables, especially if she wants to keep her pretty complexion and pep.

Remember, too, that health isn't all boxed up in food. Interests of mind, hobbies, recreation and rest are as important as what we eat. What is the right gauge for [redacted]? Activities that suit your age and physical condition—and those you enjoy. Recreation? Ways to have fun, meet and mix with people and take your mind off cares. Rest and relaxation? Sleep, taking it easy and doing the things that make you and those about you happy.

To sum it all up, the way to "glow" is to be healthy, happy, energetic and interested in life, for the glow of life is pure beauty in itself.

Famous Author Is Suburban Homemaker

Ponies and children have a natural affinity and to children all over the country—indeed all over the world — the words "pony" and "Misty" are virtually synonymous. Misty, the pony of Marguerite Henry's famous book, "Misty of Chincoteague," is real to thousands of children as are all of the characters in her long list of fine books for children.

The realism in Mrs. Henry's books is not easily or quickly achieved, for she does exhaustive research, often as she says, "filling a whole suitcase with notes." But, as she continues, "While I'm writing my first draft I don't allow myself one peek. If I did, the story would have a hoppity, hoppity rabbit-like gait instead of zooming along. After the first writing I go through all my notes, adding things I have left out and checking for accuracy. Then I rewrite a manuscript five or six times."

The characters in all of Mrs. Henry's books "come alive," thus their appeal to children, the sternest realists of all. "Brighty of the Grand Canyon," another children's favorite, required two successive summers in the Grand Canyon, riding muleback up and down the walls of the canyon, over the very trails Brighty had taken.

Marguerite Henry, in private life Mrs. Sidney Henry, lives in suburban Wayne, some 40 miles from Chicago. For several years the real Misty was comfortably stabled nearby. Local children vied for the "privilege" of cleaning out Misty's stable and doing currying chores. Today, Misty is back in her native Chincoteague, where she has three times added to the colt population.

Not surprisingly, Mrs. Henry's characters become very real to her and as she says, she often begins to think and talk like those characters. As a suburban homemaker, Mrs. Henry feels that the recognition being paid homemakers through the current search for the "Suburban Homemaker of the Year" is one which is richly deserved and that the emphasis being put upon strong values in family living is a much [illegible] phasis.

In the vernacular of Grandpa Beebe in "Misty of Chincoteague" she says, "Beauty contests are fine, fer as they go, but beauties 're like water bugs skittering atop the [illegible] Homemakers now, they go deep down and bring up the heart of the family."

Timely Tips On Cleaning

Baking soda added to your cleaning water for wipe-up jobs will speed cleaning time and prevent musty odors in refrigerators, sinks and ovens.

Sponges, cloths, or stainless steel wool are recommended for cleaning stainless steel appliances. Avoid common metal scouring pads, scrapers, and wire brushes.

When cleaning stainless appliances, splashboards, and countertops, always wipe in the direction of the polish lines of the brushed finish.

You can prevent white "water spots" on stainless steel sinks and countertops by wiping them with a dry towel.

If you use chlorine bleach, do not let clothes soak overnight in a stainless steel sink. Rinse out the sink immediately after use.

Two steps make cleaning stainless steel oven and range hoods easier:

(1) wipe off excess grease with a paper towel.

(2) wash with soap or detergent and hot water.

To remove baked-on grease on stainless stoves, hoods and ovens, use a paste made of water, ammonia, and mild abrasive cleaner.

If you have exposed your oven face to high heat for a sustained period by leaving the oven door open, you may find a slight heat discoloration. This "heat tint" can be removed with special liquid cleaners.

RUNNERS-UP

Mrs. Evans Is Lauded

I nominate Mrs. Jesse Evans as a candidate for Suburban Homemaker of the year. She lives at 1460 Hart-dr, Reynoldsburg. Mrs. Evans graduated from Reynoldsburg High School and has lived all her married life on the same farm land area, now a part of Huber Homes area.

Mrs. Evans is a fine Christian woman, a generous warm hearted mother and a kind and most helpful friend. She is devoted to their church, she has taught a class; for many years, led the Hetty Evans Missionary Circle for young girls and gave them a greater vision. She gave of her voice in the music. Mrs. Evans was chairman of the nominating committee of the Columbus Presbyterial and served as president of the Xenia Presbyterial. They have been in regular attendance at 2nd Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Evans has taken an interested part in community affairs in addition to church related activities. She was a charter member of Reynoldsburg Civic Club in 1922. Mrs. Evans "sparked" a kindergarten in the days when the idea was new for towns. The Civic Club sponsored and financed this private kindergarten venture.

Mrs. Evans used to sing beautifully. She sang on one of the early radio stations.

Through the unswerving efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Evans the four children, 3 sons and a daughter, were graduated from college and prepared for responsible positions. These educations represent saving, working and scrimping on the part of the children, too.

Mrs. Evans says "The children's characters were developed by this struggle to have the educations".

The oldest son James is an insurance salesman in Pensacola, Fla. Evan is with a book concern in Bloomington, Ill. They are both Tarkio College graduates. Gillette has a degree from Monmouth and teaches music at Taylor University, Upland, Ind., Joann lives on a farm in Indiana. She is a Muskingum College graduate.

Thru the years as a homemaker, Mrs. Evans managed well — many of the years were hard lean years — depression years. The family had a roadside market selling produce from farm and garden and apple butter, pickles and culinary products. These experiences as related by Mrs. Evans would make a good book.

The family had fun in the home, with music, the family car, the dog, the many friends and families who were visitors at the home. Picnics, camp trips, 4-H clubs, were all made possible for family.

Mrs. Evans looked always to the health and well being of herself and the family. Home nursing, medical attention, necessary surgery, hospitalization were all met with proper balance.

Mrs. Evans' diet problem was a challenge and was met without faltering. Health was a challenge.

Mrs. Evans gave of herself and does still for her friends and family in time of need, distress, in trouble or happiness, too. She is an excellent cook, and shares her products.

Mrs. Evans is always neat and tidy, has a special knack in home decorating. She is well groomed and her goodness shines from her.

Mrs. Evans represents a homemaker who sees the results of homemaking as thru good years and bad ones she has seen the children and family grow in stature and faith, and the world change.

She enjoys these young families and those of her young neighborhood where she lives.

All the friends of Mrs Evans are warmed by her kindness and inspired by her Christian Faith. She has helped and befriended, she has given counsel, and has led many to greater heights.

I recommend Mrs. Jesse Evans.

BURNPROOF COUNTER

Most counter surfacing materials will be permanently damaged if contacted by a hot pot or pan. This presents a problem in a small kitchen with a limited counter space. The solution lies in covering the counter with burnproof ceramic tile. This versatile product is also scratchproof and comes in more than 250 colors.

In our efforts to learn everything to be learned we are finding some costly studies are being made at a cost to taxpayers today. For example, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, has come up with the following list of studies being made by the National Institute of Health:

must show the commissioners that they are no more interested in having part of the township annexed to Columbus now than they were when they voted down such a proposal in the 1960 fall election.

Representatives from the South-Western City School District will attend the hearing, according to Caperton, regardless of past statements by the commissioners that school district welfare would not be considered in studying annexation issues.

Thomas Applegate, well-known attorney in the central Ohio area for representing annexation opponents will be the spokesman for the township, Caperton said.

He also clarified that Columbus was not being held responsible for the bid to annex this area of the township, but that "real estate concerns who can't get services (water and sewage) because of Columbus' "freeze" are pushing it," even though Columbus does own the largest portion (239 acres) of the area in question.

Ex-Senator Hits 'Shotgun' Charges

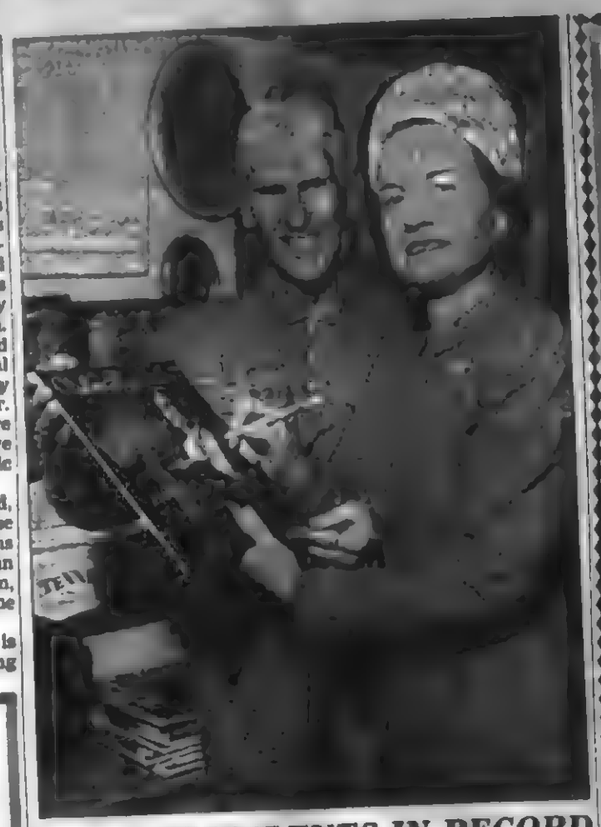
Former state senator Fred O. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Committee of 100, called for a halt to "irresponsible shotgun blasts at Florida land developers and home builders attributed to persons some of whom have never even visited our state."

"The time has come for an accounting and for a halt to charges by these people who, in seeking to weed out nefarious land developers across the county, blacken the names and reputations of some of the finest construction firms in Florida," Dickerson said.

He referred to a recent quote in an AP dispatch by officials of the Association of Better Business that "the greatest land scandal in United States history is developing in the Southwest and in Florida." One of the officials Dickinson referred to lives in Rye, N.Y., the second in Des Moines, the others in Chicago and Kansas City.

"I cannot, of course, speak for what is happening in Southwest United States, but I must take sharp exception to such a blanket indictment of Florida and our home builders and land developers here," Dickinson continued.

"Florida has passed stringent laws to protect investors in Florida properties. There are still some isolated examples of nefarious real estate operations, but these are being weeded out as rapidly as they arise.



"What the officials of the Association of Better Business Bureaus forget to note is that there are fine, well-financed and highly responsible home builders and land developers in Florida. "It is entirely unfair, and, indeed, untrue to indict these fine Florida organizations with a reprehensible shotgun blast at everyone. Great harm, and very little good, can come from such tactics."

Homemakers Give Favorite Recipes

Every successful homemaker has a favorite recipe. Hartley Newspapers staff members in interviewing local winners in the Suburban Homemaker Contest asked the privilege of passing on to our readers these favorite recipes with a little comment on each.

Chop Suey Says Midge McKinley

Mrs. Midge McKinley, 835 S. Enfield, says her big family calls this Chop Suey a big treat!

½ lb. cubed pork, ½-inch size
½ lb. cubed veal, ½-inch size floured lightly and cooked 15 minutes in 2 T butter.
Then cook (covered) for 20 minutes:
1 teaspoon salt
2 Berumda onions, sliced
3 cups celery, diced
No. 2 can Chop Suey vegetables
2 oz. can mushrooms
¼ cup coarse green pepper

Heat gently 2 teaspoons soy sauce, 1 teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper

Blend 3 T. water and ½ T. cornstarch. Gradually add to mixture. Heat to boiling. Serve over rice and Chinese [illegible].

It's Caramel Pie For Mrs. Tallman

Mrs. June Tallman, 3306 Stephen Dr. S., has had many requests for her recipe for Caramel Party Pie:

½ lb. (28) vanilla caramels
1 cup milk
⅛ tsp. salt
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water

Melt caramels in milk over low heat, stirring constantly. Add salt. Soften gelatin in cold water, add to caramels; stir to dissolve. Pour into 2 qt. mixing bowl and chill until partially set (about one hour). Then fold in:

1 cup heavy cream, whipped
½ cup ground pecans
½ cup minced green maraschino cherries (wash with cold water and dry before mincing)
1 teaspoon vanilla

Fill pie shell and trim with 8 pecan halves and 2 green cherries, quartered. Chill till firm. Serves 6 or 8.

Mrs. Tallman thinks Nutty Pie Crust is an excellent companion to her recipe for Party Pie:

1 cup and 2 tablespoons flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons ground pecans
⅓ cup shortening
2 tablespoons water

Sift flour and salt together, add ground pecans, stir lightly. Add shortening, water, mix lightly with a fork and shape dough into ball. Roll between two sheets of waxed paper. Bake at 450 degrees, 12-15 minutes or until golden. Cool before filling.

Mrs. Heckner Has 'An Investment'

Mrs. Beth Heckner, 161 Topafield-rd, when asked for her favorite recipe, produced a whole book full. This is her special. She calls it "an investment, but a treat."

BOUILLABAISE

Lobster, 1 medium or 1 can (about 1 cup)
Shrimp, 1 lb.
Haddock, cal or whiting, 1½ lbs.
Onion, sliced, 1½ cups
Garlic, finely chopped, 2 cloves
Tomatoes, stewed or canned, 2½ cups
Thyme, ½ tsp.
Parsley, chopped, 1 sprig
Bay leaf, 2
Saffron, ¼ tsp. (optional)
Orange rind, 1 strip
Salt, 2 or 3 tsp.
Peppercorns, 2
Boiling water or fish stock, 1 qt.
Boiled rice, about 4 cups

If fresh lobster is used, cook and remove from shell. Shell and clean shrimp. Reserve shells and boil for stock. Strain stock and cool. Cut haddock or other fish in 1½ inch cubes. Heat oil; add lobster meat, shrimp, fish, onions and garlic. Simmer about 10 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and simmer over low heat about 30 minutes. Serve over rice. Makes 6 or 8 servings. For the gourmet, add 2 or 3 dashes of tabasco sauce to the recipe after cooking.

Since 1954 substantial quantities of surplus foods have been sent to many countries overseas through the Food for Peace program.

Mrs. Wagner Likes 'Excellency' Cookies

Mrs. Emma Wagner, 2869 Bulen-av, selected as a representative of the South and Southeast areas served by Hartley Newspapers, has submitted her recipe for her "Excellency" cookies.

She states their family doctor has asked that she enter it in national baking contests. She frequently bakes them for church bazaars and one lady who made a purchase one year liked them so well that she insisted that Mrs. Wagner bake several batches of them each week for her for an entire year. Her recipe follows:

1 cup vegetable shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons nutmeg
5 cups flour
1 cup milk
Icing
1 box confectioner's sugar
2 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
⅛ cup butter

Combine sugars and shortening, mix on medium speed until fluffy and light. Add eggs. Sift flour and measure. Then add all other dry ingredients with flour. Add to sugar mixture alternately with milk. Add vanilla. Dough will be sticky. Flour the board generously, then roll out about one-third of dough at a time, roll to about one-fourth to one-half inch thick. Flour cookie cutter well and cut. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 325 degrees for about eight or 10 minutes. Watch closely and DO NOT LET THEM GET BROWN. Cookies are done when they lose their glossy look. Remove from oven and frost with icing.

Of a 1,000 pound steer, about 450 pounds end up as beef on the retail counter. The other 550 pounds are hide, liver, heart, fat, bone and waste.

Last year 530 Ohioans died as the result of injuries sustained in falls. Most of these accidents occurred in the home, according to OSU Extension specialists.

LOT OF HONEY

Honey production in the U.S. this year is estimated at 274.8 million pounds. This is about two per cent under 1961 but 30 per cent above the 1956-60 average. Ohio's production was more than 10 million pounds.

s' Help Asked ht Annexation

must show the commissioners that they are no more interested in having part of the township annexed to Columbus now than they were when they voted down such a proposal in the 1960 fall election.

Representatives from the South-Western City School District will attend the hearing, according to Caperton, regardless of past statements by the commissioners that school district welfare would not be considered in studying annexation issues.

Thomas Applegate, well-known attorney in the central Ohio area for representing annexation opponents will be the spokesman for the township, Caperton said.

He also clarified that Columbus was not being held responsible for the bid to annex this area of the township, but that "real estate concerns who can't get services (water and sewage) because of Columbus' "freeze" are pushing it," even though Columbus does own the largest portion (239 acres) of the area in question.

Caperton's, and others' strongest objection to the bid

Ex-Senator Hits 'Shotgun' Charges

Former state senator Fred O. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Committee of 100, called for a halt to "irresponsible shotgun blasts at Florida land developers and home builders attributed to persons some of whom have never even visited our state."

"The time has come for an accounting and for a halt to charges by these people who, in seeking to weed out nefarious land developers across the county, blacken the names and reputations of some of the finest construction firms in Florida," Dickerson said.

He referred to a recent quote in an AP dispatch by officials of the Association of Better Business that "the greatest land scandal in United States history is developing in the Southwest and in Florida." One of the officials Dickinson referred to lives in Rye, N.Y., the second in Des Moines, the others in Chicago and Kansas City.

"I cannot, of course, speak for what is happening in Southwest United States, but I must take sharp exception to such a blanket indictment of Florida and our home builders and land developers here," Dickinson continued.

"Florida has passed stringent laws to protect investors in Florida properties. There are still some isolated examples of nefarious real estate operations, but these are being weeded out as rapidly as they arise.

"What the officials of the Association of Better Business Bureaus forget to note is that there are fine, well-financed and highly responsible home builders and land developers in Florida. Organizations such as Arvida, General Development Corporation and others have invested millions of dollars of their own money in the growth of Florida. They are selling good land and are bringing good, substantial people to our state to enjoy the benefits we have to offer. Th new arrivals, in turn, are creating a highly effective impact on our economic growth.

"It is entirely unfair, and, indeed, untrue to indict these fine Florida organizations with a reprehensible shotgun blast at everyone. Great harm, and very little good, can come from such tactics."

The Committee of 100 is composed of 100 leading Florida citizens.

Youngsters Suggest Mom Mrs. Healy

My name is Michael Healy age 15. I have a sister Mary Margaret Healy, age 8. We both attend W. Jefferson School. We would like to nominate our mother, Mrs. Agnie 'Meats' Healy not only as a "Suburban Homemaker" but also "Queen and wonderful Mother" not only to my sister and I, but to everyone that knows her.

I'm not much in writing about people, but I want everyone to know my mother and a wonderful friend to everyone regardless of Religion or Race.

I call mom "Meats" for she's a person that enjoys laughing and can take a joke. I've never really seen mom mad, always a smile for everyone, regardless of how bad she feels, and the heartaches that she's had. After you read about my mom, perhaps you'll feel the same.

The reason Mary Margarent and I would like to nominate our mother is:

Mom, 8 years ago had to go to work on account of our dad being ill. He was in the second war and was wounded and also was a Diabetic, every year dad would have to go to Veterans Hospital in Dayton. They bought this house, and bills coming in, so mom got a job at Columbus State School, she worked days then.

Two years ago, dad passed away, Mar. 20, 1960, poor mom, she would work all day then drive to Dayton to see dad, and that was everyday through ice and snow, but she never regrets it I know, and always a big smile, never complained.

After dads death, mom couldn't quit her job, so she did the next best thing, went on the night shift, working from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m., all this, for my sister and I.

We have a wonderful neighbor and Mary Margaret and I sleep at their house, for we're too young to stay alone at night.

Mom takes us even if it is just around the corner, and never that we are there safe, then she takes off for her work, which by the way, she enjoys very much working with the retarded children.

Mom gets home at 7:30 a.m. we come running home, she gets our breakfast and gets us off to school, then she gets the things done that has to be done, like, washing, ironing, etc. She goes to bed, and she is usually up, when school is out, has our supper ready, etc., besides all this, she belongs to several clubs, PTO and always sees that we have plenty to eat.

We all three every Sunday morning, go to 8 o'clock Mass, of St. Simon and Jude Church.

Now football season is on and every Friday night, Mom comes to watch us play, regardless of where we're playing. Mom wears her uniform, but has to leave early usually the second quarter, on account of having to be to work at 11 p.m.

There is so many nice things I could write about the most "Wonderful Mother" in this world, and never a day goes by, that Sis and I don't thank God for giving us such a wonderful mother.

Most Sincerely
Michael Joseph Healy

New Telephone Dialing

NEW OHIO BELL PRODUCTS that will be offered here November 1 are Card Dialer (right), a telephone that automatically dials any number from pre-punched plastic cards, and Rapidial (left), an accessory to a conventional phone capable of "memorizing" on tape 290 numbers.

Two new Ohio Bell products, called Rapidial and Card Dialer, that offer greater ease and efficiency in placing telephone calls were made available here Nov. 1.

Both operate with pre-recorded telephone numbers that are dialed automatically. The new products are designed primarily for use in business and industry.

Persons who make many calls or call the same numbers frequently will have the greatest use for the phones, because both models eliminate the hand dialing operation and speed the mechanics of phoning. Local, long distance and internal calls can be placed with either model.

Similar in concept and available in four colors, the two new phones serve slightly different needs. The Card Dialer, a telephone with an automatic dialing mechanism built into it, can be used to reach any number that has been previously punched out on a coded plastic card which is inserted into the phone. It will accommodate any number of cards and is especially useful in calling groups of individuals regularly.

Rapidial is an accessory to a regular telephone. It has a capacity of 290 names and numbers which can be easily changed on magnetic tape by the user. Telephone numbers are automatically dialed by turning the instrument's selector knob to the desired name, lifting the receiver and pressing the start bar.

Today's Roses Brighter

What ever has gotten into our rose hybridizers both here and abroad? Some of the livest colors ever known in roses are being produced these days. They can be strikingly vivid in gardens, sometimes even hot and sassy, though they all look lovely, like a well-polished woman, whether in gardens or alone as specimen plants.
